THE HENDERSON MEETING.

The Next Speaker of the House Arouses Great Enthusiasm.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather on Tuesday evening a good house greeted the next speaker of the House, Col. D. B. Henderson. Promptly at eight o'clock the speaker was introduced by Judge J. P. Conner, and launched forth into one of the nearest little speeches delivered from the platform this fall. The Col. captured the audience at once by his easy manner of talking and made them feel as though they were in the parlor at home and he was entertaining them. He said he would not take up any time on the financial question, but would talk awhile on what the democrats considered a serious blunder—the war in the Philippines. The speaker started with the war with Spain, telling how the United States had taken up the cause of humanity; told of the horrible condition of the Cubans under Spanish rule; how the old people, women and children were gathered in pens and persecuted even unto death; how President McKinley had used every possible means to avert the war and when at last war seemed inevitable, called on Congress for $50,000,000 with which to prepare for war.

He told of the war department cabling across to George Dewey, telling him that war had been declared with Spain and requesting him to find the Spanish fleet in that vicinity and capture or sink it. Then how Dewey went ahead and—you all know what Dewey did.

Mr. Henderson spoke at some length on the fact that the war was not waged as a land grabbing scheme, and took occasion to answer a little question asked by Charles Towne as to who started the war with the Philippines. His answer was taken from the records on file in the war department at Washington and was to the effect that a sentinel was posted on the outer lines and was confronted by four of the insurgents, and like every true American soldier on picket duty recognized no one until the proper password had been given. The Philippines utterly ignored his command to "Halt! Who goes there?", although the question was twice asked, whereupon the sentinel shot the foremost dead in his tracks. The speaker was applauded time and again and we feel sure his talk will be the means of doing much good.

"OUR CANDIDATES."

Under this caption the Vail Observer has the following to say regarding the two candidates from the east end:

C. E. Price, candidate for county treasurer on the republican ticket, was born in Berkeley county, Va., June 5, 1853, and came to Iowa in 1873. By referring to the first copy of the Observer printed, we read his ad, find him in Vail in 1878 engaged in the implement business and enjoying a good trade as did all who came to this lively little city in early days. In the year 1880 he was instrumental in establishing the Traders Bank, which institution is one of the strongest of the county today. Mr. Price has since, up to the time he sold to the McHenrys, been cashier of this bank and in these years has served the people to their entire satisfaction. He is a thorough business man and while always strict in business transactions, he did it in a way that no one could take offense. Mr. Price has made innumerable friends during his stay in the county, and is universally liked wherever known, and would, if elected, make one of the best officers any county ever had.

J. R. Brockelsby, republican candidate for supervisor, came to this country when a young man and has lived here the most of his life. He arrived in this country on the day of President Grant's first inauguration in 1869, settled in Clinton county, moving to this county in 1874, settling in Hays township, where he has since resided. Mr. Brockelsby is a man that has held positions of honor and trust in his township and has always given entire satisfaction and is today a good man in every respect, honest and conscientious. To the office of supervisor he would, if elected, make a splendid official. He has a host of warm friends in this end of the county and would look well to its interests if given the opportunity.

We give the above without asking anyone to vote for them unless your conscience will be clear to let you do so. But we will say that we believe a vote for these men, whom we know so well would not be thrown away.

Dr. J. J. McWILLIAMS is a man among men. He can accomplish something for Crawford county. Vote for him for Representative.

GOODRICH GOSSIP.

C. E. Gillett finished his term of school in District No. 1 on Sept. 25.

Why is it that they pay more for hogs and grain in Deloit than in Denison?

Mr. Brink, father of Mrs. Elmer Crizan, visited at her home a few days last week.

Steve Newton is getting lumber on the ground for the construction of a new house.

Anderson Bros. have just finished threshing for B. Boysen, whose grain yielded well.

H. Wocok, our roadmaster, is working diligently on the roads, which lead into the city of Deloit.

E. Fink and wife were up looking after his farm, and made a pleasant call at M. Ainsworth's on their return trip.

James McKim has about completed his barn, and now that it is painted it adds much to the appearance of his place.

We forgot to mention in our last correspondence that Mr. Preston, of Des Moines, was the guest of H. N. Snell for a few days.

H. Johnston and family have taken their departure overland for Nebraska for the home of his wife's father, a part of whose farm Henry will work next season. We wish him success.

Mrs. J. C. Phillips and Miss Florence Prentice were off for Omaha bright and early Friday morning where they will remain a few days viewing the sights.

We are glad to hear of the safe arrival of the 51st Iowa in San Francisco. We are especially interested in our Goodrich soldier boy, Chas. Cramer, whom we hope soon to see.

How Deloit grows! Buildings are being moved into the new town from Denison and old Deloit. We have reference to the old Barney Robbinault house which was loaded on a flat car and hauled to Deloit by the I. C. for a section house. The post-office is also on the move.

HAPPENINGS AT VAIL.

Sam O'Hare spent Thursday at Dow City.

M. M. McAlpin was up from Denison Wednesday.

Will Crampton has accepted a position as helper at the depot.

Mrs. S. Hulce is here from Dunlap visiting her sons, Leu and Mart.

Father Murphy was a visitor at Grand Junction the fore part of the week.

Henry Mitchell, the genial Green Bay Lumber man, was a county seat visitor Wednesday.

Mrs. S. Keith and daughter, Mrs. Easterly, of Clinton are visitors at the T. W. Butler home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Moseled left Wednesday for their home at Centerville, S. D., after a week's visit with Vail relatives and friends.

August Myers and wife left Thursday for California where they will spend the winter. The best wishes of many friends go with them.

John Quirk was quite severely hurt Wednesday by a fall from a porch where he was placing some spouting. At this writing he is doing nicely although badly bruised.

NEWS OF WEST SIDE

Miss Annie Woolhiser left Monday for a visit among friends in the east.

Mrs. F. J. Gary and daughter, Beatrice, visited the past week with relatives in Omana.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Greeves celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary in a very appropriate manner last Wednesday evening.

Engineer David Walker is busy this week moving into R. C. Kracht's new building. This will make the family a very pleasant home when they get settled.

Hon. J. F. Grote, Hans Suhr, Geo. E. Spottswood, Rev. W. A. Richards and S. C. Blackman went to Denison Tuesday evening and listened to a very able speech by Col. Henderson.

West Side is to have another hotel in the near future. G. S. Lovelady will be the proprietor. He has purchased of Gustav Gradert the hotel property now used by F. J. Herre as a barber shop, printing office and dwelling.

A hay stack belonging to Ole Carlson caught fire in some way Monday and upon an alarm being turned in, the firemen were at the scene in a short time. The fire however was well under control before their arrival.

ALL ABOUT DELOIT.

A physician was called Sunday night to visit Esau McKim, who had heart trouble but is again feeling as well as usual.

The government having offered no objection to Postmaster Horr's selection for the new postoffice site, he is moving his building to the east side of the original town next to the new addition, and a little over two blocks west of the C. & N. W. depot. This will be central for all interests, being at the junction of the streets leading to the two depots, and it is believed will give general satisfaction. It will be a relief when the controversy over the postoffice site is settled.

CHARTER OAK CHATS

L. E. Goodwin made a business trip to Dunlap Tuesday.
