

Democratic State Ticket.

For Secretary of State, NORMAN EDDY, of St. Joseph. For Auditor of State, JOHN C. SHODMARKER, of Perry. For Treasurer of State, JAMES B. RYAN, of Marion. For Attorney General, RAYLESS W. HANNA, of Vigo. For Superintendent of Public Instruction, MILTON B. HOPKINS, of Montgomery. For Judges of Supreme Court, JAMES L. WARDEN, of Allen; ALEXANDER C. DOWNEY, of Ohio; SAMUEL H. BUSKIRK, of Monroe; JOHN PETTIT, of Tippecanoe.

A Proposition to Democrats.

Feeling the importance of an extended circulation of Democratic home papers during the campaign now pending, we propose to furnish THE DEMOCRAT from MAY 5, 1870, to JANUARY 1, 1871, (EIGHT MONTHS) for ONE DOLLAR IN ADVANCE.

At this rate no name can be entered upon our books unless accompanied by the cash. We have made this proposition very liberal at the solicitation of members of the Central Committee and other prominent Democrats, and expect the hearty cooperation of all friends.

The Democratic Party and its Prospects.

Never before, in the history of political parties, was there more unanimity and hearty good feeling in the ranks of a political party, than now exists among the Democrats of Indiana. From all parts of the state come up the welcome news of harmonious, earnest work being done in behalf of the principles and policies of that time-honored party, whose glorious achievements in the past had fair to be eclipsed by the still brighter future which is in store for it.

Meeting of the Democratic Central Committee.

The Democratic central committee of Marshall county met at the office of D. E. Van Valkenburgh, on Tuesday, March 29, and was organized by the election of Horace Corbin, chairman, M. W. Downey, treasurer, and D. McDonald, secretary. Regulations for the government of the committee were adopted.

An executive committee, on motion of Mr. Cushman, was appointed, consisting of the chairman, treasurer, secretary, J. C. Cushman and D. E. Van Valkenburgh. On motion of Mr. Cushman, a county convention for the purpose of nominating county officers, was called to meet on Saturday, June 18th, 1870.

On motion of Mr. Cushman, each township shall be allowed one delegate vote in the county convention for every 20 votes cast for Hon. T. A. Hendricks for governor at the October election in 1868, and one vote for every fraction over 10 votes, as follows: Townships. Votes in '68. No. Delegates Center.....689 24 Bourbon.....201 15 German.....257 12 Walnut.....224 11 Tully.....194 10 West.....183 9 North.....174 8 Union.....168 8 Tippecanoe.....119 6 Green.....117 6 Total.....2365 120

On motion of D. McDonald, the townships were requested to hold conventions and appoint delegates to the county convention on Saturday, June 11. On motion the committee adjourned. H. CORBIN, Chairman. D. McDONALD, Secretary.

The late speech of Morgan on salt and New England proves two things, to-wit: The New England fish-packer can buy 8,000,000 bushels of salt for $9,000; while the same quantity bought at the same place, will cost the western packer $23,000. Massachusetts furnished 197 regiments less for the war than New York; and yet has drawn from the federal treasury $1,000,000 more than New York for its expenses in raising and equipping troops.

Who will deny that this country is run in the interests of New England. The newspapers of the ruling party, from which he expected plaudits, have spoken in such honest and indignant terms of the atrocity that he finds himself now presented to the people as a man who deliberately planned and ordered the perpetration of a massacre as cruel and detestable, in every respect, as any that ever blackened the history of civilization.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.

English, Democrat. Elected Governor by About 1,000 majority.

The election in Connecticut, last Monday, resulted in the complete triumph of the Democracy, by a majority of at least 1,000! Grant's majority was over 3,000, and the Republican majority one year ago was near 500. Considering the efforts that were made by the radicals to carry the state, it being the first state to vote since the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment, the victory is one of which the Democracy of that state may be proud.

The Call for Convention.

We publish this week a call from the Democratic central committee of Marshall county, for a county convention to be held the 18th of June, and heartily endorse this action of the committee. The convention will be what is termed an early one, and is somewhat ahead of most of our neighbors, but we think it is none too early.

A most important campaign is at hand, and the sooner we gird on our armor the better we are prepared for the fight. We must have leaders, and who so fit as the standard-bearers chosen by a full convention of the people? Besides early conventions tend to allay disaffection and give time for disappointed candidates to recover their equanimity, if perchance it may be lost in the heat of the contest.

The Democratic party of Marshall county is not dead, nor yet does it sleep, but is living, wakeful, vigorous and will be successful, and now the first gun is fired there will be no cessation of hostilities until the last ballot is counted next fall and the number of our majority is announced.

FROM THE FAR WEST.

An Interesting Letter from Nevada.

ASTON, NEVADA, March 30, 1870.

DEAR DEMOCRAT: In the jottings of our trip which we sent you some time ago we had progressed as far as Corinne, U. T. On the 12th of December we again packed our valises, bid farewell to some whom we hope to meet again, and resumed our westward journey.

Traveling by rail is not the best method of obtaining a correct idea of a country, it being the first state to vote since the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment, the victory is one of which the Democracy of that state may be proud.

We publish this week a call from the Democratic central committee of Marshall county, for a county convention to be held the 18th of June, and heartily endorse this action of the committee. secretary of War to station the troops of the United States immediately preceding any election herein provided for, at convenient points adjacent to the principal polling places of the several congressional districts, and in the principal cities a commanding force of such troops shall be encamped in the parks or other suitable places of such cities, at and preceding any election as aforesaid.

Sec. 6. All questions in regard to the regularity and fairness of the elections of members of congress, shall be referred to the secretary of the Interior or to the house of representatives, who shall have exclusive jurisdiction thereof, and in like manner all questions relating to the election of electors for president, who shall appoint a committee of not less than three suitable persons, to examine and decide all such questions, and whose decisions shall be final and conclusive.

Sec. 7. This subject shall go into effect when congress shall, by resolution, only declare that three-fourths of the states have ratified the proposed fifteenth amendment, and have decreed that the constitution is amended accordingly.

Views of a Radical Ex-Army Officer.

"A Federal Officer" during the late Rebellion, writes to the Terre Haute Radical that he can no longer support the Radical party, which has violated every pledge given to the country with reference to the emancipation and enfranchisement of the negro. He says: "The first violation of the promise, that we as a party made, was the emancipation of the slaves in the District of Columbia, and close upon the heels of this came the proclamation of President Lincoln, emancipating the slaves in many sections of the United States. We then, as a party, said we would not stand any further meddling with the negro. Here we halted, or I and many others did, that the thing would be at an end. But disappointment soon overtook my sad hearts. We had to unite with the black race in fighting our own race, and, in many instances, our own relatives. This, we were told, was a military necessity, and that without the aid of the negro we would not be able to suppress the rebellion. Here it was confidently expected the negro trouble would end. But alas! he soon was made a citizen, and became our equal, to all intents socially. This need not now be denied. It is patent to the dullest intellects of the Anglo-Saxon race. But still the Republicans were not satisfied to stop here. The negro must be enfranchised, and I and every other white man, whether he was engaged to suppress the rebellion or not, must be placed on perfect equality with Sancho, or some few degrees lower, where he has the numerical strength. Now, sir, after all the dodges the party has made, and all the denials as to their intention, to bring about the result we now have, when there is no room to misinterpret their intentions, I call on all true lovers of their country to abandon at once and forever all connection with a party made up of such a lying element as that which composes the leading spirits of the Republican party."

Thirteen hundred merchants and manufacturers in the city of Pittsburg assert from their observation and knowledge of the working of the income tax law during the last three years, that its tendency is to sap the foundation of public morals, and to weaken the respect of the people for the necessary and salutary provisions of the revenue system; that it is unequal, odious, and inequitable; that its features are repugnant to the interests of the people, and ought to be tolerated only as a last resort in time of war.

It is possible to doubt that the unanimous conclusion of thirteen hundred intelligent, practical merchants and manufacturers is more important, more likely to be correct, and ought to carry more weight in the minds of congressmen, than the opinion of one solitary individual in Mr. Grant's cabinet, of whom even political friends and admirers say he is "a better politician than financier," one who "takes rank among business men as a person of defective education, without any particularly broad and comprehensive policy, and indeed with that kind of desultory knowledge sometimes called 'smattering' of financial knowledge, adheres to his demand for the continuance of this immoral, unequal, odious, and inequitable impost, with a persistent obstinacy only worthy of the man with a cigar in his mouth; and congress listens to this 'person of defective education' rather than to the earnest remonstrances that daily arrive in Washington from thousands of the most intelligent and practical business men of the country.—Chicago Times.

Still They Come.

Mr. George W. Allison, of Columbia, recently the conductor of a Republican sheet, is going to establish a Democratic paper in Nashville, Brown county, Ind. Mr. Allison finds it inconsistent with honor and patriotism to continue the advocacy of radicalism. Negro suffrage and equality was too nasty a dose for him to swallow. Let the example be emulated by all who claim the welfare of their country higher than his rashness to lead and corrupt party. Rally round the flag, boys!—Liquor Banner.
