

Mr. D. V. Evans was a Mason City visitor last week.

Miss Allison and mother spent Sunday with Mrs. Joseph Brogden.

The meeting of the Penelope Club was postponed on account of the illness of Howard Johnson.

Aug. Balle is having a cement walk laid on the west side of his residence property in north Denison.

Mrs. J. R. Berkson is expected home today. She has been making an extended visit in the south.

Mr. T. J. Garrison is erecting a new and commodious stable and carriage house on his property in east Denison.

Misses Lillie and Maggie Evans, accompanied by Miss Edna Gilbreath, visited their parents in Missouri Valley over Sunday.

Yes, this paper is mostly politics, but this is the last week of it, and the Review will tend more strictly to news features hereafter.

Miss Mattie Carns and Mr. Daniel Duell of Slaterville Springs, New York are pleasant visitors this week at the home of their cousin, Mrs. E. T. Cochran.

Mrs. Donald Kemp Dupty, Supreme President of the Fraternal Union of America, returned yesterday from a business trip to Council Bluffs and Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Potter returned Monday from Sac City. They are rejoicing over the advent of a little granddaughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lee. Many Denison friends extend congratulations.

Mr. Fred Seymour was in town today billing Rusco & Holland's Uncle Tom's Cabin. He reports business good and says they are going through to the coast. Mrs. Seymour is in Maine and meeting with great success.

The Presbyterian Sabbath school held a very successful Rally on last Sabbath at the school hour. The attendance was large and the interest shown in the work excellent. Mrs. Maggie McHenry is the efficient Superintendent and she has a valued corps of officers and teachers assisting.

Waived Examination.

Mr. Dave Ringer waived examination in the case in which Chas. Menagh is the prosecuting witness and he has been bound over to await the action of the grand jury. He gave bond for his appearance.

JUD AND THE BUZZ-SAW.

Jud Gary ran into a buzz saw last night at Deloit. Jud did not know it was loaded. He did not know that Jim Brenton was the hardest hitting, fighting chaplain in the republican party of Iowa. Jud tried a preliminary skirmish on the train going to Deloit but Brenton was loaded and would not bite. He drew Jud on, made him think he was easy and so Jud went to the meeting prepared to do great havoc. He let Brenton get a good start and then began his interruptions. Brenton played with him a while and gave him plenty of line until Jud swallowed the bait, hook and all. Then it was Brenton's turn. The way he lambasted the great leader of Crawford county democracy was a caution. Never before has Jud heard so much truth about himself. He started to go but Brenton called him back, rubbed it into him again, wiped the center aisle with him, tossed him up to the ceiling, metaphorically speaking, and let him drop on the floor with a dull sickening thud. Then he picked Gary up and biffed him again with another argument. It was like a Kansas cyclone going through a straw stack. The brains of democracy, as Jud fancies he is, looked like 30c Mexican when the thing was over. He took a sneak for the train and it is reported that for once in his life the Honorable A. J. Gary spent 15 minutes in deep, earnest thought, without saying a word. He has been the big bluffer, the breaker up of meetings, Jud the invincible, Jud the terrific, but he came home looking more like a whipped spaniel than the great champion of free silver.

The next time Jud monkeys with Jim Brenton, he won't. The next time he undertakes to break up a republican meeting it will not will not be one conducted by the big 300 pound man from Des Moines.

A few weeks ago one of the colored boys connected with the Nashville Students, who are now traveling with Rusco & Holland's Uncle Tom's Cabin Co., was given a suckling pig. As

REMOVES FROM DENISON

Attorney Geo. H. Fletcher Will Locate at Elkader, Ia.

Mr. Geo. H. Fletcher has formed a partnership with a Mr. Preston an attorney of Elkader who has an extensive practice, and leaves for that place to-day. Mr. Fletcher has made many friends in Denison during his stay and all regret his departure and trust that he will reap rich rewards in his new field of labor. He has the ability and energy and we recommend him to the citizens of Elkader as one whose citizenship is to be desired. The new firm will make a strong one.

FRIDAY CLUB BANQUET.

I. Walton said that "God might have made a better berry than the strawberry but he never did," and so we can truthfully say that there may be a better banquet given in Denison than the one Friday night but it has yet to be given.

The menu committee covered themselves with glory and set a standard for committees yet to come that it will be difficult to equal without trying to surpass. The table was a rosy red dream—roses red everywhere in bouquets, center pieces and laid on the table cloth, while countless red shaded candelabra cast a crimson light of good cheer. It is no wonder the guests felt that they were in a roseate situation and proceeded to enjoy themselves to the utmost. The table was arranged very cleverly to form the letter "F." The dining room at the dormitory is so large that every one had plenty of room. The menu given below reads well, but it tasted even better than it reads and proved that the Friday club members practice what they preach and use their own cook book. The Misses Wilson, Gulick, Smith, Shaw, Hardy and Bowen in pretty white gowns made very good waiters and the club are much indebted to them for their help.

MENU.

- "Bid your friends welcome, show a merry cheer."..... Shakespeare
- Oyster Cocktail.....
- "Fruit of the wave! Oh, dainty and delicious."..... Croffut
- Corn Bisque..... Waiters
- "None knew thee but to praise thee."..... Halleck
- Roast Turkey.....
- Browned Sweet Potatoes.....
- "Stuffed with all honorable virtues."..... Shakespeare
- Creamed Peas.....
- Cranberry Granite.....
- Celery..... Olives
- "The superfluous, a very necessary thing."..... Voltaire
- Fruit Salads..... Marguerites
- "That which combined was most great."..... Shakespeare
- Strawberry Mousse..... Cake
- Salted Nuts..... Coffee
- "All is well that ends well."..... Heywood

The toasts followed the merry enjoyment of the banquet. Mrs. Boynton rising to the occasion in both senses of the word, making a very charming and apt toastmistress, asked Mrs. Martyn to welcome the guests, and if anything more was needed to make the guests feel at home surely Mrs. Martyn's graceful and well chosen remarks were all that were required.

Mr. Johnson followed, responding to the toast, "The Influence of the Club in the Home." Wit and wisdom, grave and gay, much sense and some nonsense comprised Mr. Johnson's very happy remarks. "Club Loyalty" was Miss Goodrich's toast and as everyone knows Miss Goodrich is so loyal to all that she undertakes her splendid thoughts had a two-fold meaning to her hearers. Miss Goodrich threw some bouquets at the club which they accepted unblushingly, it being their right to gloat.

The club has always always felt bereft over losing Mrs. Lillian Johnson from their membership and felt it more keenly than ever when they heard her response to the toast of "Honorary Members." Having Mrs. Johnson with the club was one of the pleasant events of the evening.

Mr. Savage had the toast "Those Whom we Love and Those Who Love Us," and he gave a very chivalrous and knightly tribute to women. The club is to be congratulated upon the fact that Mr. Savage's charming young wife being a member makes him one of the "Friday Club men" and so eligible for a toast.

"Our Progress" was to have been responded to by Miss Balle, but as she was unable to attend Mrs. Lena Lay read Miss Balle's excellent and thoughtfully written paper in a way that did it full justice.

Mr. McHenry had the last toast, "Committee on Resolutions" and revealed state and picnic secrets in a vein of humor all his own. Mr. McHenry's toast was one of the best and his resolution proposing a return banquet given to the club members was carried amid much enthusiasm.

The quotation on the program beneath the vocal trio by Mesdames, Boyle, Voss and Philbrook was certainly prophetic. "My Ears Were Never Better Fed With Such Delightful Pleading Melody."

NOTES.

Mrs. Van Ness was assisted by her husband in receiving the guests and making them feel royally welcome. The seventh anniversary banquet of the Friday club was a grand success. Mr. and Mrs. Hal Johnson, of Dunlap, Mrs. Haas and Miss Kingman of Des Moines, Miss Mabel Bowen of Carroll and Miss Taber of Independence were the out of town guests. That nothing might be left undone to make the club's enjoyment complete Mrs. Kuehler returned from Chicago and surprised all her friends from whom she received a hearty ovation and welcome.

Cases of supposed small-pox have been found coming from the primary school taught by Miss Haskins in the West Brick school in Denison. The schools in this building have been closed and parents sending pupils to this school have been ordered to keep their children on their home premises under pain of having the entire family placed under quarantine. Those sick at present are Howard Johnson, a daughter of Dr. H. A. Boyle and a son of Mr. Steckelberg. These cases have been quarantined, the school rooms have been fumigated and as the cases are mild ones it is thought these precautionary measures will suffice.

Verdict for Acquittal.

The jury in the case of the State vs. Saul and Malone was out but a short time on Friday evening before returning a verdict of acquittal and thus freeing Messrs. Saul and Malone from the charge against them. The case took five days for trial and was a very expensive one for the county as a large number of witnesses were examined and the costs were no inconsiderable sum. The Review hopes that the ill-feeling which the case has aroused will now die out.

everyone knows, a colored man and pork chops are allied, so the colored boy raised the pig on a bottle, and today the "coon" and pig are fast friends. The pig follows his friend everywhere the same as a faithful dog. When you see one you see the other. They are inseparable and the pig has learned many tricks that you have seen pet dogs do. Exclamations of "How cute!", "Ain't he cunning!" and others of same nature are heard on every side. [Opera house Nov. 5th]

War Relic Exhibit.

Among the attractions of the week was the exhibition of war relics under the auspices of John A. Logan Relief Corps, at the City hall, Saturday afternoon and evening.

The room was prettily decorated with flags and bunting and hung with relics of several wars, the War of the Revolution, War of 1812, Mexican War, Civil War, Indian Wars, Spanish-American War, the Philippine War and the war in South Africa. Tables and show cases were filled with relics and many expressed surprise that so fine a collection could be found in a place of this size. The camp fire was lighted at 7.30. War songs, addresses by R. Shaw Van and W. A. McHenry, and pleasing recitations by Misses Hilda and Hedwig Broderson were a part of the program. McHenry camp S. of V. were the surprised and proud recipients of a gavel made from wood found on the historic field of Gettysburg. It was a gift from Mrs. McClellan and presented by her to the camp through A. C. Weeks, who thanked her for the camp in a neat little speech.

The ladies served light refreshments that were much enjoyed. The receipts will be about $25.00 and used for the relief of needy soldiers, and their families.

Mrs. Voss gave an At Home on Saturday afternoon in honor of her guests Mrs. Dr. Haas and Miss Kingman of Des Moines. Both of the ladies are school friends of Mrs. Voss and she very generously shared the pleasure of their visit with a number of her friends. Two games were played, one the guessing of the number of chestnuts, proved that Mrs. Chas. Bollen was the best guesser and she received a book to keep her in mind of the fact. Mrs. Haas played snatches of favorite airs and the ladies wrote their names as she played them. Mrs. B. Sibbert won the prize in this instance, a picture. An elegant two course supper consisting of numerous delicacies was served by the Misses Gulick Shaw and Bowen.
