NORTH GROVE NEWS.

The saw mill is in full blast now. Mr. Butcher seems to be doing lots of work.

Henry Gibson is still on the road selling groceries.

Herbert Gooden is husking corn for Charlie Peters, Charlie's corn is a wonderful yield.

North Grove has a corn thief who no doubt thinks he is first class at that business. One of these days when he has to call in two or three doctors to pick the shot out of him he will probably learn that some one beside himself is abroad in the dark and stilly night.

Still the hogs are dying with the plague.

We learn with regret that Mr. Coykendall has sold his place.

Ed Wright met with quite an accident last week, having caught his arm in the belting of his corn shredder. Luckily he escaped with a badly lacerated arm, no bones being broken.

REVIVAL SERVICES.

The Revival meetings conducted by Evangelist Bulgin at the Presbyterian church are being largely attended and are developing good interest. Mr. Bulgin is a man of most versatile talent and acquirements, and a most attractive public speaker. He wins and holds the interest of his congregation from the beginning to the close with unabated attention. He is not only a logical and able sermonizer and pulpit orator but he enlivens his discourses by rare flashes of wit and most telling humorous and pathetic illustrations that serve to indelibly stamp the truth upon the mind. Tonight he gives a lecture on "Friendship", illustrated by his home life in the mountains of Carolina. It will well repay hearing by a large audience. Tomorrow afternoon he gives the first of his bible readings at 2:30 o'clock. The meetings will continue each night and will prove most attractive and profitable services to all our people. All are welcomed. Come once and you will come again.
