

Broadus Stunts

Commissioners C. M. Smith and Baxter Pierce, N. A. Burkey, T. E. Sherlock and W. T. Waite motored to Little Powder river Saturday morning and visited with J. H. Morris whose health has been impaired.

F. L. Funkenbusch was in town Wednesday soliciting orders for dressed pork at 8 1/2 cents a pound.

There was good demand for fresh eggs in Broadus the past week, retailing at 30 to 40 cents a dozen.

P. E. Michaels and H. D. Baker of Moorhead were in town Tuesday.

Dr. J. W. Craig, T. H. Leech and Mr. and Mrs. A. Montgomery of Pineleaf were in town Tuesday.

O. Forcier was here Wednesday from Pineleaf.

L. B. Kimble, special agent of the department of interior, was here Wednesday from Helena.

W. E. Lewis of Selway was in town the latter part of the week.

Albert Foree, who lives near Epale, was in town Wednesday. He reported the ground dry in his locality but found the road rather muddy from the Sand Creek school house to Broadus.

John A. Willis, who has been working at Moorhead the past summer for F. T. Kelsey, is here for a visit with his cousin, Chas. S. Emsel.

John Hudson and family have occupied the Blenkner place near Broadus and is sending his children to the schools in this district.

Dressed pork, 13c. Broadus Market.

Western grassers sold on the Chicago market the past week at $6.00 to $6.75.

The school census for Powder River county is nearly completed. The figures are being compiled by Miss Florence Fitzpatrick, county superintendent, and will be ready for publication next week.

The 400-pound school bell that was ordered for Broadus has not yet arrived though it was shipped from the dealer a month ago. Tracers have been sent out to ascertain the delay.

Osborn Pemberton, A. W. Devasher, the Richardsons and several other stockmen started Sunday October 28, to the railroad at Belle Fourche with their beef herds. The following Tuesday they were on the head of Box Elder. They were caught by the snow storm while on the road and it is not known yet whether they have reached their destination.

Dressed pork, 13c. Broadus Market.

C. F. Huckins transacted business in town the latter part of the week.

The American Legion dance Saturday night was well attended, considering the inclemency of the weather and the condition of the roads. Reilly's orchestra was unable to come so the music was supplied by C. C. Craw and A. B. Norris.

A snow storm was recorded Saturday and from reports it was general over the entire west. Snow fell to a depth of four inches here but with moderation of the weather nearly all has melted now.

The coldest weather of the season so far was recorded Monday night by A. W. Heidel, local weather observer, at 7 degrees above zero.

A. E. Biles and Ernest Broadus were in town the fore part of the week.

"Shorty" Turley will give a Thanksgiving dance at his hall here, November 30. He writes from Forsyth that he will return home in a few days.

Dressed pork, 13c. Broadus Market.

Mary Anne, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kuhle, was bit in the face by a pet dog Monday forenoon. She was carried about two miles by her mother coming to Broadus for medical attention. A half mile from town they met Mr. Kuhle with his team and wagon. Dr. James dressed the injury by burning with caustic and does not expect complications. The dog had fastened its teeth into the girl's mouth and jaw.

John Stafford, Paul Kusel and Wallace Palmer from the west end of the county were here the latter part of the week getting election returns.

Five dollars a head is being charged for winter pasturing of cattle.

Mail Carrier Al E. Edwards continues to be put to the test with his daily mail route between Volborg and Broadus but with all the snow storms and muddy roads he has not yet missed a trip. On Wednesday he reported the road condition as considerably improved.

The crew of five state road surveyors are now making their headquarters at the Y T ranch. They expect to complete the 15-mile survey within another week. The projected graded road would extend from Broadus past the Y T ranch to the old Tatton place.

W. M. Isaacs from Buck creek was in town Monday.

Oliver Lawrence will give a Thanksgiving dance at his place on Baking Powder Saturday night, November 25.

Miss Cornelia Leonard from Denver is teaching the Doyle Creek school.

Miss Jeannette Sealton has accepted a position as teacher at the Murray school in the Coalwood district.

Mrs. Betty Broadus has returned after a visit at the home of her son, "Billy" Broadus, in Miles City.

Mrs. J. D. Williams has been indisposed the past week with sickness.

E. A. Blenkner, county attorney elect, has been in Missoula the past week attending a home-coming of the University of Montana Alumni, of which he is a member.

Through a classified advertisement in the Examiner, G. F. Monroe sold his ten head of mixed cattle to Sam Smith for the sum of $140. Two yearlings were included in the herd, most of which was cows and calves.

Health Crusade work is being taken up by scholars in the Broadus schools.

Taxes become delinquent after November 30.

Mrs. W. C. McVey returned Monday to the Y T ranch from a visit of several weeks at St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Thanksgiving day comes on Thursday, November 30.

Lawrence Thompson on Friday of last week sold his drums and traps to Frank Weaver, living on Powder river, about 25 miles above Broadus.

E. W. Clark, a local freighter, is carrying his right arm in a sling, the result of an accident about eight miles from Miles City Monday afternoon while on a trip to that destination. He broke the bones above the wrist while cranking the engine on his car, and in that predicament suffered much pain in driving the remainder of the distance.

E. J. DuRussell came to town Wednesday and was looking for someone to haul 1,000 bushels of wheat to Miles City. Another farmer near Kimble's place has 1,600 bushels of wheat ready for shipment to Miles City.

Max Holcomb of Powder River county successfully underwent an operation for appendicitis Saturday at the hospital in Sheridan, Wyo.

The local price for wheat is 60 cents a bushel, although so far as known, no cash sales have been made within the past week. The local flour mill is exchanging wheat for flour, giving 50 pounds of flour for 100 pounds of wheat.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Allen entertained Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Fay Allen, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McCurdy, G. W. and Henry Allen and Joe Wall Sunday.

The Coalwood Ladies' Aid society will hold their eighth annual bazaar at Coalwood Friday, December 8. They will also serve a chicken supper starting at 6 o'clock and continuing until all are fed. All cordially invited to attend.

MOORHEAD

November 13.—It looks as though winter had come to stay and people hereabouts are busy taying in their supply of coal.

Two men with the Wilson cavy passed through today, returning from Arvada, from which point the cattle were shipped Friday.

B. W. Peterson, Matt Thoet and Wm. Oldenburg were business visitors one day this week.

A public sale conducted by B. W. Peterson was held at the 4-H ranch today. A number of household effects belonging to Thos. Bonner were sold.

F. T. Kelsey left for Broadus last week. While there he will prepare for occupancy the house he recently purchased.

A. E. Yarger and crew are at work again on the road at the mouth of Thompson creek.

Mr. Dally and Leland Welton gave a dance at the Moorhead school house Saturday evening. Because of the inclemency of the weather the dance was not as well attended as could be desired, although those who did venture out report a very pleasant time.

Ferry Holland was a business visitor one day last week.

John Popp returned from Omaha on Monday, to which point he had taken beef cattle.

Charles Rile and Billy Anderson left for Arvada yesterday with about two carloads of cattle.

ELROD RETURNS.

L. B. Elrod, who was fined $500 and given a six-months' jail sentence at Belle Fourche for violation of the prohibition laws, returned to Broadus the first of the week. It is understood he was discharged from custody upon Haz Bailey paying half the amount of the fine, $250, so it is reported here.

Albert Forsgren returned to his homestead last Friday. He has been in North Dakota all summer where he has had employment. He brought his bride with him.

The "tuffy pulling" at J. D. Rumph's Friday night was well attended. About time for the people to leave home it began to snow. They ventured out anyway and found it quite difficult to keep in the road as they were going home and several who lived farthest away stayed until morning. They all left wishing Irene many more happy birthdays as the party was in commemoration of her natal anniversary. She received several presents.

Hubert Rumph succeeded in catching a coyote in his trap one day last week. He is much elated over his first catch.

HEADLIGHTS ON HIGHWAYS.

Improvement roads in Wyoming have increased from a total mileage of 1,724 in 1914 to 6,867 in 1931, according to the bureau of public roads of the United States department of agriculture.

A total of 33.3 miles of bridges, exclusive of small structures, have been completed on Federal aid roads.

When children and workers in our eastern cities are underfed and corn in Iowa, potatoes in Virginia, and fruit in California are allowed to rot, something is wrong with the system of transportation. Highway transport can play an important part in the solution.

Eighteen feet of roadway is the minimum width recommended by the bureau of public roads of the United States department of agriculture for primary roads.

Trunk-line highways mean too much to the commerce of the nation to allow them to be closed by snow or mud.

TO THE ELECTORS OF POWDER RIVER COUNTY

The election is over and your obedient servant has been elected to stay at home and attend to his own private business, such being the verdict rendered at the polls on November 7th, "Vox populi vox Dei" (the voice of the people is the will of God) and I accept it as such.

I will here say that during my term of office I at all times worked for the interests of the people of Powder River county and eastern Montana, and do not know of a single vote I cast while a member of the legislature that I would change had I the opportunity.

To my many friends who worked and voted for me I wish to give my warmest thanks and inform them that I fully appreciate and value the splendid work they did in my behalf.

To my successor in office I would say that I wish him every success in upholding the rights, dignity and honor of good old Powder River county.

Yours very respectfully,
JOHN L. SCOFIELD.

AVERAGE BARREL OF CRUDE OIL YIELDS 10 GALLONS "GAS"

According to the American Petroleum Institute, the average 42-gallon barrel of crude petroleum, when run through a refinery, yields the following products:

Gasoline, 10.8 gallons; kerosene, 4.1 gallons; fuel and gas oil, 20.1 gallons; lubricating oil, 1.8 gallons; wax, coke and asphalt, 1 gallon; miscellaneous, 2.5 gallons, loss in refining, 1.7 gallons.

Although gasoline is the principal product of crude oil from a commercial standpoint, and the petroleum of the United States and Mexico is produced primarily to meet the constantly increasing demand for it, in point of actual volume, gasoline forms only about 25 per cent of the crude.
