ELEVEN LIVES LOST

DISASTROUS WRECK ON N. P. NEAR MISSOULA.

Runaway Freight Train of 44 Cars of Lumber Jumped the Track, Caught Fire and Was Completely Destroyed—Two Trainmen and Nine Tramps Perish in Flames.

Missoula, Mont., April 20.—One of the most disastrous wrecks in the history of the Rocky Mountain division of the Northern Pacific railroad, involving a loss, it is believed, of 11 lives, occurred at about 6 o'clock Sunday evening on the mountain about 11 miles west of Missoula. A runaway freight train of 44 cars of lumber jumped the track, caught fire and was completely destroyed. Engineer L. D. Sterne and fireman Charles E. Jullierant, both of Missoula, are supposed to be dead and burned, for they have not been seen since the moment the train left the track. Rear brakeman G. A. Murphy was seriously injured and it is feared that he will not survive. His skull was fractured and a couple of ribs broken. He is now receiving attention in the company hospital at Missoula. Other members of the crew miraculously escaped death or serious injury.

The train was an extra eastbound, and was going at a terrific pace, for the wreckage was all jammed into a space only 200 feet in length and 60 feet high. The engine was precipitated down the bank a distance of 100 feet. The engineer and firemen could not be found because the burning wreck was so hot no one could get near it. A farmer pulled brakeman Murphy from under the timbers before the fire became fierce. The farmer could hear the cries of the engineer and fireman.

The caboose and one car did not leave the track and Conductor J. D. Garber, who sat in the caboose, was not injured. Brakeman Percy Renix was thrown under the wreck, but miraculously escaped, being able to work his way out to freedom. A relief train from Missoula in charge of Superintendent Andrew Gibson went to the scene of the wreck, but no work could be done, as it was impossible to get near the fire.

All traffic is delayed. The work of clearing the wreck has commenced. L. D. Sterne, the dead engineer, had been an employe of the road here for about 15 years. He leaves a wife and two children. He was about 40 years of age. Fireman Jullierant was a young single man who had worked on the division about two years.

According to Conductor Garber there were at least 12 tramps on board the ill-fated train, only three of whom have been found. Commenting on the news from San Francisco expressing the surprise of the citizens' committee that only $300,000 of the $2,500,000 relief fund appropriated by congress is still available for relief work, Acting Secretary Oliver of the war department pointed out that it was never contemplated that the appropriation should be spent by the citizens of San Francisco. The money was to be expended by the war department, was to reimburse that department for rations, tents, blankets, etc., belonging to the army which were shipped to San Francisco, and was to purchase other supplies. The appropriation, Secretary Oliver explains, was allotted among the various supply bureaus of the army, certain amounts going to the commissary bureau, the quartermaster's bureau and the signal corps. The money allotted to the latter was to restore telephonic and telegraphic communications.

Fred D. Malone and Dick Peel, miners working in the U. S. Grant mine, near Virginia City, had a hair raising experience in which Malone gave an exhibition of unusual courage and coolness that saved his partner's life. After charging several blasts in the bottom of a winze and lighting the short fuses they started to climb the ladder to a place of safety. Malone was above Peel on the ladder and the latter had ascended but a few feet above the spitting fuses and the dynamite when his foot got caught in the ladder and he could not extricate it. It seemed as if his death was inevitable. But Malone, at the imminent risk of his life dropped swiftly to the bottom of the winze and cut off the lighted fuses with his knife, thus preventing the discharge of the blasts. He had just time necessary to do that, the burning end of the last fuse being close to the earth when he reached it.

John D. Ryan, managing director of the Amalgamated Copper company, and Arthur Carson, manager of the North Butte and the Butte Coalition Mining companies of Butte, has granted a strictly eight-hour law for all employes. The scale of wages remains unchanged. About 10,000 men are affected, the big smelters of the Amalgamated at Anaconda and Great Falls coming under the order of Mr. Ryan.

MORE HELP IS ASKED

SAN FRANCISCO SUFFERS STILL IN GREAT NEED.

No Money in Circulation—The Means of Support of the Hospitals, Orphanages, Religious and Charitable Organizations of All Kinds Are Absolutely Cut Off.

San Francisco—James D. Phelan, chairman of the municipal finance committee, gives out the following statement to the Associated Press:

"The demands upon the finance committee are very great, and we do not see how we can meet them if present conditions continue. There is no money in the community in circulation. The banks are closed because they dare not open their heated vaults, and when they do open them they will probably pay slowly as they realize upon their assets. They expect next week to cash the checks of well known customers to the extent of $500 each. That measure will help in a small degree the resumption of business. There is a sufficient food supply in sight at present, but the great problem before us is how to provide for the absolutely destitute, for the sick, the old, the children and all other dependent persons.

"The means of support of the hospitals, orphanages, religious and charitable organizations of all kinds are absolutely cut off. The Red Cross estimates that $1000 a day is necessary for the hospitals. To set the institutions on their feet would be the work of years, because the local people are unequal to the task of supporting such institutions and at the same time meeting the demands of their own households and rebuilding of stores and homes and ordinary taxation for public purposes. We are formulating a plan to present to our committee by which money can be secured for the rehabilitation of our workers. Everybody is willing to work and to make private sacrifices if the tools, as it were, are put into their hands to reestablish the social, economical and commercial condition which prevailed before the fire. The idea in our minds is to somehow get a large sum of money at low rates of interest, secured by the improvements which we will erect. Such moneys would be amply secured and, as in the case of Chicago, give us a new city and give to everybody the means of resuming their ordinary vocations.

"Everybody is hopeful and courageous and the prosperous communities of the United States, we are sure, give heed to our call for help. Their spontaneous and generous aid has deeply touched the hearts of our people."

Governor Pardee of California says that the pressing need of Santa Rosa, which was destroyed by the recent earthquake, at present is money.

There is a call for $25,000 or $30,000 for immediate needs. The governor says that the conditions at Santa Rosa are depressing, but the townspeople were brave hearted and had faced the calamity with sturdy determination to recover.

The business district is in ruins, while much of the residence portion of the city is destroyed. A remarkable escape from injury was that of Luther Burbank, the famous horticulturist. His home and experimental gardens were undisturbed. Mr. Burbank saved his valuable collection of photographic negatives. These were unbroken, although the other half of the gallery in which they were stored was smashed to splinters.

WILL HAVE ARMY OF POLICE

San Francisco Has Sworn in 2500 Specials.

Nearly 2400 men have been sworn in as special police officers by Circuit Judge Hosmer. The city has been divided into 50 districts and the men are to patrol within the districts in which they live. Each man is given a star and number, with a card setting forth that he has regular police authority. These men are to receive no pay for their services, but have merely volunteered to work for the good of the community. No relationship between the new organization and the regular police force seems to have been contemplated.

The wool growers in Montana are more moderate in their views than those of Wyoming, but are disposed to wait and see how the market opens after shearing rather than contract now at last year's prices.

RED FLAG CAUSES RIOT IN CHICAGO

Chicago.—A riot, in which 1000 persons participated, occurred here last Tuesday when three policemen arrested Edward W. Ladzinski, red standard bearer of a crowd of socialists, who were marching from their headquarters on North Clark street to Douglas park to take part in the May day festivities given by the socialists.

The marchers, men and women, when they resisted the police, were handled roughly and many were clubbed and arrested.

As soon as word was brought to the police that a parade with a red flag was projected 50 policemen were sent to Michigan avenue and North Clark streets, where the parade was forming, men all wearing red badges, and they were informed that if the parade took place at all the red flags must not be unfurled. The men started without the flags and marched to Douglas park, five miles away. Before one fifth of the distance had been covered the parade had been materially reduced in numbers. A meeting was held later in the park in the presence of the police who had orders to break it up if the speeches made were incendiary.

While the column was passing the corner of Congress street and Ogden avenue one of the flag bearers named Edward Ladzinski unfurled his red flag, and was at once placed under arrest. Several of his companions attempted to take him from the police and the officers drew their revolvers and declared they would fire if any attempt was made to interfere with them. The marchers gave way when the weapons were drawn, but threw stones after the patrol wagon, that carried Ladzinski away to the police station.
