Several cases of attempts at burglary have been made within a few days, and in one or two instances they have been successful. Some of these have already been noted. Others we have refrained from mentioning at the request of the suffering parties. This thing is going from bad to worse. Butte is getting filled with tough characters. The vigorous efforts of the Vigilance Committee of Helena and the impression that our city government was to be broken up have sent these men here. It is now getting unsafe to go to sleep at night or to walk certain streets without having a revolver at hand. This state of things will not be any better during the winter but much worse unless some means are taken to put an effective stop to it. More murders have been committed in Montana within a few days than occur in the same time in cities of ten times the population of our Territory. Our laws have been almost a dead letter in certain instances because it was impossible to find a jury who would convict a man of murder. This cannot continue so without making life and property unsafe. Our neighbors are already organizing to protect themselves. The Miner believes most emphatically in law, but it believes also in justice. That is false mercy which allows a guilty murderer to escape. It jeopardizes the lives of the innocent. It is not mercy, but criminal injustice. The back-bones of our trial juries need stiffening, not to have them blindly convict a man who may be charged with a crime, but so much that they will not allow false sentiment to keep them from doing their duty. As for our own town, it needs an effective vigilance committee. And the quicker it is set in operation the better. We shall be obliged to come to it very soon whether we will or not. Let these characters be notified to leave and then if they stay they take their life into their own hands. Let them once understand that Montana will have no foolishness and the work is done.

Very respectfully,
T. H. POSTMASTER.

The Glendale and Butte Cut-off.

Several hundred dollars were expended in Butte and Glendale and expended building a bridge across the Bighole river, Wunderlick's, and opening a new road between creek and over a sharp divide to Glendale. The road has since been traveled nearly everyone having business to transact between the latter place and points north east, but it has not been a satisfactory nor safe road to travel. The bridge was well constructed and stood the heavy freshet of spring without injury, but some of the ways were very narrow and steep, especially one crossing the divide. Seeing it was utterly necessary to complete the road in the neighborhood of $800 and have expended in making new grades and widening of the old ones. The work has all been done on the divide and down the cañon to the west, the Glendale people, assisted by G. & S. stage company, recently raised in neighborhood of $800 and have expended in making new grades and widening of the old ones. The work has all been done on the divide and down the cañon to the west, and that part of the road is now in good fix for heavy freighting as well as light travel. But there is some very bad on this side of the river. In one or two places the mountain rises very abruptly from river, and just here the mountain is covered with slide-rock, making it difficult for going without considerable cost. At these places the road is barely passable, and more is needed to be done before it can be traveled safely and comfortably. It is estimated that $200 will be ample to do this work, and our people are asked to furnish the required sum. Taking into consideration the great benefits derived by our business men in the past year from the opening of this new route, it should be an easy task we should think to raise the money. Thousands of dollars are now paid out in Butte for merchandise by Glendale merchants where there are not hundreds before the road was opened. Then nearly all this money found its way to Virginia. We will venture to say at least six firms of Butte have a trade of $500 every month from Glendale, and to engage and retain this trade they will undoubtedly see it to be their duty to help complete the road. Mr. M. J. Connell will call on each of our business men to-day as he thinks will take an interest in this matter and solicit their aid. Be ready to receive him with a liberal hand. Glendale has done her part.

Our Farmer Again.

for Butte MINER.
The wealth of any community may be divided into two factors: 1. Such articles, as from necessity or inclination, persons may desire to possess; except (2.) money, or the circulating medium of trade. When a stock-grower raised a calf past weaning time; when a ranch has erected a building; or a miner extracted a ton of ore from his mine occupies the position of a producer, and so much has been added to the wealth of the community. As the ore which the mines has a commercial value, it is apparent that, or the bullion extracted from it, as the capital invested in the business, will pay a tax. (?) When the ore comes from mine it has a value which is never diminished, but may be increased, and ought ever to appear in some form or other, on the miner's roll book. If ore or bullion is exchanged for money or other property, both bullion and the moneyed equivalent—are subjects of taxation; and the assertion that a tax levied on such ore or bullion is a tax levied again and again on the same property is a transparent fallacy, equalled only by absurdity by that other proposition exempt bullion for the sake of fostering mining industry. When the miner is endeavoring to develop a mine, it not having begun to yield paying ore, are any found generous enough to claim exemption for the small amount of property they may possess? No, indeed! The poor, miserable wretch of a prospector has no business to be out of luck. But, let the mine commence to yield bullion, and immediately the chords of sympathy will vibrate for the poor, oppressed Bonanza King! It is a difficult matter to levy taxes in such a manner that its burdens will weigh equally upon all, but the most important principle to be borne in mind is that each dollar's worth of property must pay its tax.

As ever,
FOR JUSTICE.

An Accident.

A boy about 14 years of age, the son of Mr. R. Orange, of Deer Lodge, was shot, while in the act of getting upon his horse. He was about starting out hunting, when the gun he was carrying went off, and the contents of both barrels passed into his left arm, shattering the bone and rendering amputation necessary. The operation was successfully performed, and the patient at last accounts was doing well, and will probably recover.

The Utah Northern.

The Herald of the 8th instant publishes the following telegram from the Superintendent of Construction in regard to the Utah Northern Railroad. The track is now laid fifteen miles this side of Pleasant Valley:

BEAVER CANYON, Nov. 7, 1879.
To Mr. O. J. Salisbury:
We have no iron, and cannot have any having left Omaha. If the iron arrives and the weather permits, we will make the winter terminus near Spring Hill stage station.

Another Benefit for the Butte Public Schools.

Arrangements having been perfected yesterday we are able this morning to inform the public that those ominous words, "Look out for Orsley Hall in a few evenings," etc., in Tuesday's MINER meant. The Le Petre-Hudson troupe have consented to give an entertainment at that place on next Saturday evening for the benefit of the school. Their entertainments are the best of the kind (negro sketches, burlesque plays, songs, dances, etc.) ever given in Montana, to our knowledge; besides, the truly accomplished performances of Prof. De Gilio upon the violin are worth the price of admission. Programmes will be issued in due time. Reserved seats can be had at Hale's, and as quite a number had already been taken yesterday for this performance, we would advise those desirous of attending to secure a good seat, and above all, wear loose fitting clothes. You will want to laugh plenty.

Fire.

An alarm of fire last night started out our citizens. The fire originated from a defective flue in the laundry of the Centennial Hotel. A bucket line was formed and the fire was quickly put out. If it had not been discovered as it was it would probably have made clean work.

Fire in Deer Lodge.

SPECIAL TO THE MINER.
DEER LODGE, Nov. 11.—At twenty minutes to nine this forenoon the building adjoining the house occupied by Carrie Hartlee, was discovered to be on fire. An alarm was sounded and the fire engine and crew rushed frantically to the scene. But before getting the engine in working order and after bursting a hose, the building was almost destroyed, and Carrie Hartlee's house took fire and both were destroyed. All her household effects were saved, even to a half-filled bottle of wine. The wind was blowing from the south, or the house on the south side would also have been destroyed, as it was only eighteen feet off.

A mammoth best of the beat-it-if-you-can variety, is on exhibition at the Kenney House. It was raised by Alfred Woods, of Missoula. It looks like a large red pumpkin, and weighs a little more than twenty-six pounds.
—Missoulian.
That is nothing. Butte has a (dead) beat here now, which weighs 250 pounds.

[From Thursday's Daily.] The Fox Case.

[From a special Helena correspondent.]
A jury having been obtained this afternoon in the case of the United States vs. Geo. W. Fox, Col. Sanders representing the prosecution in the absence of Mr. Andrews, U. S. Attorney, who was in the Grand Jury room attending to U. S. business of a very urgent nature, entered a nolle proes. on the remaining count in the indictment then before the court. The counsel on the other side, Messrs. Tote and Chadwick, spoke vigorously, interposing objections to the entrance of the nolle. They held that the court should instruct the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty for the defendant. The court declined to do so, and the nolle was allowed to be entered. Defendant's counsel expressed themselves as thinking this a hardship, as the defendant, under the Constitution and laws of the United States, was entitled to a speedy trial. Col. Sanders said he thought they could accommodate defendant in that respect very fully, as the morrow's proceedings would be very likely to show. He intimated the government was exceedingly active in the matter. It was inferred the Grand Jury now in session were at that very moment considering the propriety of bringing in a new and improved indictment. Six old indictments remain to be tried. All the jurors in the box, and all other persons subpoenaed to act in that capacity, were then discharged until 9 a. m. to-morrow.

The city is very lively. Been snowing lightly this p. m.

Fox is in court every day. He is very pale.

An Indian will be tried this term of the United States court for horse-stealing.

HELENA, Nov. 11.

Abolish the Nurseries of Crime.

While there is so much discussion about the prevention of crime, let us, while taking measures to prevent the injurious acts of those who have already become criminals, go further and shut up the sources which supply criminals. At the extra session of the Legislature a member stated that he had received petitions from a score of persons, who had suffered indirectly from the evil effects of it, to do something towards abolishing a certain nursery of crime common in some of our cities. But the Legislature had already passed a sufficiently stringent act and the matter was left to public sentiment to see that the law was enforced. The subject has several times been brought to the notice of the writer by citizens who would gladly see the establishment abolished. It is claimed that it is rightly called a nursery of crime; that young men and boys are by it first induced to become criminals; that right here in Butte it has led to the foulest crimes; that it has been the nest where highway robbery has been planned, and it has led, more than once, to attempts of murder; that its existence costs the county a large sum of money for criminals trials; and that it takes out of the pockets of individuals hundreds of dollars. Now, I understand that certain persons have stated that the act forbidding such a nuisance has been repealed. To satisfy myself upon that point I consulted two of the best lawyers in the Territory. After examining the matter with the care which characterizes them, they returned the answer that the law is in full force, which is given below. Not only can any private individual make a complaint but it is the duty of the proper officers to see that this law is enforced, and to put an end to the shameful state of affairs which disgrace our town, which leads to robbery and murder and imposes a heavy tax upon our citizens. Following is the law—page 69, Extra Session of 1875:
"Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Montana:—
SEC. 1. That from and after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful for any person or persons, within the Territory of Montana, to conduct or establish or cause to be conducted or established, any dancing saloon or hurdy gurdy house.
SEC. 2. Any person or persons offending against the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction, be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $100.
SEC. 3. This act shall be in force and take effect from and after its passage."
CITIZEN.

The annexed table exhibits the total product of bullion for each of the several States and countries named, during the last five years ending with 1878:

Table with 2 columns: State/Country and Amount. Includes California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Arizona, Colorado, Mexico (W. Coast), British Columbia, New Mexico, Dakota, and a Total.

$500 Reward.

The administrators of the Denn estate offer a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the murderer of John Denn. It is believed the crime will yet be traced and the assassin brought to justice. The moral sense of Helena, as well as of the press and people of the Territory, echoes the Herald's views, that Montana must be rid not less effectually of murderous criminals than it has been of warring savages, even to the revival, if that be necessary, of the Committee of Safety. The people are in earnest and mean "business."—Helena Herald.

That fire alarm the other night was a reminder that efforts should at once be made to bring an abundant supply of water into town.

Minor Items.

[From Tuesday's Daily.]
Mr. Specker is erecting a building near the Brewery.
A new hotel is being talked up in Benton. They need a first class one there.
A miner's cabin was burglarized Saturday night. About $25 and a gold watch valued at $150 was taken.

Another of B. F. White's trains brought in a lot of freight yesterday for Messrs. Cohen, Mantle, Lee Foster, and for the MINER.

The young men's Christian Association have a meeting every evening this week. Similar meetings are being held in all parts of the world.

S. B. Meader is fitting up a new office on upper Main street very nicely, and is making improvements on his house, which is next to the office.

The gross receipts at the different representations of the Pinafore aggregate $717.45; of which the Helena Library will receive about $130.—Independent.

The Benton Record, which opposed the railroad because it would injure the town, now says the nearer the railroad comes the faster the town grows.

Sim Roberts has surrendered himself to the Bozeman authorities for trial, and was to appear before the Grand Jury yesterday. The church, at the funeral of Bill Roberts, was crowded.

Messrs. Estis and Gilman, were in Sunday from the Mantel Mine, in which they are interested. They are considerably excited over their prospects, and think they have a sure Bonanza this time.

J. R. Giffen called yesterday to subscribe for the MINER, and then, having done his duty, left town for Allen's coal mine, twenty miles west of Butte. He says the coal now taken out is hard, and gives good heat.

J. Hugel, a first class salesman, who has been stopping in Butte several days, left Sunday for Deer Lodge. Mr. Hugel represents the firm of Greenwood & Bolm, of Helena, one of the most enterprising firms in the Territory.

A first class audience gathered in Locher's Hall last evening, plentifully sprinkled with ladies. The management will not allow smoking in the room, and we shall expect to see twice as many ladies this evening. Bring your families.

A defect in the "gearing" of Messrs. Dellinger & Hyde's delivery team, caused a lively runaway on Sunday. Seventy-five dollars' worth of new stoves were converted into old iron in the twinkling of an eye, and the dashboard of the wagon made to look like a city swell's hat after being out late at the club.

A burglar broke into the office of the Summit valley lumber Company last Saturday evening. With much perseverance he opened a drawer in the desk, and carried off a pocket-book containing ten cents. How his conscience will trouble him when he learns that in another part of the desk were fifteen or sixteen dollars which he overlooked!

A telegraph line to Helena would more than pay for itself the first year, and would pay a handsome income even if the railroad should bring another line to Butte next year, which is somewhat doubtful. If a railroad should be built between Butte and Helena, the line would readily sell for its cost if the owners were foolish enough to sell.

Mr. Locher informs us that $1,500 has been subscribed for the purpose of testing the legality of the city charter. The attorneys to whom the case is to be entrusted have not been selected as yet. At all events this will settle the matter one way or the other, which will be much better than to have a state of indecision, and it will be a good thing for the lawyers who deserve it.

Messrs. Manning & Lewis, dealers in groceries, produce, etc., Donnell, Clark & Larabee's Bank building, Broadway, open their doors to-day, and request a share of patronage. Mr. Manning, formerly with Messrs. Coplin & Co., is a first rate business man, a good salesman, always pleasant and courteous, and our Butte families will find this new claimant for their favors a good person to deal with.

The manager of the Le Petre-Hudson troupe, although satisfied with the size of their audiences, wish to see more ladies present at their entertainment. He claims to take the greatest care to avoid that which would offend any one. The only opinion which we have heard expressed is that the entertainment is entirely unobjectionable. Mr. Smith proposes to become one of our citizens, and will not tolerate anything of an immoral nature. Reserved seats can be procured at Mark's.

[From Wednesday's Daily.]

A robbery case occurred at Helena Sunday night.

A kitchen has been added to the rear of the St. Clair Hotel, on Broadway.

An extension to the millinery store near the MINER office is under way.

Messrs. DeWolfe and Chadwick have been engaged to fight the city charter.

The Herald reports that coal oil has been found at the Clancy Hot Springs.

An insane man escaped from the Asylum Monday, but was captured yesterday and taken back.

The snow which fell yesterday has interfered somewhat with the building under way, but better weather is ahead.

Carlos Warfield has had a new floor put down and other improvements made, giving him a splendid variety store.

Only about fifty dollars was realized from the play given by Sawtelle last Thursday for the benefit of the Fire Company.

Mr. R. P. Bateman, for many years past a resident and merchant at Sheridan, Madison county, has opened a provision store at J. H. B. Foster's old stand, Montana street.

The man from the States can no longer scoff at Montana. Evidences of civilization are found in the fact that six hotels now furnish their tables with butter-knives.

Jefferson county bonds to the amount of $27,000 have been sold during the past year at from 98 cents to par. Only $15,000 of warrants are outstanding. They are quoted at 80 cents on the dollar.—Helena Herald.

Meredith's train brought in among other things yesterday five hundred dozen eggs, fresh laid in Utah about a month ago. He had no difficulty in disposing of them at 50 cents per dozen.

A Helena correspondent writes under date of November 10th that the Fox trial came up Monday. The venire was exhausted at 4 p. m. and no jury was obtained. The court ordered an additional venire and returns to be made the next morning. Thomas Castelar, formerly of the MINER, has been appointed photographic reporter in the case.

The Butte band members met again last night for practice, and made Owsley Hall ring with fine music. Speaking of the band reminds us that they are to give a ball on Thanksgiving night, Thursday, November 27th, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the purchase of a suitable lot upon which to erect a building to be used as a band room. Having once secured a room of their own, it is proposed to fit it up with suitable furniture, music, stands, etc. Now as heretofore, the band when meeting for practice have to take any place they can get, which is not a very pleasant or satisfactory arrangement. At least one hundred tickets ought to be sold for their ball.

[From Thursday's Daily.]

Mr. Stevens is erecting a building on the corner of Park and Montana streets.

George Samples has a comfortable house nearly completed near the Dexter mill.

Mrs. J. W. Chapman and Mrs. R. A. Nordyke left town yesterday for Aurora, Ill.

Five hundred dollars reward has been offered for the apprehension of the Denn murderer.

Thompson & Dodge have just started their new mill and expect to turn out a fine stock of lumber.

Ed. McKean, who has been seriously ill with fever for two or three weeks, is now gradually getting better.

Mr. Thomas is erecting a number of sheds and building for a vegetable depot and hay corral at the west end of town.

Mr. Al. Clarke, a representative of the well known firm of Raleigh & Clarke, was in town yesterday. He leaves to-day for Helena.

It costs only $1.00 to send a night message from Helena to any part of the States, and only twenty-five cents to send a message 500 miles over the Government line. The rates from Butte to Helena are $1.00.

MISSOULA COUNTY.

Missoulian, 7th.
A busy little town is springing up at the Spokane Falls. Cowley & Ford are beginning a new suspension (toll) bridge near the site of the old one over the Spokane river.

Among the criminal cases on trial court week, are those of Mrs. Mary Angeline Drouillard, charged with the murder of M. M. Drouillard; Gilmon and Poi, charged with horse-stealing; John Bates, charged with burglary; and John Lannan (Indian) charged with highway robbery.

Victor Linberg brings news just as we go to press that two Chinamen engaged in a fight at Cedar on Tuesday last, and one of them succeeded in carving his opponent with a butcher-knife so effectually as to send him to Kingdom Come. The murderer escaped.

Some of our people were counting up the new buildings which have been erected in Missoula the past year, and when we overheard them they were counting the twenty-sixth. Other towns in the Territory report an equal or even greater progress during the year.

CHOTEAU COUNTY.

Benton Record, Nov. 7th.
Whoop! Up call is among the articles of merchandise in the Benton market. It readily commands $10 per ton.

Reports from the cattle districts state that the cattle disease is not abating, and is now affecting grown animals.

The engineer party at work on the Missouri river improvements, have suspended operations for the season.

A Mackinaw load of passengers left on the first for Cow Island, where they expected to meet the steamer McLeod.

All the hotels and restaurants in Benton are full to overflowing, and a new hotel is talked of among the merchants.

The unusual demand for goods in the Benton market keeps the merchants busy ordering and replenishing stocks. Trade was never better in Benton than it has been for the past two months; people are crowding into the town and country from all directions, and buildings are going up like magic. The nearer railroads get to Benton the faster the town grows.

MADISON COUNTY.

Madisonian, 8th.
We are informed that a number of ladies and gentlemen of this city have organized an amateur dramatic association, and intend giving an entertainment at an early day.

On Thursday, Rossitor & Co. brought down about 800 ounces of gold dust from Summit. This was the final clean-up for the season.

Farmers from the Gallatin valley say the crops never averaged better throughout that county than they have the season just ended. Heavy yields per acre are reported from all parts of the valley.

Last Saturday the Highland Flume Company brought down about 1,000 ounces of splendid dust. This was only a part of their season's clean-up—all the proceeds of their upper flume, with several partial clean-ups from the lower one, having been marketed some weeks ago.

A postal regulation has been in force now for several months, which is not well-known among business men, or it would be more generally used. We refer to the fact that statements, bills, etc., can now be mailed in an unsealed envelope with a one-cent stamp. Thus the many monthly statements which are made out by wholesale dealers each month can be mailed for one cent, but no writing other than the legitimate bill can be placed upon the statement. No such words as "please remit" can be, neither can a bill receipted be sent. If it is necessary to have the words "please remit" on the statements or bills, they can be printed as a part of the heading.

DIED.

CASE.—In Butte, Nov. 10th, of Typho Remittent Fever, Frank Case, late of New Haven, Ohio, aged 19 years.

This young man left his home last spring in order that he might send back substantial aid to his parents, who needed his assistance. He had but few acquaintances here, but they were friends, because his industry and kind disposition won the esteem of all who had any dealings with him. He was a dutiful and affectionate son, and was a consistent member of the Baptist Church in the place where he was brought up.
