THE GRIEF OF A FATHER

Franklin Gillman Heartbroken Over His Son's Disgrace.

EXPECTED MUCH OF HIM

Parent Cannot Conceive That His Only Child Should Have Killed a Fellow Man—He is Well Educated.

Franklin Gillman, father of Edward Gillman, who shot and killed Dan D. Sullivan Christmas night at Duggan's boarding house in Dublin gulch, arrived in the city yesterday from Hamburg, Iowa, his home. The day after the killing young Gillman had his lawyer telegraph his father of his difficulty, and the father made hurried preparations and left at once for Butte. He reached here on yesterday's Northern Pacific train from the East and was met by Attorney B. S. Thresher, who conducted him at once to the county jail to see his son. The meeting was very affecting, the aged parent being nearly heartbroken over his son's disgrace and the terrible predicament in which he finds him. The meeting was brief, and Mr. Gillman and Attorney Thresher went to the office of the attorney for a consultation regarding the case.

Mr. Gillman, sr., is a prominent and influential citizen of the community in which he lives. He owns the Hamburg bank in the town of Hamburg, Iowa. He is a man of large wealth and was a member of the Twenty-fourth legislature of Iowa. He is a man approaching 60 years of age and has the distinguished appearance of a man of affairs. When seen by a Standard reporter last evening and questioned in regard to the case, tears came to the eyes of the parent and it was with difficulty that he could control his emotions. He talked of the awful situation facing his only child.

"I never dreamed my boy would ever be called upon to answer such a terrible charge," said Mr. Gillman. "Without entering into the merits of the shooting, which he preferred not to do, the father continued talking about his son. 'The boy's mother died when he was very young,' said he, 'and I tried to bring him up right. I educated him well and some years ago, when the cashier of my bank defaulted, I put the boy in the bank. He was very capable and did splendidly, but his mother died from consumption and he inherited his mother's weakness. The confinement of the bank told on him, and when he commenced to bleed at the lungs I thought I should have to take him out of the bank or he would speedily follow his mother.'

"So I placed him in charge of my farm. I have always since aimed to keep him at out-of-door pursuits. He got to be a great rider and a splendid shot. Like all other boys, he liked to get out with the boys and have a good time, but he never was what could be called wild. Last spring he thought he would like to get out and do something for himself, and I thought it well for him to start out and see what he could do. He left home early in the year and came here in April. I am tremendously grieved at the trouble he is in. I cannot conceive his having killed a man."

The father expects to remain in Butte some days and will make a strenuous effort to clear his son.

CHRISTMAS AT ST. LAWRENCE'S.

A Splendid Programme of Music Rendered by an Excellent Choir.

The Christmas services began with midnight mass. The beautiful church office at Centerville was filled before 12 o'clock. Owing to the illness of Father Batens this mass was celebrated by Father Blais. At high mass Father Cassidy, the young priest who was recently ordained, and who was appointed assistant to Father Blais, ably delivered the Christmas sermon. The music at midnight mass and high mass was well rendered by the choir, assisted by an orchestra. The voices were as follows: Soprano, Misses Martha McGlynn, May Kellogg, Amelia Pryor, A. Jarret and S. Pryor; alto, Rose McDermott and Anna Sullivan; tenor, P. Flattery and A. Flattery; bass, John Sullivan and C. Connelly.

The orchestra was composed of first violin, W. E. Sillar; second violin, A. Rossmier; bass, Dr. Barry; cornet, H. A. Lockhart; clarinet, F. Holly; organist and director, Miss Kally Roman, a recent graduate of St. Patrick's school.

The music consisted of the "Kyrie" and "Gloria" from Laliache's mass; "Credo," "Sanctus" and "Agnus Dei"; "O Father's mass," offertory, "Adeste Fideles" and Gilson's "Venite Adornamini" were also rendered.

CREES SLAUGHTER GAME

Their Depredations Will Soon Result in Extermination.

FOR A PROTECTIVE UNION

Dr. Allen of Billings Has a Project in View to Which He Calls the Attention of Every Montana Sportsman.

Every person in Butte and elsewhere in the state who is interested in the preservation of game in Montana will read with interest the following letter received by the Standard from Dr. W. A. Allen of Billings, written under date of Dec. 29: "To the Editor of the Standard: "The Cree Indian game slaughtering came before our justice court yesterday in the shape of three arrests. The evidence came out that the Crees had sold game, which is contrary to the laws of this state. In the face of this evidence they were turned loose by a judge who is now ready for new depredations, but we will see that it is not in Yellowstone county. After the trial a number of local sportsmen got together and our sheriff, Mr. Hubbard, gave the Indians 12 hours to leave the county, and the whole outfit was on the march in short order. If they stop in Yellowstone county they will be visited by sportsmen of this locality and conducted outside the county lines.

The extermination of game and other animals goes on in all parts of the state where the Indians are located and recent reports from the dry forest of the Missouri show that they have slaughtered more than 100 deer in that vicinity, taking, in many instances, only the heads and skins. The only way this will ever stop is to organize the sportsmen of the state of Montana into one association, whose object is to rid this state of these miserable scavengers. I have been solicited by many sportsmen throughout the state to organize just such a club, and to build a club house. There is a project of this kind now on foot, backed by sportsmen of means who are willing to subscribe money, but some of them are non-residents. I am willing to go forward with the enterprise providing sufficient interest is shown to guarantee its success.

"We already have a location where sportsmen and their families could spend the winter months very comfortably and derive all the pleasure from outdoor sports, a location where black-tail and white and mountain sheep could be fenced by fence, with a south and a beautiful waterfall where artificial trout lakes could be established with little expense. Parties who are interested and who do not wish to see our game animals exterminated will kindly drop me a card or letter. I will be pleased to take up the matter and give further details of the project."

AN IMPORTANT DEAL. The Thomas Lode Claim Has Been Sold for $31,000.

Another important mining deal has been consummated in Butte, according to a deed filed with the county clerk and recorder yesterday. The transaction involves a transfer of all the mineral rights of the Thomas lode mining claim, the title to which has been held by John A. Leggat, Joseph H. Harper and Lee W. W. Blinn. The purchase price of the deed is George H. Casey, though it is said he is acting for other parties, presumably for Alex. Tarbet of Salt Lake and others, who recently secured possession of the claim.

The claim lies west of Alaska street, on Granite, and takes in the entire court house. Very little surface ground belongs to the claim, all having been sold off long ago for town lots. The former owners, however, have claimed title to an alley running along the rear of the two lots adjoining the court house, and upon that they have been making a shaft, but some time ago they were enjoined by the district court because of damage done to the building by blasting.

Kimball, Weber and Haller & Davis Are the Three Popular Pianos.

The shrewd discrimination of the present intelligent and progressive age brings to the front and into great prominence only the best, while the inferior must drop behind. The Kimball piano is used and indorsed by more of the great artists than any other piano in the world. The piano dealers everywhere are striving to obtain the agency for it.

Recently the great Chicago musical college, of which Dr. Ziegfeld, who was one of the international jury that made the awards on pianos at the world's Columbian exposition, is the president, discarded the Steinway and A. B. Chase pianos and replaced them with Kimball's throughout, 60 pianos in all, including 14 grand.

Many other institutions, both musical and literary, have adopted the Kimball piano in preference to all others. These celebrated pianos, as well as the renowned Weber and Haller & Davis pianos for sale in this state of Montana by Crton Bros., who have the exclusive agency for the same. The prices and terms are such that the commonest laborer, as well as the rich, can afford for it.

We have among our large and selected instruments brand new upright pianos which we are offering at $195, $225, $250 and upward. Besides the new pianos we have on hand and quite a number of second-hand ones which we will offer at a very close price, and the following is a partial list of the same: One upright Baldwin, in ebony case, $125; one upright McClean, in rosewood case, $150; one splendid upright Whitney, good as new, $225; two squares at $25 and $50 each; organs from $10 up. Terms, $5 per month.

SUITS TO QUIET TITLE

Two Actions Involving the Gold Hill Lode Claim.

TO SET ASIDE FINDINGS

Motion Filed in the O'Rourke-Schultz Case—Will of Owen Thornton Filed for Probate—Short Session in Department I.

Two suits over the ownership of the Gold Hill lode claim on Copper street were commenced in the district court yesterday. The plaintiffs in both cases are Conrad Kohrs and W. A. Clark, and the defendants are Minnie A. Cameron, E. G. Smith and a number of others. The property is described as lots 5 and 10 in block 11 of the original townsite of Butte. The complaints allege that plaintiffs are the owners of the Gold Hill quartz lode claim, including the two lots mentioned, and that the defendants claim some interest in the property, and for the purpose of quieting their title the plaintiffs ask that the defendants be required to set up the nature of their claims.

In the case of John O'Rourke against Mary Schultz, which was yesterday tried in Judge Lindsay's department and decided in favor of the defendant by the jury, the defendant yesterday filed in court a motion to reject the findings of the jury and adopt others favorable to the plaintiff.

The will of the late Owen Thornton was filed for probate yesterday by the widow. By its terms everything is left to Mrs. Thornton and the son of the deceased. The property consists of several city lots and a number of mining claims of small value, the total valuation of the estate being given at $2,072. The petition relates that the original will became lost and a copy of it is offered for probate.

Judge Leonard held a short session of court in department I, yesterday afternoon and disposed of a few probate matters. He appointed Minnie Maughton administratrix of the estate of Henry Maughton, deceased, and fixed her bond at $1,200. The estate is valued at only $50.

Judge E. Moran, Harry Burke and M. J. Sheehan were appointed appraisers to ascertain the value of the property of the estate of Patrick Judge, deceased.

The petition for the probate of the will of Owen Thornton was set for hearing Jan. 27.

A New Discovery That Kills the Germ and Prevents It from Returning. Pretty nearly all the hair preparations for dandruff have some merit in allaying itching of the scalp and in being a fairly good dressing for the hair, but there is only one that recognizes what causes dandruff, falling hair and baldness and that destroys that cause, a little germ—and that is Newbro's Herpicide. This germ eats its way into the scalp, down to the hair root, where it snags the vitality, causing dandruff as it digs up the scalp into little white scales. Unless it is destroyed there's no permanent stopping of falling hair and cure of dandruff and baldness. Newbro's Herpicide kills the germ. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."
