A Victim of Science.

The frog has been called "the victim of science" because he is always being dissected for the purpose of seeing how he can get along without his most essential organs, how his blood circulates and how his nervous system acts. He is selected for such ends not, as is commonly imagined, because his structure is at all humanlike, but for the reason that he will endure being chopped up to such a remarkable extent and still retain life.

You can remove his brain and he will get along fairly well without it, swallowing whatever is put into his mouth and otherwise behaving as usual though in an automatic fashion. In fact the animal will live indefinitely under such conditions as experiment has shown. If you cut out his lungs he will not die for a long time because he can breathe very well through the skin all over the body in a small degree the blood in the superficial vessels making up a certain amount of oxygen, but the function is exercised more satisfactorily by the frog.

Besides, his nervous system affords an interesting study under ingenious torture by the anatomist and the corpuscles in his blood being remarkably large, that fluid serves admirably for the instruction of the seeker after medical knowledge.

Mining Review.

Forty-five car loads of bullion have been shipped from Livingston by the Cumberland company. Assuming that each car carried twenty tons, this would be nine hundred tons, and if the value of each was $140, the value of the bullion shipped is $126,000. In our opinion the value of the shipments will exceed this sum.

At Missoula Sunday morning about fifteen white men, most of them wearing masks, went to the house of a Chinese gardener a mile above the city. There were three Chinese there. One escaped by swimming the river. Lung Ti was very badly beaten about the head and body and received a long deep gash above the left eye. Lo Kit, the third one, was given a coat of tar and feathers and his queue was cut off. As the tar was hot his condition is very serious. The men then went to work and demolished everything about the place, broke the windows and doors of the house and cut holes in the roof, and it is claimed by the Chinese that over $400 was stolen.

Billings Gazette.

Tom Madden, notorious for his gun fight last spring in the Big Horn basin with McDermott, during which the four year old child of McDermott was accidentally killed, has been sentenced to the penitentiary for seven years for cattle stealing.

Francis Murphy, the temperance evangelist, is being assisted in his meetings at Butte by Judge Armstrong of Helena.

A gold brick, valued at $15,000, has recently been received at Great Falls from the Spotted Horse mine at Menden, owned by McAdow.

Three grand harvest excursions are to be given by the Northern Pacific Railroad company this season for one and a third fairs for the round trip to any point in Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana touched by its lines. These tickets will be good for thirty days, thus giving time for a comprehensive and critical view of the country. There is no doubt that a large number of persons will avail themselves of this opportunity to inspect these favored regions. The excursion is now projected will take place on August 25, September 15 and 29. All visitors will be heartily welcomed to Montana and aided in every way to become familiar with the advantages offered here to settlers. The boards of trade of every city and town will doubtless provide for this in the most effective manner.

Meagher County News.

From I. M. Hensley it was learned that a railroad meeting was held in Castle at which the people pledged all the support they guaranteed the gentleman who visited that early last spring. A committee was appointed to go to Bozeman and arrange with their committee. Several parties raised the amount of interests and stock they had donated. By the new plan all who assist in building the road receive stock. Gallatin valley will put on 200 teams. Work will probably be commenced immediately and the roadbed almost finished this fall. Mr. King agrees to build ten miles of the road and give them right of way and depot grounds in town. The Bozeman people have raised $250,000 and can raise $125,000 more.

Castle Tribune.

A petition was circulated and has been sent to the department asking for a post office at Fox, on the old mail route to Castle. There are a large number of miners working in the Four Mile country who will be benefited by the establishment of a postoffice at Mr. Funch's ranch. A petition has also been sent in for a daily mail service from White Sulphur Springs to Castle by way of Blackhawk and Robinson. Both of these petitions ask for what is needed and should be granted.

General News.

St. Louis had three shocks of earthquake on Thursday last.

Paris has a population of 2,500,000, and has fewer than 100 negroes within its limits.

The new State of Washington has a population of 319,390 and an assessed valuation of property of $221,448,136.

A New York agricultural paper estimates that farm products will be $1,000,000,000 more this year in the United States than for several years.

The night express train from Macon, Missouri, was held up at Collins station by three masked men and the express safe robbed of $30,000 on the night of the 20th.

There is a great demand for American wheat and produce in Peru, the Chilean supply being cut off. American flour sells at $13 per sack and potatoes bring a high figure.

The strike of the Omaha smelters ended with the understanding that the men begin work on the old terms, and will negotiate for wages on the basis of the eight-hour day.

In Oregon harvesting has been delayed by rain, but an excellent wheat yield is reported. Fruit is yielding fairly well. Hop lice are doing considerable damage. In California hop picking is progressing and the yield is better than anticipated. Wheat is about an average yield. The fruit crop is large and excellent. The raisin crop in Southern California is large.

Miss Willard says that the Chataqua dress reformers, of whom she is a moving spirit, have not reached the point of opposing or recommending the divided skirt. Their present assault is made against high-heeled shoes, dirt-gathering skirts and the "death-line bodice." The question of trousers for women, she says, is a matter for future discussion.

Gen. Miles, in an interview about the scheme to put state troops under the orders of the secretary of war, said: "I do not believe in consolidating the state troops and forming them into practically a standing army of 100,000 men and placing them under the control of whoever may be secretary of war. Such a measure in my judgment would be ill-advised and dangerous."

On Sunday the 16th two armies struggled all day for the mastery at Vina del Mar beach, opposite Valparaiso, Chili. Night put an end to the battle, which left the result still in doubt, and it will take another contest to determine the mastery of Chili.

The loss of life was about three thousand. Balboa's line of defense was strongly fortified, and was under the range of the guns from Fort Callao. While many of his troops were raw recruits, there was a goodly number of veterans among them. Time after time the rebels dashed against the lines of the government troops, only to be repulsed with great bloodshed. They were not the only sufferers, however, for their artillery played with telling effect on the enemy and their rifles were not useless in their hands.

Attack and repulse were repeated time after time, with the decided advantage to either side. The most desperate valor was displayed by veteran and recruit, Balboa and revolutionist. There was little regret on either side when darkness came and stopped the bloody work.

Two hundred pounds of giant powder exploded at the Bear mines near Burke, Idaho, on Wednesday last. Four men were imprisoned at a breast of the drift by a rock which caved in, and were suffocated. The bodies of four other miners have not yet been found, but all hope of finding them alive has been given up. The explosion was terrific, tearing up the earth and caving in the tunnel for a distance of 100 feet. The dead bodies of four of the miners were recovered. G. McNeil, manager; John Jensen, assistant manager; Robert Blackburn and John Barnes, miners.

The board of county commissioners will meet one week from next Monday, September 7th, in regular session.

Sheriff Templeton is in receipt of a letter from Wisconsin in which the writer claims that during a residence in Park county he was guilty of the crime of murder, and further informs the sheriff that he can be found in Mexico, Missouri, when wanted if not arrested before he reaches that place. Sheriff Templeton is at a loss to understand whether the writer of the letter, who gives his name as Sam Rosenbaugh, is demented and laboring under the delusion that he has committed some crime, or whether he may be the perpetrator of one of three murders committed during the past few years in this county for which no one has yet been held responsible. He will investigate the matter with a view to learning, if possible, some facts in connection with his unknown correspondent.

Judge R. B. Dunham, who was in the city Tuesday upon returned to the Stinking Water district from western Montana, informed us that the ore body had been encountered upon the Geyser mine in that district. The vein is three feet in thickness and was struck in the tunnel at the depth of 130 feet. Mr. Dunham, who is one of the principal owners of the Geyser, as well as other good properties in the Stinking Water county, is naturally elated over this recent strike. He is confident that the mines of the district will be supplied with needed railroad transportation within a short time by reason of the extension of the B. & M. system, when it will become one of the greatest silver-lead producing districts of the west.

W. M. Wright is acting president of the society of Montana pioneers in Park County. The office is designated as that of vice president and each county in the state is entitled to such an officer.

The splendid crop of hay and cereals in both Park and Gallatin counties will have a tendency to fracture the high prices which have prevailed for some time past. Farmers' products however, will no doubt continue to bring remunerative prices.

In the organization of the Montana State Pharmaceutical association of Helena the other day, Mr. Peterson of this city was appointed as one of the executive committee to represent Park county. The association is formed for the purpose of instituting some supervision over the dispensing of drugs and medicines. The organization will also endeavor to secure such legislation as will be of mutual advantage to pharmacists and the public by restraining the dispensing and sale of medicines to competent persons and to encourage the more thorough training of assistants.
