Business men advertise in THE REVIEW because it pays them, not because they are afraid of insult.

Insulting a man is a mighty poor way to gain either his patronage or the respect of the community.

Mr. A. C. Weeks left his work with the Northwestern people long enough to spend Christmas at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Garrison returned last evening to their Colorado after a very pleasant visit in Denison.

Miss Cora Hester came over from Charter Oak to spend Christmas with her sister, Mrs. R. G. Passmore.

Mr. Jas Billings, of Dunlap, came up to Denison. He had not been here for twenty-five years and was greatly surprised to find what a fine city we have.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kemming spent Christmas with the old folks on the farm. We warrant they had a good time and a bounteous dinner. Miss Coles accompanied them.

THE INJUNCTION CASE.

The injunction case is drawing a big crowd to the court house today. Prominent officials of both roads are in attendance. The forenoon was devoted to filing documentary evidence and this afternoon the Ft. Dodge & Omaha people are trying to prove by expert witnesses that the location in block 12 is the only suitable for depot purposes. There is every appearance that the hearing will last several days.

THE HOLIDAY TRADE.

The holiday trade was the best Denison has enjoyed for years, the sales of Christmas goods running away up into the thousands. Every merchant pronounces himself well satisfied. The stocks carried were better than ever before and people seemed to have plenty of money. The stores which dealt largely in holiday goods look as if they had a closing out sale and had pretty nearly done it. Hurrah for McKinley and prosperity and jolly old St. Nicholas.

THE GERMAN METHODISTS TREE

The German M. E. church had its festival on Christmas eve. Two trees, beautifully decorated, adorned the church. A program was rendered, consisting of speaking by the children, six songs by the choir and three songs by children, after which the presents were distributed. The church was crowded and all enjoyed the evening. The Sunday school has a large membership and is continually growing.

While cleaning the tank at Menagh's mill yesterday morning, Mr. Fred Rose was scalded internally quite severely. It seems that the steam stop at the top of the boiler blew off, and as the opening to the tank was near it, the steam entered and Fred inhaled considerable of it which has taken effect on his lungs. It is thought he will be around again in a few days.

We wonder who the real estate "sharks" are whom the Bulletin mentioned last week? The Bulletin is evidently doing all it can to build up the reputation of the town.

Mr. Del Keith of St. Joe, Mo., spent Christmas with relatives at Deloit. He is traveling for a wholesale millinery house and has all the territory north of the Platte River in Nebraska.

Dr. W. T. Wright was a glad host yesterday. His guests were Rev. Wm. Wright and wife and Alfred of Vail, and Leighton Wright of Battle Creek. It was a most happy family reunion.

Mr. Tracy Chapman, of Vail, was a Denison visitor last week. He called at the REVIEW office and spoke of the many pleasant visits he had had with the long time editor of the REVIEW.

Mr. E. C. Chamberlin expects to go to Mondamin on Thursday to visit his mother. She expects to make Wyoming her home in future and E. C. is anxious to see her before she leaves for the west.

Dr. A. C. Phillips, of Vail, spent Monday in Denison. Mrs. Phillips is now visiting in Sweden, and the doctor is striving against the ills of bachelorhood. The Doctor was the guest of E. O. Thiem.

Governor Shaw gives a reception on January 5th, at the Savery House in Des Moines. A few of his intimate friends in Denison are invited. Mr. and Mrs. Gulick and Mr. and Mrs. Voss expect to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Johnson and baby Johnson, of Charter, partook of Christmas turkey with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mahoney. Mrs. A. D. Molony, who has been visiting at Charter Oak, returned to Denison with them.

A Defiance party made up of F. W. Luxford, Delferd Reams and Misses Luxford and Newman drove over to Denison Sunday. It was a wedding party and Mr. Luxford and Miss Newman went back as man and wife.

Dr. J. I. Gibson is preparing a paper on infectious diseases of animals and their treatment, which he will read before the State Agricultural Society next month. The Doctor has promised to let us have it for publication in the REVIEW.

Mr. R. C. Maguire, of Knoxville, Tenn., brother of Mrs. Ross Masters, is visiting in Denison. Mr. Maguire is a traveling salesman for the Sam C. Ronly Shoe Co., and has an extensive territory to cover. We acknowledge a pleasant call from him.

Mr. John Cook, of Vail, has been in Denison the past week viewing properties with the intention of making this place his home. Mr. Cook is a splendid citizen and we would gladly welcome him to Denison. It is said that he will occupy Col. Wright's residence.

The Glidden Graphic pronounces the Christmas edition the best of the many received by it, especially in the point of excellent original matter. Bro. Orchard says some other complimentary things about THE REVIEW which our well-known modesty forbids us to mention.

A CHRISTMAS WEDDING.

At the M. E. parsonage December 25, Rev. Igen Fritz united in marriage Mr. Elbert Christy and Miss Effie Zea, both of Denison.

A GLOVE CONTEST.

We understand that there will be a ten round glove contest at the opera house Saturday evening between Harry Smith of Coon Rapids and Henry Steffen of Manilla.

MARRIED.

At the M. E. parsonage Tuesday, Dec. 20, Mr. Frank Lillie to Miss Alice Dora Sherrill, both of Danbury, Woodbury county Iowa, Rev. Igen Fritz officiating.

THE SHOT COUNTED.

The guessing contest given by Fritz Brandenburg on the number of shot in a bottle, has been decided. The number was 8113. Messrs. N. L. Hunt and Chas. Voss did the counting and Carl Kastner was the lucky guesser, his guess being 8075. He received an order on Sime Bros. for a fine $15.00 suit of clothes. 385 guesses were made, ranging from 600 to 100,000.

A FAMILY AFFAIR.

The Harveys came down like lambs to the fold; they all of them got here, the young and the old. They went to McHenry's and there had a feast, in which there were twenty-odd courses at least. There were seated at table in all twenty-eight, Mrs. Sears says 'twould surprise you what twenty-ate eight. McHenry's and Seemanns and Harveys galore, they all of them ate while there room was for more. Well, sure they are all just the salt of the earth, and we hope of their tribes there will ne'er be a dearth.

CHRISTMAS IN ALASKA.

A year ago Mrs. F. W. Bateson spent Christmas at a mission station in Alaska, where she was engaged in teaching the word of Christ to the native Alaskans. She has kindly consented to write for the REVIEW an article on Alaska, and its people with special reference to an Alaskan Christmas. We know it will be an article of surpassing interest to our readers and we are very grateful to Mrs. Bateson. We are endeavoring to make the REVIEW more than a mere chronicler of the comings and goings of our people, we are striving to make it something of a home magazine, filled with the thoughts and writings of our people. Can you not contribute something towards this desirable end? Mrs. Bateson while but recently come amongst us has already won a host of friends who will be glad to hear her experience of a Christmas almost without the light of the sun.

REWARD OFFERED.

We will allow the Bulletin to use the title bestowed on the REVIEW by its loving friends, "The Great and Only", if it will publish a duly signed and authorized statement from its stockholders that they endorse the Bulletin's recent attacks upon two of Denison's business houses.

The Bulletin may storn and roar. It may accuse us of a whole catalogue of crimes, but there is one thing it will not do. It will not publish an endorsement of its course last week signed by its stockholders. It takes a bright intellectual specimen of morality like Barter to get such an endorsement. Come Mr. Bulletin stockholder, do you approve of the editorial course of your paper, or do you not? Do not all speak at once, but remember that it is the "backers" of the Bulletin, not their hiring clay pigeon, who are held responsible. By "backers" we mean, as once before stated, the few interested parties who inspire every editorial opinion of the Bulletin. Many business men have spoken to us since our last issue concerning this matter, and not one among them, whether competitor or not, but have expressed their unqualified disapproval of the Bulletin's course.

W. W. Cushman was over from the Oak Monday.

Mr. Orge is spending the holiday season at Boone.

Jno. Bolieu of Charter Oak visited Denison Monday.

Dr. J. C. Robinson spent Christmas with friends in Manning.

Compare the REVIEW with other papers, that is all we ask.

J. A. Ott, of Hampton, Iowa, was a Christmas guest at the Temple home.

Mr. Sutton, of Cheyenne, is spending the week with his brother-in-law, Mr. Hodges.

Herbert Herrington came down from Boone to say "Merry Christmas" to his Denison friends.

F. Wright, of El Reno, Oklahoma, arrived in Denison today. He will spend some time here.

Mr. Hugh Menagh and wife, now of Carroll, took their Christmas dinner under the parental roof tree.

Mr. W. T. Stiles, who is assisting Mr. Hugh Menagh in the flour business at Carroll spent Christmas with his Denison cronies.

Mr. McCague, of Omaha, Mr. Sloan, of Chicago, and Hon. J. F. Duncombe are among the way-up people of the Illinois Central who are in town today.

From the Opera House Reporter we glean the following in regard to the Farmer Hopkins Co. which is soon to appear in Denison. This report is authentic as each opera house manager makes a report of the company just filling an engagement:

Davidson's Old Farmer Hopkins 9 people played here December 13 to packed house; A 1 company, people well pleased; excellent scenery; fair paper; prices 25, 35, and 50 cents. Went to Mapleton from here. This company gave one of the best, cleanest, up-to-date attractions we ever had in our opera house. Managers will do well to book such an attraction. Mr. Davidson is a gentleman and a thorough business man and as "Old Farmer Hopkins" he is exceptionally fine. He has promised to give us a return date.—Manager Opera House, Blue Earth City, Minn.

Among the many who are being attracted to Denison by its superior advantages as a home town, are Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sherwood living near Vail. They are looking for a suitable residence property and expect to move here this spring. They are not in the hands of real estate "sharks" however.
