

THE ROCK SPRINGS RIOT

It is Officially Placed before Congress.

A PLAIN MESSAGE.

The President Thinks that the Government is Not Legally Liable for Damages.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The President sent the following message to Congress today: "The Senate and House of Representatives: It is made the constitutional duty of the President to recommend to the consideration of Congress any measure which in his opinion such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient. In no matter can the necessity of this be more evident than when the good faith of the United States, under the solemn obligation of its treaties with foreign Powers is concerned. The question of the treatment of the subjects of China is one of the most important which the United States presents such a matter for the urgent and earnest consideration of the Executive and Congress. In my first annual message upon the assembling of the present Congress, I adverted to this question. The President here quotes a passage from his message upon the Chinese question and continues: "At the time I wrote this

THE SHOCKING OCCURRENCE at Rock Springs, in Wyoming Territory, was fresh in the minds of all, and had been recently presented anew to the attention of the Executive and Congress. The facts, which, while not unaccountably exhibiting some misconception of our general system of administration in the Territory, which is not a part of the exercise of the full measure of that sovereign self-government pertaining to the Territory, are not, in my opinion, such as to justify the Government in the course of the United States and the people in the Territory, having been thus framed and recounting the facts within the knowledge of the witnesses, which could not fail to give an impression. The facts, which are not in controversy or added by any explanatory or mitigating circumstances, are the murder of a number of Chinese subjects at Rock Springs, the wounding of many others, the destruction of property, and the killing of the unhappy survivors had been DRIVEN FROM THEIR HABITATIONS. The facts, which are not in controversy or added by any explanatory or mitigating circumstances, are the murder of a number of Chinese subjects at Rock Springs, the wounding of many others, the destruction of property, and the killing of the unhappy survivors had been driven from their habitations. The facts, which are not in controversy or added by any explanatory or mitigating circumstances, are the murder of a number of Chinese subjects at Rock Springs, the wounding of many others, the destruction of property, and the killing of the unhappy survivors had been driven from their habitations.

THE RIGHTS OF CHINESE SUBJECTS, did they come either as to all other strangers who voluntarily resort to this land of freedom, or as to those who are brought here possibly to win bread and to live their lives. There can be no question that they would be entitled to the same protection and the same respect for their person and property as any other alien, so far as the treaties between the United States and China are concerned. The Government of the United States is bound to protect the rights of Chinese subjects in the United States as far as the treaties between the United States and China are concerned.

CHINESE LABORERS or Chinese of any other class now permanently or temporarily residing in the territory of the United States should be treated as to all other aliens, so far as the treaties between the United States and China are concerned. The Government of the United States is bound to protect the rights of Chinese subjects in the United States as far as the treaties between the United States and China are concerned.

THE ACTS OF THE CHINESE GOVERNMENT in past instances where the lives of American citizens and their property in China have been endangered and argues the reciprocal obligation on the part of the United States to offer the same protection to the subjects of the Chinese Government, inasmuch as the Chinese Government has undertaken to protect the lives and property of American citizens in China.

THE RIGHTS OF CHINESE LABORERS or Chinese of any other class now permanently or temporarily residing in the territory of the United States should be treated as to all other aliens, so far as the treaties between the United States and China are concerned. The Government of the United States is bound to protect the rights of Chinese subjects in the United States as far as the treaties between the United States and China are concerned.
