WAS PEACE JUBILEE DAY

Interesting Parade of Handsome Floats the Chief Feature of the Day.

ENCAMPMENT IN BUSINESS SESSION.

Gov. Bushnell Delivers an Address of Welcome—Important Matters to Be Considered—Confederate Veterans Likely to Be Invited to Meet with the G. A. R. Next Year.

Cincinnati, Sept. 8.—The business of the thirty-second annual encampment of the grand army and its auxiliaries began Thursday after three days of preliminary demonstrations.

The business sessions were, however, interrupted by a parade of civic and industrial organizations in the afternoon after the labor, naval and grand army parades on the three preceding days. This parade included the floats of all lines of manufacturers and dealers and was the most entertaining of all the demonstrations. It was in celebration of peace, a jubilee day. Over 100 concerns were represented in line, with decorated wagons, bodies of employes, some mounted and all in gay uniforms, while 50 secret, military, political and other bodies were represented by over 10,000 men as escorts to the peace floats. Some of the floats were drawn by a dozen horses, most of them by four horses, one by 20 bays and all afforded amusement as well as attracted attention along the whole line of march. This demonstration was followed by high carnival all over the city, as well as at the summer resorts.

The Business Session.

There were about 1,200 national delegates present when the encampment proper was called to order at Music hall at ten a. m., with Charles Wentzel as officer of the day. The welcome address was delivered by Gov. Bushnell, of Ohio, with a supplemental welcome address by Mayor Gustav Tufel, of Cincinnati, and by H. E. Ingalls, chairman of the citizens' committee and president of the Big Four and Chesapeake & Ohio railways. There was excellent music for the opening session and the hall was elaborately decorated. In his response Commander in Chief J. P. S. Gobin referred most eloquently to the attractions of the week and the lavish entertainment of the citizens of Cincinnati.

Gen. Gobin wore the fine gold watch and chain that had been presented to him at the camp fire Wednesday night by his old comrades of the Forty-seventh Pennsylvania regiment, and on the assembling of the encampment he was presented with a fine gavel made of historic timber.

The encampment will have much work in considering the proposed revision of the ritual and also in considering propositions for amalgamation. It is believed that the proposition to make those who participated in the Hispano-American war eligible will not prevail, as the latter-day soldiers will want a separate organization. There is more sentiment in favor of uniting those who fought on different sides in the same war, and a resolution will be offered inviting the confederate veterans to meet with the G. A. R. next year. The Missouri delegation will likely present the resolution, as that state was about equally divided during the civil war. If no joint encampment is arranged, it is proposed to have fraternal delegates sent from one encampment to the other.

The national encampment of the Woman's Relief Corps opened at the Scottish Rite cathedral with an address by Miss Law, while the ladies of the G. A. R. resumed their sessions at Odd Fellows temple. The efforts to unite these two orders have not been successful so far.

Alger Demonstration.

When the annual reports were being read, especially Gobin's, there was considerable cheering at the mention of President McKinley's name, but when the name of Secretary Alger was mentioned in connection with the recent war there was an uproarious demonstration in his favor. After the reports had been referred to their respective committees many resolutions were offered, specifically indorsing the administration of Gen. Alger in the war department. The temper of the encampment, as shown, indicates that the resolutions will indorse the management of the recent war. A resolution was introduced to have the school histories use the term of "the war between the states," instead of "the war of the rebellion." It was quite likely that resolutions will be adopted providing for the use of the term of "war for the preservation of the union." There will also be an effort made to secure representation for the colored men in the national encampment.

While plastering in Dow City last Wednesday, Wm. Wiggins met with quite an accident. It seems while he was plastering the ceiling some of the mortar fell into his eyes and the sand and lime injured them quite severely.

FOR A NEW BREWERY

Supervisor's Allow Smutney's Petition for One at Vail.

WAGNER PROPERTY SOLD

C. J. Bock Appointed on Soldier's Relief Committee—Sheriff and Deputy to Collect Delinquent Taxes.

The board of supervisors has been in session all this week and have transacted much important business, besides allowing the current bills.

Mr. A. Smutney, of Vail, presented a petition signed by over 3000 people asking a permit for the establishment of a brewery at Vail. The board granted the petition but it was ascertained that the property was outside the incorporate limits and it was decided that the law did not permit a brewery outside a corporation. It is said an effort will be made to have the corporation limits of Vail extended so as to include the brewery property.

The resignation of Mr. Isaac Gillmor as a member of the soldiers relief commission was accepted and Mr. C. J. Bock, of West Side, was appointed to fill the vacancy. Mr. Gillmor resigned on account of ill health.

Sheriff Bell and Deputy Cummings were appointed delinquent tax collectors and it is the purpose of the officials to go after the delinquents with no easy hand.

On Wednesday, while Chairman Jepsen was in Marshalltown, the remainder of the board drove to Vail where the Wagner property was auctioned off to the highest bidder. Supervisor Langley acted as auctioneer and the property was knocked down to Ex-Supervisor J. W. Maynard for an even thousand dollars. The county loses between $400 and $500 on the transaction. The property came into the county's possession through a school loan made many years ago and the county was forced to buy the property to protect its interests.

On Thursday the board listened to arguments on the well known Paradise township road case. Mr. Fred Eggers appeared before the board and made an argument which it is said would have done credit to an old attorney.

The Tax Levy.

The tax levy for the year following has been fixed in so far as the state and county taxes are concerned. The amount of municipal and township taxes will be published later. The following are the amounts levied for the different funds:

FUNDS	MILLS
State	3.2
University	1
County	4
School	1
Bridge	3
County Road	1
Insane	5
Poor	1.5
Soldiers Relief	3
Total	14.6

Tax on Male Dogs $ 50
Tax on Female Dogs 2 00
Poll Tax 50

Paint The Poor House.

The board has concluded that the buildings on the poor farm need a new coat of paint and the contract for the labor has been let to August Odeley for the sum of seventy dollars. Langley and Hink were a committee to purchase the necessary materials.

THE COUNTY FAIR.

The people of Denison and Crawford county are so used to throwing cold water on the county fair that they are apt to let a good thing go by unattended. The fair management has issued a small premium list but has made the premiums large enough to make it an object to the farmers to bring in their grain and other produce. The management buys all the grain at market price there is no entry fee and the man who has the best corn or wheat or oats, pockets his five dollars without expense. The races promise to be extra good, the dates being so arranged that the horses in the Missouri Valley circuit will all be here.

In addition to these attractions the management has secured the noted Talbot combination and their exciting races and other events will be alone worth the price of admission. The Great Review contests which will be settled on Thursday, September 22d, at the fair grounds promise to be one of the most interesting events of the fair and hundreds will wish to be present to see the final outcome of the contests which are becoming the most exciting ever held in the county. You cannot afford to miss the great fair. It affords an opportunity for everyone to get together for a good visit and to enjoy themselves. This is jubilee year, the year to celebrate the glorious victories of our country's arms, and to rejoice over the bountiful harvests and the prosperous good times.

THE MILES CONTROVERSY

Further Discussion of War Affairs by the General Is Refused.

OFF TO WASHINGTON TO SEE PRESIDENT

Not Worried by Reports That He Is to Be Removed—Bodies of Gen. Wheeler's Son and Lieut. Kirkpatrick Are Recovered from the Sea—Drowned While Bathing.

New York, Sept. 8.—Gen. Miles was asked Thursday what he thought of the published reports that it is believed in Washington circles that the present public discussion of army affairs will be dropped after his expected interview with President McKinley. He said: "I decline to be led into a discussion of the matter."

Gen. Miles went shopping in the morning with his wife and daughter. Before leaving the Waldorf-Astoria he said: "I shall leave for Washington at noon. I shall immediately enter the 'treadmill' (meaning official duties). I shall call at the war department first and pay my respects and shall then go at once to the president's mansion to pay my respects to President McKinley."

Before Gen. Miles left his hotel in Jersey City to take a train for Washington his attention was called to statements from Washington that the possibility of his removal from the high command he holds was being discussed in military circles. He held up his hands and said, good-naturedly: "Now, I am not going to say a word on that subject. I said all I intend to say about it in the statement I made yesterday. You really must not ask me for any more."

Miles' Return Causes Discussion.
Washington, Sept. 8.—Gen. Miles' expected return to Washington led to considerable talk as to what course would be adopted relative to the general's published criticisms. Officially, however, nothing is said on the subject, and apparently it is not under consideration. Secretary Alger, who expects to go west, did not call during the early part of the day. Adjt. Gen. Corbin was with the president for a time.

Shafter Leaves for Washington.
Camp Wikoff, Montauk Point, L. I., Sept. 8.—Gen. Shafter and Maj. D. K. Miles, of his staff, left for Washington early in the day.

Escaped Bullets to Drown.
Camp Wikoff, Montauk Point, L. I., Sept. 8.—The bodies of Naval Cadet Thomas H. Wheeler, the son of Maj. Gen. Joseph Wheeler, and Second Lieut. Newton D. Kirkpatrick, of the First United States cavalry, who were drowned while bathing in the sea Wednesday, came in with the tide and were thrown on the beach at about two o'clock in the morning. The bodies were found lying close together just below the life-saving station, about a quarter of a mile from where the young men had gone in bathing. A detail of 60 men from the Second cavalry had been patrolling the beach with lanterns. The life-savers, who know the coast, had predicted that the bodies would drift in where they did. Two rude biers were formed out of planks taken from near the life-saving station and the bodies placed upon them. In the meantime the cavalrymen had gathered from up and down the beach and followed the bodies to Gen. Wheeler's headquarters. With Gen. Wheeler were three of his daughters who were in camp nursing the sick.

The uniform of an infantry private, with the shoes, hat and underwear, was found on the beach a few hundred yards to the westward of where Cadet Wheeler and Lieut. Kirkpatrick were drowned. It is inferred that a third man was drowned at night. A name is on the inside of the band of the trousers, but it is illegible.

First Is on Its Way.
New York, Sept. 8.—The First Illinois volunteers were taken across to Commanipaw on ferryboats and there embarked upon trains of the Lehigh Valley railroad. The hospital train, carrying 206 men, pulled out, westward bound, at 1:15 p. m. The regiment goes over the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad.

Wheat Supply Will Fall.
Bristol, England, Sept. 8.—At the opening of the British Association for the Advancement of Science here President Crookes devoted his inaugural address chiefly to the theory that the world's wheat supply will fail to keep pace with the needs of the growing population beyond the year 1931.

Convalescent Hospital.
Oakland, Cal., Sept. 8.—The convalescent hospital of the Oakland Red Cross society is the first hospital of the kind to be opened on this coast. It is located near Piedmont and contains 25 patients, nearly all from the Fifty-first Iowa regiment, who are in charge of Corporal Jeffers, of company M.

ALL HARD AT WORK.

More Than Five Hundred Votes Since Tuesday.

ONLY TWO WEEKS MORE

Candidates Said To Be Holding Votes Back For Final Day—Review Readers Easy Clipping Coupons

Politics relegated to the rear, the war talk gets few listeners, crop prospects fail to interest, even the circus is but a side show compared to the Great Review contests. Votes are coming in from all over the county. They come in two and threes and in great big bunches of a hundred.

The young ladies are finding plenty of friends ready and willing to help them. Those who have not taken the REVIEW are doing so in order to help their favorites and we hope by the first of January to convince them that they cannot do without it. Two hundred votes a day is the average now and it is increasing all the time. The REVIEW as umpire desires to make no comments on the struggle. A glance at the table of votes will show the gains made by the various candidates. Three have already passed the four hundred mark, while from what we learn others could also do so were their votes all in. Denison is not the only town affected by the excitement. REVIEW readers all over the county are at work. Counting this issue there will be four more coupons in each contest printed in the REVIEW. Our circulation is now over 1700 so that there is opportunity for 6800 coupons to be voted by the present subscribers. There are no candidates from Arion or Manila and we would give the candidates a pointer that these are good fields in which to work. We would ask every reader of the REVIEW, no matter where he lives, to vote in this great contest. Let us hear from you, it costs you nothing and may do some young lady a great deal of good.

Remember the prizes. The polls close at 3 p. m. on September 22d at the fair grounds. No votes will be received after that hour. The final count will be made and the prizes awarded as soon thereafter as possible.

Remember the Prizes.
Twenty weeks' scholarship in the Denison Normal School is the first prize in both contests. In the Denison contest the second prize is a fine watch and chain given by E. C. Chamberlain. The second prize in the out of town contest is a beautiful hat valued at $10 given by J. P. Miller & Co.

Candidates for Supervisor.
We wish to call attention to the announcements made in this issue of candidates for supervisors. It seems that at least two of our citizens are willing to take their chances against the democratic candidate should they receive the nomination. The Review wishes to emphasize the fact that no republican can win this fall unless there is perfect harmony in the ranks, and we trust all candidates who may appear will go into the contest with a spirit of willingness to abide by the judgment of the convention.

Mr. Otto Hink announces himself as a candidate for nomination. He has served one term and has proven himself a worthy and efficient officer. Although elected as a republican he has acted in an entirely non-partisan manner in the transaction of official business and we know of no one who would be fairer, more conservative and more rigid in enforcing public economy.

Mr. Ernst Stegemann, who also announces himself a candidate, is a splendid type of the intelligent, well-to-do up-to-date farmer. His success in conducting his own affairs shows that he is perfectly capable of managing the affairs of the county. It argues well for republican success that two such good men should be seeking the nomination for this office. The fact that both of these candidates live in the same township indicates that a close contest may be expected, but we sincerely trust that no hard feelings will be engendered.

Mrs. Chas. Iseminger is at Omaha taking in the Fair to-day.

VERY BRISK FUSION FIGHT

Tri-Party Battle of Republicans, Democrats and Populists Begun in Colorado.

LACK OF HARMONY IN TWO STATES.

Silver Parties in Washington Still Endeavoring to Get Together on a Common Ticket and Platform—Are Making Some Progress—William J. Bryan Is Indorsed.

Colorado Springs, Col., Sept. 8.—One of the most exciting contests in the political history of Colorado is on here, the occasion being the three state nominating conventions of the silverites—the silver republicans, the democrats and the populists. In accordance with the agreement entered into at the Glenwood Springs conference, the three conventions opened separately and committees will be appointed by each to select a gubernatorial nominee. The prearranged plan is to select a silver republican to head the ticket. This is in the way of a compromise as neither the populists nor the democrats will agree to have the choice made from their ranks.

Before the conventions had got well under way it became evident that the Teller-Walcott feud stands as a stumbling block ready to prevent the smooth-running of this well oiled plan of fusion. The Wolcott delegates are here for the purpose of working tooth and nail to secure the defeat of the Teller adherents and to bring about the adoption by the silver republicans of a platform wholly republican in principles, except in the matter of the money plank, in which they would pledge themselves for the free coinage of silver. With such a platform the Wolcott people believe they can win the greater portion of the Colorado silver republicans back into the administration ranks.

The Tellerites, on the other hand, lean toward the fusion arrangement, and the result depends altogether upon which faction of the silver republicans succeeds in seating its delegations and thereby gaining the ascendancy. If the fusion deal goes through the gubernatorial candidate probably will be J. M. Downing, of Aspen, and the nominations for congressmen and the minor places on the state ticket will be distributed between the populists and the democrats.

Not Yet Harmonious.
Ellensburg, Wash., Sept. 8.—The joint conference committee of the three parties—democratic, populist and silver republican—whose state conventions are now in progress, resumed its session at 9:30 Thursday morning.

The only conclusion reached is that the ticket is to be known as the people's party, and that democrats and silver republicans are each to have a congressman. A motion that the democrats are to have one judge was adopted, but afterward reconsidered, leaving the matter undecided.

The platform reported to the democratic state committee by the majority of the committee on resolutions reaffirms allegiance to the Chicago platform and fidelity to the leadership of "that matchless tribute of the people," William Jennings Bryan.

A Fast Train.
Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 8.—The California limited over the Santa Fe road will begin running on November 2 between Los Angeles and Chicago, leaving both Chicago and Los Angeles every Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, and run through in 2 1/2 days. This will be the fastest train ever scheduled between California and Chicago.

Two Iowa Soldiers Die.
Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 8.—Sergt. Charles F. Brown, of company G, of Fort Dodge, and Corporal Burton R. Dutton, of company C, Webster City, members of the Fifty-second Iowa regiment, died of typhoid fever. Dutton died at Webster City.

Fusion Candidate.
Mount Pleasant, Mich., Sept. 8.—The democratic union silver and populist conventions for nominating a congressman for the Eleventh district massed and nominated Dr. A. W. Nichols, populist, of Greenville. No other candidate was in the field.

STEVENSON'S EFFECTS.
Home of the Late Author in Samoa Is Stripped of Everything Worth Taking Away.

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—The schooner Sophia Sutherland, which has returned to this port from a fruitless search for gold among the South Sea islands, brought in her hold all the personal property of the late Robert Louis Stevenson.

Valima, the historic Samoan home of the gifted author, was stripped from turret to basement before the Sophia Sutherland sailed, and now stands in the midst of the broad acres that composed the Stevenson place, an empty shell.

CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS.

Mr. A. Norelius of Kiron, Nominated by the Populists.

Crawford is to have a congressional candidate after all. The populists have placed Mr. A. Norelius, of Kiron, in nomination at their recent convention. It is not known whether his nomination will receive the endorsement of the democrats. Mr. Norelius is a well-to-do farmer. He was formerly a Republican, but left that party a number of years ago. He is a man of character and is well liked by those who know him. He would make a much stronger and able candidate than the silverites have had in this district for a number of years.
