 Emil Saxl returned last Thursday from a short trip abroad. After visiting the world's fair, he went to New York where he took passage for Liverpool. He saw the sights in old England and then went over to gay Paris where he did a stunt on the boulevards for a few weeks and then ran over to his old stamping grounds in Germany. He says that not a thing happened to mar the pleasure of the trip but that he is glad to be back in the west where a fellow has a little room to breathe.
 Silverware and cutlery. A complete line at the Fergus County Hardware Company.
 George Pirrie, the big woolgrower of Rothimay was a visitor to Lewistown last week, being called here on court business. Mr. Pirrie stated to the Democrat that stock and range conditions were never better in the southern part of Fergus county and that no matter how hard the winter is from this on, there will be few losses as all stockmen have an abundance of hay to carry them through. He takes a most rosy view of the wool market for the coming season and predicts that the wool will soar to 25 cents before the season is over. He thinks that the average will be from two to three cents higher than it was this year which was considered an exceptionally good season. The admitted shortage of wool and the increased demand brought about by the general good times and the oriental war are what Mr. Pirrie bases his predictions on.

 Wolves have been doing great damage among the stock around the South Moccasin mountains and Wm. Dundon, Sr., Joe King and others are making an effort to secure the services of one or two good, reliable wolfers during the winter. The stockmen who have been suffering from the raids of the wolves will make up a purse and make it worth the time of any one who wishes to hunt for wolves down there for a few months.
 Thomas Casey whose ranch is on the head of the east fork of McDonald creek, about 18 miles from Lewistown, was a business visitor to the city yesterday. Mr. Casey has been a resident of what is now Fergus county for 22 years and has owned the ranch which he now occupies for 29 years which is almost a record. He has a good place and aside from ordinary ranching, he handles a bunch of cattle and some horses. Mr. Casey is a man who believes in his home town and city and has no fears of letting someone know it.

 The Lewistown Labor Union No. 156 A. L. U., gave a masquerade ball in Culver's hall last Friday evening which was pronounced by all present as one of the most successful and pleasant dances ever given in the city. The greater number of the dancers were masked, some particularly attractive masks being shown. Mr. Walden was awarded the prize for possessing the best gentleman's costume. His ingenious makeup won a fine muffler and a pair of patent leather shoes, awarded by A. Dahl. Miss Elizabeth Elkin was given a handsome purse for having the best ladies' costume. The prize for the most comical costume among the ladies was awarded to Miss Jessie Marsh and A. P. Jordan contributed a bottle of champagne to the gentleman with the most comical outfit, George Egan being the lucky prize winner. None of the members of the union were given prizes but as Miss Bessie Strong represented the union she will be given a special prize by the members. An elegant supper was served by "Jack" Edgecombe at the Silver Moon Cafe. This is one of a series of dances to be given by the labor union. They are soliciting the support and good will of the business men of Lewistown and the future is bright for the union in this city.
 The Honorable Wylis A. Hedges of Yale is in the city today on his way to Helena where he will remain until after the legislature adjourns. Mr. Hedges is one of the most prominent candidates yet spoken of for the speakership of the lower house of the legislature and his friends will make a strong effort to have him selected for the responsible position. He is in every way qualified for the place and the Democrat hopes that he is so honored by his associates.
 The rapidly growing business of the First National Bank of Lewistown has necessitated the employment of another clerk, E. I. Shane being the latest addition to the clerical force of the banking institution. Mr. Shane is well known in the city, having been employed for several months at the Wilson drug store and later as cashier at the Silver Moon Cafe. His engagement with the bank means a promotion for all of the old employes. Copeland takes Everett's place on the books, Everett succeeds Shafer in the collection department and Shafer being moved up to the head window as paying and receiving teller. Assistant Cashier Miner will have a desk in the cashier's department and will devote all of his time in assisting Cashier Baeh in the active management of the bank. The first National's prosperity is a source of gratification not only to those who are directly interested but to all who take a pride in a sound, progressive business institution of the sort. It is under a conservative yet a progressive management and is strengthened by a number of efficient and accommodating clerks.
