RAINS ON DELEGATES.
Christian Endeavorers at Detroit Cheerful, Though Damp.
SUNSHINE ONLY IN THEIR SOULS.

Not Even a Leaky Tent Can Drown the Spirit of the Occasion—Roar of the Rain Drowns All But Singing—All Join in Favorite Hymns.

DETROIT, July 8.—The mooted question of the number of people brought in to Detroit by the Christian Endeavor convention dropped out at the onset of last night's meeting in Tent Endeavor, when Secretary Baer took occasion to publicly criticize the Detroit newspapers for saying that the influx of delegates from other states was not nearly as great as had been anticipated from the local committee's estimate. The newspapers' estimate of total visitors is 20,000 in round numbers. Mr. Baer denied that anybody connected with Christian Endeavor committees had ever told Detroit people that they had reason to expect 50,000 Endeavorers. At all events, the secretary insisted that the Christian Endeavor tents had never before been so crowded and overflowed at every one of the main meetings.
Bishop D. W. Arnett (colored) presided over Tent Endeavor meetings. The address of the evening was by John Henry Barrows. During its delivery the rain again descended, increasing until the noise on the roof almost drowned the sound of Dr. Barrows' voice and he was compelled to desist. Umbrellas were raised all over the tent, but comparatively few left, and the crowd stayed and sang song after song, overcoming all sounds of the storm, and all idea of increasing discomfort. At length the rain ceased long enough to allow Dr.
Barrows to proceed.

Largely attended evangelical services were held during the noon hour at factories, public squares and wharves throughout the city. The afternoon was given up to conferences in the larger churches.

EDITORS ELECT OFFICERS.
New Orleans Chosen as the Next Meeting Place of the Association.

PORTLAND, Or., July 8.—The National Editorial association yesterday elected the following officers: President R. H.
Henry, Jackson, Miss.; first vice president, Matt Parrott, Waterloo, Ia.; second vice president, F. B. Ballis, Cleburne, Tex.; third vice president, Albert Lazier, Portland; corresponding secretary, J. M. Page, Jerseyville, Ill.; recording secretary, R. W. White, Mexico, Mo.; treasurer, James J. Gibbs, Norwalk, O.

New Orleans was chosen as the place of holding the next annual convention in February.

Severe Storm at Fort Dodge.
FORT DODGE, July 8.—The storm in this vicinity caused considerable damage. The spire of the Sacred Heart Catholic church was struck by lightning and badly shattered and a house in the north part of the city was also struck and damaged. At Tara the storm was accompanied by a severe wind, which worked havoc with several large boarding tents put up for the convenience of the men engaged in the work of constructing the Fort Dodge and Omaha road. The damage was considerable.

Bashor Announces His Candidacy.
SIOUX CITY, July 8.—S. H. Bashor will be presented to the Iowa Democratic convention for the nomination for governor by the Democrats of Blackhawk, his home county. Mr. Bashor, when interviewed, said he was not making a fight for the nomination, but would accept if the party felt that his name would be of any advantage. Bashor is a strong antitrust man and is also opposed to expansion. While Bashor has supported Bryan, it is not believed he would be offensive to the gold men.

Douglas and Harriman to Compete.
LAKE FOREST, Ill., July 8.—The golf championship for 1899 will be won by an eastern man. H. M. Harriman of the Meadowbrook Golf club, of Hampstead, L. I., and the present champion, Findlay S. Douglas, won the semifinals in the amateur golf tournament at On-wentsia yesterday and today will meet in the deciding struggle for the championship.

Hennessy Off for Ireland.
DURQUE, July 8.—Archbishop Hennessy has departed for New York, whence he will sail for Ireland next week with Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia. The journey may be extended to the continent. Archbishop Hennessy, who sustained a stroke of apoplexy some months ago, now has the appearance of vigorous health.

John R. McLean Will Accept.
WASHINGTON, July 8.—John R. Mc-Lean, questioned as to whether he would be a candidate for the Ohio Democratic gubernatorial nomination, made this statement: "If the Democrats of Ohio give me the nomination and my friends ask me to take it, I will accept."

Dollar Dinner at Columbus.
COLUMBUS, July 8.—About 1,000 people attended the dollar dinner given by the Young Men's Democratic club of Columbus in the Auditorium last night.
The chief guest was Colonel W. J.
Bryan.

Harris Beats Hart.
DAVENPORT, July 8.—A 15-round boxing match between Harry Harris and Sig Hart of Chicago last evening before the Tri-City Athletic club was won by Harris, who had the advantage at all times.

Eight Bodies Recovered.
QUINTANA, Tex., July 8.—Eight bodies floated down the river and lodged on the beach and were buried. Four of them were negroes and the other four were a woman and three children.

LINCOLN HAS A BLAZE
Flames Smoulder in Lindell Hotel For Two Hours.

GUESTS OF HOTEL AVOID A PANIC.
All Reach the Streets Without Any Accidents—Ten Thousand Dollars Will Cover the Loss—Drug and Jewelry Store Damaged by Smoke and Water.

LINCOLN, July 8.—Fire starting shortly before 1 o'clock this morning in the basement of the drug store in the Lindell hotel block, for nearly two hours baffled the efforts of the entire department, but was finally controlled at 3 o'clock. Guests of the hotel were marched out in safety. The damage is confined to the flooding of the basement and the wrecking of the drug store stock and that of a jewelry store adjoining. It will amount to about $10,000.

NEBRASKA'S QUOTA.
One Captain, One First and One Second Lieutenant of Volunteers.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—One captain and a first and second lieutenant have been given Nebraska as its quota in offering the regiments provided for by orders of President McKinley. Senator Thurston in consultation with Senator Hayward yesterday presented to Adjutant General Corbin the following names, taken from the efficiency record of the war department: For captain of one of the provisional companies, J. H.
Culver of Milford, who served as captain in Grigsby's regiment of rough riders; for first lieutenant, William S.
Mapes of Nebraska City, and who was major in the Second Nebraska; for second lieutenant, Charles H. Wilson of Omaha, who served as captain in the Second Nebraska.

DISCUSSION OF ARBITRATION Newest Proposal Laid Over to Allow Delegates to Get Instructions.

THE HAGUE, July 8.—The third committee discussed the scheme for mediation and arbitration in convention drawn up by the comite de examine. Many of the delegates have only been acquainted with the proposals since yesterday and they have not had time to consult their governments. Consequently the committee adjourned until Friday, July 14, in order to allow the delegates a week in which to consult their governments and receive final instructions. The scheme is headed "Draft of convention for the pacific settlement of international conflicts." The first part deals with the maintenance of general peace; the second part with arbitration.

LUNA'S SLAYERS ACQUITTED Plead Self-Defense and Go Free—Aguinaldo is Strengthened.

MANILA, July 8.—The trial at Cabanatuan of the slayers of General Luna, the Filipino leader who was assassinated by the guard of Aguinaldo's residence, is ended. The accused were acquitted on the ground of self-defense.
The testimony showed there was a conspiracy upon the part of Luna and other officials to kill Aguinaldo and make Luna dictator.

Luna's death seems to have strengthened Aguinaldo's leadership for the time. Luna's supporters are now outwardly loyal to Aguinaldo.

Lansdowne Introduces Conscription Bill.
LONDON, July 8.—In the house of lords yesterday, the secretary of state for war, the Marquis of Lansdowne, introduced a bill which is considered the entering wedge of conscription, and therefore likely to render the government unpopular. Personally, he said he did not favor conscription, but he thought it "advisable that such a bill should be in readiness if wanted." The liberal peers are attacking the government and asking what need there is of such a measure unless conscription is intended.

Disturbances in Armenia.
LONDON, July 8.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Standard says: The fall of Van, Turkish Armenia, reports an incursion of an armed band of revolutionary Armenians from Persia.
There have been conflicts with the Kurds and Turkish troops, accompanied by desperate fighting. Several persons have been killed.

Milan's Assailant a Fireman.
MILAN, July 8.—The man who attempted to assassinate former King Milan here Thursday evening, firing four shots from a revolver at him and wounding him slightly in the back, is a fireman employed by the municipality.
It is supposed he was hired by an enemy of Milan.

Flood Situation is Improving.
GAINESVILLE, July 8.—The situation in the Brazos valley is rapidly improving.
The river is falling. There is an unconfirmed rumor that five lives were lost near Sartoria, in Fort Bend county.
Relief committees are now well organized.

Cervera is Acquitted.
MADRID, July 8.—Admiral Cervera and the other commanders of the Spanish fleet destroyed in the battle of Santiago, whose conduct has been the subject of inquiry by special court-martial, were yesterday acquitted and formally liberated.

No Word From Otis.
WASHINGTON, July 8.—Adjutant General Corbin says that no word has been had from General Otis for the past two days, whence it is inferred that there has been no fighting and no change in the Philippine situation worthy of report.

Calm in Barcelona.
BARCELONA, July 8.—Order is completely re-established. The tramways are running, the theaters are open and the city has its normal aspect. Those wounded during the disturbances are doing well.

THE HISTORY OF THE WATCH.
By OPIE READ.

[Copyright, 1899, by Opie Read.] Broomberry was on his way down town, intending to get off at the Van Buren street station. Just before reaching that point an acquaintance sat down beside him and began to talk about a murder that had been committed just a year before on the North Side, Chicago. Being a city hall man, Broomberry's acquaintance knew a great deal about the murder. He knew old Kloptock, the victim, and in an exceedingly discreet and unkened voiced manner he intimated to Broomberry that he had a pretty shrewd idea as to who committed the deed.

By this time the train had passed the Van Buren street station—was just pulling out, in fact—and Broomberry, determined not to miss an appointment, jumped off the train. He looked at his watch a minute later and found that in jumping off he had broken the crystal.
He kept his appointment and then stepped into a jeweler's to get a new crystal.

"Where did you get it?" the jeweler asked when, after completing his work, he handed the watch to Broomberry.
"I got it from a friend of mine Why?"
"Nothing. Only you've got a rare watch, not in value, but as to number.
About 30 years ago a company of men built a factory at a little town called Romney, in Massachusetts, and began to manufacture watches; but, as some sort of disaster befell the concern, only three watches were ever completed, and this is one of them."

"You don't say so!" exclaimed Broomberry. "Well, well, and I should not have known of the rarity of my property if I hadn't broken the crystal in jumping off a train this morning!
Do you know what I'm going to do?
I'm going to trace this watch back to the factory if I can, and I'm going to write a description of the hands through which it has passed and make a book of it. Won't that be an odd little volume, 'The History of the Watch'? I am much obliged to you, sir. You've given me an idea, and, to a man who is so unfortunate as to be compelled to make his living by thinking, an idea is almost a necessity. Ah, but pardon me for not answering your question! I got the watch from Henry Lucas; gave him $45 for it about two months ago.
If the history should be interesting enough to print, I'll give you a copy of it. Good day!"

Broomberry called on Henry Lucas.
He found his friend absorbed in the work of "running up" figures in an immense book.
"Ah, Broomberry! Sit down!"
"No. I haven't time. Say, where did you get this watch? Only three of them made and all that sort of thing.
Just want to get the history of it, you know."
"I bought it from a fellow named Martin Kelly."
"Where do you suppose I can find him?"
"He works in the postoffice."
Broomberry went to the postoffice.
He had struck a new line of work and was delighted. Mr. Kelly was easily found.

"I got it from Mark Hammonds," said he.
"The dence you did!" Broomberry exclaimed. "Why, he was the cause of my breaking the crystal this morning.
I was talking to him and passed my station and then had to jump off. I'll go right down to the city hall and see him."
"Where did I get it?" Hammonds replied in a careless sort of a way. "Well, let me see. I got it from J. H. McPeal, a big furniture dealer on the West Side."
"All right. I'll go over there and see him."
The great furniture dealer—a smooth, well fed, baldheaded man—was busy in his office when Broomberry entered.

"Well, sir, what can I do for you?"
"I came to ask you about this," said Broomberry, taking out the watch.
"Don't know anything about it, sir.
Good day!"
"Excuse me," said Broomberry, "but my friend, Mark Hammonds, of the city hall, told me that he got it from you."
"Ah! Let me see it. Yes, that's so," he added, when Broomberry had handed him the watch, and then, with an air of business, as though he had been rather lax with the ethics of trade and must now, as a recovery of principle, make a show of briskness, he asked,
"But what about it, sir—what about it?"
"Nothing. Only I should like to know where you got it."
"Yes, but I am very busy today—exceedingly busy, sir. Can't you call some other time?"
"Oh, of course! But it won't take a minute to tell me where you got it if you know."
"Yes, yes, that's so. But I'm extremely busy. Let me see. We took it in part payment on a lot of furniture —from, let me—Stevens," he called.
A man entered and said, "Yes, sir."
"What's the name of that boarding house woman that couldn't, or rather wouldn't, pay for her furniture in money, and we had to take a watch?
What is her name? Quick! I'm busy."
"Mrs. Caddo, sir; 742 Linnbill street."
"Yes, that's correct. Good day, sir!" Broomberry hastened to the boarding house of Mrs. Caddo. She would have talked an hour about the watch, or by it either. She would have told of the myriad of trials that come to the widowed keeper of a boarding house, and she did tell of a certain harness maker named Sam Haines, who had boarded with her, who was drunk nearly all the time, who positively refused indeed in a most insulting manner to pay his board, but who, after being threatened
