UNDER THE MARRIAGE BELL.

This week has witnessed another happy nuptial occasion in Denison's best social life. At high noon on Thursday, July 6, 1899, occurred a charming home wedding at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Knaul on West Broadway. The contracting parties were their daughter, Miss Mamie E. and Mr. Edward Lies, two of our choicest young people and who number their friends and well wishers by the score. The wedding was a most beautiful one in all its features. Promptly at the hour of noon Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Maude Hunter and the bridal party descended the stairs to the front parlor which had been tastefully decorated for the hour. The attendants were the little pages, Erma Naevae and Roland Philbrook carrying ring and book, Miss Bertha Knaul as bridesmaid and Mr. Otto Knaul as groomsmen. The bride looked most charming in a dress of white silk mull over white silk, carrying a bouquet of bridal roses, and the groom wore the conventional black dress suit. A hush fell upon the gathered guests as Rev. A. G. Martyn of the Presbyterian church performed the impressive ring service in the plighting of mutual vows of affection at the marriage altar—words meaning much to the two who thus so loyally united their hearts, fortunes and lives "till death do us part." The immediate family and a very few intimate friends were the favored guests whose genuine love for and deep interest in the bridal couple was manifested in the shower of good wishes and bright prophecies bestowed upon them. After an elegant collation so characteristic of the refined hospitality of the home the bridal party took the 2:15 train east for a brief visit at Clinton, Dubuque and other points. The bride is one of Denison's fairest and most accomplished young ladies, with a refined and cultured mind, and of most charming personal presence, one who will most assuredly adorn a home of her own with queenly grace and accomplishments. The groom is one of the foremost young men of the city, of superior educational acquirements, and whose success is guaranteed by business skill and fidelity to every trust imposed. The REVIEW joins our entire city in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Lies a bon-voyage as they embark so auspiciously on the sea of matrimonial life.

COUNCIL MEETING.

The city council met in adjourned session last evening, all the members being present. One of the important features of the evening was the receiving of bids on 4,000 feet of four inch water main. There were two bids received—one from Mr. Romans, and one from Mr. Hodges; the former's bid being $32.50 per ton, and the latter's $33.50. Mr. Romans was awarded the contract, and he was instructed to make immediate shipment. The water committee was instructed to begin placing in the new meters at once. The meters are to be in place by November 1st, and it is time work was beginning. The meter well, where a customer desires it outside, is to be three feet clear in diameter. This will enable a person to get inside in case the meter needs repair, and also allow the water collector access to read the same. It is the opinion that the meter well should be bricked instead of boxed as it would be more lasting. The city will also ask for bids on plumbing and the laying—including the digging of ditch—of 4,000 feet of four inch water main all bids to be in by noon of July 17th. A notice to that effect appears elsewhere. The council did the proper thing by purchasing a new road grader giving the old machine in as part pay. This was a wise step as the machine purchased will, we believe, soon pay for itself. In one instance it will be a great saving in that it can be used to fill all ditches over water mains. With this grader at the disposal of the street commissioner we expect in a short time to see most of our streets free from all weeds. An ordinance establishing grades on certain streets was passed. There are a number of city ordinances having been in force a number of years which are in direct conflict with our present laws, and the city solicitor was empowered to modify and adjust these to conform with the law. At a late hour the council adjourned having had a very profitable meeting.

RECEPTION AT W. A. MCHENRY'S.

The reception at W. A. McHenry's on Thursday afternoon was one of the largest of the year, and called together many people whom it is a pleasure to meet. The receiving party, Miss Abbie McHenry, Mesdames Sears McHenry, L. Seemann and N. R. Wilder, formed a charming quartette of youth and beauty. All were greeted with hearty words of welcome that made each guest feel perfectly at ease. Many fragrant flowers laden the air with their sweet perfume and fine music was rendered by skillful hands. And yet there was a lack, the absence of the First Lady of the House, whose gracious presence adorns any occasion, was noted by all, and heartfelt wishes for her health and happiness in her Lakeside home were freely expressed. Miss Saterlee, of Dunlap, visited a few days this week with friends in Denison.

TWO RIBS BROKEN.

Editor Caswell is thrown from a carriage, resting nicely at the Wilson House. On last evening, while out driving in company with the Misses Chapin and Winters, Mr. Caswell was thrown from his carriage and sustained injuries which will necessitate his remaining in doors a few days. The accident occurred near Mr. E. H. Wood's in West Denison. While driving along on Chestnut street near Mrs. Gregory's a small dog had been barking at the horse which seemed to nettle the animal some, although he was going along very quietly, Mr. Caswell driving with loose reins. When near Mr. Wood's some one on horseback came up from behind on a gallop. This is supposed to have scared the horse for he made a lunge sideways which threw Mr. Caswell out in such a way as to break two ribs. The young ladies, although quiet badly frightened, remained in the carriage and Miss Winters climbed over the dash-board and reached the lines and in some manner guided the horse when near Mr. Lorentzen's into a ditch, causing him to fall, throwing the two young ladies over him and upsetting the carriage. Fortunately they were not injured, but well shaken up. Mr. Caswell was taken to the Wilson House and a physician called. Mrs. Caswell arrived this morning and is now caring for him. The accident was rather a peculiar one and the result might have proven worse. E. H. Swasey, of Dow City, was in Denison yesterday. Hugh Langan, of Vail, was in Denison on business Monday. Maggie Quade is visiting with friends at Sioux City and Rodney. Miss Edith Servoss returned last night from a week's stay at Omaha. Mertie James has been visiting at Charter Oak the past few days. Morris McHenry and family, of Dow City, were in Denison yesterday. W. S. Kinyon, of Ft. Dodge, was in Denison yesterday on political business. The material for the foundation of new water tank for the C. & N. W. is on the grounds now. Mr. M. P. Brase, of Dunlap, an old-time friend of J. Fred Meyers, was in Denison this morning. Miss Pulis, who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. C. Beard, returned to her home in Fremont, Neb. S. C. Blackman, of West Side, spent the Fourth in Denison. He is proving to be an ideal postmaster at that place. A little son came to spend the Fourth at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson. THE REVIEW congratulates. Don't forget Jake Gable's excursion to Hot Springs, South Dakota, which leaves here July 18th. You are sure to have a good time. Mr. Jas. Baird, who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. T. S. Lunney, returned to his home at Battle Creek. Mary and Edmun Luney accompanied him. On July 18th an excursion goes to Hot Springs, South Dakota, under the supervision of Mr. J. H. Gable, of the Elkhorn system. Are you going? The rate is very cheap. One of the prettiest social gatherings of our young people was given last evening at the home of Mrs. W. W. Holmes, by Miss Edith Luney, in honor of Miss Clara Malchan, of Davenport, who leaves tonight for that place. The rooms were beautifully decorated with bouquets of roses and carnations. About thirty young people gathered in response to the invitations extended who spent the evening most enjoyably with games, and also music furnished by different members of the party. Ice cream and cake and salted peanuts were served as refreshment and the Misses Garnet Romans and Jessie Weeks presided over the large bowl of frappe. The party broke up about 12 o'clock. Balloonist was a success. STOUT CITY, July 6.—W. A. Ward, a Sioux City balloonist, met with an accident at Lakeview which may result in his death. His balloon ripped open and he fell 150 feet to the ground. Five thousand people saw him drop. Tornado Did Little Damage. STOUT CITY, July 7.—Latest advices state that the tornado in Gregory county, South Dakota, was directly west of Edgerton, in a practically uninhabited region on the Rosebud Indian reservation, and did very little damage. Shot by Jealous Husband. MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., July 5.—Apparently crazed by needless jealousy, Joseph Royka, a Bohemian, put five bullets into his wife and then instantly killed himself by shooting through the heart. The woman is in a precarious condition. Wanted. Ladies to learn the "Cornwell Tailor System" of dresscutting and sewing. Make you a dressmaker in four weeks or less. Dresses made while you learn. Always in fashion, easy to learn and terms reasonable. Front Basement McKim Hall, 3 to 9 a. m. MRS. R. LEE LABURKE.
