

AN EPISODE OF WAR.

In his wind-shaken tent the soldier sits, Beside him flares an oil-lamp smokily...

Ever again in his protecting clasp Enfold it? Who can tell? He can but kiss With wild intensity, the page that hand...

As he reads this the tent to him grows darker, His strong hand trembles, and the hot tears burn In his blue eyes, and his hand struggles with...

How many soon to sleep again—in death! And on that father's heart the pealing cry Strikes cold as ice, though soldier there's none...

Across a rough hillside the light dawned Doth coolly creep, with ruthless touch revealing All that by darkness had been hid, and there...

How many soon to sleep again—in death! And on that father's heart the pealing cry Strikes cold as ice, though soldier there's none...

True wit is nature to advantage dressed What oil was thought, but never so well expressed...

At the close of the sermon, the minister became impressive. Raising his voice he said: "Judgment!" and a small boy near the vestibule...

Uncle Jumbo was caught with a stolen chicken hid in his hat, and when asked how it came there, he replied: "Fore de Lord, boss, that fowl must have crawled up my breeches leg."

A little Parisian mendicant follows a gentleman "Monsieur, give me just a penny—I'm an orphan by birth." The definition was worth ten centimes to her.

An Irish editor says "that in the absence of both editors, the publishers have succeeded in securing the services of a gentleman to edit the paper this week."

"Do you think raw oysters healthy?" said a dyspeptic. "Well, sir," replied the gruff doctor, "I never heard one complain of being unhealthy; did you?"

Alcohol will clean out the inside of an inkstand. It will also clean out the inside of a pocketbook a little more thoroughly and quicker than anything else of record.

"Now that this thing has commenced," remarked a Chicago resident at his breakfast, "I'll bet that before long more than forty emotional women will shoot me in this city."

"Yes," replied his wife, looking sharply at him, "and then not half the men will be shot that ought to be."

An Indianapolis barber who abandoned his business and went into the ministry, was suddenly called upon one Sunday to baptize three candidates. He got along very well, but after baptizing the first, he astonished his congregation by lustily shouting, "Next!"

An editor having read in another paper that there is a tobacco, which, if a man smoke or chew it, "will make him forget that he owes a dollar in the world," innocently concludes that many of his subscribers have been ruined with the article.

A very diminutive man once solicited the hand of a buxom girl. "Oh, no," said the fair but insulting young lady, "I can't think of it for a moment. The fact is, Tom, you are a little too big for a cradle, and a little too small to go to church with."

"My dear," said a smiling spouse to her other half, a morning or two since, "I am going a shopping; I want a little change." "Pooh!" responded the ungallant man, "that would be no change at all; you go shopping every day."

"Is there a letter here in a scented envelope for my wife?" he asked the postmaster, while the green fire from his eyes made the office look like a leafy forest. "Yes, sir," answered the P. M., as he handed it out. The jealous man tore it open at once, when, lo and behold! it was the milliner's bill for $50. No succeeding chapters.—Rhinebeck Gazette.

A Tennessee darkey preacher held forth recently as follows, "You girls call your sweethearts 'darlings,' and you men call yours 'daisies,' and you girls are afraid to come up here for fear some other girls will get off with your 'darlings,' and you men for fear some other fellow will get away with your 'daisies,' and," said he, "between this 'darling' and 'daisy' business lots of you niggers are going straight to hell."

The Military Telegraph. The telegraph party, thirty-two in number, under command of Capt. Hobart and Lieut. Thompson, struck the Military Telegraph wire through town on Monday. They have made progress at the rate of about seven miles per day since leaving Helena, and expect to reach Fort Missoula October 20th. The poles used are the Minnesota white cedar six dollar poles, of which mention has been made. It is said they are practically indestructible, and will last several times as long as pine or fir. If this is true, they may prove cheaper in the end than pine; but, on the other hand, persons posted on the Missouri timber say any quantity of white cedar poles could be had this side of Cedar creek. The poles are set five feet deep and 25 to the mile. The wire is galvanized and annealed, and a first quality insulators are used. In town a lightning wire is run from the top to the bottom of each pole. We do not know if this is done on the entire line, but presume it is. We are unable yet to learn where offices will be established, but are informed the line will be available to the public, the Government merely reserving precedence for Government business.—New North-West.

THOUGHTS.

Adversity is the balance to weigh friends. Religion is the best armor in the world, but the worst cloak.

He's a slave that cannot command himself. The path of moderation is the safest to tread.—Horace.

Economy is of itself a great revenue.—Cicero.

Feeling is no criterion of right or wrong. Our acts make or mar us—we are the children of our own deeds.—Victor Hugo.

If you are not happy it is somebody's fault—most likely yours.

Let us always be cheerful; if life is a burden, let it be a burden of song.

Don't thou love life? Then do not squander time, for that is the stuff life is made of.—Franklin.

A true friend is one who will tell you of your faults and follies in prosperity, and assist you with his hand and heart in adversity.

It is not the magnitude of the sphere in which we live, but the patience and fidelity with which we work in it, that our reason will honor.

Those who have finished by making all others think with them, have usually been those who began to dare to think with themselves.

If anger arise in thy breast, instantly seal up thy lips and let it not go forth; for like fire, when it wants vent, it will suppress itself.

To know how to listen is a great art; it is to know how to gain instruction from everyone.

Money in your purse will credit you—wisdom in your head, adorn you—but both in your necessity will serve you.

To think kindly of each other is good; to speak kindly of each other is better; but to act kindly one towards another is best of all.

Charles Lamb once said that the greatest pleasure he knew was to do a good action by stealth, and have it found out by accident.

It requires a great deal of boldness and a great deal of caution to make a great fortune, and when you have got it, it requires ten times as much wit to keep it.

Energy will do everything that can be done in this world; and no talents, no circumstances, no opportunities will make a two-legged animal a man without it.—Goethe.

A person that feels that he has no character to lose, is very free with his tongue. A wise man thinks before he speaks, for well he knows his words have weight.

If you cast any reflection upon the character of another person by act or word, you receive an injury in the minds of those that are cognizant of it, if you do not convince them that in making it you are just.

We cannot live on probabilities. The faith in which we can live bravely and die in peace must be a certainty, so far as it professes to be faith at all, or it is nothing.

Arabian proverb.—By six causes a fool may be known: Anger without cause; speech without profit; change without motive; inquiry without object; putting trust in a stranger; and wanting capacity to distinguish between friend and foe.

The celebrated John Foster thus describes a bigot: "He sees religion, not as a sphere, but a line, and it is a line in which he is moving. He is like an African buffalo—sees straight forward, but, nothing on the right or left. He would not perceive a legion of angels or devils at the distance of ten yards on one side or the other."

Believe me when I tell you that thrift of time will repay you in after life with a usury of profit beyond your most sanguine dreams, and that the waste of it will make you dwindle, alike in intellectual and in moral stature, beyond your darkest reckonings.—Gladstone.

It does not follow that a minister should never smile because his profession is a serious one. Some of the most convivial of men have been clergymen. Robert Hale was one of this class, and on a certain occasion he properly rebuked a brother of the cloth who reproved him for his levity. "There is this difference between you and me," he said: "while I have my nonsense in the parlor you have yours in the pulpit."

FROM MILES CITY.

Yellowstone Journal, 25th.

It is reported that gold has been found on the Tongue river about 200 miles up, and several parties have already started for the new diggings.

The County Commissioners have been busily occupied this week with the adjustment of contested assessments. They awarded the wood contract to Mr. John Woodfill, of Buffalo Rapids, at the following rates: 30 cords cottonwood, at $6.50; 10 cords of cedar, at $6.50; 10 cords of pine at $7.15.

The case of Judge Carmichael with the rest of the criminal calendar was set over until the May term of the District Court. Meanwhile the Judge is suspended and the County Commissioners on Tuesday afternoon appointed Mr. J. M. McBride to the position of Probate Judge ad interim.

It would be an excellent investment for some enterprising party to establish a grist mill in this vicinity. Even the N. P. R. R. will not be able to carry off the future wheat supply of the valley at remunerative prices, while the growing population will create a steady demand for flour.

The United States engineer party under Mr. Tower, at Buffalo Rapids, have succeeded in opening a channel three feet deep through one of the worst portions of the Rapids. The work has necessarily been done with a hand derrick. Next year the steam "crab" will be used and the work will go on a great deal faster.

MEAGHER COUNTY. Husbandman, 2d.

The cattle disease has reached the Sun River country. The herds in the vicinity of Chestnut are being severely dealt with.

Cole Puett and wife came in Monday from the Sweet Grass, on their way over to the fair. He thinks the loss of calves in the Musselshell and Sweet Grass country from blackleg will be nearly fifty per cent. of this year's increase.

A well informed gentleman who a few weeks ago looked from the summit of the Belt range into the beautiful valley of the Judith, declares it capable of supporting a population of ten thousand people. He says it was the most magnificent sight he ever beheld.

A party of Bozemanites—Messrs. Cline, Hoppy and others—were at the Springs on Monday last, on their return from the Judith diggings. They bring very encouraging news. There is no longer a doubt but that a permanent camp has been struck.

NOTES.

Tennyson's new drama, "Thomas a Beckett," is completed.

The widow of Bayard Taylor will soon take up her residence in New York.

Two thousand New York teachers want ex-Superintendent Kiddle reinstated.

A lamp lifted suddenly, which contains but a poor quality of oil, is very apt to explode.

Three Protestant ministers have died this season of yellow fever, all were Methodists.

The British army officers are subscribing funds for a memorial to the Prince Imperial.

Blowing down a lamp chimney to extinguish the light is a frequent cause of explosion.

Every Russian subject is required to take out a passport every year. The prescribed cost of a passport is about $3, but, in fact, it costs twice that.

Ireland heads the list of crime in the United Kingdom, as far as minor offenses are concerned, but in serious crimes England and Scotland are a head.

Mr. Bonner paid $40,000 for Pochahoutas, $36,000 for Barus, $33,000 for Dexter, $20,000 Startle, $13,000 for Edwin Forrest and $15,000 for Gratton. Total $160,000.

The Methodist churches in the Boston district of the New England Conference have an aggregated indebtedness of $400,000, upon which $24,000 interest is paid annually.

Prof. Nichols of Boston, found eight grains of arsenic to each square foot of a green dress submitted to his examination! Here is the fact of poisons freely used. Is there no remedy?

Miss Alcott's new story is called "Jimmy's Cruise in the Pinafore." It is illustrated by pictorial sketches of the prominent characters in the juvenile presentation of this famous opera.

Talmage wrote letters from England for a New York story paper published by Munro of dime novel fame, and of about the same grade as his novels. He got a hundred dollars a column for the letters.

The telegram handed into a German office lately—"Can't possibly send 5,000 daggers in one day; not till to-morrow"—plunged the police into excitement until they found that daggers are a kind of needle.

A French chemist has lately discovered a salt which may be mixed with starch so that ladies' dresses, laces, etc., may be rendered incombustible. A dress may be injured by coming in contact with flames, but it will never take fire.

It is estimated that over 100,000 children are steadily employed in New York factories, many of them being under 12 years of age, and some, notably those engaged in the manufacture of artificial flowers, have only reached the age of 5 years.

Texas ranks third among the wool producing states, having 3,074,000 sheep, and so treading closely on the heels of Ohio. California leads, of course. Nueces county, Texas, has more sheep in its limits than any other county in the Union—656,000.

It is said the Princess of Wales is growing lovelier every day of her life. She is described as being as radiant as the close of day, when the delicate pink of the sky incarnates the snowy chalice of the lily, and the pensive robin lets its song ring through the silent aisles of the woodland. All of which may be very true, but it don't keep Wales at home of nights.

A Gracious Thought About Women.

The man who meets and loves the woman of twenty-five is truly fortunate, and she is equally fortunate in meeting and loving him, says a writer in a female journal. At that age she seldom deceives herself and is seldom deceived. She may not have, she is not likely to have then, her first sentimental experience; but such experience at such an age is more than sentimental and rarely ever fleeting. She looks back at the youths she was enamored of between sixteen or eighteen and twenty-two, and they are worse than indifferent or repellent to her—they are ridiculous, and in some sort she, as she then was, is ridiculous to herself. She cannot but be grateful to her destiny that her sympathies and affections have been reserved for a worthy object and a higher end. At twenty-five, if ever, a woman knows and estimates herself. She is less liable to emotional or mental mistakes; she is far surer of her future, because she feels that her fate is to a certain extent within her own hands. Not only is she lovelier and more loveable, broader and stronger than she has been, but her wedded happiness and powers of endurance are in a manner guaranteed.

Deer Lodge Assessments. Among a host of good friends whom it has been a real pleasure to meet in Helena this week is Mr. Con. Murphy, Assessor of Deer Lodge county. This public officer seems not only to thoroughly understand his duties, but to devote to them his entire attention. His assessment of the county this year will transcend that of any preceding year, and the promise is that it will closely approach if it does not reach $4,000,000. Assessment returns up to the 15th of September, made to the Board of Equalization, foot up $3,254,000. The assessment will not be completed till about the 15th of November, at which time the greater sum stated is expected to be attained. Butte and vicinity, it is believed, will show an assessable property valuation of not less than $1,500,000. It is probable that Deer Lodge county will this year show an aggregated wealth exceeding that of Lewis and Clarke, and in this respect take her place at the head of the counties of the Territory.—Herald.

The last time Grant was in San Francisco was in 1857, when, having resigned his captain's commission in the old Second Infantry, he first spent several months with Judge Louis Dent in the interior of California, assisting in the running of a rope ferry, and then came to San Francisco, waiting for some time in the hope of obtaining employment, which, however, he failed in doing. And now, what a change is there!

There is talk of celebrating next year in Bavaria a centenary of which few parallels can be produced out of the history of the world. In 1180 the Duchy of Bavaria was first conferred on a member of the house of Wittelsbach. Seven hundred years have passed since Princes of the house of Wittelsbach have ruled over Bavaria without a break. No other reigning house in Europe can produce an instance of similar uninterrupted rule.

The publishers of St. Nicholas announce that a permanent enlargement of the magazine will be begun with the November number. Each regular number will contain at least sixteen more pages than heretofore.

Very innocently an Irish newspaper concludes its account of an imposing ceremony: "The procession was very fine, being nearly two miles long, as was also the prayer of the Rev. Mr. MacPadden."
