

The President's Appointments.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The Tribune this morning discloses the New York appointments made by the President yesterday, and shows that they are all pronounced stalwarts, political hucksters and President makers.

Chicago Notes.

CHICAGO, March 21.—The skeleton of a mastodon was unearthed Saturday, at Geneseo, Ill., but was so badly decayed that it fell to pieces on being taken out. One tooth measured three inches across. To-morrow morning 200,000 more bushels of corn will be posted as heated. It is in the Danville elevator.

Whittaker's Case.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—At a Cabinet meeting to-day the case of cadet Whittaker was disposed of by disapproving of the sentence of dishonour from the service imposed by the court martial on the ground that technical evidence taken at the trial was improperly introduced.

A Fast Mail Line.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Senator Frye to-day introduced a bill to build a railroad between New York and Washington, the work to begin soon, which shall carry mails between the cities in 6 1/2 hours; rates of fare not exceed $5 and the road to be first-class in every particular.

Postal Matters.

BOSTON, March 21.—Postmaster General Howe in a conference Friday with merchants and others regarding mail transportation promised to give attention to the complaint that the Australian mail bound east was delayed by stoppage at Chicago. He expected to save twenty-four hours time in the service between New York and Chicago.

Killed by a Brickbat.

CHICAGO, March 21.—The Inter Ocean's Summer, Ill., special says Thos. Davis of Petty township, aged 65, died to-day from a fracture of the skull produced by brickbats thrown by Capt. B. C. Davis, a veteran of the war. The latter is held in $25,000 bail. Both men are well known and respectable. Captain Davis married a niece of Speaker Keifer.

Arrested for Cruelty to Seamen.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Captain Collins and Chief Mate McDonald, of the ship Queenstown, from Antwerp for Wilmington, were arrested at Los Angeles for cruelty to seamen, one of whom, it is alleged, was allowed to drown with no effort to save him. The second Mate, against whom are similar charges, levanted. The examination is now in progress before the U. S. Commissioner.

A Modification of Mason's Sentence Recommended.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Judge Advocate General Swain it is understood recommends the modification of the sentence on the ground that Guiteau was not in a position where he could possibly have been killed by Mason and that under such circumstances the charge of assault with intent to kill cannot be sustained.

Cutting Railroad Rates.

KANSAS CITY, March 21.—Passenger rates from Missouri points were demoralized yesterday. Tickets are selling to New York for $16 to $18 direct, a cut of $10 to $12. Fare to Chicago went as low as $2, and $5 was the general rate except at the Chicago and Union office, which under orders, maintained the rate at $7. The Wabash and Rock Island lead the cutting. The existence of 200 of the Wabash and Chicago unlimited tickets in the hands of scalpers is the cause of the difficulty.

The Overflowed District.

BATON ROUGE, March 21.—Governor York telegraphs the Governor from Troy Lauding that he is distributing forage on Black river. The country is in a fearful distress. There are 350 head of stock on Black Tansas and Little rivers that must be fed to save them. The corn and oats shipped by the steamer St. John will be distributed to-morrow on the Tansas river. Gen. York advises the shipment of forage for stock on all the streams abovementioned. The Bayous Macon and Bartholomew rivers are rising rapidly. He chartered a steamer to remove the stock.

A Mysterious Murder.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—A Tucson dispatch says: The body of Frank Stillwell was found beside the Railroad track not far from the depot this a. m. Riddled with rifle bullets and buckshot. He was seen at the depot last night on the arrival of the west bound train in the company with Ike Clanton, one of the cow boy gang with whom the Earp brothers had a desperate fight last fall at Tombstone. By the train there arrived a heavily armed party escorting the body of Morgan Earp recently assassinated at Tombstone. Four of the party were seen to follow Stillwell down the track and shots were heard soon after and the quartette did not return. This a. m. four armed men flagged and boarded a freight train 9 miles east of town. The deceased was a brother of the famous scout Texas Jack.

Accident on the N. P.

BISMARCK, D. T., March 21.—News reached here at 11 o'clock to-night of a terrible wreck at Sweet Briar, about 40 miles west of here on the Northern Pacific. An engine came here from Mandan for physicians and assistance to attend the sufferers by the wreck. The wires are down between Bismarck and Mandan, but it is stated by the engineer from Mandan that Black Jack's work train bound west went through a bridge and the passenger train but little behind followed. Thirty persons are reported killed and many more injured. All the physicians in this place started on a special train for the wreck. Full particulars of the accident at this writing are impossible.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The House committee on ways and means adopted six to five, the following resolution:

Resolved, That the sub committee on changes on internal revenue be instructed to report a bill abolishing all internal revenue except the tax on distilled liquors, malt liquors, and manufactured tobacco and taxes on bank circulation, alcohol and medicines; leaving for their discretion a reduction of tax on sugars and special taxes on dealers, manufacturers etc.

In reply to a question by Cox, of N. Y., Page, of Cal., stated he would call the previous question on the Chinese bill to-morrow at 3 o'clock.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Hale presented a protest against the admission of Dakota as a State until her record is purged of repudiation.

McMillan attributed the complaint to the fact that eastern financiers have been subject to some delay in returns upon some of their western investments. The Senate took up the military academy bill.

Petitions for the Pardon of Mason.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—W. E. Dickson, of Chicago, waited upon the President to-day and presented a memorial petition from the citizens of Illinois for executive interference in the case of Sergeant Mason. He was accompanied by Representatives Aldrich and Warwell. The President said he would consider the case.

From the South.

VICKSBURG, March 21.—A heavy wind and rain storm prevailed last night and a strong wind to-day, which causes swells in the river and will cause new breaks in the levees.

A steamer from Deer Creek brings 350 head of stock from La Campbell, and reports the water from seven to ten inches deep on the plantations around La Campbell.

All the boats bring a large number of refugees, mostly colored, at Myersville. They will be ready to go to work as soon as the water falls.

Ducksport is still above water.

Sweetbriar Railroad Disaster.

CHICAGO, March 21.—A Bismarck special to the Tribune, via train just arrived, says: nine men were instantly killed and eleven others injured. The cars caught fire and two men burned. The accident happened two miles east of the Sweetbriar, at a place known as Soapstone Cut, at the crossing of Hart river. A few bents of the bridge gave way. Only the work train was wrecked, Jack Simon in charge. The latter is known as Black Jack. The snow plow, which was ahead of the wrecked train, is now bringing in the dead and wounded to Mandan. No names attainable yet.

The Queen's Request.

LONDON, March 21.—In the House of Commons this evening Gladstone submitted a message from the Queen asking that provision be made for Prince Leopold upon his approaching marriage. Gladstone announced that he would on Thursday move to consider the same. Labouchere announced that he would oppose the motion.

The Appeal of Mrs. Mason.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The wife of Sergeant Mason appeals for aid for herself and distressed family and for the release of her husband. For 18 years, she says, her husband has been a brave soldier, never in the guard house before and carries honorable wounds. She thinks he has been punished enough by six months' imprisonment.

An Aesthetic Influence.

From Paek. "Yes, sir," he said, "my grandfather was a very peculiar man. He was extremely sensitive to influences that do not generally affect other men. His peculiarity was that his temperament changed according to the hat he wore. And he wore all kinds of hats. "He must have been a good many varieties of one man," said the listener. "He was. Now, for instance, when he wore a Derby hat he was merely commonplace. He behaved himself like an ordinary man, and had no special characteristics—nothing calculated to attract the attention of a bulldog, if I may so express it. "Well, there's nothing peculiar about that?" "No; but just listen: When he put on a slosh that his character changed entirely. He became ruffianly and desperate, and swaggered around like a hired bravo or an advance agent out of a job. His best friends were afraid of him, and he only had to put his energetic on to keep away the most energetic bill-collector. "If I were like that I'd have a felt hat riveted to my head," said the other man. "Then, when he put on a cap with a vizor he became simply low. He used to hang around bar-rooms, although he was a strict temperance man, and he consorted with car conductors and statesmen, and that class of people. "So long as he didn't associate with poets it was all right. "He never got so low as that. But you ought to have seen him when he put a silk hat on. The moment he appeared on the street in a beaver he looked so respectable that people used to come up to him and ask him to accept the chairmanship of mass-meetings or to serve as a director of charitable associations, and on one occasion he was actually arrested on suspicion of being a bank president. "How is it?" inquired the other man, doubtfully, "that we have never heard of your grandfather?" "He died young. The way it happened was this: He once went out in a silk hat, and a man came along who mistook him for the receiver of a savings bank who had received all that was left of the unfortunate depositors' money after the smash-up. This man struck him on the head, and broke down the hat. It then resembled the discouraged-looking always worn by inebriates on the stage. True to his peculiarity, my grandfather became at once profoundly intoxicated, although, as I have said, he never had drunk a drop in his life, and he died in fifteen minutes of delirium tremens. "Let us adjourn to the nearest bakery," said the other man; "and I will purchase the establishment for you."

The crevasses reported to-day in the Alabama will add greatly to the flood. The waters are already deluging the country between Bayou Macon and the Mississippi river and from South Red river to the Arkansas line.

Every Man His Own Stenographer.

Another addition has been made to the many scientific wonders of recent years. Herr A. Gentili, of Vienna, has invented an instrument—called by him the glossograph—consisting of an ingenious combination of delicate levers and blades which placed upon the tongue and lips and under the nostrils of the speaker, are vibrated by the movements of the former and the breath flowing from the latter. The vibration is transmitted to pencils which transcribe the several signs produced by the action of tongue and lips and the breath from the nostrils upon a strip of paper moved by a mechanical arrangement.

Similar to shorthand, a special system of writing, which may fitly be termed glossography, is produced, based upon the principle of syllable construction and combination of consonants. It is especially suitable for those languages the orthography of which differs least from the phonetic record of the apparatus. A wide vista is opened to the instrument for its practical application in recording speech. Independently of the fact that by its means we shall be enabled to write four or five times as quickly as heretofore by shorthand, the new apparatus requires no preliminary study and no special practice. It is self-acting in the fullest sense. Moreover, its application involves as little fatigue to the speaker as severe attention on the part of the person transcribing. In reporting proceedings in Parliament or courts of law it is not necessary that the speaker should use the apparatus himself. Anybody may articulate it by repeating in a low voice the words of a speaker, which is sufficient for recording the signs. The glossography may be recommended to those orators whose efforts to be heard are constantly ignored by reporters, and who will thus be enabled by simply adjusting the instrument under their nose, to report their own speeches in spite of those objectionable persons. Seriously speaking, however, the glossograph may play an important part in telegraphy in the near future.—Iron.
