A DEMOCRATIC LULLABY.

Stt—Stt—Stt—There comes the Boogie Man; Its the democratic platform on a populist plan. Do not speak above a whisper, but avoid it if you can. For we really cannot quite defend this awful Boogie Man.

DIED.

The many friends throughout the country were grieved to hear of the death of Mr. James Mahoney, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Mahoney of Paradise township. The deceased was a bright hard working young man of twenty-seven. Pulmonary troubles were the cause of his death. The funeral, which took place on Monday morning, was largely attended by people from all over the county. The services were held in the Catholic church, and a large concourse followed the remains to their final resting place in the old catholic cemetery.

On Sunday evening we were greatly shocked to hear a group of boys and girls, none of whom looked to be over fifteen years old, swearing as they walked along the street near the depot. These walks to the depot to see the evening trains go through are not proving healthy for the morals of the young people and it would be just as well if the mothers would keep the girls at home unless they have some special reason for going to the train. The depot platform is a favorite lounging place and many of the men are none too careful in the remarks they make before the young girls who make it a business to be down to the depot nearly every evening. We know that the vast majority of the girls mean no harm and that they are frequently there to speed some parting guest, but the environment is not a good one and if it is necessary for them to go one of the older folks should accompany them.

Lecture to-morrow night.

Mr. Chas. Smith brought some very fine cattle to Denison last Saturday. Mr. Smith expects his brother J. R., to stop over from the exposition.

Messrs. Jepsen, Hink and Rhodenbaugh, acting as a committee of the board of supervisors, let the contract for a new boiler and heating apparatus in the county jail yesterday. The enterprising and reliable firm of Hodges & Ohge secured the contract for $450.

Dr. J. C. Robinson visited Dunlap on Sunday.

Mr. Boyens, of Charter Oak, was shaking hands with his many friends in Denison last Saturday.

Last week in mentioning the handsome new sign put up by the Hub Clothing Co. we should have given the firm of Hagenow & Kott the credit for the excellent workmanship.

Maud Dixon, of Paradise, who has been attending the Denison High School, spent Sunday at home. Her mother accompanied her Sunday evening and remained to the Methodist services.

Mr. Fred Fienhold, of Paradise township, spent Monday in Denison. Mr. Fienhold is now a leading light in the democratic camp but the old REVIEW still claims to be his friend in spite of politics.

Among the Denisonites who attended the teachers meeting at Dow City last Saturday were: Miss Maude Bryan and Messrs J. H. Holmes, H. V. Failor and A. C. Healey. Mr. Holmes read a paper before the meeting.

On the third page of the REVIEW will be found an exceedingly interesting and thoughtful article by Congressman S. M. Clark on the present campaign. We have taken it in full from the Keokuk Gate City, and it is well worth reading.

Among the recent marriage licenses issued by the county clerk are the following: On September 26th to John G. Mohr and Ida M. Lage, of Hays township; on September 27th to Wm. F. Walter and Amelia Kai, of Iowa township and to John D. Hansen and Foline Luitjens.

Saturday was the biggest day on record at the County Treasurers office, the receipts being $3,847.67. This shows that the people are not so terribly hard up in spite of the blight of republican prosperity. There will be a small delinquent tax list in Crawford this fall.

We wish to acknowledge receipt of an invitation extended by the Omaha Bee to a reception to be tendered Hon. Chas. Emory Smith, Postmaster General of the United States, on Wednesday evening next. We sincerely thank Editor Rosewater and regret that we will be unable to attend.

Mr. William Jones, of Marengo, has been visiting his old neighbor, Mr. John Mount, for the past few days. He states that he was agreeably surprised in Crawford county, he had heard that it was too rough to be worth much, but now he pronounces it as one of the best counties in the State. Mr. Jones is a brother-in-law of Hon. John Cornie member of the State Board of control.

Gov. L. M. Shaw spent a few hours in Denison on Sunday evening. He was enroute to Des Moines from Page county, where he spoke on Saturday. On the 8th he will open the campaign in the eleventh district with a speech at LeMars. The Governor says democracy is hard up for speakers this fall as nearly all the party leaders have repudiated the populist platform adopted at Marshalltown.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Sime have returned from a five weeks visit in Chicago and Dubuque. While gone Mr. Sime attended the republican state convention and during his stay in Chicago made arrangements for patenting his stock book which has met with such high approval from the trade. Mrs. Sime enjoyed a good visit with her relatives to the especial delight of her parents who had not as yet seen their new granddaughter.

The Bulletin gave the fair one-third off from its regular advertising rates. The REVIEW gave the fair 50 per cent off and a cash subscription of $15.00. The REVIEW helped the association in many other ways. The Bulletin sneered at it both before and after the fair, and in sneering at the fair it sneered at the town from which it draws its support. This is not the first time we have known the editor of the Bulletin to sneer at his home town—but that is another story.

Mr. E. G. Abbott of Klondike, together with his mother and sister of Charter Oak, were in Denison. Gilly has many strange adventures to relate of the frozen northland. He reports that Dr. Sewel is safe and sound at Dawson City where he is able to make some fifteen dollars a day at his profession of dentistry. Mr. Abbot and several others of the Starbuck party are now in the States securing the necessary supplies and machinery for work in finding the yellow metal. They are far from discouraged and think they have "struck it rich." Mr. Abbot expects to return to Klondike next spring.

Mr. Emil Mundt is in the city for a week's visit with the folks at home. Mr. Mundt has spent the past seven years in Chinook, Montana, where he has been very prosperous and has gained both in health and in purse. He says Denison shows remarkable advancement in every way, and that while he likes his Montana home he has a warm spot in his heart for the old home town. Many of his old friends who remember him more as a boy are pleased to see him again and to note his success. During his absence he has kept posted on Denison affairs through the medium of the REVIEW, which he is kind enough to say is growing better and more interesting all the time.

DOLLIVER AT CHARTER OAK.

Our Eloquent Congressman Will Speak There on Oct. 11th, at 8 P. M.

Chairman Nicholson authorizes the announcement that Hon. J. P. Dolliver will speak in Charter Oak on Tuesday evening, Oct. 11th. This will be the first republican meeting in Crawford county for this campaign and we know there will be a big turnout.

Congressman Dolliver always has something good to say and everyone is invited to hear his opening of the campaign. A large number will go over from Denison to attend the meeting.

MISS TEMPLE RECIEVE.

The Misses Lizzie and Sarah Temple were at home to their lady friends Saturday afternoon. About sixty guests were entertained between the hours of two and six. The parlors and dining room were very prettily decorated with fall flowers. In the front parlor the hostesses were assisted in receiving their guests by Miss Shaver, of Boone, and in the dining room a course of delicate refreshments was served by Miss Grace Temple assisted by her young friends, Minnie Mills and Nellie Prill. Out of town guests were Miss Brennecke, of Marshalltown, Miss Ralston, of Albion, Miss Seachrist, of York, Penn., and Miss Shaver, of Boone. It was a very pretty reception and the hostesses received many compliments upon their successful afternoon.

MISS BRENECKE'S PARLOR TALK.

On Saturday afternoon the members of the Friday club and a number of other guests enjoyed a rare treat in the parlor talk given by Miss Brennecke, of Marshalltown, at the home of her friend, Mrs. Kuehnle. Miss Brennecke had a number of views which the ladies enjoyed, but her vivid word-paintings of the old world, its ways and people made further illustrations almost unnecessary. Miss Brennecke had spent much time in the study of art and so had prepared herself to judge and enjoy the world's masterpieces. She spent some time in Scotland, England, Holland, Germany, Switzerland and Italy. The club was very glad to visit these places with her in fancy and a more charming guide could not well be found.

The Friday club is already indebted to Mrs. Kuehnle for her generous hospitality; in this instance she had not only provided a feast of reason, but a dainty two course supper which was served soon after the guests had congratulated and thanked Miss Brennecke. Mrs. Kuehnle was assisted by Mrs. Perkins and Lydia Bell.

Miss Mollie Springer and Miss Ralston were the out of town guests. The ladies did not linger long after supper but went on to the Misses Temple to enjoy their reception as well.

Just as we had expected when the contests were first announced, the Bulletin is seeking to discredit the REVIEW's conduct of the affair. It is very small and really laughable business on the Bulletin's part for every one knows it comes from a sore head. As to the conduct of the contest we wish to say that if any subscriber to the REVIEW is dissatisfied we would be greatly pleased to have him call and tell his grievance. We are perfectly easy in our own conscience that the REVIEW was absolutely fair, honest and impartial throughout. We did not originate the contests in order to please the Bulletin. We did not expect to please it, if the contests were successful. The REVIEW took no money from the contest for which it is not rendering more than a full equivalent. We would advise our competitor that his business would not be such a drain upon the pockets of its ambitious stockholders if he would pay more attention to publishing a good newspaper and increasing its own circulation, rather than putting in his time snarling at the heels of the Great and Only like a hungry and disappointed pup.

Mrs. Mary Nash, who has been confined to her house since last May on account of an accident, we are glad to learn is now able to walk a little by the aid of two canes.

Mrs. Peterson, of Hanover, was the guest of her brother, Mr. Lorenzen, on her way to the exposition, she was absent three days of last week. We think Crawford county is well represented in Omaha this year.

REVIEW OFFICE.

Those having Sale Bills printed at this office gain the advantage of having reduced rates given for reading notices in the Review and Zeitung, two papers which reach nearly every man who reads.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
The average attendance for last week was 556, which is 58 more than the enrollment of the first week of last year. The foot ball was inflated Monday, but the team has not been organized yet. The method used last year of compelling the pupils to remain after school hours for whispering offences has been dispensed with, the pupils being required to learn and deliver a declamation when their deportment gets below a certain point. Miss Crafts room has the banner this week, there being but five one-half days absence and no cases of tardiness. The Seniors are reading "Tennyson's Princess." The members of the "A class" have exchanged their old Caesar texts for the 1898 edition. They expect to read six books this year.

Mrs. Galbreath is enjoying a visit from her brother and two nieces from Nebraska.
