The Trinity Guild will meet with Mrs. J. B. Romans on Thursday afternoon, when a pleasant and profitable time is expected.

Reserved seats for Carleton lecture at Johnson's store, Saturday, March 16. The same method of reserving seats will be used as with the lecture course.

Mrs. Dennis Keane, a sister of Mrs. John Kelly and Mrs. Thos. McCarthy, Sr., is reported as being seriously sick at her home in Nishnabotny township.

Prof. Frank L. Hoffman and wife of West Side attended the teachers' meeting Saturday, Mr. Hoffman taking part in the program by giving a very interesting paper.

Sime Bros. furnished the dress suits in which the college boys are to shine resplendent during their concert tour. The boys say the suits are dandies and are much pleased with them.

The Hub has a new ad this week. Mr. Petersen has been doing a good business this winter and now has his store brim full of new and fashionable clothing for the spring trade.

J. P. Miller & Co. have added to their fine display windows a handsome new one between the two store fronts on Main street. It will make a handsome display for their millinery department.

Mr. F. D. Jeffries of Clarinda is visiting Denison and is much pleased with our city. He tells us that Rev. Ilgen Fritz is proving to be one of the most popular ministers Clarinda has ever had.

T. H. Lewis and A. J. Lewis returned to Glidden yesterday after a week's visit with their brother J. J. Lewis. His oldest son, David S. Lewis, and family of Scranton also returned home Monday.

Mr. C. G. F. Larson of Willow township was in Denison yesterday making certain extraordinary preparations which would tend to point to the fact that one of Willows fair daughters is about to be made glad.

Sarachon Sisters have returned from Chicago and will soon be ready for their millinery opening. These ladies deserve success for their hard and faithful work and should have a liberal share of your patronage.

The Monitor announces that Attorney T. H. Boylan is soon to leave Manning and enter a partnership with John H. Mosier at Audubon. Mr. Boylan is well known in Denison and is a bright and capable young lawyer. We wish him success.

The Deloit News makes its first appearance on our table today. It is a bright looking paper. The editor, Mr. George L. Nelson, announces that its columns are to be devoted to news, and that while he himself is a republican, he shall not try to influence people through his paper.

The funeral of Mr. Richard Mount took place on Sunday afternoon from the Presbyterian church. Rev. A. G. Martyn officiating. The REVIEW regrets that through a misunderstanding the announcement was made in its columns that the funeral would be held on Saturday afternoon.

Many Denison friends will learn with sorrow of the death of the little son of Mrs. C. K. Dukes. Strangulation caused by membranous croup was the cause of his death, and his body was laid to rest beside that of his father at Newell, Iowa. Our sympathy goes out toward the stricken mother.

The REVIEW is in receipt of a communication by which some smart aleck hoped to "sell" the REVIEW into publishing indecent matter. We have turned the letter over to the postal authorities and if the perpetrator is caught he will be prosecuted for sending obscene literature through the mails.

"The Boys" make their spring announcement in this issue. They have recently made some great improvements in their store room which add greatly to the appearance and comfort of the place. As usual they come forward with a fine stock of reliable goods and they certainly deserve well at the hands of the people.

Dr. J. J. McWilliams of Charter Oak was in Denison yesterday, bringing with him Mr. Gottlieb Kroll, for examination before the insane commission. It seems that Mr. Kroll was at one time an inmate of the asylum but that his health improved and he was discharged. Recently such symptoms have developed that it is thought best to have him returned to Clarinda.

Do not neglect what may be called the "inside" pages of the REVIEW. Page two is devoted to editorial comment, page three contains an interesting announcement from the J. B. Romans Co., while on pages six and seven will be found an account of the memorial services held by the Woman's Relief Corps in memory of Mrs. Anna Wittenmeyer, together with the text of the excellent addresses delivered on that occasion.

People will be surprised next Saturday when they see what a transformation has taken place in the old Orkin store now occupied by Levitt's Dry Goods store. Mr. Levitt, Mr. Downs, Miss Petersen and a whole tribe of carpenters and painters are busily at work and next Saturday at the grand opening will find the store looking like a palace. There will be music both afternoon and evening and a souvenir will be given to each lady visitor.

Harry Luney has resigned his position as pharmacist at Schlumbergers' drug store, and Mr. John McGran of Omaha has been secured to fill the position. Mr. McGran comes with the highest recommendations both from Omaha and Minneapolis where he has worked, and by the manner in which he takes hold of things, we are sure he will prove satisfactory. We have not learned what Harry intends doing, but trust he may secure something lucrative and also beneficial to his health.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Romans was the scene of a very enjoyable and elaborate dinner party on Saturday evening. The guests were of the most congenial and the host and charming hostess made them feel most thoroughly at home. The menu was a thing of pure delight, something to be remembered and to smack your lips over whenever it comes to mind. A novel method of selecting partners caused much laughter and many supposedly broken hearts. The dining room was made beautiful with ferns and cut flowers and the handsome china for which Mrs. Romans is famous. Sixteen were seated at the table and they enjoyed the six course dinner most heartily.

We are glad to learn through the Bulletin that Mrs. Caswell, mother of editor Caswell, is regaining her health. No matter how much the sons may quarrel, we hope the time will never come when we cannot join in saying "God bless our mothers."

Morine Gibson received her little friends last Friday it being her fifth birthday. It was a grand time the youngster had and they all hope, and so do we, that Morine will have many more birthdays and as many parties as her hospitable heart can wish.

The beautiful Garrison home was the scene of two very enjoyable parties the latter part of the week. On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Garrison entertained and on Friday afternoon Mrs. Garrison and Miss Lillian entertained. The rooms were beautifully decorated with snailax and ferns, with carnations in the dining room and American beauties in the parlor and halls. The dining room was darkened and lighted with candles which gave it a very pleasing effect. Mrs. Dr. Robinson presided at the frappe bowl and distributed the dainty refreshment to all. One of the most enjoyable features was the beautiful singing by Miss Garrison. A splendid phonograph also contributed to the enjoyment of the guests. A dainty two-course luncheon was served and the company departed, all claiming it to be one of the most complete social events of the season.

CARD OF THANKS.
We take this means of returning thanks to the many kind and considerate friends whose assistance and sympathy were so grateful to us during our sorrow in the death of our beloved husband and father, Richard Mount.
Mrs. Richard Mount,
Mr. John Mount.

THE NEW CREAMERY.
The REVIEW is in receipt of the following announcement from the new creamery firm. Denison has long been in need of a good reliable creamery and now that the business has been undertaken by a strong firm in which the farmers can have confidence, it should be a great success. Below is the letter received from J. H. Rushton, president of the company:
Fairmont, Neb. 3-9, 1900.
Editor Denison Review,
Denison, Iowa.

Dear Sir, We take great pleasure in stating to the people of Denison and the farmers in its vicinity that we have come into possession of and will re-open the Denison Creamery on Monday, April 2d, 1900.

We come prepared to give the farmers who have milk to sell, a good market for it. We shall endeavor by fair dealing, good service and hard work to merit your patronage.

So far as we do this, we hope for the good will, good wishes and good word of everyone interested in the development of the dairy industry in Crawford county.
