

HISTORY OF THE GREEK CHURCH

Going Back Nearly Nine Hundred Years.

"PROCESSION OF HOLY SPIRIT"

And Discussion of It Caused Thousands of Deaths in Early Centuries.

GREAT RELIGIOUS UPHEAVAL

Eight hundred and fifty-eight years ago—March 19, 1054—the Legates of Pope Leo IX. laid on the altar of St. Sophia, at Constantinople, the sentence of ex-communication against the Patriarch Caerularius, which split Christendom in twain and resulted in the permanent establishment of the Greek Church.

The trouble which culminated at the altar of St. Sophia had been brewing for centuries. It began away back in the fifth century in the organic differences between the Greek and Latin intellects. The Greek was by nature a disputant, while the Latin, less inclined to mental insurgency, was practical, and by natural bias, a believer in authority and discipline.

At an early date the church doctors began discussing the question of the "Procession of the Holy Spirit," and in the course of the arguments pro and con the hottest passion was engendered and innumerable feuds resulted. In settling the matter of the "Filioque" thousands of people were killed. For 500 years, indeed, the battle raged between those who maintained that the "Holy Spirit proceeded from the Father alone," and the others, who as stoutly held that the "Holy Spirit proceeded from the Father and the Son." The Western, or Roman Church, held the latter view, the Eastern, or Greek Church, the former.

Harmony appeared to be out of the question; there were separations and reunions, quarrels and armistices, until finally the great schism of 1054 came, which resulted in the split between the Eastern and Western wings of the Church, a split that has already lasted for almost a thousand years, and that shows no particular signs of being bridged over in the future.

The Greeks "converted" the Russians, and as Russia grew she naturally became the patron and political support of the Greek Church. In the meantime the Turks captured Constantinople and ended the Eastern Empire, but one by one the little principalities on the northern borders of Turkey broke away from her and gradually became independent; so, along with Russia and Greece there are now Bulgaria, Servia, Roumania, etc., whose people are largely of the faith of the Greek Church.

In the Greek Church, communicants receive both the bread and the wine; the bishops must be unmarried, and priests are not permitted to marry a second time. The liturgy and the service generally are either in the ancient Greek or old Slavonic.

The membership of the Greek Church is, in round numbers, 100,000,000—$7,000,000 in Russia and 13,000,000 in Greece, Roumania, Servia, Bulgaria and the Ottoman empire.—[Rev. Thomas B. Gregory in Chicago Examiner.]

Escapes An Awful Fate.

A thousand tongues could not express the gratitude of Mrs. J. E. Cox, of Joliet, Ill., for her wonderful deliverance from an awful fate. "Typhoid pneumonia had left me with a dreadful cough," she writes. "Sometimes I had such awful coughing spells I thought I would die. I could get no help from doctor's treatment or other medicines till I used Dr. King's New Discovery. But I owe my life to this wonderful remedy for I scarcely cough at all now." Quick and safe, it's the most reliable of all throat and lung medicines. Every bottle guaranteed. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at J. H. Williams. m

The May Woman's Home Companion.

The May Woman's Home Companion contains a most interesting account of the recent dramatization and staging of Lotis M. Alcott's "Little Women." It is quite a remarkable story—how Miss Alcott's heirs have objected for years to putting the story on the stage, but how at last they have consented. Among the other articles in the number are the following: "Seeing Europe on $3.50 a Day," "A Mother's Account of the Effect of the Boy Scout Movement on Her son,"

"Women Writers as Humorists," "How to Attract Birds" and the first of a new series on the American Girl, by J. Nilsen Laurvik.

On the fiction side, the leading contributions are from Kathleen Norris, Susan Glaspell, Annie Hamilton Donnell and Mary Heaton Vorse.

In the practical dressmaking, housekeeping and entertainment departments appear many interesting contributions, among which are articles on "Sensible Shoes," "The Healthy Baby," "The Practical Kitchen," "How to Make a Sun Dial," "How to Make a Summer Shack," "The Appetizing Beefsteak" and "A Dozen Good Desserts."

Great Weekly at a Low Price.

The Cincinnati Weekly Enquirer, a twelve-page paper recently transformed into the size and appearance of a daily, will be furnished in connection with the Hartford Herald at only $1.35 for the two papers. This price stands good on renewals for The Herald. The Weekly Enquirer is an ideal newspaper, containing a big variety of reading and is especially suited to the farming classes. It is Democratic and progressive. This is certainly a low price for a lot of good reading. If

The May American Magazine.

Probably the most important article in the May American Magazine is a complete and dispassionate account of the great strike at Lawrence written by Ray Stannard Baker. Another important contribution is a statement of the relations between Taft and Roosevelt contributed by William Allen White, under the title, "Should Old Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" Other articles are: "Freak Plays That Have Decided Baseball Championships," by Hugh S. Fullerton; "The New Stagecraft," by Walter Pritchard Eaton; "La Follette's Autobiography," and "The Irresponsible Woman and the Friendless Child," by Ida M. Tarbell.

Notable among the pieces of short fiction in the number are: "Bringing the Years," by Kathleen Norris, author of "Mother;" "His Upward Step," by Marion Hill, and "The Man Who Knew Life," by Philip Curtiss.

In the "Interesting People" department there are two unusual short articles, one about N. C. Hanks, a sightless, armless lecturer who made a great success in the world after one of the most horrible catastrophes that ever happened to a man. There is also an account of James A. Durkin, the most famous office boy in the world. In the office of a great Chicago daily he has been for years the universal encyclopedia, directory and autocor. The story of Jimmy Durkin is good, amusing reading.

The Demons of the Swamp

Are mosquitoes. As they sting, they put deadly malaria germs in the blood. Then follow the icy chills and the fires of fever. The appetite flies and the strength falls; also malaria often paves the way for deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters kill and cast out the malaria germs from the blood; give you a fine appetite and renew your strength. "After long suffering," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "three bottles drove all the malaria from my system, and I've had good health ever since." Best for all stomach, liver and kidney ills. 50c at James H. Williams. m

CHARGES COLONEL WITH DISPENSING MUCH CASH

Taft's Campaign Manager Says Roosevelt Men Are Lavish With Coin.

Washington, April 25.—Director McKinley, of the National Taft Bureau, to-day issued a statement calling attention to the alleged use of money in the Roosevelt campaign.

"The lavish expenditure of money in this campaign by the backers of former President Theodore Roosevelt," says the statement, "has led to the question being raised: Were the victories of Roosevelt in Pennsylvania and Oklahoma due to a 'great popular demand' for his renomination or to the use of money?"

Further along Mr. McKinley says:

"In no pre-convention campaign in the history of the country has money been used in such large sums, amounting, in view of the general verdict of the country with respect to certain expenditures by Senators of the United States, to plain bribery and corruption, as has been expended by the backers of Theodore Roosevelt."

Mr. McKinley declares the Roosevelt forces spent large sums in Oklahoma; that they distributed $100,000 in Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, including Pittsburgh, by issuing 20,000 pieces of "script" in $5 denomination to "messengers;" that the total Roosevelt expenditures in Pennsylvania were between $250,000 and $500,000; that in New York county alone $200,000 was spent in an endeavor to influence the primaries, and that efforts were made to "buy out" precinct captains in New York.

"In this connection," says the McKinley statement, "one district captain in New York did sell out to the Roosevelt managers, plainly showing that Mr. Roosevelt was not the candidate in answer to a great popular demand," but the beneficiary of a bag of good hard dollars."

UNSUNG HEROES ALSO DESERVE GREAT PRAISE

Washington, April 26.—"The real heroes of the Titanic went down to depths unsung and their bravery unheralded, and the millionaires are getting credit for such a large share of courage that nobody has been paying attention to 'poor devils,'" said Representative Victor L. Berger, the Wisconsin Socialist, to-day.

"Every year we kill thousands to save money and pay dividends," said Berger. "The Titanic horror is only one instance. There are now plenty of bills pending in Congress to safeguard travel, just because the millionaires sank with the boat."

Berger said that while he did not wish to belittle the heroism of the rich, that we must not lose sight of the real heroes, who were the working people who stuck to their post of duty.

TOO POOR TO TAKE OUT NATURALIZATION PAPERS

Ray Stannard Baker, writing a report of the Lawrence strike in the May American Magazine, shows how poverty among the mill workers of New England is at such a stage that many foreigners who are eligible to vote and would like to vote if they could afford it, are unable to because of the expense of taking out naturalization papers. One very intelligent Pole whom Mr. Baker asked why he did not become a voter replied very simply, "It costs four dollars to take out papers, and I have never seen the time when I could spare so much money." As a matter of fact, only three in ten of the males eligible for citizenship in Lawrence have taken out their naturalization papers. Mr. Baker goes on: "The result of this condition has been that Lawrence has for years been governed by saloon-keepers, dive-owners and petty grafters. No sooner does a foreigner become a voter than he learns that voting is to be paid for—if not in money, then in beer and cigars. A fine lesson for prospective citizens in American civic institutions!"

A Companionable Magazine.

The May issue of Lippincott's Magazine is both refreshing and invigorating, well suited to the season of reviving energies. The complete novel (salient feature) is "Their Great Inheritance," a delightful story of Pennsylvania-German life, by Elsie Singmaster, who has already made a name for herself along these lines with her clever short stories.

Another important contribution is the first of a series of three hard-hitting articles by Hubert Bruce Fuller, on "How Congress Squanders Our Money."

Among the short sections are Newman Flower's "The Little Band in the Pines," a war story; Norma Bright Carson's "From the Land of the Unborn," a sketch suggested by Maeterlinck's "The Blue Bird;" George Allan England's "Primavera," dealing with the spring of the year, and of life; Matthew Baird's "The Bloomsbury Trip," with its lesson for bridge-players; Daisy Vanderbilt's "The Unexpected Express Package;" Richard J. Walsh's "Two Halves of a Check;" Eugene Boylan's "The Black Sheep's Fold;" and Thomas L. Masson's "A Christian Spirit."

"A Little Tragedy" is a rather remarkable sketch by Margaret Louise London.

"Walnuts and Wine," the humor department, is full of clever things by both known and unknown humorists. "Twentieth Century Travel," devoted to automobiling, is conducted by Churchill Williams.

The Conscience-Stricken Stockholder.

In the May American Magazine, Ray Stannard Baker, writing a report of the Lawrence strike, shows how the mill workers live in poverty, and how the stockholders, none of whom lives in Lawrence where he can see how his money is made, have derived exorbitant profits. During the strike one stockholder in the mills visited Lawrence and saw what was going on. So conscience-stricken was he by conditions as he saw them at first that he contributed secretly to the strike fund.
