THE NEGRO IN IT

You may talk about the Negro, You may name his faults infinite; But you cannot turn a wheel That a Negro isn't in it.

You may block his civil rights, You may say you are "again" it; But before you turn around, Some sharp Negro will be in it.

You may build your Chinese Walls— You may plan for every minute; But with all your wily schemes, Some few Negroes will be in.

You may form your "Lily Whites," You may kill your bear and skin it;

When the "pie" is passed around Some shrewd Negro will be it.

Be it high or be it low, From cook pot to Senate; There is not a place on earth, That a Negro isn't in it.

So, my friend, just stop your folly, Draw this thought way out and spin it. God intends from first to last, That the Negro must be in it.

You may try the plan of Pharaoh Kill the race out, try to thin it;

When the census roll is called, Negroes always will be in it!

If you keep on with you lynching, Take this thought down now and pin it.; When you reach the shores of hell You will find some Negroes in it.

You may reach the Land of Beulah, If by chance, you e'er should win it;

Don't you emigrate, my brother, When you find all Negroes in it.

—St. Louis Advance.

Refuses Election as Life Member of a Body That Humiliates the Industrious and Courageous Black Man

special to the Chicago Defender, bearing date of June 3, sent from the City of Mexico, says:

"By one of our leading journals here. President Diaz has refused to accept the life membership voted him by the International Sunday School convention. The president says in part:

"When a people like the Americans draw the color line on black people and I accept membership, with my republic full of black men who are manning our railroads, army and national industries? I would be unfit to make laws for any people. The black man has rights and privileges in Mexico that the world must respect, and I will not wash my hands by accepting a membership into that association which seeks to enslave my fellowman.

"I trust the American Negro will not weaken, but will fight for his rights until the judgment day when we shall meet Him face to face."
