METHODIST NOTES.

Myrtle Cross led the Epworth League Sunday evening.
The official board will meet Thursday evening after prayermeeting.
The Ladies Foreign missionary society will meet Wednesday afternoon at the church.
Presiding Elder Lothian will preach Sunday morning and administer the sacrament of the Lords Supper.
The fourth quarterly conference will be held at 8 o'clock Saturday evening when officers for the ensuing year will be elected and a lay delegate elected to attend the annual conference in September.
Mamie Glassburner read an excellent report of the League convention at Correctionville June 20-21. She also re-read the paper which she gave at the convention—"The Epworthians Aid to the Pastor" which was said to be one of the very best at the convention.
PREBYTERIAN NOTES.
Mr. L. E. Goodwin, supt. of S. S., is on a business trip to Chicago.
The pastor will be absent next Sabbath so there will be no preaching.
A large audience was present at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning.
The rites of baptism was administered to Mesdames Stark and Vollertson and a number of children.
The church regrets the departure of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Shumaker from our midst, but wish them continued prosperity in their new home.
Mr. and Mrs. John McFarland were received by letter from the Presbyterian church of Clyde, Penn. We are glad to welcome them among us.
Geo. Richardson expects to go up in the vicinity of Deloit to connect up a new private telephone system put in by Mr. John Newcom. This is the first rural telephone line in the county and speaks well for Mr. Newcom's progressiveness.
The crops are looking very nice at present. Driving through the country one sees large fields of waving grain and acres of nice straight corn. Owing to the continued rains some fields are a little weedy, but on the average everything is looking toward good crops.
Grand Opening of Greater America Exposition
July 1st, 1890. Music and oratory; magnificent parade; grand display of fireworks in the evening; special low rates on all railroads; do not miss it.
A most satisfactory variety of lap dusters, flynets, horse covers and kindred goods at money saving prices at C. Sievers & Sons. Intending purchasers will find it to their interest to look our line over.

CLIMATE AND CROP BULLETIN.

DES MOINES, IOWA. June 27, 1890.
The past week was slightly warmer than usual, and the percentage of sunshine was about normal. The rainfall was phenomenal heavy in a small portion of the central district. Ames reported 4.61 inches, accompanied by damaging hail and wind; Oden 8.18, and Marshalltown, 2.04 inches. In the larger part of the state however, the amount of rainfall was light, and conditions were favorable for drying the soil and for general farm work. On the whole the weather conditions were about all that could be desired, and fair progress has been made in cleaning out the weedy cornfields.
In portions of the southeast district planting operations have been continued on lands that were previously too wet; and the cultivation of corn on drier lands is in progress with improved prospects.
All small grain crops are yet standing up fairly well, though unusually heavy on rich, moist lands. Haying is commenced in many localities, with generally less than the average yield.
The potato crop is very promising in all sections. Pastures are notably good. Conditions have been very favorable for berries and garden vegetables.
HOME IS WOMAN'S CREATION.
It Springs from Her Own Ideal of What is Good and Fair.
"In order that a woman may be successful and happy in her home life, she must inevitably regard her work as worthy the highest education and enthusiasm," writes Katharine Reich, in the July Ladies' Home Journal, of "The College-Bred Woman in Her Home." "Let her know, before she enters upon it, that it must for years occupy the greater part of her thoughts and time—there will be seasons when it must occupy her whole time—and be content that this is so because of the value of the result to be attained. The home where peace and order reign, and sweet influences of industry and education, of courtesy and religion prevail, is not made by chance. The woman's thought, and study, and ability have entered into it and determined its character. Where the servants are industrious and quiet, where the children are healthy, gentle and obedient, where the conversation shows intellectual life and generous thought, and the spirit of the home in its activities and pleasures is love and joy, and peace—the praise is due, first, to the woman, who as wife, and mother, and mistress, and house-keeper, and home-maker, has made it her study and pleasure to rule her kingdom diligently, with intelligence and love. The home is her creation, springing from her own ideal of what is good and fair, and speaks to mankind as truly as if her thought had expressed itself in writing. It is a work of the highest art. If a woman thus regarded her work at home she would settle her mind to it without that restlessness and discontent she will always feel if in her heart of hearts she regard history, or art, higher mathematics as being more worthy her attention."
