FOUND A BANK

Denison Capital Seeks New Outlet

New Bank to be Founded at Council Bluffs. A Denison Man Interested.

Yesterday an application for a charter for the Commercial National Bank of Council Bluffs was forwarded to Washington. The new institution is to have a capital of $100,000, and will begin business as soon as the charter can be obtained and the bank located. Two Council Bluffs parties signed the application, the remaining three were Carl F. Kuehnle, C E Price and Geo. W. Nicholson, all men well known in Crawford county. It is said that Gov. L. M. Shaw will also be a stockholder. The officers have not of course been selected as yet, but it is understood that Mr. C. E. Price, so long at the head of the Traders Bank at Vail, will be the cashier.

There are at present but two commercial banks in Council Bluffs and it would seem as if this were a splendid opening for a strong well-managed and conservative bank such as the new institution will undoubtedly be. This project has been under consideration for some time, but it was only last night that the matter was brought to a close and the application forwarded. The organization of the new bank has been largely due to the efforts of Mr. Jacob Sims. We sincerely congratulate the interested parties upon the founding of what we are led to believe will be a most successful institution.

GEN. O. O. HOWARD.

Lectures in Denison Last Tuesday Evening.

Gen. O. O. Howard, one of the heroes of the civil war, lectured in Denison on Tuesday evening before a large audience. While here he was the guest of Mr. W. A. McHenry. The lecture was an interesting recital of reminiscences of the war and was well filled with amusing anecdotes and interesting history of the great struggle. Gen. Howard has been a brave fighter, he lost an arm while in the service and this is all that has prevented him from being in active service for years. He is known as the "white ribbon" general, not for showing the white feather, but on account of his great work for temperance among the soldiers. He is a living example of the "Christian Soldier," and his influence has been a great one for good throughout the army.

Strange as it may appear, General Howard is in favor of the canteen system which has been so ardently opposed by the theoretical temperance people of the land. Although never before taking an active part in politics, in 1896 Gen. Howard like so many other patriotic Americans, became alarmed over the spread of the dangerous free silver dogma, and together with Gen. Alger, Gen. Sikes and Gen. Siegel, he made a tour of the United States speaking for sound money and the preservation of national integrity. It was the pleasure of the editor to accompany this train through Iowa in the capacity of a reporter, and it was on this trip that he came to know something of the brave, honest and pure hearted Union general, General Howard.

Mrs. Hartley was 76 years old, and but two weeks ago she came to Arion from Oberlin, Kansas, to make her home with her daughter. She leaves one son, who accompanied her from Kansas, two daughters one living in Kansas. The funeral services will take place at Arion next Sunday at 2 p. m.

AS TOLD BY MACARTHUR.

Official Confirmation of Aguinaldo's Capture.

HONORS FOR GEN. FUNSTON.

Latest Exploit of Kansas Fighter Likely to Win Him Place in Regular Army—Expresses Belief Rebellion in Philippines Will Now Collapse.

Washington, March 29.—A cablegram received at the war department from General MacArthur tells in a succinct way the story of Aguinaldo's capture, gives all credit for the brilliant exploit to General Funston, whose reward he suggests should be that of a brigadier general in the regular army and finally closes with an expression of confidence in the early cessation of hostilities throughout the Philippine archipelago as a result of the capture. Except that it makes no reference to the disposition to be made of Aguinaldo the dispatch covers the whole field of gossip and speculation excited in Washington by the news that Funston's adventurous expedition had been crowned with complete success. The cablegram is as follows:

Manila, March 28.—Adjutant General, Washington—Important messages fell into the hands of General Funston Feb. 28 from which Aguinaldo was located at Palanan, Isabela province. Expedition organized consisting of Aguinaldo's captured messenger, four ex-insurgents officers and 87 Macabebes, who spoke Tagalo, armed with Mausers, Remingtons, dressed to represent insurgents. Funston commanded, accompanied by Captain Russell T. Hazzard, Eleventh cavalry; Captain Barry W. Newton, Thirtieth infantry; Lieutenant Oliver P. Hazzard, Eleventh United States volunteer cavalry; Lieutenant Burton J. Mitchell, Fortieth United States volunteer infantry. Officers dressed as American privates and represented prisoners. Expedition sailed Manila 7 a. m. U. S. S. Albatross, March 14 east coast Luzon, 20 miles south Casuaran. Reached Palanan March 23. Natives completely misled. Supposed detachment of insurgent reinforcements, for which supplies furnished. Aguinaldo also sent supplies and his escort of 40 men paraded to extend proper honor. Short distance from Aguinaldo's quarters disguise was discarded, combat followed, resulting two insurgents killed, 18 rifles, 1,000 rounds ammunition captured, together with Aguinaldo and two principal staff officers. No casualties on our side. Splendid co-operation of navy through Commander Barry, officers and men of Vicksburg indispensable to success. Funston loudly praises navy. Entire army owes in thanks to sea service. The transaction was brilliant in conception and faultless in execution. All credit must go to Funston, who under supervision of General Wheaton, organized and conducted expedition from start to finish. His reward should be signal and immediate with General Wheaton, who recommends Funston's retention in volunteers until he can be appointed brigadier general regulars. I hope for speedy cessation of hostilities throughout the archipelago as consequence of this stroke, as result of conferences now in probable progress. Aguinaldo will issue address advising general surrender, delivery of arms and acceptance of American supremacy. MACARTHUR.

While the administration officials are not prepared to say what is to be the future of Aguinaldo, it seems certain that none of them have any idea that any bodily punishment will be inflicted upon him. "It is yet too early to say what will be done with the rebel chieftain," said one of the cabinet officers. "The matter has not yet received any consideration by the president or cabinet since his capture. Much will depend upon the future course taken by Aguinaldo in determining what his punishment shall be. If, as indicated by General MacArthur, he issued an address to the Filipinos advising a general surrender and the acceptance of the American supremacy in the Philippines, he may be of considerable service to the government in bringing about normal conditions. The administration will be disposed to take advantage of any practical service the chieftain may be to the government providing his acts show him to be sincere. Or, it is suggested, it may be determined to send him away from Manila, probably to the island of Guam. The suggestion that Aguinaldo be banished seems popular with some government officials and in this connection they instance the act of Great Britain in sending General Cronje, the Boer leader, to the island of St. Helena."

Altgeld Helps Haneey.

Chicago, March 29.—In the presence of 3,000, who filled every pause in his speech with cheering, John P. Altgeld last night from the Auditorium stage fervidly denounced the administration of Mayor Carter H. Harrison. Altgeld pleaded with the Independent Democrats and his other hearers to support Judge Haneey and the entire Republican ticket in the city election next week.

A CLUE FOUND

Part of the Booty is Unearthed.

The Money Sack and Silver Dollars are Discovered Hid- den in a Barn.

Through a private and exclusive source which is also reliable, the Review is able to announce that the first traces of the money stolen from the express safe at Manila has been found. The detectives have been constantly on the search ever since the robbery was committed and finally they have been partially rewarded. The find was made in a barn a few miles south of Manila, where, hidden under the joists, was discovered a part of the sack which evidently was a currency sack, and with it 19 silver dollars. It is known that part of the swag captured by the robbers was a sack containing 450 silver dollars and it is believed that the sack found can be identified as being a piece of the one stolen. One of the sensations of the case, and one about which we are not privileged to print as exact information, at present, is that the sack was found on the premises of a prominent citizen of the south part of the county. Whether or not he will be implicated as one of the gang remains to be seen.

The Wall of the Lost.

The Bulletin is most amusing in its wall about the recent election. It accuses democratic leaders of unfaithfulness and thus corroborates all that was said by the Review. It confesses that it is not in the councils of its party by saying, that it was not consulted by the leaders in regard to the nominations, and laments generally. It was a noticeable fact, however, that the editor of the Bulletin was not on hand to do anything for the democrats even in the second ward. The Bulletin should not throw stones at other democrats until it clears its own record. We quote from the Bulletin's rather remarkable article and would ask our readers to note how eminently characteristic of the Bulletin it is to throw mud at a man who has left town and who has no opportunity to defend himself. It is a brave man who insults an absent foe. The following is the Bulletin's article.

So far as the Bulletin is concerned we are displeased with the result only in the fact that the democrats did not give their tickets the support they were entitled to. This paper had no voice or influence in naming the democratic candidates, but when these men came forward as volunteers to make an almost hopeless fight we believed they should be supported by the party for harmony's sake, at least. If it was thought by anyone that the republican candidates would be elected anyway that was all the more reason why they should have given their own candidates a creditable vote. Then nothing would have been lost by the result. As it is now we have the spectacle of a minority party in the city being laughed at and bantered and abused by the organ of the republican party because democrats cut their tickets and helped give republicans a larger majority.

We are free to admit the council is now composed of able men than have been on it for sometime. The election this year was much more creditable to the republicans than electing such men as Max Sims to the council. But they have now to make a record which they can stand on. A year from now if conditions in the city are such as now, they will have to answer for it, and stand on the record at the polls, and we doubt if they have as good success.

J. F. BURK IS DEAD

He Passed Away Last Night.

An Old Pioneer Succumbs to the Grim Reaper After a Brief Illness.

Mr. J. F. Burk, for many years a well-known citizen of Denison, died last night at his home in north Denison of catarrh of the stomach. Mr. Burk had been in feeble health for some time, but it was not until a week ago that he was taken with the attack which caused his death. Mr. J. F. Burk was born in Greensburg, Indiana, Dec. 14, 1846, and was thus but a little over 54 years of age. He came to Denison in 1869, making him one of the early settlers of our city. He was married on Oct. 5, 1873, to Miss Ella Belle Branch, and the result of their union was two children, Edith and Carl, both of whom survive their father. Mr. Burk was the pioneer druggist of Denison, having engaged in that business here almost continuously save for the years spent in the drug business in Burlington Junction, Missouri, and one year in the same business in Battle Creek, Iowa, since 1869. He was the son of Mr. B. W. Burk, who is still living, and besides his wife and children here, he leaves two brothers to mourn his death.

Mr. Burk was a man extremely fond of his family. He was always careful that they should be well provided for in every way. In business he was known as a man of strict financial integrity, and as a careful and conservative manager. He was the owner of a lucrative drug business and had erected for his business a handsome and commodious building on Main Street. He was a man who was always kind-hearted to his friends of whom he had many. He was one of the earliest of our business men and it was one of his proud records that he had been in business for a long period of years and that he was able to say that he owed no man a cent. The bereaved family have the sincere sympathy of the community in the loss of a loving and affectionate father.
