

GAME TO RED SOX

Carrigan Clan Only One Game Short of World's Championship.

"DUTCH" INVINCIBLE

Contenders for the World's Baseball Championship Return to Boston Today, Where the Fifth, and What the Red Sox Hope, Will Be the Deciding Game, the Players Ceased to Participate in the Financial Returns, and the Boston Men Are Eager to Close the Season.

The official figures showed that 21,682 spectators were present and that the receipts were $72,840. Of this sum the players will receive $39,333.60; each club, $13,111.20 and the national commission, $7,284. The total figures for the four games to date are as follows: Attendance, 120,239. Receipts, $301,717.50. Players' shares, $162,927.45. Each club's share, $54,309.17. National commission's share, $30,171.75.

The players' share of the receipts for the first four games will be divided upon a basis of 60 per cent to the winners of the series and 40 per cent to the losers, which will give $97,756.45 to be divided among the members of the winning club, and $5,169.98 for the losing club players.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The Boston Americans drew one notch nearer to the world's championship here this afternoon when they defeated the Brooklyn Nationals, 6 to 2, in the fourth game of the series, which now stands 3 to 1 in the Red Sox's favor. Tomorrow the conflict will be renewed at Braves' Field, Boston, where the fifth, and what the Red Sox hope, will be the deciding game, will be played. Tomorrow is a legal holiday in Massachusetts and the indications point to an enormous attendance.

With today's contest at Ebbets' Field, the players ceased to participate in the financial returns and the Boston men, with their lead, are eager to close the season and receive their reward.

The manner in which Boston tore into the Brooklyn team this afternoon left no doubt as to their intention of ending the series as quickly as possible. Pitcher "Dutch" Leonard spotted the Nationals two runs in the opening inning, but his teammates more than made up the handicap in the second session and once in the van refused to permit the Superbas to creep upon them.

The contest, although featured by several sensational plays, did not rise much above the average of a regular season contest. Once Leonard swung into form the Brooklyn batters found it impossible to push a runner around the plate. Long, slashing hits ripped off the bats of the Red Sox to be charged against the account of Brooklyn pitchers, with splendid catches, stops and throws, made the way easy for Leonard.

The Brooklyn club gave its supporters great hopes of repeating the victory of Tuesday when two runs were put over in the first inning on Johnston's triple, Myers' single, a base on balls and an error by Janvrin, who, in his eagerness to get Myers at the plate, fumbled Cutshaw's grounder. Rube Marquard, Manager Robinson's selection for a second try against the Boston batters, staved off the Red Sox in the initial inning but Gardner took much of the mystery out of his delivery when he hammered out a home run, his second in two days, with two on bases. In the succeeding session, Marquard walked Hoblitzell, the first man up, and Lewis advanced his to third with a double to the right field wall. Gardner then cleaned up with his homer, a drive to deep center.

The Red Sox added another tally in the fourth when Lewis singled, went to second on Gardner's sacrifice and scored on Marquard's single. Another was added in the fifth when Cheney, who replaced Marquard in the box after Pfeiffer had batted for the former, passed Hooper, who stole

DEFENSE COUNCIL

President Names Board to Assist in Mobilizing Resources.

WHEN NEEDED IN WAR

President issues Statement Describing the Council's Chief Functions, and Adds That the Time of Some of the Members of the Advisory Board Could Not Be Purchased: That They Serve the Government Without Remuneration, Efficiency Being Their Sole Object and Americanism Their Only Motive.

ON BOARD PRESIDENT WILSON'S SPECIAL; HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 11.—President Wilson, en route to Indianapolis tonight, announced the appointment of members of the advisory commission to be associated with the council of national defense, created by congress at the last session. At the same time he gave out a statement saying he hoped the council will "become a rallying point for civic bodies working for the national defense."

The seven members of the new advisory commission named by the president tonight are:

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad; Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Dr. Franklin H. Martin, of Chicago; Howard E. Coffin of Detroit; Bernard Baruch of New York; Hollis Godfrey of Philadelphia and Julius Rosenwald of Chicago.

The president's statement follows: "The council of national defense has been created because the congress has realized that the country is best prepared for war when thoroughly at peace. From an economic point of view, there is now very little difference between the machinery required for commercial efficiency and that required for military purposes. In both cases the whole industrial mechanism must be organized in the most effective way. Upon this conception of the national welfare the council is organized in the words of the act for 'the creation of relations which will render possible in time of need the immediate concentration and utilization of the resources of the nation. The organization of council likewise opens up a new and direct channel of communication and co-operation between business and scientific men and all departments of the government, and it is hoped that it will, in addition, become a rallying point for civic bodies working for the national defense."

"The council's chief functions are:—1.—The coordination of all forms of transportation and the development of means of transportation to meet the military, industrial and commercial needs of the nation.

"2.—The extension of the industrial mobilization work of the committee on industrial preparedness of the naval consulting board. Complete information as to our present manufacturing and producing facilities adaptable to manifold issues of modern warfare will be procured, analyzed and made use of.

"3.—The extension of the council will be to inform American manufacturers as to the part which they can and must play in national emergency. It is empowered to establish at once and maintain through subordinate bodies of specially qualified persons an auxiliary organization composed of men of the best creative and administrative capacity, capable of mobilizing to the utmost the resources of the country.

"The personnel of the council's advisory members, appointed without regard to party, marks the entrance of the non-partisan engineer and professional man into American governmental affairs on a wider scale than ever before. It is responsive to the increased demand for and need of business organization in public matters and for the presence there of the best specialists in their respective fields. In the present instance, the time of some of the members of the advisory board could not be purchased. They serve the government without remuneration, efficiency being their sole object and Americanism their only motive."

PRESIDENT ON WAY TO HARRISBURG TO DELIVER TWO SPEECHES TODAY

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 11.—(or board President Wilson's special.)—President Wilson was on his way to Indianapolis tonight on his second invasion of the middle west since the campaign opened. He will deliver two speeches and review a parade tomorrow in connection with a good roads celebration. His visit to Indianapolis was announced as entirely nonpartisan in accord with his determination not to make political speeches away from Long Branch, N. J.

On the way to Indianapolis tomorrow morning and returning tomorrow afternoon, the president is expected to make several short stops in Indiana and Ohio but he reiterated tonight his determination not to make any campaign speeches from the rear platform of his private car. At Dayton, Ohio, and Richmond, Indiana, tomorrow morning, however, he is expected to shake hands with crowds.

The president was applauded when he appeared on the observation platform of his car at Philadelphia, this afternoon. He remained on the platform fifteen minutes shaking hands with men and women. The cheering was renewed as the train pulled out.

EXPERT RIDER MEETS DEATH

MRS. FLORENCE MEADOWS, WIFE OF ALLEN MEADOWS, A BRIDE OF SIX WEEKS WAS FOUND DEAD BY THE SIDE OF THE ROAD NEAR THE HARDING RANCH ABOUT THREE MILES FROM HER HOME ON THE OLD CAMERON PLACE, THIRTY-FIVE MILES NORTHEAST OF LEWISTOWN.

FUNERAL HELD M. E. CHURCH

Mrs. Florence Meadows, wife of Allen Meadows, a bride of six weeks was found dead by the side of the road near the Harding ranch about three miles from her home on the old Cameron place, thirty-five miles northeast of Lewistown. In her hands were clasped the reins and her favorite saddle horse was grazing in the lane a short distance away.

Dr. Pauls who was returning to Roy about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon after responding to a call to the Harding ranch to set the leg of a man who had been injured during the morning suddenly came upon the body of Mrs. Meadows by the side of the road. Every possible means of resuscitation was resorted to but in spite of the fact life had been extinct but a short time the effort was of no avail. The doctor and the man accompanying him then placed the body in their conveyance and returned to the Harding ranch where identification was established. They then took the body to Roy, notifying Justice of the Peace Clow immediately upon their arrival there. Justice Clow telephoned to Coroner Crowl notifying him of the accident who in turn communicated with Gilt Edge in an effort to apprise the husband who was supposed to be there of the accident.

Mrs. Meadows, who was prior to her marriage Florence Barbee, was a daughter of George Barbee and Mrs. Kate Barbee, and was born in the state of Washington about 22 years ago. She had lived with her parents for the past twelve years and during that time had achieved a reputation as a wonderfully clever horsewoman. Her horsemanship had attracted wide attention and on various occasions efforts had been made to persuade her to ride in competitive contests in this country and in Canada. She is survived by her father and mother, one sister, Loa Barbee, who conducts the Diamond rooming house of this city, and three brothers, Dan Martin and William Barbee.

The funeral of the late Florence Barbee Meadows of Fort Maginnis, whose death resulted from an accident last Saturday afternoon, was held from the Methodist church in this city Tuesday afternoon. There was a large attendance of sorrowing relatives and friends, the auditorium being well filled. Rev. C. M. Donaldson, who conducted the services, delivered a consolatory address, in which he paid a high tribute to the many virtues of the decedent. The choir sang three beautiful selections. There were numerous floral tributes.

Singular Incident.
A remarkable incident connected with the sad and tragic death of the popular young woman is related. The road was wet and slippery and the horse, as revealed by the marks in the wet snow, had slipped. In recovering it is supposed that the animal's quick movement threw the rider, who alighted on her head. Her neck was broken and the fall caused concussion of the brain. She never moved after striking the ground and the reins were still held in her nerveless hand when Drs.

PRESENTATION OF THE ISSUES

SWINDEHURST AND EVANS ADDRESS BIG GATHERING AT ARMORY HALL.

ACHIEVEMENTS OF THE DEMOCRATS

One of the most attentive and appreciative audiences which has attended any political meeting during the present campaign greeted Congressman John M. Evans and Thomas M. Swindlehurst in the Armory hall last evening. Senator J. E. Lane acted as chairman of the meeting and in a very few well chosen words introduced Mr. Swindlehurst, the first speaker of the evening, whose address was a very brief, logical argument in support of the democratic party, nationally, and in the state and county. His review of the accomplishments of the national and state administrations brought forth round after round of applause, and his advocacy of the establishment of a farm loan bank in Montana instead of St. Paul particularly pleased his audience. A plea for the loyal support of Governor Stewart was made by Mr. Swindlehurst, as he laid particular emphasis on his devotion to the state and his upbuilding of its institutions. In closing he asked the support of his audience not because the men on the democratic ticket were democrats but because they represented democratic policies and democratic principles.

Congressman Evans, the next speaker, carried the audience with him. He, too, was interrupted time and again by applause. Mr. Evans spoke earnestly and delivered his address in a masterly manner.

Mr. Evans' Address.
Mr. Evans spoke in part as follows: "The first great piece of legislation undertaken was a revision of the tariff. The motive actuating the democratic party in revising the tariff was that of the public good. Republican revisions, as a rule, considered the welfare of the protected interests as paramount and the interests of the people as a mere incident. The democrats put the people above every other consideration and presented the country with a tariff for revenue. Promises were redeemed (1) by an enlarged free list (2), by lower duties on other goods and (3), by an income tax.

Income Tax.
"In connection with the Underwood tariff acts this administration passed and put into effect an income tax law. Under the operation of this statute the wealthy and well to do pay into the treasury every year two hundred million dollars in taxes on their enormous incomes, which formerly went scot free. Under republican rule, this gigantic sum was raised by means of a tariff on food and clothing, which were largely consumed by the plain people. Under democratic law, this burden has been shifted from the poor man's bending to the broad shoulders of those whose net incomes are in excess of $3,000 a year. What law could be more popular than this? What measure could be more just? What statute could more effectually lighten the load of those who struggle for their daily bread? Will any republican candidate for office advocate a repeal of this law?"

MURDER CHARGE AGAINST FRYE

MAN WHO KILLED MALONE AT STANFORD PREPARING HIS DEFENSE.

WINIFRED CASE COMES UP AGAIN

Luther H. Frye, who late last Friday night shot and mortally wounded Mack Malone at Stanford, now stands formally accused of murder under the coroner's jury at Stanford, Assistant County Attorney Raymond Dockery, who represented the state at the request will let the accusation contained in the verdict, stand for the present. Frye has retained, temporarily at least, Earl Wineman of Stanford and Blackford & Hinton of this city, as his legal advisers.

IN TROUBLE AGAIN.
Lillian Smith, who was before Judge Foley some days ago charged with being an inmate of a resort at Winifred, being released upon a promise to leave that town, was again taken in custody Tuesday evening and is now in the county jail. She is, however, held as a witness. Irene Allen, the proprietor of the place, was released when the matter was up originally upon her agreement to close the establishment and leave the town. It now appears according to the information reaching the county attorney's office, that she changed her mind and will fight the case. This made it necessary to hold Miss Allen as a witness.

TO QUIET TITLE.
W. R. Woods Tuesday brought suit against W. A. Shauls, Mary A. Weisner, G. C. Power and brother, Margaret Shields and others to quiet title to lot 12 in block 11 of Stanford's addition No. 3. R. von Tobel is the plaintiff's attorney.

In the case of the First State Bank of Livingston against C. L. Bridges, judgment by default for $226 was entered yesterday.

C. E. Shoemaker & Co., a corporation, has brought suit against David W. Cole and others to recover $220. Worden & Gribble are the plaintiff's attorneys.

"WETS" HAVE MEETING.
There was a large turnout for the meeting held by the "wets" at Armory hall Tuesday night, when ex-Mayor E. F. Hanson of Belfast, Maine, gave the principal address. A band paraded the streets previous to the meeting and remained in the hall throughout the evening. Mr. Hanson proved an entertaining speaker at least and one experienced in the art. He claimed that the experience of Maine with prohibition demonstrated that prohibition did not prohibit and this was the gist of his whole argument.

A SUCCESSFUL HUNT.
E. K. Cherrington, his son Chester, of the Lewistown Grocery and Hiram Dillon returned last evening from a hunt in the Belt mountains near the Trask ranch. They brought back three fine deer.

STOCK LOADED.
Seventeen cars of sheep were shipped over the Milwaukee from Square Butte yesterday. Nineteen cars of sheep will be loaded today and 51 cars of cattle.

IN FROM DAWSON.
A. F. Schulz, a well-known Dawson county farmer, is in the city for a few days.

DEMANDS GERARD ON GREECE AT HOME

Entire Greek Fleet, Except Two Warships, Join Allied Fleet.

ALLIES' ULTIMATUM

Italian Troops, Fighting in the Carso Region, Southeast of Gorizia, Have Resumed Their March Towards Trieste, Capturing Several Lines of Austrian Trenches and Nearly 6,000 Prisoners—Teutonic Allies Are Continuing Their Drive of the Rumanians Along Most All of the Front, Some Troops Entering Rumania.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—(11:41 p. m.)—Vice Admiral Dartige du Fournet, commander of the Anglo-French fleet in the Mediterranean, has presented an ultimatum to Greece, demanding that Greece hand over the entire Greek fleet, except the armored cruiser Averoff and the battleship Lemnos or Kiklis, to the entente allies by 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, according to Reuter's Athens correspondent. Demand is also made for the control of the Piraeus-Larissa railway.

"The minister of marine," the correspondent continues, "says Vice Admiral Fournet's demands will be complied with and that the fleet will be handed over before the prescribed time."

"The demands were made as a precautionary measure to insure the safety of the allies' fleet."

ITALIANS ADVANCE.
ROME, Oct. 11.—(8:08 p. m.)—Italian troops, fighting in the Carso region southeast of Gorizia, have resumed their march towards Trieste, capturing several lines of Austrian trenches and more than 5,000 prisoners, says the official statement issued by the war office today. In addition they have occupied strongly defended heights between the Vipava river and Mill 208, taking quantities of arms and ammunition.

Through successes on two other fronts, the Italians captured 1,400 additional prisoners. The advances were made in the Cosmagnon sector of Pasubio, in the Trentino, and on the front of the Julian Alps between Tobar and Vertoriba, north of Gorizia. The Austrian line on the Julian front was broken, the statement adds.

On the Pasubio front, 530 prisoners were taken and 860 on the Julian front. In addition 164 officers were taken in the Carso advance.

The Greek navy consists of five battleships—the Kiklis, Lemnos, Psara, Spsal and Hydra; one armored cruiser, the Averoff; the coast defense ship Basilissa Georgiou; the cruisers Hell and Naumarchos Mianlis; ten gunboats, seventeen torpedo boat destroyers; nine torpedo boats; three submarines and several transports and other craft. The Greek naval force has been estimated at 4,000 officers and men.

Recently there have been reports that Greek warships had deserted the navy and joined the revolutionary forces. Among these were the battleship Hydra and two torpedo boats, which it was declared left their anchorages and joined the allied fleet in Salamis Bay. The Kiklis also was reported to have deserted, but this was denied.

The best ships in the Greek navy—the Kiklis and Lemnos, which respectively are the former American battleships Idaho and Mississippi. These vessels were sold to Greece in 1914, Greece paying $12,535,275 for them.

The Hell also is an American built ship, having been constructed by the New York Ship Building company as the Pei Hung for China and purchased by Greece in 1914.

Some of the smaller craft were captured from Turkey in 1897.

At the outbreak of the war, Greece had two dreadnaughts under construction, one in France and the other in Germany and a protected cruiser building in England.

It is probable that the dispatch of Reuter's correspondent was delayed in transmission from Athens to London.

HIS FIRST VACATION

Denies Report of Any Knowledge on His Part of Germany's Intention to Resume Submarine Warfare Upon All Kinds of Shipping—President Wilson, on Way to Harrisburg, Says No Evidence Has Been Discovered That Germany's New Submarine Warfare Off American Coast Has Violated Germany's Promises.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—James W. Gerard, United States ambassador to Germany, who returned here yesterday on his first vacation in nearly three years, issued a formal statement late today in which he denied that his home coming had been caused by the need of warning the administration at Washington of Germany's intention to resume indiscriminate submarine warfare against neutral, as well as hostile shipping. The ambassador's statement follows:

"You may say that it is not true, that I came home at this time to serve notice on the president of Germany's intention to repudiate her pledges regarding the conduct of submarine warfare, or that Germany was contemplating the resumption of submarine attacks upon all kinds of shipping."

"I say to you, what I said to a reporter for the Berliner Tagblatt at Copenhagen before I sailed; I should not think of leaving my post at this time if I were not convinced that the relations between my country and Germany were as friendly as they could be and gave every promise of continuing so indefinitely."

DISCUSS SUBMARINE.
ON BOARD PRESIDENT'S SPECIAL, HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 11.—As a result of the conference last night and early today between President Wilson and Secretary Lansing at Long Branch, N. J., it was stated authoritatively tonight that no evidence of the breaking of German promises to the United States had been discovered so far in connection with the submarine activities of the American coast last Sunday, but that the American government will continue its investigations and will watch very closely any repetition of the attacks.

The only direct comment on the discussion between the president and Secretary Lansing obtainable from official sources tonight was that every single of the submarine situation had been discussed during the conference and that new problems brought to the front by the activities of German submarines so near the American coast had been gone over thoroughly.

Administration officials apparently fear that difficulties may result if German submarine warfare is carried on a large scale on this side of the Atlantic and that therefore it is necessary for the government to seek all facts obtainable.

Complete evidence on whether Germany's promise to put passengers and crews in places of safety before sinking vessels were carried out in last Sunday's attacks is expected to be ready for the president when he returns east Friday.

SHIPPING TIED UP.
NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Although there was no news today to indicate that the German submarine U-53 was still lurking in the Atlantic sea lanes, and while some shipping interests believed she has headed for Heligoland, there was evidence that the British admiralty would proceed with caution in allowing British ships to depart from Atlantic coast ports. Two British vessels due to sail today, did not leave and it was reported that others which have cleared, both French and British, will not sail at present.

Shipping circles heard today that Admiral Montague Browning, in command of the British fleet at Halifax, had issued orders detaining the British merchant vessels now in port until such a time as it was deemed safe for them to depart. Verification of this report could not be obtained at the British consulate.

OPENING SESSION OF EPISCOPAL GENERAL CONVENTION IN ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 11.—The Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann of Boston, Mass., was re-elected president of the house of deputies of the Protestant Episcopal general convention here today. He was opposed by the Rev. James E. Freeman of Minneapolis, Minn.

The vote was 343 to 103. Later the election was made unanimous. The convention met in triennial session today. Dr. Mann was first elected president of the house of deputies at the convention in New York in 1913.

Dr. James McNaughton, director of Bitynia high school, Constantinople, spoke at a mass meeting tonight. He described the conditions of Armenian Christians in Turkey as comprising the darkest page in Christian history and said that more than a million native Christians in Asia Minor are facing death from starvation and exposure.

Dr. McNaughton made an appeal for the observance of October 21 and 22 as Armenian and Assyrian relief days, pointing out that President Wilson was asking the people of the United States to set aside this day.

Notes giving the result of the world's series ball game were passed among the delegates in the house of deputies this afternoon.
