

CONNER'S VICTORY

Rural Delivery For Tenth District.

Special Agent is Assigned the District for Next Three Months.

Judge J. P. Conner has scored a victory over about three hundred other congressmen who are clamoring for the establishment of free rural delivery routes in their districts and has secured the assignment of Mr. Thos. D. Boylan of Eldora one of the special agents of the Postoffice Department to give the Tenth District of Iowa his undivided attention for the next three months. Mr. Boylan was brought back from Colorado to begin this work for the tenth district after a short conference with Judge Conner he has already gone to work beginning in Carroll and Greene counties. In a few weeks the special agent will visit Crawford county and the real work of establishing the routes will begin. The fact that Judge Conner, one of the newest of the congressmen, has been able to secure this for his district is a notable victory.

The entertainment given by the Philanthropic Society of the High School on Saturday, was a great success both from a literary and a financial standpoint. The young folks deserve great credit for their work along these lines.

The Passion Play.

Lecture and magnificent views of this wonderful religious performance enacted by the devout peasants of Oberammergau, will be given at the opera house, Wednesday evening, April 10th, by the Rev. C. S. Brown, A. M., who was an eye witness of these scenes last summer. It is hoped that all will avail themselves of this opportunity to become fully acquainted with this, one of the most important events in history. Reserved seats 25 cents. Tickets can be procured at Cassaday's drug store. The play is given under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church.

THE WAR SONG CONCERT.

Denison is to have a revival of patriotism in the War Song Concert to be given on April 9th under the auspices of the Sons of Veterans. The concert is for the benefit of the Memorial University which is now being erected by the Sons of Veterans of the United States at Mason City. This promises to be one of the greatest universities of this country and it certainly will be a magnificent addition to the educational facilities of Iowa. But aside from the goodly purpose let us all unite in spending an evening in patriotism and in listening to the best talent of Denison in the rendition of those stirring and inspiring songs which kept up the spirits of the boys in blue during the dark days of the rebellion and which served to give courage and faith to many a lonely mother sitting at home while her very heart and soul were on some distant battle field and the words of the "Star Spangled Banner" rose as a prayer to Heaven.

A Parable.

Not many years ago we knew a young newspaper publisher who felt that he had a grievance against a certain man. He felt that the man had injured him and was his enemy and he proceeded to find all the weak points in the man's character and to expose them to the public through the columns of his paper. He succeeded in making the man uncomfortable and he also succeeded in rousing some sentiment against the man in his community. Finally it dawned upon the editor that the quarrel was largely a personal one and that his action in assailing one of the leading men of his town was not helpful to the community nor to its interests. He found that there were many things in which all the people of the community must work together if any good was to be accomplished and accordingly he ceased his publications against his enemy. It is just as easy to say mean things as pleasant ones. It is easier to tear down than to build up. When a newspaper man comes to the finally however, and asks himself if he is doing his duty by the community he must face the fact that a newspaper is not the proper vehicle for the venting of a private grudge and that no man has the right to use the powerful weapon of the press against any man save when the interests of the community demand. There are some editors on our exchange list who would do well to observe the teachings of this parable.

Few people have seen the Passion Play at Oberammergau, and still smaller is the number who will see it in the future. It is one of the marvels of the world how the plain peasant people of the little Bavarian village can produce such a marvelous living picture of the Passion of Christ. Just at this appropriate season when the thoughts of all are turned toward the glorious resurrection, our people are to have an opportunity to see a reproduction of this wonderful play which many persons have paid hundreds of dollars to witness. Mr. J. Fred Meyers was one of the few of our citizens to have seen the play as given at Oberammergau, and we well remember the glowing accounts he used to give of the great and inspiring performance.

The board of supervisors is now in session.

Hon. J. P. Conner visited Charter Oak on Monday.

Maurice O'Conner, of Vail, had business before the board today.

Miss Clara McAhren is in Boone this week, where she is visiting friends.

Master Clark Stone is visiting in Dow City today with his uncle, Mr. Frank Stone.

M. M. McAlpin went to Des Moines today in the interest of the American Book Co.

REVIEW for Job Work

Ladies' Suits and Skirts

Our garments are the correct thing, the sensible kind, without a flaw. Every garment is strictly new, we have no last season's styles to dispose of and what's more our prices are right, positively low as the lowest with no depreciation in quality.

J. P. Miller & Co. Department Store.

We understand that quite a number of the Masonic brethren went to Dow City last evening to assist the brethren at that place in instituting a new lodge.

The Twentieth Century Concert Composed of Miss Webster, Mrs. Bradley, Miss Garrison and Miss Ley will give an entertainment at Dunlap this evening.

Clarence Cose of Deloit, was a Denison visitor on Saturday. Clarence has made an efficient and accommodating assessor in his township, all being pleased with his work.

Mr. James Reagan will leave for West Side this week, where he intends to put in a pool room and lunch counter for the benefit of the railroad boys and himself. We wish him good luck with his venture.

Mr. F. H. Morgan has purchased the handsome residence of Mr. E. A. Stone in south Denison. It is a most comfortable home and we are glad to learn that Mr. Morgan is to be one of our permanent citizens.

On Wednesday, Miss Pearl Ley left for Omaha, where she will spend three months studying music under Prof. Landsberg, who is one of the best pianists in the west. Upon her return she will again devote her time to teaching music and as an accompanist.

Editor Hills of the Charter Oak Times, was a pleasant caller today. He reports business good at Charter Oak and that business men of all lines are pushing their business through the columns of his paper. The Times and the Vail Observer have adjusted their differences in regard to the county printing and all is peace in the newspaper fraternity.

Our city marshals had quite an experience last Friday night near the Northwestern depot. There was a crowd of 14 or 15 railroad men who had imbibed too freely and becoming engaged in an altercation it was necessary to call in the police. The men were pretty well armed with knives and it was necessary to use force to disband them.

At a meeting of representatives of Odd Fellows of the Crawford-Monona District held in Denison on last Saturday it was decided to hold the annual district convention on June 5, at our neighboring town of Dow City. District Deputy J. H. Tyron, of Manilla, was in attendance at the meeting, and our young friend, Mr. Guy Whaley, was secretary of the meeting. We predict the Odd Fellows will have a big time at Dow City.

Fred Hall has accepted a position as stenographer in Mr. Geo. Richardson's law office.

Miss Mollie O'Hare returned on Monday morning to resume her work in the public schools of Sioux City.

Miss Francis Hart, of Charter Oak, has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Criswell for the past few days.

The shooting gallery is folding its tent. It was a blot on the landscape and we are not unwilling to see it go.

Miss Nellie Gillmor, of the Ida Grove schools, is visiting her cousins, the Misses Gillmor of Denison, this week.

Attorney O'Hare returned this week from a vacation trip to Iowa City and Chicago, and is now down to work again.

Miss Rebecca Rollinson, of Des Moines, is the guest of her sister, our popular teacher, and of the Misses Kirkup.

Miss Gertie Tucker started this evening for Kent, Washington, at which place she expects to teach school.

The preliminary hearing of the boys arrested for the Deloit robberies takes place before Justice McLennan tomorrow morning.

Mr. Guy Whaley has decided not to work for the Brown Art Co., but instead will go on the road with a photographer's outfit.

The late spring is delaying farm work and also the work of the building trades. Every one will be rushing when the weather lets go.

Clarence Nobles and Ninus Montgomery have purchased a lunch counter at West Side. We wish them success in their new venture.

Mr. E. A. Stone contemplates building a fine residence for himself on his lots on south Main street, just opposite the home of Mr. W. J. McAhren.

Mr. A. H. Harper, of Dow City, was a pleasant caller last Friday. Mr. Harper is one of the Review's faithful subscribers and is one of the most respected citizens of his community.

Miss Margaret Kelly has accepted a position as stenographer in the A. H. Brown Art Studio. Mr. Brown's business has increased to such an extent that he has found it necessary to have a stenographer to attend to his correspondence.
