THE DENISON REVIEW

(ESTABLISHED 1864.)

MEYERS & TUCKER, Publishers.
Address all business and correspondence to MEYERS & TUCKER, PUBLISHERS, DENISON IOWA, July 14, 1899.

The Republicans Greeting.

The REVIEW gives greeting to the republicans of Crawford whose representatives will meet here in convention tomorrow. It means something to be a republican in this democratic county. It means that one cares more for principle than for the loaves and fishes of public office. It means that for the sake of what these republicans consider the cause of good government they are willing to be to a large extent disenfranchised in county affairs. Despite these facts the republican party in Crawford has been making a steady growth during the past few years. The utter inadequacy of democracy during the Cleveland administration, the prosperity which has come with the McKinley administration, the wild and untenable theories of Bryan and his ilk have all contributed to the increase of the republican vote. Even the treachery of those formerly high in the party councils has reacted and is helping the republican cause.

There is but one thing which can retard this steady growth and that is divisive strife in our own ranks. Let us remember first, last, and all the time that we are republicans, that the party does not exist simply to gratify personal ambitions or prejudices. That it is a great living principle we are fighting for, not personal aggrandizement. He serves himself the most who serves himself the least. To "make ones influence felt" is not the highest standard of party fealty.

We feel that these words of advice are to a great extent unnecessary. We feel that the republicans have too sound a judgment to make the party a vehicle for the furtherance of personal likes or dislikes. We feel that they know that success depends as much upon the loyalty and zeal of the republicans of one part of the county as another.

The REVIEW has no enmity toward any republican in Crawford county, it is gladly willing to support any candidate whom the party in its wisdom may see fit to nominate. The REVIEW never scratches its ticket, never bolts, never damns by faint praise, never makes anything but the best kind of a straightforward contest it knows how. The REVIEW endeavors to confine its work to the principles of republicanism—the larger, broader issues upon which all can unite, and to leave matters within the party to settlement by the party without endeavoring through its columns to influence the decision in favor of any man or set of men. In doing this we reserve however the personal right as a republican to think as we deem best on party questions, a right which should be cheerfully accorded to every man.

The REVIEW congratulates the republicans of Crawford upon the splendid, brainy men who are included in its ranks, it congratulates the party upon the earnest, struggle it has made against odds for so many years, it congratulates the party upon the fact that the carrying out of its principles has brought prosperity and blessings to the nation, and it congratulates the party in Crawford more particularly upon the fact that it has given to the state and nation one of its brainiest and most able statesmen in the person of Governor L. M. Shaw. He has proven himself one of the very best of Iowa's illustrious governors, his name and fame have spread throughout the nation. In honoring him we but honor ourselves. There is nothing within the gift of the people too good for him. We are firmly convinced that his political career has but just begun. That other and greater honors are in store for him. He is the kind of man the people want and the people have a habit of getting what they want in the long run. Crawford county republicans should be extremely careful to do nothing which will put a straw in the way of his advancement. We do not know what even the near future may have for him. Let us keep ourselves in readiness to assist him heart and soul as we did in 1897. That he will be renominated is beyond question, his record as governor has assured him this, we want to do nothing to prevent his having the largest majority ever given a candidate for governor. Let us act with this end in view and with a further eye to those contingencies of fate which may mean even greater things for him and for Crawford county.

Whether United States senators should be elected by direct vote of the people is still an open question. At present they are elected by the representatives and senators in the state legislature. It seems to us that the best way to help any Senatorial candidate is to follow the old formula for a rabbit stew—first catch your representative.

Reassured.

They had been married seven years. The doctor had been called in and pronounced him a very sick man. As his wife entered the room after the doctor's last visit he called her to his bedside, and in a tremulous voice he remarked:

"Darling, I am going."
Leaning over him, she stroked his head gently and reminiscently replied:
"Cheer up, Clarence! That remark assures me that you will live. Don't you remember how often you said that during our courting days and how persistently you didn't go?"—Boston Courier.

NEWS OF WEST SIDE

Mrs. O. H. Kruse visited friends in Vail Wednesday.

E. J. Dannatt made a business trip to Carroll Tuesday.

F. J. Gary and son are home from their Chicago trip.

Geo. Buck and family were Lake Wood visitors this week.

Night operator W. W. Cummings was a Carroll visitor Wednesday.

Mrs. Thos. Buton left Wednesday evening for a few days visit in Boone.

A. P. Fellingham is home from a two weeks visit in Illinois and eastern Iowa.

H. B. Evison of Lake View was visiting his parents and looking after business matters here Wednesday.

Joe McConnell, brakeman on the west way freight, was taken sick at Logan Wednesday and was brought home on No. 18. He is reported some better at present.

Editor F. J. Herre and children returned last evening from Fremont, Neb., where they were called by the dangerous illness of Mr. Herre's father, who, at last accounts was much better.

The following resolutions were adopted by the Myrtle-Capitol Lodge K. of P. at Des Moines and go to show how Ben Salinger is liked in that locality:

"Castle Hall, Myrtle Lodge No. 9, Knights of Pythias. Whereas, the Hon. B. I. Salinger is a candidate for the office of grand chancellor of the order of Knights of Pythias of the domain of Iowa. And whereas Bro. Salinger's training as a lawyer, his ability as a presiding officer, his knowledge of Pythian affairs and unswerving loyalty to the principles of Pythianism, eminently fit him for the highest office within the gift of the Pythians of Iowa. Therefore be it resolved by the Myrtle-Capitol Lodge No. 9, Knights of Pythias, that we tender to Bro. Salinger the unanimous support of this lodge and that our delegates be instructed to use all honorable methods to secure his unanimous election as grand chancellor at the coming grand lodge convention, to be held at Davenport, August 9, 1899. Resolved further, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to Bro. Salinger, and that the same be spread upon the records of this lodge."

Gov. Shaw is becoming more prominently mentioned every day as a senatorial possibility. While there is the remotest possibility of his being in the race Crawford county republicans should do nothing which would tend to destroy their usefulness to him in case he should be a candidate.

Convention tomorrow.

GREATER AMERICA MIDWAY.

Some of the New and Interesting Amusement Attractions Planned.

The Greater America Exposition and the first colonial exhibition ever held in America, is a fact accomplished in connection with which Omaha citizens for the coming four months will show to the world the magnitude of the western metropolis by a glorification which is planned to be, and will, with scarcely a doubt, prove one of the greatest the United States has witnessed.

By the aid of new ideas and the combined experience of the highest order of brain a revelation distinctly its own is shown in the Greater America Exposition. In proportion to its size, covering 200 acres of ground, and an outlay of $2,000,000, it may be said that it is one of the most complete and symmetrical expositions that the world has ever seen, and indicates the development and rapid march yet comparatively new to eastern conquest and commerce.

Above the entrance to the Greater Midway of the Greater America Exposition at Omaha, should be written this legend: "Leave care behind, all ye who enter here." It is to laugh and you do laugh, and over it all will be that charm and fascination which always attaches to that peculiar amusement adjunct of every great exposition, that nineteenth century place of laughter, known as "The Midway."

Showmen from all over the country are here, coming with attractions that are not only new in this section, but to the people of the civilized world generally.

Last year the Old Plantation, with its darkies from the south, was voted a popular feature. This show is again at Omaha this year, but greatly enlarged. Manager McConnell spent a portion of his time last winter working up features and has a new troupe in the theater, which will include the Wallace sisters of Atlanta, Ga., who starred a number of years with the Black Patti Co. He has added many new ones, so that he feels that he has an unusual strong company. The theater has been rebuilt and is much larger and better furnished than last season. In the village there are a number of log huts, brought from the south, and occupied by colored people from mountain districts of Alabama and the swamps of Mississippi, the desire being to show these men and women in comparatively primitive state.

They had been married seven years. The doctor had been called in and pronounced him a very sick man. As his wife entered the room after the doctor's last visit he called her to his bedside, and in a tremulous voice he remarked:

"Darling, I am going."
Leaning over him, she stroked his head gently and reminiscently replied:

IOWA'S NEW RAILROAD.

The Proposed Marshalltown and Dakota Road to Be Built at Once.

PORT DODGE, Ia., July 14.—Condemnation proceedings have been commenced in the neighborhood of Gowrie for the right of way for the Marshalltown and Dakota railroad. This is significant, in that it means that the branch of the line between Gowrie and Frazier is to be built at once. S. T. Meserve of this city, treasurer of the road, was seen here yesterday and gave out that the work of construction was to commence at once and that the line between Gowrie and Frazier would be in operation by Oct. 1.

Mr. Meserve further said that the effect of the road was to open an outlet to the Frazier coal fields and that the road would be entirely independent of the Iowa Central. Next year the company expects to extend to Storey City and west to some point in northern Dakota.

mad staggers from over feeding. DUBUQUE, Ia., July 14.—Dr. Gibson, state veterinarian, was here yesterday and visited the farmers whose stock is supposed to have been affected with rabies. He pronounced the disease to be mad staggers, which has symptoms closely resembling hydrophobia. It is caused by too heavy grass feeding.

The Los Angeles chamber of commerce will protest vigorously against the proposed 20 per cent reduction in tariff rates on citrus fruits from Jamaica.

Mrs. Solomon Thacher, Jr., who was the acknowledged leader of the board of lady managers of the World's fair, died Thursday at Chicago of heart failure.

At the meeting of the Retail Furniture Dealers' association at Chicago Thursday the action of manufacturers who sell at retail, was roundly denounced.

Third Assistant Postmaster General Madden has made a ruling permitting the enclosure of coin receptacles for subscription purposes with all second and third class mail matter.

The Iron Molders' union of North America has taken the first step toward establishing a higher grade of work in their trade by providing for assisting apprentices in foundries to attend technical schools.

The officers of the American Tin Plate company and the wage committees of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers agreed on a scale Thursday granting a straight increase of 15 per cent July 1.

In response to a call issued in the Ohio Volks Zeitung, a Democratic newspaper, a meeting was held at Canton, O., last night and resolutions adopted declaring against the war in the Philippines and any alliance with Great Britain.

Sly Old Commodore.

"When Commodore Vanderbilt was alive," says a New York Central official, "the board of directors of the New York Central used to find their work all cut out for them when they met. All they had to do was to ratify his plans and adjourn. Yet they had their uses. Occasionally a man would come to him with some scheme which he did not care to refuse outright."

"My directors are a difficult body of men to handle," he would say. "I'll submit it to 'em, but I warn you that they are hard to manage."

"The matter would be submitted to the board when it assembled and promptly rejected."

"There," the commodore would say when his visitor came to learn the result. "I did the best I could, but I told you in advance that my directors were an obstinate lot."—New York Herald.

CORN AND WHEAT DECLINE.

Heavy Grain Offerings From Russia and Crop Prospects the Cause.
