Dr. Evans, of Arion, was in Denison between trains Wednesday.

R. A. Romans was a business caller at Charter Oak Wednesday.

Attorney Saul, of Carroll, visited Denison friends on Wednesday.

Prof. F. W. Eastman went to Omaha this afternoon for a business trip.

Fred Benning, of Charter Oak, was in our city on business last Tuesday.

Vernon Myers is nursing a sore foot, resulting from a fall on a scraper.

Miss Helen Baird, of Dunlap, spent Tuesday evening with Denison friends.

Miss Maude Paine, of Vail, spent Tuesday with her friend, Miss Edith Burk.

Mrs. Charles F. Cassaday spent Thanksgiving Day with Dow City relatives.

F. O. Bushnell of Omaha spent Thanksgiving with his brother, C. A. Bushnell.

Mr. E. Christy will move into the Simmons residence in south Denison next week.

L. D. Vassar went up to West Side Wednesday evening, returning Thursday morning.

Miss Brown went to her home in Maullia Wednesday afternoon to spend Thanksgiving.

Miss Maud Dixon and the Misses Bryan spent Thanksgiving at their homes on Paradise.

Miss Nettie Jordan, of Paradise, visited with old friends and relatives a few days this week.

On account of the weather the football game between Denison College and Sac City was called off.

Jim Dowling returned Saturday from Crestee Butte, Colo., after an absence of some six months.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gould spent Thanksgiving Day with their daughter, Mrs. J. Mills, at Charter Oak.

Chas. Morris, who has been working the past few weeks at Mason City, came home to eat Thanksgiving dinner.

The REVIEW contains a correspondence from Manilla in this issue. It will be a regular feature hereafter.

Mr. E. F. Wilson has returned from Cedar Falls. We understand that he has accepted a position in Des Moines.

Mr. Chas. Tabor left on Wednesday for a two weeks visit with his mother, Mrs. C. C. Tabor in Independence, Ia.

Mr. F. G. Pratt, of Carroll, was in Denison last Tuesday visiting his brother, who is now the foreman of the Bulletin office.

C. H. Galbreath and daughter, Stella, spent their Thanksgiving at the home of Mrs. Strohmeier, of Mapleton. They will return Sunday.

W. W. Cushman left this week for another land prospecting tour in Minnesota and North Dakota. He expects to be gone several days.

Morris Stern was in Chicago this week on a business mission. The Stern boys are gentlemanly men and are making many friends in Denison.

Mr. Ross Masters has resigned his position in the Denison Normal College and has accepted a professorship in Seio College, Ohio. This is the college of which Mr. Masters is a graduate. We wish him success in his new work.

Iowa University wound up its successful football season by administering a terrific defeat to the Illinois University team yesterday. The score was 58 to 0. During the entire season no team has been able to get the ball over Iowa University's goal line.

At the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening there will be held a Gospel Praise service with the subject "Thanksgiving." All are cordially invited. The pastor, Rev. Martyn, has returned from his visit at Iowa City and will preach in the morning.

Our implement man, John Tamm, has torn down his old ware house and will soon commence the erection of a new building. His business has increased to such proportions as to demand a larger and better building. The new structure will be 40x64 feet, two stories high. John is to be congratulated upon his success.

BLOODY ENCOUNTER.

Schleswig the Scene of a Serious Stabbing Scrape.

ONE VICTIM MAY DIE.

Knives Freely Used With Fearful Execution—Day Closes With a Holdup.

Special to the Rev. w. Schleswig, Nov. 30: This place was the scene of a fierce and bloody fight on yesterday afternoon, between the Mayne brothers living about six miles northeast of Schleswig and Pat McDonough and Pete Gilmore, two members of Brennan & Son's steel gang. As a result, the two railroaders are now in the hospital at Carroll suffering from frightful wounds, and one of them McDonough is not expected to live.

The fight had its origin in an altercation between the Mayne boys and the foreman of the steel gang. They were in a saloon and decided to flip nickels for the drinks. One of the Maynes lost but kept the money and refused to set up the drinks. This made the foreman mad and he started to the tracks stating that he would bring up a crowd and clean out the saloon. The Mayne boys were looking for trouble and were apparently rejoiced at the prospect. Soon after Pat McDonough and Pete Gilmore, both well loaded with liquor, started to look for the Mayne boys.

They stopped at Pohlmann's saloon and tried to pick a fight with some one. Pohlmann succeeded in getting the crowd out and in locking the doors. Pat and Pete then went to Leopold's saloon where the Mayne boys were. On entering they greeted Jim Mayne with an oath and the trouble at once began. The railroaders were badly worsted as the Mayne boys used their knives freely and the saloon soon looked like a slaughter house. The railroaders had no weapons and the fight was a one sided affair, but while it lasted it was one of the fiercest and bloodiest encounters ever witnessed.

As soon as the fighting was over the wounded men were taken to Haerling & Walters' drug store, where Dr. Drescher dressed the wounds.

On examining the wounds it was found that Gilmore's throat was cut from the back of the neck to a point near the chin, barely missing the jugular vein, and that his face was slashed from ear to mouth, McDonough received an ugly gash in the abdomen, through which the intestines protruded. His hand was also badly cut. After their wounds were sewed, they were taken on a special train to the hospital at Carroll from whence comes the report today that McDonough is in a critical condition.

Jim Mayne was slightly cut on the hand by broken glass. He came to the drug store for assistance. On seeing his nearly murdered victims, one sitting on a chair with blood dropping from his head to the floor, the other lying on an improvised cot with blood streaming from his wounds, he stood cursing, damning and threatening them and it was with much difficulty that he was kept from completing his bloody work. The Mayne's left town in time to escape the wrath of the steel gang, who soon gathered, for the purpose of hunting them down. Had they been captured it is highly probable that a lynching would have followed. No arrests have been made and it is reported that Arthur Mayne has left for parts unknown.

All the men were under the influence of liquor, and Schleswig has no peace officer to maintain order.

In the evening another occurrence happened as a fit closing of the day. The night operator at the Northwestern station was held up by unknown parties and robbed of a small sum, about $11.00. Schleswig is a hot town a present.

SHORT, BUT SWEET.

FRIEND MEYERS: I send you $2.00 for THE REVIEW. We can't keep house without it. Very respectfully, JAS. R. SMITH, Iowa Falls.

Since the removal of the Northwestern depot one block to the west of its old location the council should see to it that an arc light is placed somewhere near the new location. At present the approach to the depot is pitch dark just at the time when the important trains are leaving. It is probable that the new depot will not be occupied until the first of February and a new arc light is an absolute necessity.

On last evening a number of young people gathered at the City Hall and spent a very enjoyable evening. The party was to be a search party, the ladies were to hide in some public building and the young men to search for them and when found were to adjourn to the City Hall for the remainder of the evening, but as the young men did not find the ladies as soon as was expected and as their hiding place was a little gloomy their fear got the better of them and they adjourned to the hall where the young men found them. The evening was spent with amusing games and music. A delightful lunch was served by the ladies about eleven o'clock after which the merry party dispersed.

The Max Bendix Concert Company tomorrow night.

Dr. John Osborne of Manning was in Denison yesterday.

Old Boreas has drawn first blood on the fair face of fall.

Mr. T. W. Harker left this afternoon for a visit in Charter Oak.

Hon. Carl F. Kuehnie is in Chicago attending to business matters.

Alf. Wright is at Logan this afternoon on business matters.

Miss Jessie Goodrich spent Thanksgiving Day with friends at Dow City.

Mrs. R. L. Hill returned last evening from a visit at Shenandoah, Iowa.

Miss Maude Hunter ate Turkey under the parental roof at Dunlap yesterday.

Miss Bessie Robertson partook of turkey with her parents in Dow City yesterday.

Clyde James returned to Woodbine to-day after spending Thanksgiving in Denison.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Oswald went to Dunlap yesterday to spend the holiday with friends.

Prof. Van Ness and Holmes went to Carroll this afternoon to attend the teachers' meeting.

Mrs. Eugene Gulick took the afternoon train for Des Moines where she will visit a few days.

The REVIEW's correspondence columns are the best in the county and we intend to keep them so.

Mrs. O. B. Rhodes and Miss Bessie Simmons left this afternoon for Omaha where they will spend the winter.

Mr. Chas. K. Meyers returned this afternoon to his home in Mason City, after a day's visit with his brother.

Mrs. Alice Johnson who has been visiting with Mrs. J. J. Bailey returned this afternoon to her home in Woodbine.

Will Dawes of Chicago spent Thanksgiving in Denison. He is employed with the Adams Express Co., and likes his work.

Among our farmers one cause for thanksgiving was that Thanksgiving Day and its snow storm did not come a month earlier.

As the turkey would not come to the editor, the editor went to the turkey. It was located at Postmaster Boynton's and was a fine bird and finely roasted.

John L'ngle met with a painful accident while working in the Central's yards this morning. A heavy timber fell on his hand crushing it quite severely.

Regular meeting of M. W. A. No. 315 next Thursday night. This will be a very important meeting and every member of the order is requested to be present.

Denison was very quiet yesterday. Thanksgiving being generally observed. There were a great many dinner parties and the destruction of poultry was great.

Miss Terry has returned to Chicago until after the holidays on account of her health. Miss Baird, of Dunlap, is taking care of her class at the college and in the schools during her absence.

H. W. Boeck, wife and son and Wm. Suckstorf and wife and daughter returned from Davenport Wednesday morning, where they have been visiting with relatives and friends the past two weeks.

The first copy of the Crawford County Herald is at hand. It is a very creditable edition with lots of news in it. If Dell keeps it up he will either make a great success or go broke. We hope it will be the former.

On Tuesday evening a farewell reception was tendered Professor and Mrs. Masters prior to their leaving Denison. The evening was most pleasantly spent and many were the kind wishes expressed for the professor's future welfare.

The union Thanksgiving services were held at the Methodist church, but owing to the bad weather the congregation was not as large as usual on such occasions. Rev. A. G. Martyn preached a masterly sermon well worth the hearing. Special music was given by a union choir.

The Arion assault case was on trial before Justice Gulick on Wednesday, and has been adjourned until Monday. Nearly all of the testimony for the state has been heard. Attorney Travers, of Dunlap, appears for the defense and Ex-County Attorney Shaw Van for the prosecution.

We believe the REVIEW has fully proven its ability to take care of itself in the exigencies of newspaper warfare. We have not seen a new light, nor have we grown weary of the fray, but we have decided that no more personalities shall appear in the REVIEW until after the normal school proposition is settled. We do this in the interests of harmony. If you wish to keep it up, gentlemen, you are at liberty to do so but the REVIEW will absolutely keep silence until the normal matter is settled. We cannot afford to continue divisive strife while the very future of Denison is at stake.

Pay For-Pays You

It is not what you pay for a pair of Shoes or Rubbers, but what they pay you. Did you ever think of it in that way—well, it's a fact. It makes no difference if you pay $10 for a pair of Shoes if the shoes pay you that amount. But you certainly have a complaint to make if you buy a shoe for 98c and only get 50c worth of wear. Now the next time you want a pair of Shoes or Rubbers come in and let us give you a pair you will get full value in. That is the kind we sell—No Shoddy Shoes sold at

Kelly's Shoe Store.
