

HAVING BREAD TROUBLES?

Unreliable flour is a source of worry and disappointment to the best of housekeepers. For, no matter how hard she tries, she cannot get good bread from poor flour.

Look for That Mark When Buying Flour

The above trade-mark is the sign of a perfect product. A perfect product could not be produced unless the best of wheat was used and the milling process such that its goodness is not lost.

"It's the Wheat"

Those words on the flour sack mean that the wheat is first choice Montana hard wheat, that it has been washed so that it is free from impurities, and that it is milled by a process designed for its special kind.

(By Jos. Stahl)
A train on the Milwaukee line killed one of our wolf dogs this week. Finished cutting grain. We had 1,800 acres to cut this year.

A wagon filled with young boys and girls from Lewistown held a picnic in our park.

Our threshing will commence next week. The wheat will be loaded right away and shipped via the Great Northern to Seattle.

Six of our men from Dakota are here to help us through harvest.

Rev. Elias Walter and Rev. Christian Waagner, from the colonies of Dakota, were here visiting us and at the same time looking over the Warren ranch near Hobson, with a view to purchasing. The deal is not yet closed.

In our vicinity a person can hardly see anything else but shocks and shocks of grain.

A dozen or more threshing outfits are hard at work around our place.

Our school has been in session for two and one-half months. Prof. B. W. Pierce, of Roy, has charge this term.

Watermelons are commencing to get sweet. Cucumbers are ripening faster than we can pick them. We have so far put up five fifty-gallon barrels of them and intend to put up five more.
