The street sprinkler was started up Monday, much to the satisfaction of all. The dust of last week was very disagreeable and our merchants have decided to hire Mr. Green McAhren to run his street sprinkler the remainder of the season. This means an outlay of $20.00 per week, but insures keeping down of the dust.

Denison is about to be worked by a gentleman representing the American Magazine of St. Paul. As far as we can learn the magazine is almost wholly devoted to advertising, and goes chiefly to those who advertise. Denison can better afford to advertise itself by internal improvements and supporting home institutions than by blowing itself for a magazine write up.

Hill & Son are moving their marble works across the street opposite the Baptist parsonage. The move was made necessary by the purchase of a lot by Mr. Wilcox. The store building occupied by H. F. Hodges overlapped this lot so as to necessitate its removal to the present site of the marble works. Every deal in Denison real estate makes a whole series of changes.

K. A. Patrick, formerly a resident of western Crawford, was in Denison today. He said he was disappointed in our business streets. Denison needs a building boom in its business houses, and needs it badly. We suppose everyone has his private reasons for not building this year, but the total business of the town would be largely increased if we had suitable buildings.

Miss Carrie Warbasse and Miss Emma Ivens had an exciting episode on Wall Lake Saturday night. They were out rowing when the big storm came up and lost control of their boat. The boat drifted to shore and they attempted to land but fell back into the lake several times before accomplishing it. They were thoroughly wet through before reaching their cottage.

Our Methodist friends will begin canvassing this week to see who will throw open their homes and entertain the visiting clergy during conference time. Our people will doubtless feel the responsibility they are under to give the clergy the best kind of treatment. Only three weeks remain. Let everyone respond willingly and let every householder set his place in order so that Denison may in general cleanliness and good appearance live up to the high reputation it already sustains.

The Milwaukee railroad company ran an excursion to Sioux City and Riverside Park on last Sunday. The special trains started as far east as Perry, Ia. and north and west from out beyond Mitchell, S. D. The Denison band boarded the train at Arion and furnished music on the way up to the Park at Charter Oak some 150 tickets were sold. A number of the Charter Oak band boys joined the Denison band, thereby making a band of 25 pieces. Arriving at Sioux City the Crawford county excursionists were met by the Park commissioners who accorded the band all the privileges of the grounds. After dinner the boys gave a concert in the grand stand which was very much appreciated as shown by the applause received. Riverside Park is a beautiful resort with every facility for handling large crowds; an abundance of shade and amusement for all. The Milwaukee company is certainly to be commended upon the able manner in which the people were handled. There were fifteen trains in all, each train carrying eight to ten coaches. (The Sioux City Journal says, "The Denison band was with the crowd. This is an excellent aggregation of musicians and the Denison people are proud of them.")

HELD TO GRAND JURY.

Rooney and Queenan Held Under $200 Bond Each on Charge of Robbery.

Frank Rooney and Jno. Queenan, both of Omaha, were held to await the action of the grand jury by Justice Gulick yesterday. The charge against them is the serious one of robbery and their bond has been fixed at $200 each. The trial began Saturday and ended Monday afternoon. The state's story of the alleged offense is as follows: A section man named Richner left Aspinwall last week, drawing $39; he went to Arion, then to Vail, returning to Arion Thursday afternoon. In Arion he went at once to the saloon and met defendants with whom he became friendly, treating them a number of times and getting pretty drunk himself. He says that in the evening the three started to beat their way to Denison and got into an empty car on the local freight. When nearing Denison Richner claims that his companions attacked him, taking him by the throat, going through his pockets, hitting him a blow on the ear and then jumping out of the car. As soon as he reached Denison he called for an officer and had soon told his story to Deputy Sheriff Cummings. Sheriff Bell was going through on the Colorado Special and he was notified so that in a few moments the authorities at Arion were notified in time to arrest two men who would doubtless be found walking the North-western track into Arion. A party proceeded east of Arion and soon after eleven o'clock on came the men and they were promptly arrested. The story of the defense is that Richner met the men in the saloon and that he struck up the acquaintance, spending money freely and getting drunk. Rooney states that they helped the man to the depot platform and left him there as they were anxious to be rid of him. They account for their absence from Arion in the evening by saying they went down the track to enjoy a half pint of whiskey together, and claim that Richner spent his money for drink and then attempted to charge them with crime in order to account for his lost dollars. Taken in all it is a bad piece of business for all three men. The case was well fought and was quite exciting. A number of interested Arion people attended the trial as witnesses. We think Justice Gulick did right to hold the men.

FROM SICK BED TO PRISON.

Dan Oakley Taken by Officers for Crime Committed in Linn County.

On Saturday officers from Linn county came here and arrested Dan Oakley for a crime committed two years ago in Marion. Oakley was the workman for the bridge gang who had such a narrow escape from death a few days ago. An account of the accident was published in the REVIEW and copied in other Denison papers and it was doubtless the publication of his name which caused his recent arrest. Oakley is wanted for burglary from a ware house some two years ago. It seems too bad that an injured man should be taken from his bed of suffering to be cast into prison, but the wages of sin are always hard to pay.

MAYOR KEMMING RETURNED.

Mayor Kemming and family returned last night from Oklahoma where they have been visiting Mrs. Kemming's father, Mr. J. H. Clough, and her brother, Frank, and sister, Nettie. They report that it is hot down there, 109 degrees in the shade. They say the Cloughs are nicely located on a ranch five miles from Woodward and are doing well. Frank is still on the road but gets home over Sunday. They had an enjoyable trip but say they saw no country nicer than good old Crawford.

It is reported that the Illinois Central men in digging a well in west Denison have struck a veritable artesian well from which it has been so far impossible to stop the flow of water.

The Northwestern now has men at work widening and straightening the main line through Denison. The new main line will run some fifteen feet south of the present track.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Miller are expected to arrive today from California. Mr. Miller will spend some time looking after his property interests here and will make this his headquarters in visiting friends about the state.

Mr. E. C. Chamberlain has made an addition to the equipment of his jewelry store by the purchase of a high power polisher and lathe. This enables him to give articles a beautiful polish quite impossible by the old methods. Chamberlain is always up to date and on the lookout for things to please his customers.

He caught a bad cold soon after leaving Denison from the effects of which he has not recovered. Many friends will be glad to see them back but will be sorry to learn that Mr. Conner's health is not improved.

The reception given on last Friday afternoon by Mrs. Isaac Gillmor and Misses Gillmor in honor of Mrs. H. V. Fallor proved a very delightful affair. The parlor handsomely decorated with bright golden rod presented a pretty scene as the ladies came and went between the hours of two and six o'clock. The guests were admitted and directed to the dressing rooms by Miss Mary Shaw Van. In a much frequented corner of the reception hall Miss Agnes King assisted by Miss Helen Garber dispensed a delicious frappe. At Mrs. W. F. Goude's invitation the guests went to the dining room which was beautified by a profusion of sweet peas, and here they were served to a delicious lunch by Misses Garnett Romans, Grace Temple, Jessie Weeks, Beatrice Kirkup and Zella Hardy.
