VOTE FOR NEW DEAL

YOUNG BUSINESS MEN RECONSTRUCT ASSOCIATION

Board of Directors a New One Almost Throughout.

We are glad to note that the young business men of Denison have finally become awake to the possibilities of a good, live, strong business men's association and that they have taken the affair into their own hands and are ready for business with a big B.

It must be confessed that the business men's association, while it has accomplished much, has not been the factor that it might have been. The fact that Hon. J. P. Conner, the president of the association, has been in Washington much of the time has been a deterrent but even without him more could have been accomplished than has been done.

On Tuesday evening the annual election of officers was held and it became apparent that the younger element was bound to take a strong hand in the affairs of the association. A quiet caucus was held the night before and during the day there were a number of new members enrolled and in the evening a new set of directors were chosen but few of whom were on the old board. So far as we have heard there is nothing but commendation for this action either upon the part of the old directors or the other business men.

All the interest at stake is for the pushing of Denison and its interests and the feeling is general that it is a good sign that the young men are taking hold. The list of the new directors is as follows: C. C. Kemming, T. J. Kelly, I. V. Jackson, J. C. Robinson, J. R. Berkson, J. B. Romans, A. D. Randall, C. E. Lyman, B. Broderson, C. F. Kuehle, H. Gebert, U. G. Johnson, Chas. Tabor, C. L. Voss, George Naeve.

The new directorate will meet on Tuesday evening next for the election of the other officers of the body as provided by the constitution. It is said that the action taken last night assures Denison of a street fair next summer and a number of other up-to-date projects for keeping Denison before the people. The new directors have been placed in a position where much is expected of them and we believe they will fully meet the expectations of their friends.

Mr. Frank Tighe and Mr. Leon Young leave tomorrow to try their fortunes in the far west. They go to Spokane Wash. but have not decided what they will do at first. Mr. W. W. Cook informs us that he has plans under way for the erection of a fine $20,000.00 brick hotel on the site of the present Wilson House. He expects to move the present building to the south end of his lots and to continue to use it for sample rooms, etc. Mr. Cook has proved himself to be a good hotel man and with up-to-date facilities he would do a great business here. We trust that nothing will occur to prevent him from carrying out his much needed improvement to Denison.

HIGHEST MARKET PRICE—Paid for oats. W. A. MCHENRY.

A Business Transfer.

Messrs. Wise and Stern, of Sioux City, have purchased the Armstrong drug store and have already taken possession. Mr. Armstrong went to Sioux City to see about the purchase of some land and finally decided to include the business here in the deal. He has built up a flourishing business here by progressive methods of advertising and pushing. His stock was a large and complete one and his store one of the best in Denison. He was known as a wide-awake young business man and was ever ready to help anything for the good of the town. We shall miss him from business circles but we wish him the very best of success in whatever he undertakes. The new owners have wisely decided to place the management of the store in the hands of Mr. Will Cobault, a young man who has made himself deservedly popular with all classes during his stay in Denison and who is possessed of the business ability to carry on the business most successfully.

Broke His Hand.

On yesterday afternoon Mr. Otto Moenck had the misfortune to break one of the bones of his hand while decorating the opera house for the Shaw reception. Otto is perhaps the most artistic decorator in Denison and he kindly volunteered to assist in making the hall beautiful for the occasion. Just as he had about finished his work he was mounted on a high ladder draping some flags over the stage. He called to the man holding the ladder to see if the flags were straight and the man let go of the ladder which slipped and came down with a crash. Otto was fortunate that he was not more severely hurt but it is bad enough as it is as he will be laid up for a month or more. Something should be done by the citizens to see that he does not lose anything on account of his willingness to contribute his share toward making the reception a success.

Later. We learn that Otto also suffered an internal injury. The balance of the sum subscribed for the reception amounting to $18, has been devoted to paying the expenses of his illness.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Miller of Grand Island Neb, have been visiting friends in Denison's West Side colony this week. Mr. Miller was formerly a resident of West Side and his many friends were rejoiced to see him and to know that he is prospering in his Nebraska home.
