THE PASSION PLAY.

This realistic entertainment will be given at the Catholic church on Friday evening, March 30, and promises to be largely attended. Reserved seat tickets can be secured at Johnson's book store.

OUR NEW STORY.

On the sixth and seventh pages of this issue will be found the opening chapters of "Robt. Hirdy's Seven Days" or "A dream and its Consequence" by Rev. Chas. Sheldon. The fame of this writer, while widely known, has reached world wide during the past week. His name has been on every lip. This story is one of the best ever written by Mr. Sheldon and no doubt our readers will read it with interest.

DIED.

The many friends of Mrs. H. W. Hinton will be pained to learn of the death of her daughter, Maud, which occurred December 25, 1899, at Ellensburg, Washington. That dread disease consumption was the cause of her death, after one year of sickness. The deceased was 15 years of age, was a Christian and a young lady loved by all who knew her. She leaves to mourn her untimely death, a mother and three brothers. Just one year ago, a sister was taken in the same manner and this second blow to the mother was, indeed, a sad one. Mrs. Hinton's many acquaintances in Denison extend to her their sincere sympathy in this her hour of trial.

LEVITT'S OPENING.

The opening of this new store on Saturday was a great success. Mr. Levitt had been kept busy the past two weeks getting ready, and his efforts have been amply rewarded. From two until five the store was crowded to its capacity and all the clerks were kept hustling showing people the new goods. During the afternoon music was furnished and each lady was given a souvenir. In the evening the store looked very beautiful with its many electric lights. Around the shelves on each side of the store is arranged a system of arches decorated with ribbons, etc, making a very pretty effect; the show window is a bower of beauty showing the ability of Mr. Downs as a window dresser. As stated above, the opening was a great success.

CARLETON LECTURE.

The lecture last night at the opera house by Will Carleton on the subject, "The Drama of Human Nature," given under the auspices of the Epworth League, was well attended and heartily enjoyed by all present. His reading of his own poems is perhaps the best feature of his lecture. His selections embrace the sober and sublime as well as the humorous. His rendition of "The Wooden Box" held the audience spellbound while that of "Elder Lamb's Donation" convulsed them with laughter. Such lectures cannot fail to do good and the league is to be congratulated on providing the people of Denison an opportunity to hear one of this country's most popular and gifted poets. The net receipts amount to about thirty dollars for which the league is very thankful.

THE C. & N. W. DEPOT.

Agent J. H. Mahoney has settled in his new quarters and is now at home to the patrons of his road. The depot is a beauty both inside and out. On the interior one is completely fascinated by its appearance. First, on the east end, is the gentlemen's waiting room. Around the room are nice, white maple seats and also two rows of seats in the center. The ceiling and walls are brightly painted in modern style, all the wood work is in hard finish and very massive. From this room a large hall leads to the ticket office and also to the ladies' waiting room. The office and ticket room is a model in itself, while the ladies' room—not as large as the gentlemen's—is very cosy. Next comes the lunch room which is very inviting with its smooth counters and brass fixtures. The baggage and express rooms are both large and convenient. The depot is modern in every detail, electric lights, closets, etc. The awnings are all wired, and at night when the lights are all on the entire building presents a beautiful appearance.

GLEE CLUB TONIGHT.

Lovers of music should attend the concert tonight given by the College Glee Club. The entertainment is well worth hearing, wherever the boys have been the papers speak in the highest praise of them. Our home people should give them a royal reception.

Mr. Stewart McCloy returned Monday morning from Kentucky where he has been visiting with friends for several weeks. Mr. McCloy has resigned his position with the I. C. R. R. and will go to Oklahoma to accept a position on an engineering party there. His many friends here will regret to see him leave.

The funeral of Mrs. Emma Anderson nee Boettger, who died on the 18th inst was held yesterday and the remains were laid to rest in the Nissen cemetery. Rev. Lothinger conducting the services. We are informed that "Billy" Baer has signed with the Omaha club for this season, and will shortly leave for that place. We congratulate the Omaha club in securing so good a man as "Billy," he will be a credit as a man, and a winner as a ball player for them. He is unexcelled as a batsman and if a ball comes within twenty yards of him the umpire says: "batter out."

On Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Dawson took their departure for Oklahoma where they will reside in the future. Mr. Dawson will embark in the commission business with a brother who already has an established business there. This excellent family has lived in Crawford county a number of years, and many friends trust they may reap a merited success in their new home.

Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Romans gave a six o'clock dinner to some sixteen of their friends. The affair was given in honor of St. Patrick's day and the decorations were in green, shamrocks and ferns being in evidence throughout the rooms. The waiters were costumed in green. Each guest was given a beautiful shamrock as a memento. A royal time is reported.

Mrs. L. Cornwell has very kindly offered her beautiful home to the Trinity Guild until all sewing is finished, which is being prepared for an Easter sale.
