The Pinney Case.

The investigation of the Pinney frauds terminated a few days in San Francisco. The Bulletin says: "It is believed that the total amount of bogus certificates issued by Pinney was $950,000. At least certificates purporting to be good for that sum are held by a well known detective. The statement that Spalding signed all the certificates in blank and left them to be filled in by Pinney is not clearly corroborated. Some of the certificates bear evidence of having been signed after the body was filled out.
-No outsider has had access to the pages of the testimony, and the members of the Court steadfastly refuse to impart information respecting the details of the evidence, yet there is ample cause for believing that the testimony is of a very damaging character, and must, in itself, without any recommendation of the Court, suggest the calling of a court martial to the Spalding case."

Pursuit of Horse Thieves and Recovery of Stolen Stock.

Several weeks ago we published an account of a suspicious looking party being in the vicinity of the National Park with a large band of horses. The party proved to be a gang of horse-thieves, with Stoner, alias "Rocky," at their head. The band of horses had been stolen from Burrill, Byam, Burk and Jack Foster, in the vicinity of the Blackfoot river and Fort Hall, on the Snake river. Thos. Davis, Jack Foster and two soldiers, from on the Snake river, started in pursuit of the robbers, and overhauled them high up on the Teton river, one of the south tributaries of the Snake. A fight ensued, and about twenty rounds were fired. "Rocky" was wounded in the shoulder, but managed to escape. They captured most of the horses, and all the saddles and camp equipage of the thieves. One of the thieves named Bostwick got away with a few head of the horses, and is supposed to be somewhere on the head of the Madison river with the stolen stock. A party is after him, and will track him up closely and take him in if they overtake him.
-Madisonian.

At the request of Major Benham, commanding Fort Ellis, Marshal Wheeler, on October 25th, detailed two of his deputies, Frank Murray and Jack Baronet, to go up the Madison and Yellowstone rivers, and try to intercept the above named horse-thieves. Major Benham detailed a squad of soldiers to accompany the Deputy Marshals. They went beyond Mount Washburn on the Yellowstone and as far as the Geyser Basin, where snow to the depth of two or three feet stopped them, but Murray and his party recovered three of the horses, and Baronet and his party captured four. The thieves themselves escaped back to the Teton branch of Snake river, where the Fort Hall party met them and captured the balance of the stock. Montana is a bad place to come to with stolen stock.

Personal.

-Louis Gans, of the firm of Gans & Klein, was a passenger on the overland this morning for the East.
-Lieutenant English came in last night with an escort for Paymaster Blaine, who left to-day for Fort Shaw to pay off the troops at that post and at Benton.
-Lieut. Jerome, Second U. S. Cavalry, arrived from Fort Ellis yesterday, and is visiting with friends in this city.
-Mr. A. J. Simmons we learn, is prospering on the west coast. Fortune has favored him in several business speculations, and he expects to make a "bushel of money" before he retires to private life. Jack deserves success, and we wish him luck in one and all his ventures.

Brevities.

-Theo. Freiler, of Virginia City, who was seriously injured by the accidental discharge of a gun, one day last week, is recovering, and will soon be able to attend to business again.
-With the "compliments of the New North-West" comes a neat lithograph card, giving a birdseye view of the international exhibition buildings and Fairmont Park. The card is an artistic beauty.
-Frank Murray, Deputy U. S. Marshal, has been appointed Indian Detective and assigned to the Crow Agency. It appears that the reported appointment of G. W. Odell to that position was incorrect.
-Rev. Mr. Dickey, Rector of the Episcopal Church of Bozeman, preached his first sermon in that place on Sunday last, before a large congregation. The Courier says the discourse was favorably commented upon.
-A. M. Quivey, who arrived in Bozeman a few days since, gave intelligence of a fight between the Crows and Sioux, on the north side of the river, near the mouth of the Muscleshell. The Crows were "cleaned out," seven of their number having been killed.
-A letter from Judge Servis, at Canfield, Ohio, to a gentleman in this city, says: "I now think of returning to Montana next summer. I begin to think that my health will not remain good here, and I know of no climate so well adapted to health as that of Montana."
-Madisonian.

Personal.

-Nelson Moore, of Clancey, was in town to-day, en route to Nelson Gulch.
-Capt. T. P. Fuller, U. S. Collector of Internal Revenue, returned from Fort Benton last night.
-Nelson Story, Esq., of Bozeman, prominent in the trade and business affairs of Eastern Montana, arrived in town yesterday, and is stopping at the St. Louis hotel.
-Mrs. J. R. Sanford who has been absent in Europe for the past six months arrived in New York last week and will be home in a few days. We are pleased to learn that Mrs. Sanford has been entirely restored to health.

The Dry Goods Trade.

The announcement of Sands Bros., leading Dry Goods merchants, elsewhere in our local columns, will be of great interest to the trade throughout the Territory, as well as to the actual consumer. While the Sands Bros. have not allowed any competing house to undersell them on any article, they now announce that they will give a reduction of five per cent. on all cash sales amounting to five dollars and upwards, during the next ninety days. This rule will be rigidly adhered to, and buyers cannot fail to appreciate the advantages to be derived from purchasing goods at a discount of five per cent. on the very bottom market quotations.

Unfinished Buildings.

The recent snow storm compelled suspension of work on a number of buildings, public and private—among the number, the school building, the engine house, and several residences in different parts of town. A moderation of the cold snap is indicated to-day. With a week or ten days mild temperature most of the unfinished structures could be advanced to a point that would admit of their completion before the advent of winter's rigorous reign. Improve the opportunity if it really offers, as now seems probable.

Interesting to Cash Buyers of Dry Goods Goods at the Lowest Prices, and a Special Discount of Five Per Cent for Cash.

Notwithstanding the great reduction in the selling prices of our goods, which brings them down to figures as low and lower than any prices that have been or are quoted either in circulars or advertisements by competing houses, we propose to make still further concessions to our customers by allowing for the next ninety days a special discount of five per cent on all cash purchases amounting to Five Dollars and upwards.

HO! EVERYBODY!

CHRISTMAS IS COMING!

The Holidays—the happiest of the year—are coming, and almost every one is expecting to purchase a gift for a friend or relative. What is more appropriate than a handsome piece of jewelry? My stock is larger and more varied than ever before brought to the Territory, consisting in part of ladies' and gent's gold and silver stem and key-winding watches, gent's gold and silver vest chains, ladies' elegant opera chain, sets, pins, and ear-rings, sleeve buttons, shirt studs, a great variety of clocks, standard silverware, plain rings and rings with all sorts of settings—everything, in fact, to be found in a first-class jewelry establishment. I guarantee lower prices than any other jewelry house in Montana. A skillful watchmaker is employed to repair and clean watches. Orders from the country will receive prompt attention. Give me a call.

DEATH OF JUDGE LAWRENCE.

Memorial Tribute of the Helena Bar.

This morning, after receiving the verdict by the jury in the case of Parchen et al vs. Peck, Judge Chumaseo announced to the Court the death of Judge Lawrence, and moved that in respect to his memory the court adjourn. The motion was seconded by Cols. Sanders and Johnston, and after some remarks by Judge Wade the court adjourned.

The Helena Bar Association, of which Judge Lawrence was a member, held a meeting this afternoon and a committee appointed for that purpose reported the following memorial tribute and resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

The Helena Bar Association, having heard of the sudden decease of the Hon. Robert Lawrence, one of the oldest and most respected of its members, desires to place upon record the sentiments with which the event has impressed its members. Mr. Lawrence was born in the State of New York in 1818, and early emigrated to the State of Michigan, where in 1846 he was admitted to the bar and followed his profession until 1864, when he came to the Territory of Montana. Pursuing his profession at Nevada, in Madison county, for a short time, he was one of the first lawyers to come to Helena in the early spring of 1865, since which time he has practiced his profession here. He took a sincere interest in the communities where he resided, was active in every good work, and whether assisting in the administration of justice at the Bar or upon the Bench, was so truthful and just that no imputation of dishonor or neglect ever tarnished his name.

Though profoundly versed in medicine and other sciences and familiar with a wide range of literature, he was not ostentatious of his culture, and only those who knew him best really knew the solidity or breadth of his learning. He gave earnest labor to the cause of education, and for a considerable period followed the avocation of a teacher. Conscious of the evils of intemperance, he sought to eradicate those evils, and gave much labor to that cause within and without the various organizations here having for their object the promotion of temperance. As a member of the Legislative Assembly of Montana he was faithful, looked assiduously to the welfare of the entire Territory; refused to consider himself the representative of a geographical locality merely, and maintained a reputation for wisdom and incorruptibility which none have dared to question. As the presiding officer of the Legislative Council he was urbane, efficient and just.

As a member of our Bar, in which capacity it is our province more particularly to consider him, he was faithful to his clients, honorable to the court, absorbed in his causes, courteous to his brethren of the profession, and kind to all. The decease of such a lawyer with such startling suddenness in the progress of a trial which he began, recalls the transitory character of all earthly labors and ambitions, and teaches a significant and startling lesson. In testimony of the friendship and affection which they bore him, the members of this association do resolve—

- 1. That we have heard with sentiments of profound sorrow of the death of our brother of this Bar, the Hon. Robert Lawrence.
2. That we tender to his family that sympathy which the sad event is calculated to inspire.
3. That the members of this association, in token of their sorrow, will attend his funeral in a body.
4. That the President of this association be requested to present to the court now in session this tribute of our appreciation of, and affection for, our deceased brother, and move that it be recorded upon the enduring records of the court, which was so long the theatre of his triumphs and his labors.
5. That a copy of this memorial be signed by the President and Secretary of this Association, and presented to the family of our deceased brother.

THAT GRAND JURY.

To the Editor of the Herald.

Two weeks ago I wrote to the Avant Courier an answer to an editorial in its columns, which hinted that I was found to be an "easy tool" in summoning the Grand Jury which was called at the October term at Bozeman. This letter the editor promised to publish in his issue of last week. He has not done so. He says men were interviewed before they were selected by me or my deputies. In reply, I would say that I would like to have any man make affidavit as to whether myself or either of my deputies who served the venire, ever said anything as to matters that came before the Grand Jury, or asked what their action would be in any case. I knew but two of the jury personally, and did not know who had been selected until the venires were returned to me. As a charge has been made that the jury was packed for certain purposes, I shall ask of the court the next term in the First District, a full investigation of the charge. I deny that such an idea ever entered my mind, for I had no idea what business would come before the jury, except the cases of the two men who stole $2,000 worth of tobacco from the Government and were indicted and convicted, and I do not believe my deputies ever attempted such a thing. Every jurymen denied the charge as soon as it was made. This statement is due to the public, for myself, my deputies and that grand jury.

Respectfully,
WM. F. WHEELER, U. S. Marshal.

-Lieut. Hardin, A. A. Q. M., has forwarded a specimen of Shoukin coal to the Department Quartermaster, for inspection with a view to supplying this post with coal in lieu of wood as fuel. We do not know what price is demanded, but it would pay Mercue & Cobell to furnish the military post with coal at a minimum rate until such time as their mine is in working condition and paying.—Record.
