Denison's... Gala Week

Denison has had on its best bib and tucker this week and parties have had the right of way, even election has had to take a back seat.

On Wednesday afternoon nearly one hundred ladies attended a reception given by Mesdames Burch and Young. The Misses Burch assisted their mother in receiving the guests. Very handsome white and yellow chrysanthemums were profusely used in decoration and the entire effect was very handsome. Delicate refreshments consisting of ice cream, fancy cake and coffee were served, bonbons being the dining room favors. Mrs. Gov. Shaw was one of the guests. The entire party was very pretty and successful.

On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Savage entertained a company of friends at their hospitable home on Broadway. They proved themselves delightful hosts and the evening was a thoroughly enjoyable one. A novel game was a search for hidden nuts which were secreted in every imaginable place about the room. This nutting party created much merriment and it was followed by a guessing contest, which aroused all the ingenuity of the guests. Mrs. W. J. Scriver won the first prize, but not until a tie in which the eight who had won first place was participated in. The prize was a beautiful cup and saucer. Mrs. Savage assisted by the Misses Stoner and Garnett Romans served a delicious two course lunch and the remainder of the evening was passed in social chat and one of those good friendly times which Denison people usually have when they get together. Mr. and Mrs. Savage are most deservedly popular in our city, not alone in school circles but in the social and every day life of the community. And Mrs. Savage makes the best coffee we have had for a long while.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Will Goudie gave an afternoon sewing and the following guests enjoyed her hospitality and a good old-fashioned visit: Mesdames Wygant, Raine, Goodrich, Gilmore, King and Branch and the Misses Raine, Gilmore, Goodrich, King and Falkner. Mrs. Goudie served a very nice two course supper.

On Thursday evening Mrs. Conner gave another of the notable dinners with which she has been bidding farewell to her many friends. The dinner was a triumph of culinary skill and artistic arrangement. The name cards were exquisitely decorated by the talented hostess in roses for the ladies and violets for the gentlemen. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Scriver, Mr. and Mrs. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Lally, Dr. Iseninger, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Force, Mr. F. W. Meyers and the Misses Meyers and Tabor.

On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Voss entertained a large company of young people complimentary to their guest, Miss Kingman of Des Moines. Roses, chrysanthemums and carnations profusely used in decoration—dishes of bonbons were scattered throughout the rooms, also, Mrs. Voss had provided two very clever games for her guests. One called the "Think Quick" game was entirely new and afforded much amusement. Miss Meyers won the prize, a very pretty marine picture. The next game was a lesson in geography and was a splendid guessing game. The Misses Schumaker, Rigold and Kingman were tied for the prize. In this contest Miss Kingman received the prize, a book. Music and two excellent readings by Prof. Martin followed the serving of a very nice light refreshments. Mr. and Mrs. Voss are royal hosts and everyone had a good time at their home.

This afternoon (Friday), Mrs. Holmes entertained a number of ladies.

We understand that Mr. Geo. Myers takes his defeat for county superintendent very much to heart. Mr. Myers should remember that he has already had two terms and that the people of the county have treated him most kindly. He did not think it such an awful matter when he defeated Dr. Wright four years ago, after the Doctor had had but one term.

A QUESTION OF TEETH.

Did the Immortal George Wear Artificial or Natural Ones?

"George Washington's false teeth, which were supposed to have been made of ivory, are giving a certain class of freak historians about as much trouble as they must have given the venerable patriot who wore them," said one of the professors of the Smithsonian Institution to a reporter recently.

"Many times a year for several years this institution has been called upon to produce these mysterious teeth for the inspection of persons who insist that they are here.

"Our matter of fact answer to these inquiries that Washington had no false teeth, or at least if he did, that they are not in the possession of the museum, seems only to stimulate the inquiring mind to protest our statement. They proceed to give us authentic accounts of these teeth and always conclude with expressing the belief that they must be in the museum somewhere.

"Where or how the idea that Washington had false teeth originated is an unsolved mystery. That it is firmly believed by many is certainly a fact. There seems to be no authentic record of the Father of His Country possessing ivory teeth, and by a study of the bust we have of him, which was made but a few years before his death, there is no indication of an indentation along the line of the gums such as can be noticed in persons who have had their teeth drawn, even though they wear artificial ones. However, we will continue to answer the same question in the same way probably many times in the future."

According to some biographers Washington lost his teeth during his service as commander in chief of the Continental army and had a set of ivory ones made. These teeth, it is also stated, gave him much trouble because they did not fit.—Washington Star.

RAILWAY RUMBLES.

Ireland claims the honor of the first electric railway in the United Kingdom.

It is said that the cheapest railway fares in the world are to be found in Hungary.

Denmark has a government railroad system of 1,167 miles and 525 miles of private railroads.

The Serbian, Roumanian and Bulgarian railroads are owned exclusively by the respective governments.

Travelers on Prussian railways whose baggage, through no fault of their own, fails to arrive with them can now have it sent on request free to their homes.

The difficulty of railway construction in some parts of Africa is illustrated by the fact that on the Freetown-Matru line, in Sierra Leone, eleven steel bridges had to be built in a distance of only thirty kilometers.

A representative of the Paris Temps has been examining railway stations in Germany, and he declares that those of Dresden, Cologne, Hanover, Frankfurt, Bremen, etc., are far superior to any of the French except the Parisian.

Florists' Lives Are Short.

"It is commonly supposed that the men who work in the mines or those whose occupations necessitate the breathing of poisonous fumes and gases are the shortest lived," said a prominent physician. "This is a mistake, and it will surprise many to learn that the highest death rate is found among a class who breathe in the sweetest odors—florists.

"The reason is a simple one. The florist lives at once in the torrid and the frigid zone. From a greenhouse atmosphere of nearly 100 degrees in the winter months he must step out into one that is nearly always below freezing point and often below zero. In summer he has change to encounter, too, as in the spring and fall. By force of habit he grows careless and often works without his coat in the hot, artificial atmosphere, and this increases the dangers to which he is exposed. Lungs and throat and stomach diseases, as well as rheumatism, find in the florist the least resistance."—Galveston News.

The Change in the Tenderfoot.

"This is a remarkably healthy climate, they say," said the easterner.

"You're right that," said Arizona Al. "For instance, not long ago a tenderfoot with a weak chest and a pale face dropped into the Miners' Delight, called me a liar an' o' course I had to clean up. 'Bout two months after a big sunburnt cowboy stopped on the street, wiped the earth up with me an' slammed me up in a tree to recuperate. Same feller. Best climate in the world, pard!" —Indianapolis Sun.
