

DEVOED TO SILVER.

Yesterday's Session of the House of Representatives.

FRIEND AND FOE

Of the White Metal Discuss the Subject—Other Doings at the Capital.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The Senate was not in session to-day.

Immediately upon assembling the House passed a resolution of the whole on the state of Union for general debate. Mr. Millard, of New York, addressed the committee on the silver question. He said the only way out of the difficulty was to establish an international ratio between the two metals. It had been charged that the present administration was engaged in conspiracy with the bond holders in setting aside the law. He thought that the sine of the present administration was sufficient without adding this charge to them. The free coinage of silver would bring nothing but want and misery to the homes and families of the American people.

Mr. McCarty, of New York, made a speech in opposition to the suspension of silver coinage. This suspension was the demand of the shysters who already had their pound of flesh and now wished for blood. Mr. McCarty, of New York, made a speech in support of the Treasury credit for honest convictions in their recommendations in regard to the silver question.

Mr. Latham, of Texas, called upon all those who were in favor of the bill introduced from the committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures. The members of that committee were asked to stand up and be counted. It was believed by many that it was not included in the bill. The bill was suspended and the contest was between suspension and unlimited coinage. There was no middle course. It was a struggle between a scientific solution of the question as to how to return to the gold and silver standard, and a quarter of a century of Republican rule, after the demerit of silver by the Republican party, after the lessons of experience taught by the Committee of One Hundred, the non-partisan organization formed for the purpose of securing a fair trial in this city last fall. This bill is a grand opportunity to the nation, and it is a grand opportunity to the nation, and it is a grand opportunity to the nation.

MEXICAN SUBSIDIES.

True Story of the Killing of Capt. Crawford.

New York, March 6.—The Army and Navy Journal to-day publishes a long letter from Fort Grant, in Arizona, in relation to the killing of Capt. Crawford and wounding of some of his men by Mexican soldiers on January 11. It gives the history of the battle through the mountains near Guadalupe Pass, and details the fight in which Capt. Crawford and his men were killed. It states that the Mexicans were not mistaken in the Federal soldiers for Indians, that it was only when they found the force too strong to be driven off that they opened fire and killed the captain and some of his men.

AN ISSUE MADE

By the Knights of Labor and the Railroad—Street Car Strike—General Disaffection.

GALVESTON, Texas, March 6.—The pending labor troubles here are all-absorbing. The Knights of Labor employed at the Gulf Colorado & Santa Fe freight depot refused to handle freight received from the depot. The Knights of Labor were not discharged, and the Knights of Labor were not discharged, and the Knights of Labor were not discharged.

Another Ohio Witness.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, March 6.—Isaac J. Miller, a prominent Democrat of this city, a former member of the Board of Civilian Aids, and a former member of the Board of Civilian Aids, and a former member of the Board of Civilian Aids.

Two Pittsburg Thieves.

PITTSBURGH, March 6.—Thomas Christie and Horatio King, clerks in the First National Bank of Bradford, Kentucky, have been arrested on charges of stealing $10,000 from the bank.

Arkansas Takes a Hand.

LITTLE ROCK, March 6.—The trouble with the operators of the Texas & Pacific Railroad is in a state of chaos. The strikers are in a state of chaos.

San Francisco Thieves.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—The custom officials at the port of San Francisco have seized a large quantity of opium which had been smuggled into the city.

Madison Deal.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—An El Paso dispatch says that a deal for the purchase of a large tract of land in Madison, Texas, has been made.

His Last Trick.

KANSAS CITY, March 6.—A Times special reporter, Ott, writes that a man named here recently and began a series of meetings. He has quartered at the house of a woman named here recently and began a series of meetings.

Outrage and Murder.

MACON, Ga., March 6.—Miss Carrie Bains and her niece, Miss Ella Humphreys, were murdered Thursday evening near Middleville, while going to the house of Frank Humphreys, a local merchant.

THE WARRING WORKERS.

Trouble and Rumor of Trouble From All Points.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The strike of the Bleeker Street Twenty-third Street Cross Town railroad employees continued to-day, the situation being unchanged and everything quiet among the strikers.

IN AN ILL-SPENT LIFE

Ended with a Bullet Through the Brain.

Another case of self-destruction on account of drink and extravagance of a student, and another man who had the confidence and respect of a large circle of friends has ended his career by his own hand.

SHORT ACCOUNTS

And Morphine Cause Another Suicide. E. B. T. Graham Found Dead in His Bed.

Another case of self-destruction on account of drink and extravagance of a student, and another man who had the confidence and respect of a large circle of friends has ended his career by his own hand.

THE LUDWIG CASE.

A Jury Secured and a Postponement Until Monday Morning.

The trial of Anton Ludwig, for the murder of A. Grassy, last fall, was called in the District Court yesterday forenoon, with District Judge Jacob Z. E. Robertson and Assistant William Seaton as counsel for the Territory, and Messrs. Robinson & Stapleton and Campbell & Duffy representing the defendant.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

A Day in Which Much Business is Transacted.

Court met yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, and after the usual preliminaries the following business was gone through with:

THE DISTRICT COURT.

A Day in Which Much Business is Transacted.

Court met yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, and after the usual preliminaries the following business was gone through with:

THE DISTRICT COURT.

A Day in Which Much Business is Transacted.

Court met yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, and after the usual preliminaries the following business was gone through with:

THE DISTRICT COURT.

A Day in Which Much Business is Transacted.

Court met yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, and after the usual preliminaries the following business was gone through with:

THE WARRING WORKERS.

Trouble and Rumor of Trouble From All Points.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The strike of the Bleeker Street Twenty-third Street Cross Town railroad employees continued to-day, the situation being unchanged and everything quiet among the strikers.

IN AN ILL-SPENT LIFE

Ended with a Bullet Through the Brain.

Another case of self-destruction on account of drink and extravagance of a student, and another man who had the confidence and respect of a large circle of friends has ended his career by his own hand.

SHORT ACCOUNTS

And Morphine Cause Another Suicide. E. B. T. Graham Found Dead in His Bed.

Another case of self-destruction on account of drink and extravagance of a student, and another man who had the confidence and respect of a large circle of friends has ended his career by his own hand.

THE LUDWIG CASE.

A Jury Secured and a Postponement Until Monday Morning.

The trial of Anton Ludwig, for the murder of A. Grassy, last fall, was called in the District Court yesterday forenoon, with District Judge Jacob Z. E. Robertson and Assistant William Seaton as counsel for the Territory, and Messrs. Robinson & Stapleton and Campbell & Duffy representing the defendant.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

A Day in Which Much Business is Transacted.

Court met yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, and after the usual preliminaries the following business was gone through with:

THE DISTRICT COURT.

A Day in Which Much Business is Transacted.

Court met yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, and after the usual preliminaries the following business was gone through with:

THE DISTRICT COURT.

A Day in Which Much Business is Transacted.

Court met yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, and after the usual preliminaries the following business was gone through with:

THE DISTRICT COURT.

A Day in Which Much Business is Transacted.

Court met yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, and after the usual preliminaries the following business was gone through with:

THE BUTTE MINES AND MILLS.

The following beautiful poem was read at the recent National Editorial Convention in Cincinnati, by W. E. Faber, Secretary of the Colorado State Press Association.

Write me a rhyme, said a voice to me,
Of the coal workers by the sea.
Where the coral workers throng, they be
In the sea, by the coral reef.
While the seasons come and go, under ocean's
Throb and flow;
Over all, with white sails spread, the blue sky
Over the sea.

THE BUTTE MINES AND MILLS.

The following beautiful poem was read at the recent National Editorial Convention in Cincinnati, by W. E. Faber, Secretary of the Colorado State Press Association.

Write me a rhyme, said a voice to me,
Of the coal workers by the sea.
Where the coral workers throng, they be
In the sea, by the coral reef.
While the seasons come and go, under ocean's
Throb and flow;
Over all, with white sails spread, the blue sky
Over the sea.

THE BUTTE MINES AND MILLS.

The following beautiful poem was read at the recent National Editorial Convention in Cincinnati, by W. E. Faber, Secretary of the Colorado State Press Association.

Write me a rhyme, said a voice to me,
Of the coal workers by the sea.
Where the coral workers throng, they be
In the sea, by the coral reef.
While the seasons come and go, under ocean's
Throb and flow;
Over all, with white sails spread, the blue sky
Over the sea.

THE BUTTE MINES AND MILLS.

The following beautiful poem was read at the recent National Editorial Convention in Cincinnati, by W. E. Faber, Secretary of the Colorado State Press Association.

Write me a rhyme, said a voice to me,
Of the coal workers by the sea.
Where the coral workers throng, they be
In the sea, by the coral reef.
While the seasons come and go, under ocean's
Throb and flow;
Over all, with white sails spread, the blue sky
Over the sea.

THE BUTTE MINES AND MILLS.

The following beautiful poem was read at the recent National Editorial Convention in Cincinnati, by W. E. Faber, Secretary of the Colorado State Press Association.

Write me a rhyme, said a voice to me,
Of the coal workers by the sea.
Where the coral workers throng, they be
In the sea, by the coral reef.
While the seasons come and go, under ocean's
Throb and flow;
Over all, with white sails spread, the blue sky
Over the sea.

THE BUTTE MINES AND MILLS.

The following beautiful poem was read at the recent National Editorial Convention in Cincinnati, by W. E. Faber, Secretary of the Colorado State Press Association.

Write me a rhyme, said a voice to me,
Of the coal workers by the sea.
Where the coral workers throng, they be
In the sea, by the coral reef.
While the seasons come and go, under ocean's
Throb and flow;
Over all, with white sails spread, the blue sky
Over the sea.

THE BUTTE MINES AND MILLS.

The following beautiful poem was read at the recent National Editorial Convention in Cincinnati, by W. E. Faber, Secretary of the Colorado State Press Association.

Write me a rhyme, said a voice to me,
Of the coal workers by the sea.
Where the coral workers throng, they be
In the sea, by the coral reef.
While the seasons come and go, under ocean's
Throb and flow;
Over all, with white sails spread, the blue sky
Over the sea.

THE BUTTE MINES AND MILLS.

The following beautiful poem was read at the recent National Editorial Convention in Cincinnati, by W. E. Faber, Secretary of the Colorado State Press Association.

Write me a rhyme, said a voice to me,
Of the coal workers by the sea.
Where the coral workers throng, they be
In the sea, by the coral reef.
While the seasons come and go, under ocean's
Throb and flow;
Over all, with white sails spread, the blue sky
Over the sea.

THE BUTTE MINES AND MILLS.

The following beautiful poem was read at the recent National Editorial Convention in Cincinnati, by W. E. Faber, Secretary of the Colorado State Press Association.

Write me a rhyme, said a voice to me,
Of the coal workers by the sea.
Where the coral workers throng, they be
In the sea, by the coral reef.
While the seasons come and go, under ocean's
Throb and flow;
Over all, with white sails spread, the blue sky
Over the sea.

THE BUTTE MINES AND MILLS.

The following beautiful poem was read at the recent National Editorial Convention in Cincinnati, by W. E. Faber, Secretary of the Colorado State Press Association.

Write me a rhyme, said a voice to me,
Of the coal workers by the sea.
Where the coral workers throng, they be
In the sea, by the coral reef.
While the seasons come and go, under ocean's
Throb and flow;
Over all, with white sails spread, the blue sky
Over the sea.

THE BUTTE MINES AND MILLS.

The following beautiful poem was read at the recent National Editorial Convention in Cincinnati, by W. E. Faber, Secretary of the Colorado State Press Association.

Write me a rhyme, said a voice to me,
Of the coal workers by the sea.
Where the coral workers throng, they be
In the sea, by the coral reef.
While the seasons come and go, under ocean's
Throb and flow;
Over all, with white sails spread, the blue sky
Over the sea.

THE BUTTE MINES AND MILLS.

The following beautiful poem was read at the recent National Editorial Convention in Cincinnati, by W. E. Faber, Secretary of the Colorado State Press Association.

Write me a rhyme, said a voice to me,
Of the coal workers by the sea.
Where the coral workers throng, they be
In the sea, by the coral reef.
While the seasons come and go, under ocean's
Throb and flow;
Over all, with white sails spread, the blue sky
Over the sea.

THE BUTTE MINES AND MILLS.

The following beautiful poem was read at the recent National Editorial Convention in Cincinnati, by W. E. Faber, Secretary of the Colorado State Press Association.

Write me a rhyme, said a voice to me,
Of the coal workers by the sea.
Where the coral workers throng, they be
In the sea, by the coral reef.
While the seasons come and go, under ocean's
Throb and flow;
Over all, with white sails spread, the blue sky
Over the sea.

THE BUTTE MINES AND MILLS.

The following beautiful poem was read at the recent National Editorial Convention in Cincinnati, by W. E. Faber, Secretary of the Colorado State Press Association.

Write me a rhyme, said a voice to me,
Of the coal workers by the sea.
Where the coral workers throng, they be
In the sea, by the coral reef.
While the seasons come and go, under ocean's
Throb and flow;
Over all, with white sails spread, the blue sky
Over the sea.

THE BUTTE MINES AND MILLS.

The following beautiful poem was read at the recent National Editorial Convention in Cincinnati, by W. E. Faber, Secretary of the Colorado State Press Association.

Write me a rhyme, said a voice to me,
Of the coal workers by the sea.
Where the coral workers throng, they be
In the sea, by the coral reef.
While the seasons come and go, under ocean's
Throb and flow;
Over all, with white sails spread, the blue sky
Over the sea.

THE BUTTE MINES AND MILLS.

The following beautiful poem was read at the recent National Editorial Convention in Cincinnati, by W. E. Faber, Secretary of the Colorado State Press Association.

Write me a rhyme, said a voice to me,
Of the coal workers by the sea.
Where the coral workers throng, they be
In the sea, by the coral reef.
While the seasons come and go, under ocean's
Throb and flow;
Over all, with white sails spread, the blue sky
Over the sea.