BROOKE'S CAMPAIGN.

The Reconnoissance North to Bear Paw Mountains and Milk River.

General Brooke is now about ready to break camp on the Missouri, below Benton, and take up his line of march north. The command, numbering about 600 men, consists of six companies of the Third Infantry, four companies of the Seventh Infantry, and two companies of the Second Cavalry. The supply camp, eligible to steamboats below the Marias, has been selected, and will form the base of scouting and reconnoitering operations. The command will cross the Teton and Marias, now believed to be fordable, and proceed north, skirting the Bear Paw and Little Rocky Mountains, to Milk river. In that region of country and in the vicinity of the mountains named, General Brooke's command will probably pass the summer as an observatory force, in conjunction with troops from Fort Lincoln and other Missouri posts, on the watch for any Northern hostiles who may meditate invasion from beyond the boundary.

The site of the proposed northern military post will probably be determined by General Brooke after a careful inspection of the country covered by his reconnoissance. The season is considered too far advanced to undertake the building of the post the present year. It would involve the re-erecting of temporary quarters, consuming part of the appropriation, if commenced this year. We have good authority for saying that the construction of the post will probably go over till next spring, when saw mills, skilled mechanics, etc., can be put on the ground and the work carried forward expeditiously and to advantage.

What disposition will be made of the troops after the close of the summer campaign cannot at this time be determined. Should the Seventh Infantry be ordered to Minnesota the Third will take its place, with headquarters at Fort Shaw. Should the Seventh remain, the Third will quite likely return here for the autumn and winter, re-occupying the Helena barracks, still reserved for the regiment.

Accidents.

Teddy Harrison, a miner of the Bonanza District, was seriously injured Saturday while working in the shaft of the Penobscot. It seems that he had in his trousers pocket several glant powder caps, and in stooping over the matches were brought against the caps, exploding them immediately. Harrison was thrown eight or ten feet, and the flesh of the thigh fearfully lacerated. The unfortunate man was brought to Helena last evening, where he obtained surgical aid, and this morning we learn he is doing as well as could be expected under the painful circumstances.

A Former Helena Boy.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing of the graduating class of Harvard University, mentions that George Miller Pinsky presented a dissertation on Victor Emanuel and Pius IX, and says: "The oration on Victor Emanuel and Pius IX. evoked much applause, and deserved it."

BREVITIES.

—The steamers Western and Josephine which left Benton for Bismarck last week, were loaded with beef cattle, owned by Col. Clendennin.

We sometimes go abroad for home news. says the Salt Lake Tribune: "Some years ago there was published in many papers in the country an account of immense gold deposits being discovered on the headwaters of the Yellowstone river by a Catholic priest who was a missionary there among the Indians. But the whereabouts of this rich discovery, of which it was stated that bushels of gold could be shoveled, was never revealed. The reports come to us now that the promised land has at last been found, and that large numbers of miners are rushing in from the Black Hills and various parts of Montana. A gentleman named Snyder brings the rumor to this city from Deadwood from which place he has just arrived. Our boys in the camps, however, had better wait awhile and get something definite about it."

Lost Seven Pounds in Three Weeks.

Allan's Anti-Fat is a genuine medicine, and will reduce corpulency from two to five pounds per week. Purely vegetable and perfectly harmless, acting entirely on the food in the stomach, preventing the formation of fat. It is also a positive remedy for dyspepsia and rheumatism.

Boston, Mass., February 11th, 1878. BOTANICAL MEDICINE Co., Buffalo, N. Y.: GENTLEMEN:—The lady alluded to lost seven pounds in three weeks, by the use of Allan's Anti-Fat. Yours truly, SMITH, DOOLITTLE & SMITH, Wholesale Druggists.

SETTLERS MURDERED.

A Tragedy on the Dearborn, Near the South Fork of Sun River.

Victims of Supposed Renegade Indians and White Men.

MOORE'S RANCH, BENTON ROAD, July 8th, 1878.

To the Editor of the Herald: David Orchard arrived here at 4 o'clock this afternoon with the information that two men, John H. Wareham and Gus. Cottle, had been found horribly murdered at Cottle's ranch on the Dearborn, about twenty miles north of the Benton road. After they were killed the bodies were thrown into a small stream that flows near the house, where they were found. Their remains will be brought to the Dearborn crossing and buried to-morrow at 9 o'clock. Wareham is a son of Geo. Wareham, of Flat Creek. Cottle was a prominent stock-grower, and has resided for several years where he was killed. Indians are supposed to be the murderers.

The following additional news of the murder is obtained from a letter from George Warner, Benton Road, to Sheriff Walker: Gus. Cottle and John Wareham left Charlie Carey's ranch, on South Fork of Sun River, on Tuesday, 2d inst., to go to Cottle's ranch, on the North Fork of the Dearborn, at the foot of the mountains. To-day, (7th inst.,) Carey went to Cottle's cabin, found it broken open and robbed of bedding, provisions and blankets and one pair of new harness lines; also one bridle. In front of the door was found several pools of blood, on which a feather pillow was cut open and emptied. A stallion, dark bay or brown, no brands, is missing; also, fifteen or twenty head of horses. The fore part of last week there were seventeen Indians, supposed to be Nez Perce, and three white men, who crossed the North Fork of Sun River on Cadotte's trail en route for Missoula or Idaho. I think this is the party that murdered Cottle and Wareham.

Wagon Manufacturing.

Paynter, Brown & Wiesenborn have this year turned out of their shops a number of stage coaches conceded on all hands to be the handsomest vehicles of the kind ever seen on the Montana roads. All of the stage companies are this year their patrons, and the manufacture of coaches promises to form a considerable item of the firm's business from this time forward. An immense amount of repair work is being done by this establishment, and a large force of the best skilled labor is kept constantly employed in each of the several departments. Many road wagons and carriages of various designs have this season been turned out, which for beauty and elegant workmanship are not surpassed, if they are equalled, by Eastern manufacturing. The firm has in Mr. A. F. McHale the most accomplished painter ever employed here, whose workmanship on the neat running gears seen on our streets advertises his artistic taste and cleverness of performance. Excellence is aimed at and reached in every piece of work sent out from the shops of Paynter, Brown & Wiesenborn, and the men they employ are such as will sustain this reputation with the Montana public.

The Diamond "R" Company.

As will be seen by notice in the HERALD to-day the firm of E. G. Maclay & Co. has been dissolved by the withdrawal of Matt Carroll. The business will be continued as heretofore under the former name, by Edward G. Maclay and Charles A. Broadwater, who assume all the assets and liabilities of the old firm. Mr. Carroll, we understand, will soon start for Europe, remaining abroad a year, visiting relatives and friends from whom he has been absent fifteen years. It is his design, we learn, to return to Montana after his visit and make this Territory his future home. No man in Montana is better known, none more deservedly popular, or has more personal friends than Matthew Carroll, and with all his friends we heartily join in wishing him a pleasant journey abroad and success in his future undertakings.

The Dearborn Tragedy.

The murder of Wareham and Cottle, on the Dearborn, upwards of twenty miles north of the Benton road, was probably committed by Nez Perce Indians, a party of whom were last week seen on the North Fork of Sun river, making their way by Cadotte's trail westward. The Indians, it is supposed, are from the North, en route to the Nez Perce country in Washington Territory, from whence they journeyed with Joseph last year, and escaped from Miles' battle at Bear Paw across the border. The Indians, it is stated, were accompanied by three renegade white men, probably also from beyond the way on their road toward the west coast before now, and beyond reach of capture.

Wool.

Huntley & Clark's wool clip, reached 25,000 pounds. It was shipped to Boston. Potter & Ford's wool clip—12,000 pounds—arrived from Meagher county this morning.

NEARLY all the wheat in Missouri is cut and shocked, much of it is stacked, and some has been threshed out and is in the St. Louis market. It is said to be of excellent quality.

Notes From Bismarck.

A correspondent of the Globe-Democrat, dated June 21st, contains the following notes from Bismarck: "The river is falling here, but the last boat from Benton—E. H. Durfee—reports river rising there. In the next ten days the bulk of the Montana freight will be shipped, and thereafter the prospects are good for some idle steamboats. The ungodly looking 'Gen. Chas. H. Tompkins,' a Kountz boat, passed up to-day, on her long trip from Pittsburg to the Yellowstone. She is named for the Quartermaster of this department, but that gentleman didn't consider her much of an honor when he observed her ugly make-up at the Bismarck landing. The Key West, with an excursion party, left this evening for Fort Benton. Gen. Tompkins, Frank E. McCrary, son of Secretary McCrary, and a number of St. Paul and Chicago people, were in the cabin. Tompkins is on a post-inspection tour through the Northwest. At Fort Stevenson a military band will be taken on board to furnish music in competition with the mosquitoes. Red Cloud and Western left this week for Benton. The last Coulson line boat from Benton will leave about the 1st of July. The Benton and Baker lines will keep it up until the season closes. John M. Chambers, Capt. Joe LaBarge's boat, left for St. Louis during the week, in search of business along the river. LaBarge wants better rates than $1.50 from St. Louis to Benton. C. K. Peck passed up to Buford, and the Black Hills arrived from and left for Yankton. Passengers of latter reported mosquitoes at Ft. Rice worse than Sitting Bull's 'hell and thousand devils' (the Custer fight.) The Yellowstone and Gen. Terry are waiting for up river freight. The Rosebud will arrive to-morrow from Benton, and the Benton is due from same point. The Far West is coming up from Yankton. Benton line people claim to have secured the bulk of the Indian Agency freight northwest of Bismarck. Steamers Gen. Custer and D. H. Rucker laid up at Buford for ten days and paid off crews. Five hundred tons of Government freight just gone up will give them business again up the Yellowstone. Partridge, marine insurance man from Yankton, is here working on steamboat men for next year's insurance. On hull risks he is offering 2 per cent less than St. Louis men. He works through a Chicago firm."
