

THEY ARE GRADUATES

Large Class Warmly Greeted on Friday Evening.

EXCEPTIONAL PROGRAMME

A Class of Nine Boys and Nine Girls Receive Their Diplomas From the Denison High School.

CLASS OF 1900.

Ralph Cassady,	Fannie Hayes,
Robert Ewall,	Mae Hayes,
Fay Marshall,	Florence Kirkup,
George Morris,	Grace Raine,
Chester Potter,	Allie Sewell,
Ray Randall,	Grace Temple,
James Walker,	Mary Walker,
Frank Young,	Ethel Williams,
Ferdinand R. Ringer,	Sara Watson.

The 15th annual commencement of the Denison High School occurred last Friday evening at the opera house and the entire program has been pronounced by many the best of its kind ever presented in Denison. The stage was profusely decorated with flowers, and the letters D. H. S. in yellow, the high school colors, with "1900" in scarlet and black, the colors of the class, completed the decorations.

At 8 o'clock, the class and high school teachers took their places on the platform after which—Rev. Bateson being ill—Rev. Harris delivered the invocation. "Annie Laurie" by the Girls' Glee club was enthusiastically received. Frank Young's oration on "Ambition" was the first number on the program. Lincoln, typical of the highest ambition, was sharply contrasted with Napoleon whose sole ambition was the acquisition of power. Possessing a good voice and a fine presence, Frank made a favorable impression. The next number, an oration entitled "Lynch Law," by Mary Walker was most excellently delivered. It was a strong and eloquent plea for justice to the negro and for law and order in general. The oration was well written and thoughtful. In Geo. Morris's oration "Benedict Arnold" the audience listened to a particularly strong number. Arnold, the daring soldier and patriot, was contrasted in a most realistic manner with Arnold the traitor.

The H. S. Quartette varied the program by singing "Fairy Moonlight," one of the most enjoyable musical selections on the program. Following the quartette, Allie Sewell delivered an oration on "The Red Cross Society." From the standpoint of thought and composition, the oration ranked well, and the delivery was especially excellent. She spoke with the spirit and the understanding, a thing absolutely essential to an effective delivery. A "Dual Civilization" by James Walker was highly meritorious viewed in any light, and worthy the pen of an older student. His delivery was forcible and impressive, the oration itself rhetorical and oratorical. He showed clearly the relationship which ought to exist between labor and capital, and the necessity for their co-operation.

The duet by Allie Sewell and Florence Kirkup, "When Life is Brightest," made a glad spot in the program. The audience was delighted. "Discontent," an oration by Fannie Hayes, ranked high in thought and was impressively delivered. Divine discontent was set in opposition to that of the calamity howler, and the contentment of China to that of progressive nations. From divine discontent springs all progress. Miss Hayes has no superior as a student and D. H. S. will hear more from her in the future. Ray Randall's oration "Washington" was a fitting climax to a magnificent program. His delivery was sympathetic and at times dramatic, his oration most impressive and the thought and composition unexcelled. The Boys' Glee Club added to its already enviable reputation by singing "The Red Scarf," a difficult but charming selection. The boys are singers "from away back" and no mistake about it.

R. Knaul, acting president of the board, presented the diplomas in a splendid address. 'Twas short, but to the point. He referred to the size of the class, eighteen in number—nine boys and nine girls—the largest ever graduated, and this too from a four years' course. The largest class preceding this year graduating from a three years' course was the class of '98, fourteen in number. He referred to the fact that the Denison public schools as well as high school enjoy a state wide reputation for high grade work, and that our graduates are now admitted to Freshman standing in any college of the state. To the class he emphasized the necessity for earnestness and for work and in behalf of the board he tendered his thanks to pupils, patrons and teachers for the spirit of co-operation and unity so characteristic of the community.

Rev. Martyn pronounced the benediction and the class of 1900 stepped into their commencement. Congratulations, beautiful presents and flowers were heaped upon the happy graduates.

The class and high school teachers then repaired to Supt. Failor's home where they enjoyed themselves immensely until—well until they went home. During the evening an alumni association was formed with Ray Randall as president. It is hoped that a meeting of the alumni may be effected for next year.

The class is one that Denison may well be proud of, they have been hard workers and faithful students. It is such classes as these that justify the large expenditures for school purposes and make us bear the burden of indebtedness cheerfully. The REVIEW feels that Supt. Failor is entitled to much but not to all of the credit. The teachers of the lower grades and the high school teachers are entitled to their share. Mr. Davies who is well liked and trusted by all of his pupils and Miss Rollinson whose faithful work and winning ways have gained a place in the hearts of all, are to be mentioned with especial credit. Denison does well to make much of her high school commencements, the honor done the graduates is an incentive to other boys and girls to remain in school. It makes school work valuable and gives them a definite end for which to work. The music, the flowers, the large crowd of friends, the enthusiasm and the congratulations are a fitting finale to years of study. We are proud of the class of 1900, a better class has never graduated from our schools and we wish them one and all God speed on the journey of life.

HIGH SCHOOL RECEPTION.

Owing to the additional work incident to the temporary removal to the Journal office, we are obliged to abridge many things in this issue which are worthy of more extended notice. Among the chief of these is the reception given on Saturday evening last to the pupils and alumni of the high school by Supt. H. V. Failor, Mr. Davies and Miss Rollinson. The city hall was well filled with guests both old and young and the first part of the evening was spent in lively talk and in congratulations to the new alumni. Delicate refreshments were served and Hon. C. F. Kuehule presided as toastmaster. He was in his best vein making neat and happy introductory speeches and keeping the company interested and lively throughout the evening. Music was furnished by the Glee clubs and the boys quartette and a number of toasts were given many of which showed much study and good thought upon the part of the young people. At the close of the toasts Prin. Davies in behalf of the High School presented Supt. and Mrs. Failor with a very handsome combination bookcase and writing desk. It is as pretty a piece of furniture as there is in Denison. Mr. Failor replied with a few fervent words which brought tears to many eyes. Aside from the program as first arranged a number of others including Mrs. Failor, Miss Balle, Miss Terry, Miss Rollinson, Prof. Rhodenbaugh, Principal Davies and Mr. R. Knaul were called upon for brief remarks. The announcement of Eugene Mueller's victory was received with applause and the party broke up with cheers and the High School yells.

Mr. Julius Balle is enjoying a visit from his old roommate at the University, Mr. Joe Kendall, of Osawa.

Miss Mollie O'Hare arrived in Denison on Monday from her school duties at Sioux City, to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh O'Hare.

The Wilson House is being improved by the addition of a fine veranda and balcony on the west side of the building. This will make a fine cool resting place for the hotel's many guests.

Many Denison friends will be interested in the announcement of a wedding which occurred this noon at Cresona, Penna., by which Miss Lucy B. Hoffmann, sister of Mrs. H. A. Boyle, and Capt. Wilson W. McCloy were united in the bonds of matrimony. They will reside in Oklahoma where Capt. McCloy is employed in railroad construction work. Both parties are well known here and many friends extend congratulations.

The letter written for the Review from Paris by its old friend, J. H. McKeever, is one which will interest every corn grower in Iowa. It tells of the efforts to introduce the great American cereal to the people of Europe. It is a well written letter, for McKeever is always an interesting writer. The publication of so many original features is a part of the Review which should not be overlooked, for it is at once a newspaper and a magazine.

MUSICAL RECITAL.

The musical recital held at the College Chapel last evening was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed. The program reflected much credit upon the individual performers and upon the work of Miss Terry and the musical department. The program was not confined to advanced pupils but was made up of all classes of players. Miss Terry will be greatly missed not only in musical circles but in the social circles where her charming manner and winsome face have made her a host of friends. Those taking part in the program were the Misses Edith Burk, Keller, Marguerite Owens, Calla and Ruth Richards, Luney, Larson and Grace VanNess and Mrs. Hunter.

WINS LOWDEN PRIZE

Eugene F. Mueller Takes Prize in Greek.

AT THE STATE UNIVERSITY

Five Graduates From Crawford—A Large and Generous Donation—Growth of University.

At the State University commencement the Lowden prize in Greek, offered by Mr. Lowden, a son-in-law of the famous Geo. M. Pullman, was awarded to Eugene F. Mueller, son of Dr. F. Mueller of Denison. Eugene Mueller graduated from the Denison schools two years ago and has now completed his sophomore year in Iowa's greatest educational institution. He was the youngest student ever graduated from our high schools and if nothing prevents he will be one of the youngest graduates the University has ever had. Eugene is a deep student and we know that the prize was justly awarded. The REVIEW congratulates the Crawford county boy upon his success and the laurels he has added to his home town. But Crawford county's fame in the University has not been upheld by him alone. Beside a number of undergraduates we find in the list of graduates five from this county, Miss Minnie M. Balle, Louis Henson and P. J. Klinker of Denison, J. H. Fellingham of West Side and Herbert C. Saunders of Manilla. We have noted with pleasure the fact that during their college course these students were not mere lay figures. They took prominent parts in the University life and held positions of confidence and honor among their fellow students. This has been a year of unparalleled success for the University nearly 1600 students being enrolled. It is now entitled to be classed among the great educational institutions of the world.

Gift to The University.

Mr. A. Whitney Carr of Jordan, N. Y., has given $50,000 to the state of Iowa for the use of the university to create free scholarships in the collegiate department for the benefit of the poor but worthy, young men and women who are unable to educate themselves without aid. The interest on the fund only is to be used for that purpose. On the other side, the state has guaranteed Mr. Carr a stipulated annuity as long as he lives. The annuity is 3 per cent per annum. Mr. Carr is 75 years old and made his fortune speculating in Iowa land. Possessing a fine sense of natural justice he determined to leave his fortune to an Iowa institution, in the absence of any immediate family depending on him. To this end he opened correspondence with several western colleges to acquaint himself with the field before acting. He decided to endow Iowa University and so informed President MacLean.

A BRILLIANT RECEPTION.

The spacious parlors of Mr. W. A. McHenry's beautiful residence were the scene of a brilliant gathering last evening, the occasion being a reception given by Mr. and Mrs. McHenry and Miss McHenry complimentary to their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chaffee Nash of Los Angeles, California. The company present represented the best of Denison's social life and handsome, beautifully gowned ladies and our best and brightest citizens mingled in the gay throng. The parlors were decked with flowers and although more than two hundred guests were present during the evening there was room for all. A bevy of Denison's pretty girls served delicate refreshments, music lent its charm to the occasion and all went merrily as a wedding bell to whose chiming the honored guests were still accustomed, as this formed a part of their happy wedding journey. The receiving party was made up of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McHenry, Miss McHenry, Mr. and Mrs. Nash, Mr. and Mrs. Seemann and Mr. and Mrs. Sears McHenry. The only regret on the part of Denison people is that Mr. and Mrs. Nash were obliged to leave this morning and so but little time was afforded for a most lasting acquaintance.

MARRIED.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Bohart, June 11, 1900, at 7:30 a. m., Mr. Warren Kinnan and Miss Maria Carson, Rev. Seth C. Rees, of Providence R. I. officiating.

Only a few intimate friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony after which a delightful breakfast was served.

Mr. Kinnan is a son of Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Kinnan of Denison, and is miller for the Mystic Milling Co. of Sioux City. The bride is an accomplished lady and has been a successful school teacher for a number of years. The happy couple took their departure on the 1:20 train for their home in Sioux City.

Many friends join in wishing them much joy and happiness on their journey of life.

Mr. W. F. Hollinger of the Deloit News visited with us today. He has been on the sick list for some time but is now on the mend and reports business good at Deloit.

A. B. Lorenzen goes to Chicago tomorrow evening for a brief visit.

Asa Butterworth, of Dubuque, visited Denison and Dow City on Sunday.

Trinity Guild will meet with Mrs. E. F. Tucker on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A special meeting of Rebeckah Lodge will be held at the lodge hall on Thursday evening.

Nicholson Bros. have put up a handsome new awning this week. Who will be the next one?

The Racket store on Main street is nearly ready to begin business. Watch for announcements.

The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church will meet with Mrs. Van Ness on Friday afternoon.

Misses Mira and Gertrude Bradbury go to New Sharon this week where they will spend the summer.

Dr. and Mrs. Ashby, who have been visiting for some time at the Conner home left for Chicago last evening.

Mrs. B. F. Philbrook and son Rowland expect to leave on Thursday for a summer's visit with Chicago relatives.

Mrs. L. M. Baer was called to Boone on yesterday afternoon by a message announcing the serious illness of her father.

Mayor Wilson was called to Spencer this week by the news of the death of his niece who died on Sunday morning last.

The train east on the Central now leaves at 1:20 p. m. instead of at 2:26 p. m. Do not forget it, it is now more than an hour earlier.

Theo. Carter returned to Denison after a long absence in New Mexico. He is looking well and is warmly greeted by his friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Failor returned this morning to their home in Newton, Ia., after a pleasant visit with their son in Denison.

The editors of the thriving Glidden Graphic made us a call on Sunday. They are giving Glidden a bright, newsy and up-to-date paper.

J. H. Gable started this morning for his regular sixth-weekly Colorado trip. He will visit Denver, Colorado Springs, Manitou and Pueblo.

Otto Moenck is doing some fine work as a window trimmer for J. P. Miller & Co. His log rolling window attracted especial favorable comment.

Born, on Sunday, June 10, to Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hill, a son. We congratulate the happy parents and hope that the little knoll will grow to be a big hill.

Chas. Tabor left today for a brief visit with his mother in Independence. He intended leaving yesterday but the change of time on the Central made him miss his train.

Mr. Weissel, of Neosho, Missouri, was in Denison the first of the week looking over the Bulletin plant with a view to the purchase of a partnership interest. The deal has not been completed as yet, however.

Mrs. S. G. Wright arrived in Denison on Saturday from Audubon at which place she had been visiting. Later, she will be joined by Mr. Wright and together they spend the summer in Denison, with rooms at Mrs. S. B. Greek's.

The Warships Diary takes our readers to Porto Rico, the city of San Juan and Stevenson's famous "Treasure Island" this week. Very much interesting information is given concerning these new possessions of the United States and under the circumstances all should read the "Diary" carefully.

Mrs. Victor Hedman left on Monday morning for Sac City where her son Robert D. Walker, graduates to-night from the Sac City Institute. Mr. Walker is a bright student, a faithful and persistent worker and his mother and his many friends have every reason to be proud of the success he has wrought.

Messrs O. C. McAhren and T. C. McCarthy returned last week from their Colorado trip. They met many Denison people. At Cripple Creek they were royally entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rumsey whom they report to be doing finely. The boys look fifty per cent better after their three weeks' of mountain climbing.

Rev. Thos. Carson took charge of the Charter Oak Herald last week while Dell Cummings was at his father's sick bed. In taking charge of the Herald Rev. Carson said, "We will not try to run a paper as 'Jesus would' for no one knows what Jesus would do under the circumstances, but we will ask ourselves the question at many times 'What would Jesus have us do?' and we will try and do it." Rev. Carson devotes the editorial page to an able article on the "Preacher and Politics," in the course of which he says "The hackneyed saying that 'ministers should preach the gospel and not meddle with politics' is so far as it is not mere clap-trap and makeshift, reveals a lamentably narrow conception of what it is to preach the gospel of Christ to men." Rev. Carson makes a good editor and the paper is very creditable.
