Play Ball! To-day We Start Our 10-Day Inventory Sale

The Biggest Sale in Butte

Everyone knows the wonderful success of Hennessy's Green Ticket Sale in November and the 20-Day Special Sale in December. Now we propose to start the New Year with a

10-Day Inventory Sale

That Will Outshine All the Others

Now See Here:

It's easier to count money than merchandise, therefore, because our goods are inventoried at Eastern cost or less, as we take stock and close our books for the year on January 15, we offer these big inducements in every department, that we may convert into cash as much of the stock as possible, and make our showing of profit, if any, for the year in cash, rather than merchandise or book accounts.

These are the Reasons Why

We are offering our entire stock in the Big Store at cost price or less, and the reasons, too, why we must request all persons indebted to us, unless special arrangements have been made, to settle their accounts before January 15th.

Everything goes at a discount of 25 per cent. or more—the biggest discount sale ever started.

For further particulars read the daily papers.

"MINE AND THINE."

By Nora E. Hulings Siegel.
Mine lissips my tiny autocrat toddler
As he holds his kitten toward me;
His blue eyes aglow with the pleasure
Of possession there plain to see.
The little furry ball of life-hood,
Shrinks, trembling rejecting the claim;
Each humble breath drawn craving
pardon
Of the flesh the unwittingly defame.
Mine! claims the ostentatious husband
As he jealously guards his bride;
Each posture bespeaking possession
Mistakenly held at her side.
Her pure face and langor of movement
Uroclaiming her goals sacrifice,
Which maidenhood pays at the altar,
Ah love! and ignorance is the price.
Mine! croaks that grim savant destroyer,
Whose coffers ne'er remunerate toil.
His tallions reaping wreck to mortals,
Ghoulishly retaining the spoil;
That stretch of clay subservient;
The lone rows of mounds 'neath the sun.
Whose ghostlike spires pointing heavenward
Describe mine! mine! mine! mine!
and won.
"Thine!" holly breaths the young mother,
As she o'er her babe softly bends;
Worshipful prayer swelling upward;
Mother love librating ascends,
All Thine," yes, and thine Eden's Saviour.
The grail I shall transcribed to thee;
Ignorance is flowered in wisdom
Whose travail paid the debt to "Me."

I am thine, Omnipresent ever.
Thou art mine to beand embrace,
Mine and thine, blind mortal that sever
The soul from the flesh they deface.
Mine to give, I love the possessor;
Thine to hold, to live and guide,
Mine and thine, we are one, The Always—
The mortal and immortal beside.

DEATH CLAIMS A CHERISHED FLOWER.

On New Year's morning, just a few moments after the bells had ceased extolling the advent of the New Year surrounded by the family, (all that were in Butte), Mrs. Charles Foster Clark passed peacefully into immortality. Contrary to the wishes of those who so ardently prayed and hoped against hope, that the patient would recover. A favorite in Butte's social circles, a young wife and recently the mother of her first born, she was one whose graces of person and of character were many and whose daily life brought often into manifestation the most admired traits of sterling womanhood. A large local public found itself deeply interested in the tidings that came respecting Mrs. Clark's condition, during the days when she was known to be making an intrepid fight for life. The messages of cheer that sometimes came serve to make all the more distressing the unwelcome announcement of her death. It is an affliction in which the large company of those who esteemed and admired Mrs. Clark will share.
The New Age, as the voice of the entire colored population, extends its sympathy to the surviving family and friends.

Mr. Chris. Dorsey Has Reached His Destination.

This office is in receipt of a letter from our recent departed townsman, bearing date of December 27, stating that he arrived after a great ocean voyage. He also stated that in the wildest flights of his imagination he could not conceive a place so beautiful as that of Honolulu. He is well and wishes to be remembered to his friends.

PROF. WASHINGTON'S STAR.

Among the news dispatches of Saturday was one to the effect that Booker T. Washington, the colored scholar and leader of his race, had delivered an address at one of the California towns, and that the banks and most of the business houses had closed for the occasion. Thirty or twenty, or even ten years ago who would have predicted that within two generations of the close of the war such an honor would be shown one of a community would take a "day off" to hear him speak. This is an even higher compliment to Booker Washington than to have dined with President Roosevelt. The latter event was the whim of one man. The California incident was the spontaneous tribute of an entire community.—Standard.

A woman should not think every time she finds a stray hair on her husband's head that he got it off the head of some other woman. He may have gotten it off the head of the bed.

Two Irishmen got into a difficulty and agreed to settle their trouble by a fight, promising that when one should say enough they should quit. After one had knocked the other down and pounded him severely the weaker of the two began calling out: "Enough! Enough!" The other paid no attention, but kept hammering away. A bystander called out: "Why don't you let him up? Don't you hear him say that he has got enough?" "I do," replied the best man, "but he is such a liar I never know when to believe him."

The Christmas tree at the Trinity church, the eve of the 24th of December, was laden with presents, which gladdened the hearts of the little ones, and the children rendered a nice programme for the occasion.

We are proud to mention one of Salt Lake's energetic young ladies, viz. Miss Marie Howell, who shows much skill and marked talent in hand painting. It would make any one proud of the race, who chanced to see the beautiful vase that was on exhibition at Druehl & Franklin's drug store last week. Her work ranks with the best in this city and is a pupil that any teacher should feel proud of visit to her home, will convince anyone of her ability as an artist.

ANACONDA.

LADIES OF A. A. C. B. LEAGUE ENTERTAIN.

One of the nicest and best attended social affairs that has been the pleasure of our society to attend was the meeting of the Epworth league Christmas week. A nicely arranged dinner was prepared and an allround lively time was in evidence. Speaking and general conversation was the feature of entertainment. An able address was made by Mr. H. Johnson, the honored guest of Butte, and a general routine of business was gone through with. The committee on arrangement consisted of Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Roy, Mrs. Mack, Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Pope and Mrs. Norman. The meeting was held at 113 East Commercial avenue.

Born To Mr. and Mrs. Webb.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Webb was visited by a new comer last Friday. Scarcely had the little infant opened its eyes until they were closed—never again to look upon the light of day. It was laid to rest last Saturday afternoon in Mount Moriah cemetery. The mother is resting as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

While sorrow and affliction is holding its sway, our sympathy goes out to them during the gloom of sadness which is shadowing their household.

Frank Mitchell, a negro born in slavery 108 years ago, is still living at Akron, Ohio, and has a vivid recollection of events that occurred in the first part of the last century. He has smoked and chewed tobacco for over 100 years.

TUTTLE WATCH TALK

Watches are not like wine—they do not improve with age. As well give a calendar for 1899 as a Christmas present in 1902 as a watch that is as much out of date as the calendar. Ours is positively the only entirely new, high-grade stock of Watches in the city—it is large and covers a wide range in values. Investigation will prove that for accurate movements, in new and beautiful cases, our prices are the lowest. In fact, they are really lower than the out-of-date kind can be bought for elsewhere.
