Salt Lake Department

Rev. J. W. Washington is up and around again after quite a spell of sickness.

Mrs. L. R. Steele entertained at six o'clock dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson. Those present were Mrs. Ed. Washington, Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Blanchard, Mrs. Barker, Miss Garner, Miss Perkins.

The chitlin feast was not very well attended on account of the bad weather.

Lionel Young is well of the mumps but his little brother and sister have them.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Powell's children are down with the mumps.

Mr. E. D. Washington left last Tuesday night for Seattle on business. He will be away about ten days.

Uncle Tom's Cabin is here this week. They have had a good house every night.

Mrs. Robinson is the guest of Mrs. S. T. Young.

Rev. Saunders of Leadville, Colo., is stopping in our city for a few days, the Guest of W. W. Taylor.

Mrs. Alfred Thompson left on the 2nd inst. to join her husband in Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Henrietta Curry has gone away to visit home and friends in Oklahoma.

The baby contest at Calvary Baptist church was quite interesting and netted quite a sum of money. Little Foster Whipple carried away first prize and proved himself the most popular baby.

The programme rendered was quite pleasing. Miss Florence Seals read a paper, Mrs. E. Smith rendered a solo. Miss Josephine Allen won the hearty applause of every one by rendering the "Holy City."

The Harvest Home fair was well patronized by the friends and members. The donations were thankfully received.

Mrs. W. D. Powell won the chair by bringing in the most money.

Miss Rosa Dorsey was given a manicure set for selling the greatest number of dinner tickets. The linen dresser scarf was raffled by Mrs. Will Burgess. Mrs. A. C. Calaway held the lucky number that drew the scarf. Mr. Huff, the second, a handsome dolly.

The Odd Fellows held memorial services at Trinity A. M. E. church last Sunday night in honor of Grand Secretary Holmes, of Pueblo, Colo. The choir rendered some beautiful and appropriate music. Quite a liberal collection was raised.

Little William Powell is suffering from a very severe attack of mumps. We hope him a speedy recovery.

The Kuntford waiters have issued invitations for a grand reception and ball on the 12 inst. You are not in it if you are not in attendance.

We are sorry to learn of Mr. Robert Thompson being very sick in Kansas City.

Miss Edith Williams is still improving. Her many friends are pleased to learn of her improvement.

E. D. Washington returned Wednesday from his trip on the Puget Sound.

Rev. Saunders of Leadville, Colo., will lecture and give a sacred concert at the First Methodist church of the city next Monday night. The Trinity church choir will render music for the occasion.

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON.
While my visit to Seattle was not one of a pleasure trip, still my few days' stay in the city was very pleasant. I found Seattle a city full of life and push, and glad to say our people are keeping pace with the other races of the city. They have two churches, two attorneys at law, who have a good practice. There is also one linguist of color in the city. I had the pleasure of attending the Methodist church last Sunday morning. Met Elder Treeman and his lovely family (wife and two daughters), whose open hearted christian hospitality makes one feel much at home in their presence. I attended the Baptist church at night and spoke to a very appreciative congregation.

Rev. McPherson, the pastor, and his faithful soldiers will begin a series of meetings next Sunday, during which they hope to win many precious souls to the Master. I regret that my time was so short that I could not attend the secret societies and social clubs, of which there is many.

Local Notes.

Mr. Claude Polk is in Anaconda.

Sherman's grand concert company, Victor, The King, will soon be here.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Brice have moved to the smelter city.

Mrs. Robt. Lawrence was again on the sick list last week.

Mrs. Mary Lewis had the misfortune to break her arm by slipping upon the icy sidewalk.

Mrs. Ella Allen and Mr. H. King will entertain Messrs. Sprigg and Fletcher at 8 o'clock dinner Sunday, with a few friends.

We are requested to announce that the daughters of the tabernacle will meet at their hall next Friday evening. Visiting members invited to attend.

Mrs. Jordan Allen and daughter, Mrs. Austin, was in Anaconda last week. Mrs. Austin remained over this week. Mrs. Allen returned home the first part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Reeves entertained at dinner Thanksgiving quite an elaborate menu consisting of turkey and other delicacies were prepared. We are very sorry that we were unable to secure the names of those that had the honor to do justice to this repast.

Our next issue will contain an article entitled, "A Debate," by Miss Nora E. Hulings Siegel, the generous writer who has contributed so many well written articles for the benefit of our readers. In this subject the writer shows that education is very essential in every walk of life.

Among the budget of papers that reached our desk last week was the Knocker, a small newspaper printed in pamphlet form. It is a two column, four page paper, which generally contains the news of the Fort and in and around Helena. It is published every Sunday at Fort Harrison, Montana, and its motto is knock day and night on everything crooked, although its color is yellow, yet we do not attempt to say that it is connected with yellow journalism. May they knock and continue to knock until every thing crooked has been straightened.

None of last season's plays at the Broadway can be credited with the success enjoyed by Joseph Arthur's big scenic melodrama, "Lost River." The play will be presented at the Broadway, commencing December 7, for two nights next week. A series of strong dramatic scenes, lots of comedy, elaborate scenery and mechanical devices, a hobo quartet, country "orchestra," three thoroughbred horses, a like number of bicycles, and a thrilling storm effect have made this play well remembered.

Mrs. Ella Allen entertained at dinner last Sunday a few friends in honor of Mrs. Adeline Lawrence, of Chatham, Canada, and Mr. Chris. Dorsey, who left Wednesday afternoon for San Francisco, then to Honolulu. The dinner comprised six courses served with wine. The guests present were Mrs. Adeline Lawrence of Chatham, Canada, and Mr. Chris Dorsey (guest of honor), Mrs. Jas. Bullett, Mrs. J. H. Wilds, Messrs. Spriggs, Fletcher, Bob Lawrence, H. King, and hostess, Mrs. E. Allen, Mrs. R. Lawrence being indisposed was unable to attend. After the repast was served the crowd accompanied Mrs. Lawrence to the Northern Pacific station, where she boarded the train enroute to Chatham, Canada, after spending several days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence.

"Nunc, out Nuncquam" is the motto of The Twenty-One club, which has just sent over a number of invitations to their first annual ball to be given next Wednesday evening, December 10th. Handsomely designed invitations, very artistically gotten up. With this motto at the head (Now or never), each invitation is accompanied with a complimentary card, showing the extent of gratitude and desire of having the Butte dancers to come over. We do not know whether the Crisenda club was this generous or not when sending their invitations to Helena a few months ago, however, we shall go over and accept the grand ovation which we are sure the capital city boys will give us. The officers of the club are as follows: J. H. Howard, president; H. C. Simmons, vice-president; A. Palmer, secretary; C. Reed, treasurer; D. Kenoly, sergeant-at-arms; Roster—I, Hicks, S. Smith, G. Mason, J. Bush, C. Smith, A. Bohon, W. Mason, J. W. Clark, L. W. White.

The Afro-American Woman's club met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Lee Bell. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. S. Jones. The following programme was rendered:
Opening address . . . Mrs. Sam Jones
Remarks . . . Mrs. M. E. Davis
Paper—"Life is What We Make It"
 . . . Mrs. J. Curd
Cornet solo . . . Mrs. J. Tate
Reading . . . Mrs. J. I. Jacobs
Solo . . . Mrs. B. Miller
Essay . . . Mrs. S. Reeves
Recitation . . . Little Lizzie Miller
Solo . . . Mrs. H. C. Parsons
Reading . . . Miss Melvina Williams
Journal . . . Mrs. Lee Bell
The club was joined a few minutes before adjourning by Mr. Chris Dorsey and Mr. Duncan. They gave the club a few remarks, which were enjoyed by all. The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. J. I. Jacobs' December 16th, 220 South Idaho. Mrs. Bell served a dainty repast, which shows her art in culinary outside of beauty makers.

PUFAHL'S BEAUTIFUL DISPLAY.

Artistic Wares Exhibited at Formal Opening.

Never before in the history of Butte have its citizens been able to witness, at home, such a magnificent display of the thoroughly beautiful and artistic as was exhibited at Pufahl's opening yesterday in his East Park street emporium. The spacious exhibition rooms are stocked with the best known wares, the finest of cut glass, exquisite Kayserzinn, colonial furniture of quaint and artistic design, costly oriental rugs representing the finest of importations, miniature and cuckoo clocks and the massive hall timepieces of the grandfather's pattern, an endless variety of vases from the finely cut glass to the Royal Vienna cold plate and jugs, fine statuary, real bronzes, including busts of Washington, Lincoln and McKinley, lamps and pottery, the best of cutlery and other things too numerous to mention. To appreciate the magnificence of the stock and its extent one must visit Pufahl's and be convinced. No description could adequately picture what is on exhibition.

The beautiful emporium of artistic wares was formally opened to the public at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and from then until the closing at 10 o'clock last night there was a steady stream of Butte's best known citizens pouring in and out admiring the wonderful display. The rooms up and down stairs were tastily decorated and an orchestra of seven pieces furnished sweet music. From the ceilings were festoons of southern ivy, through which shown miniature vari-colored incandescent lamps. To that was added the glitter and sparkle from the expensive cut glassware, the China and the appearance of a veritable fairyland, as several women were heard to describe it. To sum the Pufahl exhibition up in a few words, it can be said that it is magnificently grand, artistically beautiful and extravagantly displayed.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Webb entertaining in honor of Mr. Dorsey last Thanksgiving evening. The guests present were Mrs. and Miss Nelson, Mrs. S. A. Smith, Messrs. S. Merchant, Chas. A. Lair, C. F. Smith, J. W. Duncan and Mr. and Mrs. Webb. A nice menu consisting of turkey and cranberry sauce and many other delicacies, which adorned the table.

W. A. CLARK III.

The home of Mr. W. A. Clark Jr. was gladdened on December 1 by the advent of the most valuable jewel it has ever contained, a lovely little son. The New Age extends to the proud parents our hearty congratulations.

PEARL STELERS.

Mr. Rhus Pearl and Mrs. Stelers were quietly married last Thursday afternoon. This came as a surprise to most of us, yet we accept the matter in that light and wish for Mr. and Mrs. Peare a bright and peaceful life unobscured by the clouds of adversity. The New Age extends their congratulations.

Big Twenty Days Special Sale at Hennessy's Mammoth Store.

The sale started December the first. The green ticket sale of last month was conceded to be the greatest sale of its kind ever seen in the history of the northwest. Every counter contains a bargain and the store is crowded from the time its doors are open in the morning until they are closed at night. Every person who desires to save money on everything that you use and we know that is what you are looking for is bargains, from the basement to the top floor, can be found bargains that is used in every walk of life. The thoughtful person who is ever alert for bargains is picking out their Christmas presents now, while the stock is at its best. Strictly goodly goods, not cheap stuff, as are often shown at all kinds of sales, excepting legitimate sales, like this of Butte's big, busy store. Much wanted and dependable goods, seasonable and stylish goods all going at prices never before touched in the history of Montana merchandising. No one can afford to miss this sale.

To the Editor.—To settle a bet, will you please answer the following in your next issue:

A claims there was a time when a Catholic could not be elected to the presidency of the United States, but that several years ago an amendment to the constitution was made, whereby a Catholic could be elected president. B claims there never was a bar to a Catholic being elected president, hence there was no need of an amendment. Who is right—A or B?

A READER.

B is right.

In our Christmas issue of the Age we desire to show up the good qualities of our citizens by way of publishing with cuts a brief sketch of those who have made themselves prominent in social as well as business circles. We have been backward in showing up the fine talent among our people owing to the fact that our present capital is inadequate to operate such an expensive journal. However, as we advance we shall endeavor to improve our paper and with the advancement that we shall make in the New Age, we will continue to add thereto until our paper shall have reached the topmost round of the journalistic apex. We are in hopes that we shall meet with the approbation and the entire co-operation of the leading citizens in this matter throughout the state.
