THE HERALD, OFFICIAL UNION PAPER

Col. J. H. Rice has announced that he will appoint Geo. B. Lockhart of Great Falls, deputy state treasurer when he takes his office next month. The colonel's prejudice against his home county supporters shows that there is consistency in his makeup, if he is devoid of policy.

The open season for deer closed Nov. 30 with only sixteen fatalities among the hunters. In one case the hunters fired on a moving hand-car, bringing down the helpless section men. Would-be hunters ought at least to know what a deer looks like before taking to the timber region.

As the various phases of rottenness came to the surface in the Colorado squabble, female suffrage doesn't seem to be promoted thereby. As a purifier of politics equal suffrage may be just the thing, but evidently conditions in Colorado are not just right for turning the trick.

The company of about twenty-five people who have left Beresford South Dakota for Cape Town, South Africa as missionaries, is another instance of religious mania run riot, and a cause of wonder to all sane observers. Those Beresford fanatics are in the crazy Dukhobor class. They have been holding meetings, seeing visions, dreaming dreams and receiving divine instruction in trances. In one seance of indigestion, they were told that the city of Chicago was about to sink, and a whole lot of similar rot. Insanity is common enough in individual cases, but what gets us is that several families should all be afflicted in the same way at the same time.

The public debt of the United States increased $2,000,000 in November.

Miss Ruth Barrett was very pleasantly surprised Saturday evening at her home by a number of her school friends. The evening was devoted to games, music and dancing. At 7 o'clock a luncheon of sandwiches, assorted cakes, fruit and lemonade was served. The party left for their homes at 9 o'clock, declaring their little "game of surprise" a complete success.

H. W. Gross and E. C. Carruth are in St. Paul this week buying furniture for the new Hotel Havre. They will purchase furnishings to equip the hotel from basement to attic, at an expenditure in the neighborhood of $16,000 or $17,000. The contractors will have the hotel completed by January 20th and the management expects to throw open its doors for business by the middle of February. The new Hotel Havre will eclipse any hotel in Northern Montana and will invite the traveler to stop over in this city instead of planning for the first train out.

A special discount will be given on all clothing by The Fair during the next ten days.

L. N. Hill, son of J. J. and vice president of the Great Northern, F. E. Ward, general manager, and Howard James, purchasing agent of the G. N., were in the city between trains Tuesday evening. They called on Mayor Newman and talked about the rapid strides the city had made in the way of improvement and complimented Havre on the fine substantial brick blocks which have been erected. No steps as yet have been taken regarding the building of a new depot, but it is hoped the officials will take the matter up after the first of the year.

The ladies Social Union of the Presbyterian church will give an "experience" social on January 4th at the home of Mrs. O. S. Goff. Lunch will be served and a good time is promised all who attend.

The city council met Thursday evening and issued warrants for the balance due Contractor Clark for laying the sewer system. Clack Bros. were granted a permit to erect a building for a harness shop on the lot between O. S. Goff's and the Plaindealer office.

Every performance given this week by the Londale Theatre company at the opera house has been spoken of in the highest terms. Every member of the company is an artist and the specialties are high class.

R. G. Sanders photographer, has opened a gallery in the building this side of the Havre Meat Market. His work is of the finest quality and he is deserving of a good patronage.
