

THE HERALD.

WALLACE GRUELLE, EDITOR.

HARTFORD, OHIO COUNTY, KY.,

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 20, 1875

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Wednesday, January 13.

Re-Governor Thomas E. Bramlette died at his residence in Louisville yesterday afternoon, after an illness of several weeks duration. He was born at Columbia, Adams county, Ky., and was in his 58th year at the time of his death.

The convicts of the Nebraska penitentiary, at Lincoln, under the leadership of a notorious convict named McWhittier, about 3 o'clock Sunday overpowered the inside guard, gained possession of the armory and then drove the outside guards from the walls, shooting one Julius Goshen in the knee, and wounding severely another, who is reported dying. They fired several shots at citizens who were approaching with arms, wounding two. The warden was absent in the city. His wife, children, and a female convict are locked in the upper part of the building. Grave apprehensions are felt for the safety of the guards and the warden's family, as the convicts are expected to return to the penitentiary with a large body of armed citizens are patrolling outside the prison. The convicts are momentarily expected to rally forth, having procured citizens clothes by robbing the guards. Gov. Turner, having applied to Gen. Ford for aid, a company of troops left Omaha on a special train for Lincoln.

Saturday night a serious cutting affray occurred at South Bloomfield, Pickaway county, Ohio, growing out of a feud between J. Ryan, a hotel keeper, and one Welch, a coach driver. Ryan attacked Welch with a knife, while on the platform, with the rope around his neck, Adams delivered an incoherent harangue, asserting that he had been unjustly condemned. He said that he had found hope in Christ and wished all present in heaven with him.

A small boy who broke into a gunshop in Lexington, Va., to steal a pistol, is to be publicly flogged "by the proper officer."

Mr. Basil Samolowsky, a member of the Russian Department of Agriculture, has been sent to Travis county, Texas, to study the culture of cotton, and will remain there several months to acquaint himself thoroughly with the cultivation of the staple.

Last June little Mary Cranz, six years old, was accidentally shot by her brother in New Orleans. The charge of bird shot entered her face, putting out both eyes. The wadding entered her right cheek, but her father extracted it. While on the platform, the child has lingered ever since in misery, but death relieved her yesterday.

One Morgan (white) had a dispute with Hays, colored, at Lewisburg, Ga., when Hays, with a large knife, stabbed Morgan, penetrating the sack inclosing the heart, wounding him dangerously, whereupon George Page (white) mail agent on the Southwestern road, shot Hays, inflicting a dangerous wound in his neck. It is thought that both the wounded men will die. Page was arrested and lodged in jail.

Thursday, Jan. 14. The floor of an ice house gave way at Cairo, Ill., yesterday, and a man named Basler was crushed to death by the falling ice.

The Ohio Legislature yesterday passed a law making the breaking into a corn-crib, hen-house, smoke-house, etc., burglary, and punishing by imprisonment in the penitentiary. Kentucky needs such a law.

The Governors of New York, Pennsylvania, Texas and Missouri, yesterday denounced the military usurpation of Louisiana in Louisiana affairs; the Legislature of Pennsylvania passed resolutions condemning it in strong terms, and similar resolutions are pending in the New York Legislature.

Hon. Ferson C. Cheeny was yesterday nominated for Governor by the Republicans of New Hampshire. The convention denounced Grant's military usurpation in Louisiana in very emphatic terms.

The body of Frederick Reutz, who had been murdered the previous night, was found in Chicago this morning, full of stabs and with the head nearly severed from the trunk.

Four men were killed by a snow slide at Big Cottonwood, Utah Ter., yesterday. Three teams and four men broke thro' the ice on the Missouri, at Omaha, yesterday, and were drowned.

Samuel Vail, of Newburg, Mo., committed suicide on Tuesday at Gonzalez, Texas. Whisky and gambling. Quite an excitement was created at Finca, Va., on Saturday last, by an impetuous lover essaying to take summary and sanguinary revenge for having been deserted by his former sweetheart.

Parties belong to the good society of the place, and the affair set all the town agog. It seems that the young man had been engaged to the young lady for some time, but owing to the persistent opposition of her parents, and perhaps other causes, the engagement was recently broken off. This so enraged the lover that he is said to have made dire threats against her if he ever saw her receiving the attentions of any other man. It appears that on Saturday afternoon the young lady accompanied by a male escort, passed a house in which the rejected suitor was seeing them. He went out and started toward the door with a Smith & Wesson's pistol, six barrels of which were discharged, without, however, and fortunately, any of the balls taking effect.

On Thursday morning Mr. Stone, cashier of Worthington, Buckner & Co.'s bank, went to the store of Messrs. Brown & Harbinger at Greenville, Miss., and presented to Mr. Brown a note which had fallen due on a lot purchased by that firm. Mr. Brown refused payment of the note on the ground that the title was not perfect. Stone said to him: "You are no gentleman." He had started toward the door as he made the angry remark, it is said, and Brown reached for an iron poker, as he asked, "Did you say I was no gentleman?" and started toward him. Stone turned and replied: "Yes, I said so," and drawing his pistol, fired. Another statement is that Stone drew his pistol and fired at Brown while he was reaching down for the poker. He is said to be passing directly through the heart, killing him instantly. Immediately after the unfortunate affair Mr. Stone gave himself up to the sheriff, who committed him to jail.

A bloody affair occurred near Gonzalez, Texas, on Sunday last, which resulted in the death of a white man, Mr. Thomas A. Dixon, son of Mr. Priest Dixon, of Lavaca county, and the wounding of Vic. Dixon, a younger brother, about fourteen or fifteen years of age, and ultimately in the death of two negroes by a mob.

Friday, January 15. The Kellogg Legislature (Louisiana) yesterday re-elected the nigger, Finckel, to the office of Governor. Finckel, the murderer of Col. Tim. Fisk, the "Prince of Eric"—made an unsuccessful attempt yesterday to secure a pardon from Governor Fildes.

The trading boat of Jas. L. Meyers, lying at the foot of Walnut Bend, on the Arkansas river, opposite Memphis, was robbed by 30 armed negroes yesterday. Nineteen prisoners escaped from the Memphis jail yesterday.

The British steamer Bride founded at sea and twenty lives were lost. The French Assembly have voted the heirs of the late Emperor Louis Napoleon to be restored to the throne. The capital of Montana has been removed from Virginia City to Helena. The message of the President to Congress on Louisiana affairs is weak, evasive and disingenuous.

son, a young man named Cornelius Battle. He is not yet arrested, the community approving the deed.

Monday, January 18. John Flynn, tried for the murder of Thos. Close at Douthville, Northumberland county, Pa., was convicted of murder in the second degree, Saturday.

McLish, a man, who had apparently been dead for some time, was found in the Ohio river at Carrollton, last Monday. Harry Mallory, colored, killed Dan Cleatham, also colored, by blowing the whole top of his head off with an old army musket at Carrollton, on the night of the 18th inst. The murderer attempted to make his escape, but was soon captured and now lies in jail awaiting that justice which his case merits at the hands of the courts and jury.

The grangers of Madison county have decided to open a store for the benefit of members of the order. In Richmond, a new Democratic paper is to be published at Falmouth, Pendleton county, Col. George Lilly will be editor-in-chief.

Gen. John S. Williams has told the editor of the Carlisle Mercury that he considers Col. J. Stoddard Johnston and Hon. J. Q. A. King, in the Democratic gubernatorial contest.

The County Clerk of Grayson issued marriage license yesterday morning to Samuel C. Burnett, aged eighteen, and Miss Annie Webster, aged twelve years. The editor of the Herald proposes a committee to examine this affair, whether or not it is legal.

A Shelby county man collected a debt of $5 from a negro the other day by means of a five shooter pointed at the debtor's head. The latter afterwards wrote out a check for the creditor, who was held $20 for breach of the peace, and fined over to answer before the Circuit Court for carrying concealed and deadly weapons.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Johnson, of Clay county, Tenn., shot and seriously wounded a prisoner named Gibson, yesterday morning at Waverly, in Warren county. Johnson refused to accompany Johnson, and proceeded to enforce his determination by producing a murderous knife, whereupon Johnson, without delay ventured to stop him by shooting him through the chest.

Mr. J. C. Barnhill, residing near Lagrange, owns a dog that has endeavored to bite his master by his sagacious usefulness. A few days ago while gathering in, it was necessary to cut it, and move it down the creek about twenty yards, where it was loaded upon wagons. The dog, when it saw the wagon, jumped to a piece of the dog then taking hold of the book would draw it to the place of loading. In this manner the dog alone moved twenty wagon loads during the day, and appeared still able and willing for further duty.

There has not been a murder in Clinton county, Mo., since the death of a man named W. C. Hays, in that instance the man was hanged.

On Friday last a serious difficulty occurred between H. Woodward, postmaster at Auburn, Logan county, and Mr. Keys, in which the former was badly cut in the head and neck by the latter. Woodward's wounds were serious if not fatal.

The Paducah News, in referring to the recent extremely cold weather, says: Last night was cold enough to freeze out the tobacco in the chrysalis state. The chrysalis is generally found from three to four inches under ground and is a ground insect, and is a depth of fully twelve inches. This leads us to predict that the tobacco worms will be few during the next season.

Mr. R. R. Simmons, of Nelson county, killed a fine buck last week with a small Smith and Wesson's revolver. The first shot broke the animal's back.

Peter Bell, who died in Covington last week, was Grand Patriarch and Past Grand Representative of the Grand Lodge of the United States L. O. O. F.

The Grangers of a Madison county Lodge recently passed the following resolutions: We, the Grangers, pledge ourselves that we will continue our patronage to such railroads as may make arrangements with our State agents to carry freights at reduced rates, and that it is expected that all true members of our order will do the same, and faithfully adhere to this course in its true spirit.

Wm. Brand, one of the rioters of Lancaster last September, has just been sentenced to three years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. A correspondent of the Danville Advocate, writing of the sentence, says: The verdict of every good man is full of joy to the heart of every good law-abiding citizen, and in their faces shone forth the smile of approval as if to say, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

One light last week the house of Mrs. Murphy, a very old and helpless lady, was set on fire by a coal stove, which she had left burning in the house. Her husband, who was living alone in the house with her daughter. The next day she died from the effects of the fright received. Her murderers got but a dollar and ten cents.

A GENTLEMAN riding along the road one day saw a man busily engaged digging in the corner of a fence. "What are you digging after?" he asked. "A woodchuck," he replied. "What are you going to do with it?" "Eat it—we are out of meat." The nomination of JOHN S. WILLIAMS for Governor would look deucedly like the Democratic party of Kentucky was out of meat and had to fall back on woodchuck.

IF we could purchase General WILLIAMS at his actual value and sell him for what he thinks he is worth, we'd invest not more than a cancelled Confederate postage stamp, realize enough to make every man in Ohio county a present of a wagon-load of twenty dollar gold pieces, and then have enough left to enable us to live like a prince.

FOR the poor privilege of oculating that portion of old "Cerro Gordo's" anatomy that vacates the chair last, a writer in the Paris True Kentuckian designates as "barking curs" those editors who oppose his master's elevation to the office of Governor. All right. Bow-wow-wow!

WHEN the time comes that midges can be palmed off on the people for eagles, "Cerro Gordo" WILLIAMS will be elected Governor of Kentucky.

Monday, January 18. John Flynn, tried for the murder of Thos. Close at Douthville, Northumberland county, Pa., was convicted of murder in the second degree, Saturday.

McLish, a man, who had apparently been dead for some time, was found in the Ohio river at Carrollton, last Monday. Harry Mallory, colored, killed Dan Cleatham, also colored, by blowing the whole top of his head off with an old army musket at Carrollton, on the night of the 18th inst. The murderer attempted to make his escape, but was soon captured and now lies in jail awaiting that justice which his case merits at the hands of the courts and jury.

The grangers of Madison county have decided to open a store for the benefit of members of the order. In Richmond, a new Democratic paper is to be published at Falmouth, Pendleton county, Col. George Lilly will be editor-in-chief.

Gen. John S. Williams has told the editor of the Carlisle Mercury that he considers Col. J. Stoddard Johnston and Hon. J. Q. A. King, in the Democratic gubernatorial contest.

The County Clerk of Grayson issued marriage license yesterday morning to Samuel C. Burnett, aged eighteen, and Miss Annie Webster, aged twelve years. The editor of the Herald proposes a committee to examine this affair, whether or not it is legal.

A Shelby county man collected a debt of $5 from a negro the other day by means of a five shooter pointed at the debtor's head. The latter afterwards wrote out a check for the creditor, who was held $20 for breach of the peace, and fined over to answer before the Circuit Court for carrying concealed and deadly weapons.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Johnson, of Clay county, Tenn., shot and seriously wounded a prisoner named Gibson, yesterday morning at Waverly, in Warren county. Johnson refused to accompany Johnson, and proceeded to enforce his determination by producing a murderous knife, whereupon Johnson, without delay ventured to stop him by shooting him through the chest.

Mr. J. C. Barnhill, residing near Lagrange, owns a dog that has endeavored to bite his master by his sagacious usefulness. A few days ago while gathering in, it was necessary to cut it, and move it down the creek about twenty yards, where it was loaded upon wagons. The dog, when it saw the wagon, jumped to a piece of the dog then taking hold of the book would draw it to the place of loading. In this manner the dog alone moved twenty wagon loads during the day, and appeared still able and willing for further duty.

There has not been a murder in Clinton county, Mo., since the death of a man named W. C. Hays, in that instance the man was hanged.

On Friday last a serious difficulty occurred between H. Woodward, postmaster at Auburn, Logan county, and Mr. Keys, in which the former was badly cut in the head and neck by the latter. Woodward's wounds were serious if not fatal.

The Paducah News, in referring to the recent extremely cold weather, says: Last night was cold enough to freeze out the tobacco in the chrysalis state. The chrysalis is generally found from three to four inches under ground and is a ground insect, and is a depth of fully twelve inches. This leads us to predict that the tobacco worms will be few during the next season.

Mr. R. R. Simmons, of Nelson county, killed a fine buck last week with a small Smith and Wesson's revolver. The first shot broke the animal's back.

Peter Bell, who died in Covington last week, was Grand Patriarch and Past Grand Representative of the Grand Lodge of the United States L. O. O. F.

The Grangers of a Madison county Lodge recently passed the following resolutions: We, the Grangers, pledge ourselves that we will continue our patronage to such railroads as may make arrangements with our State agents to carry freights at reduced rates, and that it is expected that all true members of our order will do the same, and faithfully adhere to this course in its true spirit.

Wm. Brand, one of the rioters of Lancaster last September, has just been sentenced to three years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. A correspondent of the Danville Advocate, writing of the sentence, says: The verdict of every good man is full of joy to the heart of every good law-abiding citizen, and in their faces shone forth the smile of approval as if to say, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

One light last week the house of Mrs. Murphy, a very old and helpless lady, was set on fire by a coal stove, which she had left burning in the house. Her husband, who was living alone in the house with her daughter. The next day she died from the effects of the fright received. Her murderers got but a dollar and ten cents.

A GENTLEMAN riding along the road one day saw a man busily engaged digging in the corner of a fence. "What are you digging after?" he asked. "A woodchuck," he replied. "What are you going to do with it?" "Eat it—we are out of meat." The nomination of JOHN S. WILLIAMS for Governor would look deucedly like the Democratic party of Kentucky was out of meat and had to fall back on woodchuck.

IF we could purchase General WILLIAMS at his actual value and sell him for what he thinks he is worth, we'd invest not more than a cancelled Confederate postage stamp, realize enough to make every man in Ohio county a present of a wagon-load of twenty dollar gold pieces, and then have enough left to enable us to live like a prince.

FOR the poor privilege of oculating that portion of old "Cerro Gordo's" anatomy that vacates the chair last, a writer in the Paris True Kentuckian designates as "barking curs" those editors who oppose his master's elevation to the office of Governor. All right. Bow-wow-wow!

WHEN the time comes that midges can be palmed off on the people for eagles, "Cerro Gordo" WILLIAMS will be elected Governor of Kentucky.

THE PROPER REMEDY. THE intelligence telegraphed over the country yesterday of the new outrage perpetrated upon the sovereignty of another Southern State by the military arm of the government, will tend to exasperate the Southern people, and re-awaken with increased intensity the indignation of the honest and patriotic masses of the North against the extraordinary conduct of the drunken fool at the head of our national affairs.

There is a lesson in all this. SHAKSPERE furnished us the key to it hundreds of years ago when he gave voice to the sentiment that vaulting ambition often o'erleaps itself. GRANT has but two governing passions: First, to retain control of the patronage of the government; second, to get drunk. It was asserted—and on Republican authority—that he was drunk when he approved General SHERIDAN's conduct at New Orleans. That was a most miserable excuse. But the man can't be drunk always. There was more in it than the stubborn folly of a drunken man. There was so much more in it than that, that we exhort our Southern brethren to bridle their just indignation; to permit their liberties, stricken down by this ruthless monster, to lie yet a little while longer bleeding upon the ground. GRANT is but a tool in the hands of men abler, wiser and more reckless than himself—scoundrels who would trade upon the generous and patriotic impulses of the people of the North, and goad the people of the South to that pitch of desperation when reason flees and the brute instinct of self-defense assumes its vacated throne.

The assassination of a creature like SHAKSPERE would be a godsend to them. The firing a volley upon a squad of Federal soldiers would be the very thing they thirst for. Do not gratify them, O ill-used South!

The remedy for such high crimes in the President and his advisers does not consist in a resort to arms. Ours is not an oppressive monarchy to overthrow—we have no despot to chase from a throne. Our organic law affords us all the remedy we desire or need. The South has suffered much and suffered long. She can afford to suffer for another year, and then the PEOPLE will redress her grievances, will right all her wrongs. The ballot-box, and not the bullet and bayonet is the proper remedy. The ballot is noiseless as the falling snow, and falls with as little weight as the thistle-down, but it yields a power mightier than that of any crowned monarch, and effects revolutions that trained armies often fail to accomplish. Let the South abide with patience the intervention of this voiceless, bloodless, avenger, and all will be well with her. Then, indeed, from the garden of her tribulation will spring the flower of joy.

SUPPOSE plain JOHN SMITH had come the bayonet lodge over the Louisiana Legislature instead of PHILIP REIMS DE THORNHARD. The devil would have been to pay, and the Federal government, at this blessed moment, engaged in heating the pitch. Luckily for us all, a romantic name is a shield of ACHILLES that preserves its bearer from the poignards of the sentimental "banditti" of New Orleans.

THE Cincinnati Times is mistaken. No "high-born Southern lady" would be guilty of writing to SHERIDAN. One of the other sort would hesitate before so disgracing herself.

GOD'S TRUTH. That venerable wheel-horse of the temperance cause in this section, Judge LAWTON, has placed us under obligations by furnishing us with the following document. We want every man, woman and child in Ohio county to read it. Especially do we want every man—if any such there be in the county—engaged in the whisky-selling business to read it. Never was the truth more pointedly and forcibly stated. It is the language used to a couple of saloon keepers, convicted of selling whisky to minors, by Judge READING, of Illinois, in passing sentence upon them. He said:

By the law you may sell to men and women, if they will buy. You have given every boy and girl your license to sell to them, and no one has a right to molest you in your legal business. No matter what the consequence may be, no matter what poverty and destitution are produced by telling according to law, you have paid your money for this privilege, and you are licensed to pursue your calling. No matter what families are distracted and rendered miserable, no matter what wives are treated with violence, what children starve or mourn over the degradation of a parent, your business is legalized, and no one may interfere with you in it. No matter what mother may agonize over the loss of a son, or sister blush for the shame of a brother, you have a right to disregard them all and pursue your legal calling; you are licensed. You may fit up your lawful place of business in the most enticing and captivating form; you may furnish it with the most costly and elegant equipments for your lawful trade; you may fill it with all the allurements to amusement; you may use all your arts to induce visitors; you may skillfully arrange and expose to view your choicest wines and most captivating beverages; you may then induce thirsting all contrivances to produce a raging appetite for drink; and then you may supply that appetite to the full, because it is lawful; you have paid for it; you have a license.

You may allow boys, almost children, to frequent your saloon, they may witness the apparent satisfaction with which their seniors quaff the sparkling glass; you may be schooling and training them for the period of twenty-one, when they too may participate for all this lawful. You may hold the glass to their very lips; but you must not let them drink; that is unlawful. But while you have all these privileges for the money which you pay, this poor privilege of selling to children is denied you. Here parents have the right to assert a little claim. Here the student has a right to say, "Leave me alone to me! the law gives you the right to destroy him. Do not anticipate that terrible moment when I can assert for him no further right for his protection. That will be soon enough for me, for his mother, for his sister, for his friends, and for the community, to see him take this road to death. Give him to us in his childhood at least. Let us have a few years of his youth, in which we may enjoy his innocence, to repay us in some small degree for the care and love we have lavished upon him." This is something you who stand a prisoner at the bar have not paid for; this is not embraced in your license.

For this offense the Court sentences you to ten days' imprisonment in the county jail, and that you pay a fine of $75 and costs, and that you stand committed until the fine and costs of this prosecution are paid.

Another Federal Outrage. Vicksburg, Jan. 18.—Major George E. Head with a squad of Federal troops with fixed bayonets, acting (it is stated) under orders from General Grant, ordered the sheriff's office here and forcibly ejected sheriff A. J. Flanagan, who was in possession by virtue of the recent election, about the validity of which there is a constitutional question. His right to the office had not, however, been questioned by any legal proceedings.

The military appear to have acted upon army orders alone. Major Head reported his action to Chancellor Hill, who was holding court in an adjacent room, by whom the action of the military was countenanced and seemingly approved.

Sheriff Flanagan also reported the facts to Chancellor Hill, and appealed to the court to protect him in the discharge of his duties, but was refused. The Chancellor appointed W. H. McGhee sheriff pro tem., and he was placed in possession of the office by the military. McGhee is a prominent citizen, and was deputy under sheriff Craybill.

Chancellor Hill, upon opening court two weeks ago, adjourned it until to-day in order to determine what course he would take in reference to the sheriffship. The members of the bar present protested against the courts allowing and approving any military interference with its officers, as in violation of law and destructive of civil government.

GREAT BARGAINS. To be had during the next 30 days, in DRY GOODS, CLOTHING, BOOTS, SHOES, HATS, CAPS, AND NOTIONS.

We are determined to close out in or to make room for our Spring Stock. I. ROSENBERG & BRO.

All kinds of Country Produce taken in exchange for goods. Jan 18 '75

THE SAINT LOUIS TIMES. Daily, Weekly and Tri-Weekly.

THE LIFEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST DEMOCRATIC PAPER IN THE WEST.

The Largest Weekly Published in the United States.

The Times Company take pleasure in announcing to the people of the Great West that they are now publishing the Largest, Cheapest and Best Democratic Paper, giving all the news, Political, Religious, Scientific, Social and Commercial—one whose editorial columns will be devoted to a fair discussion of the great Political questions in which the whole nation is interested, to the defense of Constitutional Democratic Government, and to wage a relentless war on any and all parties and factions which seek to destroy or pervert it.

The Daily Times Will be issued every day, except Sunday, in a folio form, containing thirty-two columns of the latest news—Foreign and Domestic. A reduction in price has been made in proportion to the reduction in size.

The Sunday Times Will be issued regularly as a Mammoth Double sheet, containing sixty-four columns of News, Literary and select Reading, and will be furnished to all subscribers without extra charge. The circulation of this edition is evidence of its popularity, and no pains will be spared to make it worthy of public confidence and patronage.

The Tri-Weekly Times A four-page sheet, will be mailed to subscribers every Wednesday, Friday and Sunday morning. This edition is designed to supply those who have not the full facilities to obtain the daily issues, and yet desire a paper often than once a week.

The Weekly Times "Mammoth Edition," containing sixty-four columns of the latest and most important news and carefully selected reading matter of all kinds—a paper for the Farmer, the Merchant, the Student, the Politician and the General Reader. At the present rate of circulation of this edition, at the present rate of increase, will not be less than 100,000 copies.

TERMS—POSTAGE PREPAID. Daily, 10 cents; single copy, 80 cents per year. In clubs of five or more $7 50. Sunday Times, single copy, 20 cents per year. In clubs of five or more $1 75. Tri-Weekly Times, $4 00 per year. In clubs of five or more $3 75. Weekly Times, $1 50 per year. In clubs of five or more $1 25.

Ten per cent Commission allowed on above rates to those who will act as agents. Money can be deducted when subscriptions are sent. All money should be sent by Post Office Order, Draft, or Express to the address of THE TIMES COMPANY, St. Louis, Mo.

THE PROPER REMEDY. THE intelligence telegraphed over the country yesterday of the new outrage perpetrated upon the sovereignty of another Southern State by the military arm of the government, will tend to exasperate the Southern people, and re-awaken with increased intensity the indignation of the honest and patriotic masses of the North against the extraordinary conduct of the drunken fool at the head of our national affairs.

There is a lesson in all this. SHAKSPERE furnished us the key to it hundreds of years ago when he gave voice to the sentiment that vaulting ambition often o'erleaps itself. GRANT has but two governing passions: First, to retain control of the patronage of the government; second, to get drunk. It was asserted—and on Republican authority—that he was drunk when he approved General SHERIDAN's conduct at New Orleans. That was a most miserable excuse. But the man can't be drunk always. There was more in it than the stubborn folly of a drunken man. There was so much more in it than that, that we exhort our Southern brethren to bridle their just indignation; to permit their liberties, stricken down by this ruthless monster, to lie yet a little while longer bleeding upon the ground. GRANT is but a tool in the hands of men abler, wiser and more reckless than himself—scoundrels who would trade upon the generous and patriotic impulses of the people of the North, and goad the people of the South to that pitch of desperation when reason flees and the brute instinct of self-defense assumes its vacated throne.

The assassination of a creature like SHAKSPERE would be a godsend to them. The firing a volley upon a squad of Federal soldiers would be the very thing they thirst for. Do not gratify them, O ill-used South!

The remedy for such high crimes in the President and his advisers does not consist in a resort to arms. Ours is not an oppressive monarchy to overthrow—we have no despot to chase from a throne. Our organic law affords us all the remedy we desire or need. The South has suffered much and suffered long. She can afford to suffer for another year, and then the PEOPLE will redress her grievances, will right all her wrongs. The ballot-box, and not the bullet and bayonet is the proper remedy. The ballot is noiseless as the falling snow, and falls with as little weight as the thistle-down, but it yields a power mightier than that of any crowned monarch, and effects revolutions that trained armies often fail to accomplish. Let the South abide with patience the intervention of this voiceless, bloodless, avenger, and all will be well with her. Then, indeed, from the garden of her tribulation will spring the flower of joy.

SUPPOSE plain JOHN SMITH had come the bayonet lodge over the Louisiana Legislature instead of PHILIP REIMS DE THORNHARD. The devil would have been to pay, and the Federal government, at this blessed moment, engaged in heating the pitch. Luckily for us all, a romantic name is a shield of ACHILLES that preserves its bearer from the poignards of the sentimental "banditti" of New Orleans.

THE Cincinnati Times is mistaken. No "high-born Southern lady" would be guilty of writing to SHERIDAN. One of the other sort would hesitate before so disgracing herself.

GOD'S TRUTH. That venerable wheel-horse of the temperance cause in this section, Judge LAWTON, has placed us under obligations by furnishing us with the following document. We want every man, woman and child in Ohio county to read it. Especially do we want every man—if any such there be in the county—engaged in the whisky-selling business to read it. Never was the truth more pointedly and forcibly stated. It is the language used to a couple of saloon keepers, convicted of selling whisky to minors, by Judge READING, of Illinois, in passing sentence upon them. He said:

By the law you may sell to men and women, if they will buy. You have given every boy and girl your license to sell to them, and no one has a right to molest you in your legal business. No matter what the consequence may be, no matter what poverty and destitution are produced by telling according to law, you have paid your money for this privilege, and you are licensed to pursue your calling. No matter what families are distracted and rendered miserable, no matter what wives are treated with violence, what children starve or mourn over the degradation of a parent, your business is legalized, and no one may interfere with you in it. No matter what mother may agonize over the loss of a son, or sister blush for the shame of a brother, you have a right to disregard them all and pursue your legal calling; you are licensed. You may fit up your lawful place of business in the most enticing and captivating form; you may furnish it with the most costly and elegant equipments for your lawful trade; you may fill it with all the allurements to amusement; you may use all your arts to induce visitors; you may skillfully arrange and expose to view your choicest wines and most captivating beverages; you may then induce thirsting all contrivances to produce a raging appetite for drink; and then you may supply that appetite to the full, because it is lawful; you have paid for it; you have a license.

You may allow boys, almost children, to frequent your saloon, they may witness the apparent satisfaction with which their seniors quaff the sparkling glass; you may be schooling and training them for the period of twenty-one, when they too may participate for all this lawful. You may hold the glass to their very lips; but you must not let them drink; that is unlawful. But while you have all these privileges for the money which you pay, this poor privilege of selling to children is denied you. Here parents have the right to assert a little claim. Here the student has a right to say, "Leave me alone to me! the law gives you the right to destroy him. Do not anticipate that terrible moment when I can assert for him no further right for his protection. That will be soon enough for me, for his mother, for his sister, for his friends, and for the community, to see him take this road to death. Give him to us in his childhood at least. Let us have a few years of his youth, in which we may enjoy his innocence, to repay us in some small degree for the care and love we have lavished upon him." This is something you who stand a prisoner at the bar have not paid for; this is not embraced in your license.

For this offense the Court sentences you to ten days' imprisonment in the county jail, and that you pay a fine of $75 and costs, and that you stand committed until the fine and costs of this prosecution are paid.

Another Federal Outrage. Vicksburg, Jan. 18.—Major George E. Head with a squad of Federal troops with fixed bayonets, acting (it is stated) under orders from General Grant, ordered the sheriff's office here and forcibly ejected sheriff A. J. Flanagan, who was in possession by virtue of the recent election, about the validity of which there is a constitutional question. His right to the office had not, however, been questioned by any legal proceedings.

The military appear to have acted upon army orders alone. Major Head reported his action to Chancellor Hill, who was holding court in an adjacent room, by whom the action of the military was countenanced and seemingly approved.

Sheriff Flanagan also reported the facts to Chancellor Hill, and appealed to the court to protect him in the discharge of his duties, but was refused. The Chancellor appointed W. H. McGhee sheriff pro tem., and he was placed in possession of the office by the military. McGhee is a prominent citizen, and was deputy under sheriff Craybill.

Chancellor Hill, upon opening court two weeks ago, adjourned it until to-day in order to determine what course he would take in reference to the sheriffship. The members of the bar present protested against the courts allowing and approving any military interference with its officers, as in violation of law and destructive of civil government.

GREAT BARGAINS. To be had during the next 30 days, in DRY GOODS, CLOTHING, BOOTS, SHOES, HATS, CAPS, AND NOTIONS.

We are determined to close out in or to make room for our Spring Stock. I. ROSENBERG & BRO.

All kinds of Country Produce taken in exchange for goods. Jan 18 '75

THE SAINT LOUIS TIMES. Daily, Weekly and Tri-Weekly.

THE LIFEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST DEMOCRATIC PAPER IN THE WEST.

The Largest Weekly Published in the United States.

The Times Company take pleasure in announcing to the people of the Great West that they are now publishing the Largest, Cheapest and Best Democratic Paper, giving all the news, Political, Religious, Scientific, Social and Commercial—one whose editorial columns will be devoted to a fair discussion of the great Political questions in which the whole nation is interested, to the defense of Constitutional Democratic Government, and to wage a relentless war on any and all parties and factions which seek to destroy or pervert it.