AMONG OUR ADVERTISERS

Denison Business Houses That Offer Attractions for
for the People. A Trip About the Town. ; ; ;

The REVIEW can but be gratified at the very liberal patronage it is receiving from the enterprising merchants of Denison, and it is still more gratifying, we believe, that there is not one among our list of advertisers who does not feel that money spent in the REVIEW columns is well invested. The REVIEW reaches a very large portion of those who trade at Denison, and moreover it reaches the best class of people, the people who pay. The dead beat is of no more advantage on the books of a store than on the subscription list of a newspaper, and our merchants appreciate the fact that the custom brought them by REVIEW advertisements is the very best.

On Wednesday the editor made a little social trip among the advertisers for the purpose of seeing what preparations they had made for the holiday trade, and to give our readers a general idea of the value of Denison as a trading point. We give our readers the benefit of our tour of inspection and wish to say that not one merchant has paid or will be asked to pay a single cent for anything which may be said in this article. Our first stop was at

SARACHON SISTERS.

These ladies have by industry, honesty and artistic workmanship built up an extensive millinery business. Hats from their store are worn in almost every town in the county, and theirs has been a busy place throughout the season. They are persistent advertisers and will tell any one that REVIEW advertising pays.

THE MODEL BAKERY

next door is all that the name implies; it looks neat, fresh and appetizing. Fine fruits, the best of candies, a first class line of cigars, and a large line of bakers' goods tempt the purchaser, while in the rear nicely set tables give promise of the good hearty meals which are served their customers. Messrs. Lyman and Tighe also operate The Calumet lunch counter on Broadway, which has a splendid business which it well deserves.

THE DENISON CLOTHING COMPANY is next door with a fine stock of new and up-to-date clothing. Charley Kemming, the genial proprietor, and Oren McAhren, his clerk, know just what every one wants, and their fresh, bright goods attract purchasers. They have a very fine line of neckwear, linen handkerchiefs, and other articles of gentlemen's furnishings which would make appropriate Christmas gifts. In the rear of the store three merry tailors are kept busy manufacturing fine raiment for the men of the community.

O. M. CAMPBELL

presents a most attractive show window to the passer-by, filled with handsome china, graceful and substantial silverware, and delicate cut glass. Mr. Campbell carries a large line of every thing pertaining to the jeweler's business, and shows much taste in his buying, of which his customers get the benefit. Mr. Campbell is aggressive and wide awake, and is securing a good trade.

MR. J. L. WARBASSE

occupies the south half of the store with Mr. Campbell and carries the largest line of musical goods ever displayed in the county. It is hard to mention a musical instrument which will not be found in his stock. His stock of sheet music is also very large and well selected and his organs, pianos, and other musical instruments are of the best makes.

C. SEIVERS' SONS

are loaded with goods as usual, they they have had a large trade in fine fur robes and fur coats, and still have a large stock on hand. They handle an assortment of mittens and are ready with a fine line of sleigh bells when the snow flies. This is all in addition to their regular stock of "horse clothing."

THE BOY'S STORE

is hard to describe. They carry almost everything and to tell of their stock is to give a catalog of everything in the line of groceries, crockery, boots and shoes, clothing, dress goods, dry good, cloaks and millinery. Their store is certainly a busy place and growing more so every day. The success of this firm has been phenomenal and well deserved. Everyone likes "The Boys" and their reputation for good goods and fair dealing is beyond reproach.

J. B. ROMANS CO.

This great hardware store will also be in line for a portion of the Christmas trade. Their annual cutlery sale has come to be a looked for event and they will not disappoint buyers this year, but next week will place a full line of fine cutlery on sale at low prices.

U. G. JOHNSON & COMPANY is the store which has come to be looked upon as being to a large extent, the headquarters for the Christmas trade. This store is growing better every year, the stock of books is not confined to ancient volumes but contains the latest and best works of present day writers. Again we are stumped when we attempt to enumerate the articles in stock, beautiful pictures, handsome novelties of all kinds, toys, dolls in profusion, fine candies, in short presents ranging from the limits of the most modest pocketbook to articles that would grace the homes of any of the rich of Denison.

E. C. CHAMBERLIN

is known for the artistic qualities of his stock in jewelry, chinaware, cut glass and watches, it is surprising how much is contained in his little store, and with what care he has selected his stock to please the various fancies. He has a fine line of German accordions for music lovers. Right along side are the German jewelers, their stock is large, complete and well selected. One must be hard to please who could not find a suitable present among the many tempting things offered. Mr. Seemann has just purchased a fine new engraving machine and is equipped to do any work in that line. Handsome silverware is one of the specialties of this store.

SEEMANN BROTHERS

T. J. KELLY

is doing a large business in footwear. This is the only exclusive shoe store in the county and its trade is constantly increasing. Tom tells us that he has a fine line of slippers, such as will bring ease and comfort to the feet of any man and which would make mighty nice Christmas presents.

JOHN T. HAUGH

whose career is so well and favorably known to the clothing buyers of the county, has a fine stock of goods in his store on Broadway. Will Otto is his assistant and together they are kept busy wrapping up good warm clothing for the people. Mr. Haugh has well earned his reputation for reliability, and his stock is made up of trustworthy goods that it will pay you to buy. You cannot go amiss should you buy your husband or your sweetheart some article of up-to-date apparel at this store.

A. H. BROWN.

Mr. Brown calls the attention of all to the desirability and appropriateness of fine photographs for the holidays. Mr. Brown has well earned his reputation as one of the best photographers in Iowa. Denison is indeed fortunate in having him here. It would be hard to find better photographs than Brown produces and also hard to find more in-expensive Christmas gifts.

C. F. CASSADAY AND SON

are prepared for Christmas trade. They have a fine line of perfumes, toilet novelties, games, etc., in addition to their well selected stock of drugs. This store is receiving a deservedly large share of the holiday trade.

MR. A. S. LEVITT

is, we regret to say, about to close out his business in Denison. He has been a good business man and had built up a fine trade when he decided to leave the retail field for the broader one of wholesaling. He is now selling out his stock at low prices that attract many careful buyers. The fine furniture store of carries a very large assortment in everything from the kitchen chair to the finest of bed room and parlor sets. A walk through his store presents a great variety of desirable articles for the home, and no wiser purchase can be made for the holidays for wife or husband than something selected from his stock.

MR. C. J. SALOMON

THE PALACE BAKERY

is a most popular place of its kind. Fine baker's goods, home made candies, fine presentation bon bons, fruits, fine canned goods, cakes, cookies, and fresh bread make up his stock. He also serves lunches and oysters on short orders to the satisfaction of his customers. His home made taffy is fine.

MR. H. H. KLINKER has recently had his store enlarged and a large display window put in which gives him much better opportunity to display his fine and tasty line of furniture. Mr. Klinker is now county coroner, but this does not seem to make him less jolly than usual. He has added greatly to Denison's reputation as a center for desirable furniture at low prices. His stock has been selected with great care and attention to the wants of Crawford county people, and is attractive and fully up to date.

A. D. RANDALL

of the Broadway meat market is prepared to provide for all the Christmas dinners of Denison with fine poultry and the best meats. His shop is always neat and attractive, and he takes great pains to select only such stock as will be tender, juicy and palatable.

MR. CHRIS OTTO

comes to the front again this year with a very large line of children's toys and dolls for Christmas. It is wonderful to see the many handsome mechanical toys in his store, and one wonders that they can be manufactured and sold so cheaply. His store in its holiday attire is a veritable paradise for the little folks.

MR. C. M. STALEY

announces that he will have a fine line of books for the holidays; presentation books, juvenile books, picture books for the little folks, and in short a first class stock in all particulars.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE

is the latest addition to Denison's business houses. The store is filled from basement to gallery with fresh, new goods, and with the many improvements which have been made in the building it presents a most attractive appearance and is a great improvement to the looks and business of Main street. Mr. J. P. Schuler, the proprietor, and Mr. J. R. Berkson, the manager, state that they are well pleased with the opening trade in Denison, and hope to merit the continued patronage of the people after whom this store is named. This store contains a complete line of dry goods, fancy goods, and shoes. A glance at their handsome show windows displays many tempting bargains.

J. P. MILLER & CO.

have another store which it is hard to describe without a lengthy article. No expense has been spared to make this store an attractive and comfortable place for shopping. It is up-to-date and cified in all its departments, and taken in all carries what is probably the largest stock of general merchandise between Boone and Council Bluffs. The reputation of this firm is so well known that we can add but little. With its large and handsome display windows, its fine show cases, its well assorted stock, it certainly would be a credit to a city much larger than Denison. A mere enumeration of the departments shows the scope of this business institution. Dry goods, clothing, cloaks, millinery, carpets, crockery, groceries, and hardware are all carried in its stock, and even now we do not know but that we have omitted some department.

MR. R. KNAUL

is prepared for the Christmas trade with a fine line of Christmas novelties, toilet articles, perfumes, and other attractive gifts. Mr. Knaul is noted for his artistic ability in selecting attractive goods and we can recommend his store to all in search of handsome presents.

THE HUB

is the prettiest clothing store in Crawford county. Its fine display windows are always attractively trimmed and the stock carried is large and well selected. Mr. E. C. Peterson has made for himself a host of friends during his comparatively short stay in Denison, and has worked up from small beginnings to his present large business in a remarkably short space of time. There must have been much merit in Mr. Peterson's goods, and in his business methods to have brought such success. Clothing of all kinds for men and boys, fur coats and a fine line of gents furnishings are in his stock.

THE ARMSTRONG DRUG COMPANY

is one of the latest firms to show by its push and enterprise that it means to secure a large portion of the trade in its line. The store has been rearranged, the stock largely added to and Mr. Armstrong offers many desirable and handsome Christmas articles in the line of toilet goods, novelties, perfumes, etc.

THERE ARE OTHERS.

These are not all of Denison's business firms. They are not all of those even who make use of the REVIEW's columns from time to time, but they are those who are making use of this paper now to place before the people special attractions for the holiday season. All of these stores merit your confidence and as they have shown their desire to please you with choice and reasonable goods, it will be to your advantage as well as theirs to trade with them. The REVIEW has nothing but the kindest feelings for all the business men of Denison, and we wish them one and all, the prosperity and good times which their enterprise deserves.

REDEEM THEIR PROMISES.

War Revenue Tax to Be Reduced in Many Places.

In order to redeem its pledges the leaders of the republican party have already drawn up a bill to remove the stamp tax from the following:

Bank checks, certificates of deposit, drafts, promissory notes, postal orders, express receipts, telephone messages, telegrams, insurance, leases, mortgages and many other items. The total reduction on these and similar taxes is to be $22,242,000.

Mr. Asa Dow of Dow City was registered at the Wilson House today.
