DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President—Woodrow Wilson. For Vice Pres't.—T. R. Marshall. For Congress—Hon. Ben Johnson.

In his address before the Daughters of the American Revolution, early in May, President Wilson first enunciated the slogan "America First." It was adopted by Col. Roosevelt a week later and by Mr. Hughes about a month later.

Progressives throughout Kentucky and the Nation are rising up in their indignation and protesting against the plan of Col. Roosevelt and his few followers to pick them up body, soul and britches, and throw them over into the Republican party.

It is said that the picture of Candidate Charles E. Hughes will be filmed and shown on the screen in thousands of motion picture houses in this country during the Presidential campaign.

In these days of heightened prosperity a money panic is seldom thought of, but nevertheless there have been occurrences of the past in a very pronounced form.

Never before in the history of this country has so much been accomplished in so short a length of time as has been done by the present national administration.

In our write-up of the Kentucky Press Association meeting at Ashland last week we omitted a very important statement in that the press folks would probably not have had the opportunity to visit Ashland had it not been for the repeated and persistent invitations of Miss Margaret Anne Poage.

The eyes of the Nation are on Kentucky this year. The Democrats of other States are expecting us to give Wilson and Marshall a rousing majority.

and for the Progressive Electors 162,766, making a total of 218,278, or only 1,306 less than the Democratic vote.

At almost every meeting of the Kentucky Press Association it is evident that a considerable number of Kentucky newspaper men do not attend its sessions regularly nor are their papers included in the membership of the Association.

Concerning the killing of Town Marshal Keach at Dawson Springs, an account of which appears on the 6th page of The Herald to-day, the Dawson Tribune says:

This is just another dark chapter, many times written in the history of communities where blind tigers and other lawbreakers are allowed to get a foothold.

EXPLAINS ROOSEVELT'S TERM "WEASEL WORDS"

Editors Herald, Hartford, Ky., Sirs:—Referring to a recent use in your paper of the term "weasel words", which Col. Roosevelt brought into general notice in his speech last May, in St. Louis, I would call your attention to the origin of the words, sixteen years ago.

In the June, 1900, number of the Century Magazine, page 304, there appeared a story entitled "The Stained-Glass Political Platform," by Stewart Chaplin.

"And like most platforms," continued St. John, "it contains plenty of what I call weasel words."

"I know them well," said Gamage, "and mighty useful they are, too. Although the old gentleman couldn't write much of a platform, he's an expert on weaseling."

PUTS TRUST IN OPINION OF MEN IN THE STREET

You get a good deal more light on the street than you do in the closet. You get a good deal more light by keeping your ears open among the rank and file of your fellow citizens than you do in any private conference whatever.

TEDDY DENOUNCED BY A PROGRESSIVE CHIEF

Party "Trussed and Sold," Says County Chairman O'Connell, of New York.

John J. O'Connell, chairman of the New York county committee of the Progressives, which is the largest organization of that party in the United States, has raised the standard of revolt against Col. Roosevelt and the other leaders who are attempting to deliver the party to the Republicans.

Writing in the World, under the date named, Mr. O'Connell says: "If the voters will take the trouble to examine the record they will find that Mr. Wilson has to his credit in the four years of his administration pretty nearly as much progressive legislation as was enacted in the eleven years of the Roosevelt and Taft administrations."

Mr. O'Connell denounces the Progressive platform, which, he says, "was made deliberately to take away the unanswerable argument we have always been able to oppose to every suggestion of amalgamation with the Republicans made since 1912."

He says boldly there is no doubt in his mind that "the Progressive party was trussed and sold from the time of the Gary dinner last year."
