Present prospects. It would seem that as many anti-clubs as clubs in the city are waiting anxiously, however, an anti-stuffed club.

Butte Bakery has been sold by J. T. Stanly. The latter will continue business at the same place, and settling accounts.

Other column may be found the advertisement by Roberts & Co. of their line running between Butte and W. Junction.

Louis newspaper man has sued for a libel on the grounds that "marriage and divorce are incompatible and intolerable," but that anti-matrimonial club any.

Gold and Silver Mining Company's tenth consecutive monthly dividend $10,000 last Saturday, making a total of 30 paid in dividends in ten months.

Members of the Eastern Star will give a December 27, next Tuesday work, Music Hall. The entertainment under the auspices of Ruth Chapter, all Masons in good standing are invited.

T. Brown, business manager of the Publishing Company, acknowledges an invitation for himself to attend the wedding of Miss Ida and Mr. Gustave J. Steffens, in Virginia, M. T., to-morrow evening, at 7 o'clock.

Physicians and scientists are trying to accelerate the slow combustion of the mass of the Comstock and other deep shafts. It is contended that the immense heat generated sufficient heat to cause the timbering to give out, and the gas thus giving out the deadly gas so many months have prevented explosion in the other openings of the mine. The cause does not seem to have been found.

From Wednesday's Daily. Put off till too late your orders for the DAILY MINER.

Money is fast building up a reputation class restaurant.

Good Templars' ball will be given evening, December 23.

Ladies' Catholic fair will take place at the Hall, commencing Monday, Dec. 20.

Abraham, a brother-in-law of Mr. Alexander, has opened a tailor shop near of Park and Montana streets, and is doing repairing and cleaning notices.

You see the letter-press, the illustration of the contents of the HOLIDAY MINER you will not be surprised, but you will be glad to know that the handiwork of you have ever seen.

Being a telegram from Walla Walla, W. T., the body of John P. Watson, of Albert Mau & Co., of "Prisco," that morning at Walla Walla Junction, life wound in it. He was here a week ago.

Marshal Venable has been a very busy man for the past month. He has taken time, however, to realize that the small pox scare is a thing of the past.

We are very glad to hear of the prosperity of O. B. Batten who migrated to Missouri some weeks ago. He has become the law partner of Hon. W. J. McCormick, the pioneer and leading lawyer of Montana. Mr. Batten is well pleased with the country.

Small pox has been declared to exist in Bisnarek. Miles City, Richmond, Virginia, Springfield, Mass., Chicago, Dubuque, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Stearns county, Minn., Fort Abercrombie, Glyndon, Philadelphia, Baltimore, McCauleyville, Deer Lodge, M. T., Breckinridge, Dayton, Tacoma, W. T., Hokah, Minn., and several places on the C. P. railroad.

On Thursday Mr. Blenkinsferfer, construction superintendent of the U. & N., will turn over to the railroad authorities that portion of the road from Silver Bow to Butte. Passenger trains will then run into Butte, returning to Silver Bow, and again coming up in the morning for passengers, until such time as depot buildings and engine houses shall have been constructed at this place.

It is estimated that there are more suicide in young mining camps in the mountains than in any other countries. More occur in winter than in summer. More at night or early in the morning than at other hours. The proportions between the sexes are nearly equal, or perhaps five men to four women. The former choose hanging or the pistol in about equal proportions. Women almost invariably use poison—usually morphine.

Persons frequenting church fairs should not take offense at the following vivid pictorial illustration, drawn by Mr. Eugene Field, of Denver. We have not heard of his being in Butte lately, however: "Here we have an oyster. It is going to a Church Fair. When it gets to the Fair it will swim around in a big Kettle of Warm Water. A Lady will stir it with a Spoon, and sell the Warm Water for Two Bits a pint. The Oyster will move on to the next Fair. In this way the Oyster will visit all the Church Fairs in town, and bring a great many Dollars into the Treasury. The Oyster goes a great Way in a Good Cause."

There are several matters to which the Council might well direct its attention at this time—the sidewalks, for instance.

Will the Independent allow us to suggest that the recent slight fire at the Alice works was in the mill, and not in the mine?

A fine, healthy young immigrant named J. M. Fish Jr., arrived in Butte yesterday afternoon from some unknown region.

Wonder who the Chinawoman was who drove or was driven in a two-horse buggy to a main street stable yesterday afternoon?

"Kid" Miller and Gus Engler will play a grand billiard match for $250 a side, on Monday night, at Milott's mammoth billiard hall.

Hon. Martin Maginnis is said to have taken up his residence in Washington for the winter, and may be addressed at the Arlington House.

The freshest news from the adjoining Territories and the Coast States will be found, under the head of "General Western News," in another column.

Among the latest arrivals at the St. Nicholas are: G. M. Smith, Silver Bow; A. H. Majlory, Silver Star; George D. Fox, Deer Lodge.

Mr. Wm. T. Boardman has accepted the position of manager of the Australia mine, near Boulder valley. The mine is now owned by some New York capitalists.

We have received from Procter & Gamble, of Cincinnati, Ohio, a pamphlet entitled "How to Make Candles." Parties desiring information as to the making and management of this useful article are welcome to the pamphlet.

A man named Otto Abeling, who has been working at the Parrott smelter, was taken sick Monday evening. Yesterday he was visited by Dr. Holmes, the city physician, and pronounced to have the small pox. He was immediately taken to the pest house, without being brought inside the city limits.

The Helena Independent is now bragging—not on the number of stamps in its vicinity—but on the fact that a fair book agent has taken sixty-nine orders there in one month. Assuming that there were thirty days in that month, the fair temptress may be presumed to have averaged two and three-tenths orders per diem, which represents the mental agony of two suffering fellow men, and three-tenths of another, every twenty-four hours. And we boast of the humanity of modern civilization!

We understand that Las Cruces, New Mexico, is coming to the front as a tough town. Last week, at that village, one woman was shot and killed, and another was severely wounded; the foreman of a section gang was "held up" in broad day light and robbed; a printer was stopped by a night foot-pad, and an attempt was made to rob him. Until we reached this last item of the sins of this City of the Cross, we were not greatly surprised. But that even a Mexican bravo should so far forget himself as to attempt to rob a printer, we can scarcely believe. The bravo must be suffering from insanania, and have mistaken the printer's nose for a comet.

From Tuesday's Daily. TWO SIDES.

The Two Colors of the Chop House Affair.

As we are neither judge nor jury we will not pretend to say who was in the right or in the wrong in the affair which took place on the 9th of September last in the Virginia Chop House, in this city. The facts, as nearly as we could learn them last night, are as follows: A party consisting of Colonel Alexander Botkin, his brother, Mr. Botkin, of the well-known firm of Stackpole & Botkin, of this city, and one William Woodcock, the mulatto servant of Col. Botkin, entered the Virginia Chop House. Col. Botkin, who is an invalid, went in to dine with his brother, and Woodcock accompanied the Colonel to assist him in his movements. As the Colonel sat down with his brother at the table just to the right of the entrance, Mr. Sterrett Higgins, of Deer Lodge, entered and sat down with his friends at the same table, leaving no room by the Colonel's side for his body servant, who, we are informed, frequently sat by him to help him at his meals.

Now just at this point the two sides of the shield assume different colors, and the narratives of fact as given on either side differ widely. Woodcock's side of the story is, that seeing no room for him at his master's table he quietly moved over to the one just next to it on the left, and immediately in front of the door. There was a young man sitting there who immediately left the table with expressions of disgust. Woodcock says that Mr. Fiske then told the waiter to inform him, Woodcock, that he must leave the table and that he could not get a meal in the house. At this juncture Col. Botkin spoke up and asked if Mr. Fiske had any objection to Woodcock sitting at his table, but Woodcock then felt too much aggrieved to eat, and sat near by waiting till Col. Botkin and party had finished. This is Woodcock's side of the shield.

Mr. Fiske's side of the story presents quite a different picture. It is in substance that when Woodcock sat down at the table just at the left of Col. Botkin's table, the gentleman who was already there arose and left in disgust. Seeing this Mr. Fiske told a waiter to ask Woodcock if he would not be kind enough to sit at some other table, there being several unoccupied elsewhere in the restaurant. That the colored man then got angry, and so, attracted the attention of Col. Botkin, who asked Mr. Fiske if Woodcock could sit at his table, to which Mr. Fiske replied certainly; that the colored man then said "he would not eat in the d—d house if he could not eat where he pleased, and that he would get even, or something of that sort."

A summons issued from the United States Court at Deer Lodge was served yesterday by an officer on Mr. Fiske in execution brought in pursuance to a section of the 14th amendment, asking $500 damages because the plaintiff Woodcock, had been denied equal privileges at the Chop House with white persons. We have excellent authority for each of the statements, and do not pretend to be able to say which is the correct one, as to their points of difference. This action can not probably be tried until March, as the Deer Lodge session is about over.

The Disappearance of the Small Pox.

There have been no new cases of small pox in Butte since Sunday, December 4, and we are enabled now to make the gratifying announcement that what few cases there now are in the city limits, three or four altogether, and in the pest house, are all convalescent. We were informed by the city physician last night that these were the facts, and that Mrs. Drake could be safely pronounced well, and she is now confined simply on account of her desire to remain with her children. The latter will themselves soon be discharged from treatment.

There is another patient, a man at the pest house, who is entirely well, and ready to be discharged at any time. This will be done under proper conditions as soon as the Council will have a meeting.

The city physician visits all of his patients regularly twice a day. On Saturday last a large additional supply of clothing, bedding and medicine was sent out to the pest house.

Yesterday Dr. Strom was called to see an alleged small pox patient in Dublin gulch, but on inspection it was discovered that the man had no symptom of small pox whatever.

In this happy state of affairs, after so much exaggeration, the city of Butte is to be congratulated.

Hospital Report.

At the Miners' Hospital there are at present no dangerous cases, the inmates being as follows:

R. C. Miller, admitted Nov. 26, suffering from Rheumatism; John Cone admitted Dec. 10, suffering with a cut over the right eye, received in the Silver Bow Junction altercation; Henry Wagner, admitted Dec. 10; Peter McDevitt, admitted Dec. 10, suffering from a severe gash under the right knee, received from an axe while the patient was cutting wood in the timber. McDevitt's knee is much inflamed, and may prove difficult of management.

In the Workmen's Hospital there are no bad cases at present. The man whose foot was smashed a few days ago in the Moulton is progressing steadily; Ed. Gamble, whose arm was dreadfully lacerated some six weeks ago by the runaway of the Walkerville express, is almost well, and feels happy at his complete recovery of the use of his arm.

In the Sisters' Hospital there are at present about twenty-eight patients, none in a critical condition.

GREEN.—At Walla Walla, December 16, 1881, to George and Mary Green, a 12 pound girl.

Two new locomotives, Nos. 41 and 42, arrived yesterday for the Utah & Northern Railway.

From Tuesday's Daily. Poor Doe.

Mrs. John Doe called at our office yesterday, and sitting down in the local editor's curker-cushioned easy chair, burst into tears. Now a woman in tears is always a peculiarly depressing spectacle to a self-respecting man, as we at first felt inclined to faint, and then became almost overcome by an ardent desire to comfort our exhaused spirits by taking refuge—even in a neighboring saloon, but as we rose to go, Mrs. Doe entreated us to be seated, and opening her eyes and pearl-lined mouth, gave vent to a gentle stream of mournful eloquence, which flowed just fifteen minutes by the clock. She finally succeeded in informing us that Mr. Doe, her husband, had again been led into temptation, and had again been brought up before Judge Wilcox, in the Police Court, on the charge of having been drunk and disorderly. More than that, John had been fined twenty-five dollars, which John had promised to his dear spouse to buy a winter benet, and now, ugh—boo-hoo! We were informed later that John had been so drunk that he had offered twenty-five dollars to any policeman who would keep him all night in the cooler, as he was drunk and afraid of being robbed. We are afraid John has been playing it rather fine on his too-confiding spouse, and warn him we will not be a party to any such disgraceful proceeding.

Railway Notes.

During the past year the business of the Union Pacific road has increased very largely. This increase amounts to fully 40 per cent. in the freight department. One year ago the clerical force numbered thirteen persons. Eighteen are now employed, and their time is fully occupied. In 1880 the through bills reached the number of 25,000, and up to the present time the number has reached nearly 8,000 more this year than during the preceding year. The number of through bills of freight averages nearly two hundred per day, so that the number for the entire year will be about 10,000 more than for the year 1880—Ogden Pilot, Dec. 10.

THE BUTTE WATER COMPANY. Successful Completion of Their Labors.

Capt. John McCormick informed us last evening that the Butte Water Company have their reservoirs full of water, ready to be turned at once into the main pipe down Main street. This morning the water will be turned on, and tested with hose at the four fire plugs which have already been put in on Main street.

From Wednesday's Daily. YELLOWSTONE ITEMS.

"I would rather be buried in Miles City than Mayor of St. Paul," said a tenderfoot tramp to another as he sat on our office steps and counted up his pennies, to see if he had the price of a drink. "So would I," remarked the other, and they tramped off to a convenient saloon.

The railroad reached town last Monday. A number of our business houses celebrated the event by illuminating their buildings but no other demonstration was made, as Judge Bowen stated that when the first passenger car arrived there would be a number of distinguished railroad officials and others on it, and that the general reception of the advent of the iron horse be delayed until then.

Commenting on the duty, as well as the interest of business men to patronize their local paper, the River Press of a recent date pertinently remarks: "The man or firm that has not the enterprise to patronize his local paper may well be regarded with suspicion by the people. It is safe to set him down as a 'skinflint' who is wrapped up solely in self, and who has not the least interest in the progress or prosperity of the community in which he is doing business."

PIPESTONE LETTER.

Serious Accident to a Teamster.

PIPESTONE, Dec. 11, 1881.

DEAR SIR:—A teamster in the employment of John Morrison was seriously injured last Thursday morning while engaged in hauling stone from the quarry. He happened to drop his lines and in order to get them, had to step between the mules and the sled; the mules walked on and Mr. T. was tripped by the sled and then dragged by the mules till Daniel Ferris came to assist him. We are happy to learn that his wounds are not fatal and the sufferer is now doing well. Times are quite lively here. Maclyn's whisky is good to keep off the small pox.

Yours truly, "ANON."

Liederkrantz.

A number of ladies and gentlemen belonging to this popular organization, with a few invited visitors, assembled in Speck's Hall, in the Caplice Building, last Sunday night, and spent a most enjoyable evening, with jest and song and social converse. The Liederkrantz is making itself felt as a power in Butte.

Telegraphic Transfer.

By a telegraphic transfer the balance of the purchase money of the Broadway mine was paid on yesterday in New York City, to the credit of Donnell, Clark & Larabee. The amount we are informed was $100,000.

The sheriff is in receipt of letters from Mrs. E. R. Gage, of Gallatin county, describing a number of horses which were stolen last October by Indians, supposed to be bloods, and of the same party who stole Al. Harrison's horses from the Yellowstone.

From Thursday's Daily. EXTRADITED! Tried and Acquitted in the Police Court.

Last Monday Under Sheriff Small brought over from Helena a young man named Charles Cabanski, on a warrant sworn out by Mr. C. H. Fiske, of this city, of which the following is a copy:

In the Justice Court of Silver Bow Township, Silver Bow County, Montana Territory, before J. B. Wilcox: Territory of Montana vs Charles Cabanski.

C. H. Fiske being duly sworn, says the crime of obtaining money under false pretenses has been committed in Butte City, Silver Bow Township, Silver Bow County, Montana Territory, and that said defendant, Charles Cabanski, did commit said crime at said place on or about the 26th day of November, A. D. 1881, by knowingly, designedly and falsely pretending to affiant that he, the said defendant, was the owner of a certain account due and owing by affiant and partner to the firm of Eustis & Co., of Butte City, and relying on said representations, which were false, affiant paid to said defendant the sum of $14.85, the amount of said account, and said defendant received said sum of $14.85, with intent to cheat and defraud affiant and partner of the said sum aforesaid. Wherefore affiant asks that a warrant be issued for said defendant, and that he be dealt with as the law directs.

CHAS. H. FISKE.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 28th of November, A. D. 1881.

PATRICK TALENT, Notary Public.

This charge was filed November 25, 1881. Yesterday afternoon Cabanski, appeared in the Police Court with his attorney, W. O. Speer, Esq., and was easily acquitted, no evidence being produced to substantiate any charge against the prisoner. The facts, as far as we could learn them, show that Cabanski had been for some time prior to his arrest operating a sausage machine for Eustis & Co., on Lower Main street. The firm had bought the machine through Cabanski and for him, and becoming auctories for the payment of the purchase money, were obliged to pay it when it became due. They had subsequently sold the machine, as we are informed, at a loss of $30, and claimed that Cabanski was consequently indebted to them in that amount. On November 26, Cabanski presented to Mr. C. H. Fiske, of the Chop House, and collected from him a bill of $14.85 for sausage, meat, etc. furnished by Cabanski. This Eustis & Co. claimed he had no right to do, and hence the arrest. Cabanski laid in jail from Monday, when he arrived here from Helena, until yesterday. The costs of seizing the accused in Helena bringing him here and keeping him in jail will doubtless amount to about ten times the amount of the claim made against him, which was only $14.85. Who will have these costs to pay, the county or the prosecution?

The Small Pox.

It is now an accomplished fact that the small pox terror is not abroad in this city, and that the time for alarm has passed. The more extravagant rumors spread in outlying districts and neighboring towns, the more strikingly apparent is the plain truth that there are only three persons in all this city of eight thousand souls, and its suburbs, who can be said to have any symptoms of small pox, and the additional fact that these three persons are now pronounced convalescent by their attending physician. Of these one is a man in the pest house, who has never been in a critical condition, and the other two are children who were exposed to the disease at the time when it was brought here from Divide, and who have been so carefully isolated and so faithfully nursed that their entire recovery is only the question of a very short time.

We hope that the Territorial press, and our more distant exchanges, will take the trouble to publish these facts, showing the absence of small-pox from Butte, in view of the frequency and positiveness of the assertions which have been so broadly made that this disease was an epidemic here.

BUTTE FIRE BRIGADE.

Called Meeting Last Night at Germania Hall.

A called meeting of Butte Fire Brigade No. 1 was held last night at Germania Hall. There was a good attendance, and after the transaction of several matters of miscellaneous business, it was resolved that a grand call be given the night of February 14, 1882. The place at which the ball is to be held, and the various committees will be announced hereafter. In the meantime the following general committee of arrangements was selected: Messrs. H. McMurphy, Simon Hauswirth, Fred. Gilbert, Geo. C. Fitcher and John M. Stewart.

Benton Record, Dec. 9.

Parr Gilson returned from Baker last night. He says good work is being done on the road to the mines with the money contributed by the citizens of Benton. A good many useful bridges have been put in, and the road where it leaves the bench to go down into the Otter creek bottom has been shortened and the descent rendered more gradual. A force of men will commence work immediately on the Highwood and Little Willow creek hills.

The Utah & Northern brought in yesterday from Melissa, four cars of bullion for A. D. Lyach, Omaha; from Silver Bow, four cars of matte for Pope, Cole & Co., Baltimore.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT Successfully Established in the Moulton Works.

The Electric Light for Butte.

Last evening the new Hochhausen electric light was tested at the Moulton works, and found in every way satisfactory.

Mr. W. H. Clark has procured burners for seven lights for the Moulton, and they will be at once properly arranged for the illumination of the interior of the mill and hoisting works. The power is furnished by the 200 horse-power pumping engine, which will, of course, be kept constantly in operation, and will thus supply force largely in excess of what will be for some time required for the pumps and the Moulton light. This superfluous power can be admirably utilized for a series of electric lights at prominent points throughout the city of Butte, and small burners in addition in store-rooms and houses. The proposition is perfectly feasible, and if taken up and promoted by the citizens, will doubtless be promptly put into execution by Mr. Clark. The very fact that there is an excess of power—over what is immediately needed at the Moulton works, will enable the company to illuminate Butte by electricity at an expense far less than that now incurred.

The arc light would be utilized for outside illumination, and the incandescent burners, by which the light may be subdivided, and be reduced to any desired size and degree of intensity, for interior use.

Negotiations are now pending between Mr. Clark and the Eastern electric companies with a view to the introduction of the electric light into Butte. Nothing that could happen to this city would give it as great an impetus towards its destined career of business and mining prosperity as the speedy perfection of this admirable plan. We hope that our citizens will at once see the advantage of entering heartily into this plan, and signifying their appreciation of the idea.

Five lights were suspended last evening in the hoisting works, and in a short time lights will be arranged and suspended in the mill. Fires will be lighted to-day in the mill, and preparations made for starting it in full operation very shortly.

The General School Fund.

We are informed by Professor R. B. Hassell, the Superintendent of Common Schools for Silver Bow county, that the following is a correct statement of the amount of money in the General School Fund of Silver Bow county, and the apportionment to the several school districts. The greater the amount the better, in view of the lamentable wreck bearing the name and occupying the grounds of School District Number One: Am't of money in the General School Fund of Silver Bow Co. $16,608.63 No. of children drawing school money 1,257 Amount per capita $13.21 Apportioned to the several districts of Silver Bow Co. as follows, to-wit: Butte, Dist. No. 5, 33 children... 435.33 Balance on hand..... 3.60 Butte, M. T., Dec. 14, 1881. $16,608.63

TERRITORIAL NEWS.

Helena Herald Dec. 12.

The Spokane Indians are suffering from a disease resembling diphtheria. Fifty cases are reported.

C. A. Small, under sheriff of Silver Bow county, arrived here Saturday evening to conduct a prisoner, confined in the city jail, to Butte, where he is to be tried for larceny. The sheriff left town yesterday morning with the culprit.

Should the Gregory Reduction Works be enlarged to the full capacity of their motive power the daily bullion product would average in the neighborhood of 80,000 pounds. The Wickes Reduction Works are reported as producing 25,000 pounds of bullion daily, which will presently be increased to 50,000 pounds every twenty-four hours.

Helena Independent Dec. 13.

We see by an Eastern paper that Montana's Delegate, Hon. Martin Maginnis, has located at the Arlington, Washington, for the session.

The best canvasser that ever visited Helena was Miss Flora Caldwell, agent for the Encyclopedia Britannica. She was in Helena less than a month, and in that time took 60 orders, which amounted in money to over $10,000.

A petty burglar, who perhaps contemplates going into the confectionary business, recently broke into the room on Broadway formerly occupied by the Montana Fruit Company, and stole therefrom several candy jars, a pair of light scales, and other articles. Just when the burglary was committed is not known, as Mr. Kellogg, the manager of the establishment, had not been in the store for several days, having closed for the season and taken a situation in Lockett's land and insurance office.

Pueblo, Colo., has a sensation over a murder committed there. Last February Christopher Shurtrew was found dead in his tent. A physician and the coroner were called in, but they deemed an inquest unnecessary, and the body was buried in one of the cemeteries. A few weeks ago the body was disinterred and sent to his friends in Pennsylvania. They, for some cause, had a post mortem examination, which showed the man had been murdered. He was shot in the back of the head and then the bullet hole was plugged up with wood and the hair arranged to conceal the wound. They hope to detect the murderers.
