TOOK STATUTORY TIME

Scott Galbraith Will Enter His Plea on Monday.

AL EMERLY IS RELEASED

A Vagrant Who Was Serving a 30-Day Sentence Applies for a Writ of Habeas Corpus—In Bad Physical Condition.

There was only a short session of the district court yesterday morning, there being no business except a few unimportant motions. Judge Woody, who has been on the bench of this district for the past week, will probably be replaced by Judge Brantly on Monday, and Judge Woody will return to his own district.

County Attorney Trippet yesterday consented to the release from jail of Al Emery, who was on Jan. 22 sent up by Judge Fitzgerald for 30 days. The prisoner is in very poor health and his condition is such that the county attorney did not wish to keep him in confinement any longer. An application for a writ of habeas corpus was presented in court yesterday morning, but it was not argued, as Mr. Trippet's consent to Emery's release made it unnecessary.

Scott Galbraith was brought up from jail yesterday morning and arraigned for pleading. There are two informations against him, both for grand larceny. Galbraith took statutory time to plead and he will enter his plea on Monday morning. Galbraith is accused of having stolen several sacks of sugar, hams, bacon, canned goods and other articles from the Copper City Commercial company. In fact, Galbraith figures as the principal in the now famous Copper City robberies. The trial of Galbraith's case will be an interesting one, as it is said he will be represented by the best legal talent obtainable in the state and his counsel will undoubtedly make the most strenuous efforts to secure his acquittal.

Since the robbery Galbraith has made a number of contradictory statements concerning the affair. During the trial of J. B. Gose on the charge of having received stolen goods the state depended largely upon the testimony of Galbraith to secure a conviction. At the 11th hour, however, Galbraith changed his mind about giving testimony, and he refused to say anything about the affair. He was ordered by the court to answer questions put to him by the state, but he declined to do so, and for such refusal he was sent to jail for contempt of court.

Galbraith also figured in the Gose trial in a somewhat sensational way, when it developed that he had been given whiskey by some one and when he appeared in court in an intoxicated condition. Some startling testimony is expected to develop when the trial of Galbraith comes on. The trial of the other Copper City cases will come up next week.
