EDITORIAL COLUMN

THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

In our last issue we discussed that plank of the democratic county platform which treats of the relations of this country to the colonies which have been liberated from Spanish misrule. The REVIEW does not believe that these colonies should be held by the United States for the purpose of national aggrandizement or that the natives should be exploited for the benefit of Americans. It does believe, however, that the colonies should be held under the fostering care of the United States until such time as they are able to take care of themselves, and it does not believe that these colonies have in point of civilization arrived at what may be termed an age of consent, and that therefore the proposition to allow them at this time to choose for themselves a form of government and then to leave them to their fate, is wholly absurd, dangerous and intensely selfish. We would like to ask the platform writer what course he would pursue in event that the people of the Philippines, of Cuba and of Porto Rico had the good sense to ask that they be annexed to the United States? Would he still hold to the text of his platform, or would he refuse to give them shelter within the republic? The platform seems to indicate that they are to be allowed their own choice so long as they choose what the platform wishes them to choose. It is within the range of possibilities, though not of probabilities, that the colonies should choose to return to Spanish rule. Are the democrats of the county in favor of that? They might prefer the dominion of France or Austria or Russia or Great Britain. Would the democrats in order to be consistent with their platform favor such a disposition of the islands which have cost us so much blood and treasure? They might prefer a United States protectorate, or annexation, or an imperial government of their own. In order to be consistent the democrats would be obliged to favor any project which the ignorant natives of the Philippines might see fit to select. For our part, we do not see the propriety of allowing the Philippines to dictate the future foreign policy of the United States. Yet this is the logical outcome of the high-sounding, "well reading" plank adopted by the democrats of this county. They would have done much better had they remained silent and not allowed their declaration of principles to be written by one whose highest ideal is that of self-aggrandizement.

PARTISANSHIP GONE WILD.

It is much to be regretted that our board of supervisors have allowed themselves to be so entirely overcome by partisanship that they have overlooked the ordinary courtesies which a sense of political fairness would demand. The particular case to which we refer is in the matter of the appointment of judges of election. Heretofore it has been the custom of the board to request the advice of the county chairman of the democratic and republican parties to make suggestions as to whom should be appointed to fill these positions. It is but fair to suppose that the chairman who are the legal representatives of the parties should know what person in each party is best fitted to represent the interests of the party at the polls. This year the board made no such request of the republican county chairman, he was not notified in any way as to the time when the appointments were to be made, and was offered no opportunity to express the wishes of the republican party in the matter. In other words the board, four members of which are democrats, undertook without consultation with any republicans, to name the persons who are to represent the party at the polls in November.

Mr. George Richardson for several years democratic chairman, gives as his opinion that the "board was very lame in this matter, very lame!" He further stated that when he was county chairman it was customary for him to be requested to suggest the appointments and that only in one single instance were his suggestions disregarded. This action of the board is partisanship gone wild, they should certainly have the manhood to allow the republicans fair play. It is a breach of political good faith which every republican should resent and every good democrat deplore. There is no excuse for such high handed methods in this county, we may differ in politics but there is no reason why we should not be good friends and good neighbors and why we should not be as fair in our political relations as we would in business affairs.

Church Notes.

PRESBYTERIAN.

The Presbytery meeting last week was full of interest and much business transacted for the general interests of the church.

Sabbath's services were very largely attended, a number of the M. E. congregation worshipping with us in the absence of their pastor. In the song service Mrs. Bradley sang a solo and the choir rendered an anthem. In the evening the pastor spoke on "Daniel at School."

On Saturday evening the choir had a very pleasant musical reunion at the hospitable home of Dr. and Mrs. Philbrook in honor of Miss Agnes King, the church organist, who goes to Oberlin.

The Endeavor meeting in the evening was a very profitable one, being led by Roy McWilliams and the theme, "The Triumphs of Christianity."

The Ladies Aid society will meet on Wednesday afternoon of this week at 3:00 at the home of Mrs. Florence Hope. A full attendance is desired.

BAPTIST.

As was expected, our pulpit was filled on Sabbath morning by John Smith. The subject upon which he spoke was that of our being "fellow workers together with God. The meaning of the word "worker" was plainly set forth, and all present could not fail to realize their christian duty.

In the evening our pastor preached an able sermon on "The growth of Church Doctrine." On the morning of September 25, he will continue the subject of Doctrine, thereby preparing us for the christian culture work for this year.

All the services of the church after Thursday evening will be held in the City Hall.

On next Sabbath evening the Sunday School will give its Harvest Home program for the year.

The Ladies Missionary Society meets with sister M. A. Jones Wednesday, at 2:00 p. m.

The young people will remember their prayer meeting is on Monday evening hereafter.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

A striking evidence of the sincerity and worth of the high school pupils was presented Friday afternoon in the large attendance. As usual on circus days a few stayed away, but the greater part stood up for the "business before pleasure" principle.

The regular weekly teachers' meeting will hereafter be held on Monday evening instead of Friday as heretofore.

There are but fifty pupils in the kindergarten department instead of sixty-five as started last week.

Professor Failor gave all the rooms of the high school building a talk on cigarette smoking Friday morning. He also presented a pledge to refrain from using tobacco which a number of the pupils signed.

It was stated last week that the vertical writing method had been discarded. The copy books only have been dispensed with, the muscular movement using vertical forms now being in use.

The lecture course is progressing nicely. There are but few seats left on the main floor and all children's tickets will be good for the gallery only. All high school pupils should attend this course as the members are the best that can be procured, and the cost nominal, being but $1.25 for the seven entertainments.

FISH STORIES FROM THE LAKES

EDITOR REVIEW:—In camp at Okiboji. We have just finished our morning feast of flap-jacks, coffee and perch. We had a general fight between the monkey and the waiter for the possession of an odd flap-jack in which case we had to pull straws. While pulling straws, the chief cook took possession of the flap-jack himself.

The first lake we struck was Indian Lake, Minnesota, at which place we shot seven dozen and three ducks. No fish there but the mosquitoes lifted our tent three feet from the ground, pulled our wagon around the lake three times, and we had to keep them off with shot guns in order to keep from being carried away ourselves. We shot three which measured six and seven inches in length. That was enough of Indian Lake. We pulled for Round Lake the next day where the mosquitoes were not so bad and fishing fine. The first night we caught 116 fish, which averaged about two pounds. The next day the cook caught a ten pound pickerel, over which he nearly went crazy, and about upset the boat. The rest of us caught about 350 pounds. The next day we pulled out for Worthington to hunt chickens, where we killed 16 dozen. From there we went up near the Dakota line where we run into a herd of jack-rabbits of which we killed 38 and had to stop shooting on account of darkness.

On the 9th, we landed at Okiboji. Fishing was poor; we caught one pike, one bass, and 74 perch. While hooking a few potatoes from a farmer's friendly looking potato patch, and in digging up one row, we happened to look up and noticed a charge of buckshot coming down the next. We evaporated! We are pulling out for Spirit Lake today where we will stay a day or two and then start out for the best place in Iowa—"home sweet home."

P. S. Please give all barbers notice to have their razors in good condition by Saturday night. Yours truly,

Notice to Druggists.

DUBUQUE, IOWA, Sept. 12, '98.

DEAR SIR—Will you have the kindness to publish the following ruling from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue with reference to certain medicinal chemical compound preparations that have heretofore been regarded by druggists as not being taxable. It is supposed that for the want of knowledge concerning these medical preparations they are being sold without being properly stamped. Among the compounds referred to are the following:

Antipyrine, sulphonal, phenacetine, trional, ichthyol, idoformogen, quinapitol, tannalbin, thermodin, etc.

In regard to these last named there seems to be a disposition among druggists to put them on the market unstamped and I am instructed by the commissioner to inform all such persons that they must stamp all such preparations according to their retail value. Deputy collectors will be instructed to examine all stocks of drugs and goods of this character when they are not properly stamped will be liable to seizure, unless there is good grounds believing that they were not aware of the fact that they should be stamped.

Yours respectfully, J. W. PATTERSON, Collector.

During the coming campaign the Daily and Weekly Nonpareil will have special facilities for providing all the news to its thousands of readers. The Nonpareil is the representative republican daily newspaper of south-western Iowa and is read by more people than any other newspaper that circulates in that section.
