Mr. Joseph Johnson ended his pleasant visit with his Kiron relatives and returned to his home in Newmans Grove, Monday.

Mr. P. Waldemar has been confined to his bed the past three weeks, the results of an injury sustained while felling willow trees.

The Kiron Mutual Farmers Insurance Society held their semi-annual meeting at old Kiron, Saturday, to adjust and settle claims and transact other business of the company.

Prof. John Lee, of the Baptist College at Sac City, was a visitor in Kiron the first part of this week. He preached at the Baptist church Sunday evening.

Mr. Albert C. Norclins took a well-earned rest from his confining store work last week, going to Lake View, Wednesday, where he attended the Swedish Mission Sunday school picnic of Odeboit and enjoying the lake breezes. He returned home Thursday.

The foundation is laid and the frame work going up for the new school house at old Kiron. P. G. Lawler of Jackson township having the contract for its erection. The new site is on the lot joining J. O. Nelson's residence, at the old site was too near the railroad track.

Rev. Jules Mauritzson has resigned his pastorage at the Swedish Lutheran church and accepted the professorship of the Augustana College located at Rock Island, Ill. The church loses a pastor whose equal they never had, and this community in his removal loses a gentleman through and through. Rev. G. N. Forsberg of North Grosvenor, Conn., has been secured to succeed him.

Arrangements have been made to hold the first Young People's State Convention at the Free Mission church at Kiron, the latter part of next month. A large delegation of young Christians from various points in the state is expected to be present. The program for the convention will consist of addresses by prominent Christian speakers, discussion of questions of interest to young Christians. The song service during the convention will be led by Miss Eda Carlson of Boone, Ia. Efforts will be made to secure among the speakers to come, Rev. G. A. Young of Boone, Gust Johnson of Moline, Iowa, and Fred Nelson of Omaha, Nebr.

P. B. Olson is hauling lumber for the remodeling and enlarging of his dwelling.

J. O. Booth of Woodbine, Ia., set up his photo tent in Kiron Tuesday to remain a few weeks.

Rev. A. Modig and family spent Tuesday visiting the family of A. Liliehalm, near Denison.

Rev. Phillip Nelson, a former missionary to China, will preach at the Mission church next Sunday morning and evening.

Wednesday a chicken buyer had a car at Kiron and quite a number of farmers brought in their feathered stock.

Miss Sarah Seivers of Omaha arrived in Kiron last week to spend the hot summer months at the home of her uncle, S. M. Sandstrom.

Mrs. J. A. Lawrence and son, Cliff, returned home Saturday from St. Louis, where Cliff attended a school, learning the latest in photography.

Mrs. P. E. Nordell and children and Miss Blanche Olson returned home from their visit at Redfield, S. D., on Tuesday. They report a fine trip and time.

We are reliably informed that a permit was granted by the town council at their meeting Friday night to run a saloon to a party from Schleswig, who will open up the Runkney saloon on Monday next.

Messrs. P. E. Nordell and J. P. Hunter and wife left on Tuesday for Redfield, S. D. Mr. and Mrs. Hunter will inspect the lands for sale in that region and if found to suit will invest in same.

Mr. William McKim of Deloit was a brief visitor here on Tuesday.

John Thunstrim is having his harness and shoe shop repainted. The old coat of paint was severely scorched by the recent fire.

Rev. A. Modig leaves on Friday for an extended trip to several points in Iowa and to Moline and Chicago, Ill., expecting to be absent some two weeks.

A department store customer, after giving his song of how people are robbed by home merchants, was asked if these Chicago department stores handled the standard goods in shoes, calicoes, sewing machines, and other goods. He replied he did not know. When asked why they did not, and also if he knew the standard brands, he replied he could not tell. Just such suckers is what makes up the largest class of customers of these wide-advertising concerns. Customers who can't tell standard goods, but will confound inferior goods handled by these concerns with the standard goods handled by home merchants are their best customers. If standard goods were handled by these department stores they would have to sell for exactly the same money as the home merchants sell them at. It surprises us that these parties don't send their butter and eggs and products to these concerns, so as to not give the home merchants a chance to rob them; also take their team and drive to Chicago after the goods so as to avoid being robbed by the railroad company.

Miss Beatrice Gary visited friends in Denison Monday.

S. D. Lurie went to Des Moines Monday on a business trip.

C. T. Lewis, of Co. Bluffs, visited over Sunday with friends here.
