Engineer Gillis was held up Saturday evening near the Palace Hotel and relieved of his watch and $11 in currency. The "holdup" artist refused to arbitrate matters. No definite description of the individual could be obtained.

Ye Reporter this morning was attracted by the bustle and vim in the building adjoining the First National Bank building, and by inquiring and looking about the premises found that Pat Yeon will open on next Saturday a resort, where the way farer can quench his thirst, as well as rooms fitted for business men where they may congregate and privately talk while imbibing the "fluid that cheers" and makes all business easy. We have no hesitancy in saying it is one of the finest furnished resorts in the north west, being fitted in and out with Brunswick Balk fixtures, steel ceiling of late pattern, decorated with artificial flowers and palms. We wish the best of luck to such a person who is not afraid to invest his money in Havre.

When men wish to attract attention they wear good cloths. When stores wish to attract more men they reduce the price on good cloths. The Fair is doing the latter to make it easier for you to do the former.
