Crawford County State Bank.
DENISON, IOWA.

The Best Security for Depositors. Farm Loans at Five Per Cent Interest.

This Bank is incorporated under the laws of the State of Iowa. This gives the best security to all depositors, not only to the amount of stock, but the personal property of each share-holder is holden to the amount of his share for any loss to the bank. Incorporated banks are under the control of the State Auditor, who can at any time examine the books and according to his investigation the published statements are true. Depositors in an incorporated bank have more security than the ordinary unincorporated bank. They have the best security because the capital is held in trust for the benefit of the depositors and investors. The Crawford County State Bank is the best incorporated banking institution in the County. A general banking business done.

CURED BY

DR. STOCKDALE'S TREATMENT.

It relieves the most distressing symptoms at once. The cure is speedy and permanent. Ten years of cures remove all doubts as to any possibility of failure. It is the one recognized, established treatment.

Consultation and Advice Free.

Dr. Stockdale's treatment is today the recognized established cure for physical decline since it insures absolute success. It effects immediate beneficial results and a speedy cure. When the laws of health have been violated and there is a consciousness of some gradually growing disease or weakness, visible or invisible, that is sapping the strength and exhausting the system, these symptoms follow: sleeplessness, nervousness, twitching of the muscles, trembling of the limbs, dizziness, loss of flesh, indigestion, heart palpitation and lack of concentration. Weaknesses are created by these strains upon the nerve forces, and the life's blood is sapped away. Dr. Stockdale's treatment removes weaknesses, strengthens the nervous system, creates new tissue, induces a free circulation of the blood and cleanses it from all impurities. It is the most rational, safe and positive curing treatment.

Free consultation and advice given every sufferer an opportunity of understanding the exact physical condition before considering the question of treatment.

Do not let prejudice stand in the way of your selecting the right treatment. There is only one right treatment—the one that cures—that's Dr. Stockdale's.

CATARH. The successful treatment of catarrh, diseases of the blood and skin, rheumatic complications and physical decline, require more than ordinary medical skill. Dr. Stockdale has treated these diseases for ten years—and his experience insures positive cures. The Doctor will visit

Original Notice.

In the district court of Iowa, in and for Crawford county, April Term, 1902. C. W. Payne, plaintiff vs. Mathias Goldbeck, et al, defendants. To the defendants, M. Devells & Co., Blair Town Lot and Land Co., and Frank Westland:

You, and each of you are hereby notified that there is now on file in the office of the Clerk of the District Court of Iowa, in and for Crawford county, a petition and amendment thereto by the plaintiff, C. W. Payne, praying for judgment on account of a certain promissory note for Two Hundred and Fifty ($250.00) Dollars, made to said C. W. Payne by Mathias Goldbeck and Doris Goldbeck, dated December 21, 1889; and also praying said court for a decree of foreclosure of a certain mortgage deed given by said Mathias Goldbeck and Doris Goldbeck to the plaintiff herein under date of November 7th, 1889, as security for the payment of the said promissory note, upon the following described real estate situated in Crawford county, Iowa, to-wit:

Lots six, seven and eight (6, 7, 8), block ten (10), in the incorporate town of West Side, Iowa; said mortgage deed being recorded in Book 43 of Mortgages, pages 87 and 88, in the office of the Recorder of Deeds, Crawford county, Iowa. (No personal judgment is asked against the defendants above named).

And that unless you appear thereto and defend on or before the noon of the second day of the next term of the said district court, to be held at Denison, Iowa, commencing on the 21st day of April, 1902, default will be entered against you and judgment and decree rendered thereon as prayed in said petition.

Dated this 28th day of January, 1902.

Accuses a Postmaster.

Des Moines, Feb. 21.—C. H. Fullington, who claims to have been mobbed last September near Avon, has made formal charges against John King, postmaster at that place. He alleges that King instigated the visit of the mob, which consisted of about 15 men, who called at his place of residence after dark, and, headed by King, and upon threats of personal violence by King, spokesman for the crowd, ordered him to leave the state. Fullington has made affidavit to Washington, and also to Postmaster Schooler of this city.

Receiver in Plattsmouth.

Plattsmouth, Neb., Feb. 21.—Walter J. White of this city has been appointed receiver of the Plattsmouth Gas and Electric Light plant. The bondholders brought suit to compel the city to pay $30,000 for the plant.

More About the Telephone.

The recent enthusiastic meeting of the Business Men's Association and the discussion relative to the telephone rates opens up the whole range of discussion as to how far the public should control the operations of railroads, telegraph, telephone and similar corporations. The right of private contract is one recognized in law as sound on general principles. So long as a man or corporation asks no favors of the state, the state is not in a position to enact restrictive legislation. Just as soon, however, as the man or corporation asks a special favor that in itself gives to the state the right, both legal and moral, to have some control over the child of its favor. In law we even go further than this, for there is a law against usury, although the parties to the contract may neither of them have received any special advantages or privileges. In the case of railroads, telegraph and telephone lines and kindred enterprises the state has been largely instrumental in creating property value, and it also gives to these corporations rights which are denied the individual. No matter how greatly one may desire a particular site for a factory or other private enterprise he could not condemn the land as is done by railroad companies. The private individual cannot use the public highway for private gain as does the telephone company. All of these extra privileges carry with them the right, the undoubted right, of the people to control the charges in a just and reasonable manner. If we expect these enterprises of a semi-public nature to be pushed and wish to have large systems built up which will afford rapid means of communication with all parts of the country we must expect to pay a fair profit. There is no reason, however, why any state or community should be bled by the child of its own creation.

In the present instance we believe that there is not a business man in Denison who does not desire the Iowa Telephone Company to make a fair profit from the Denison exchange. Denison has appreciated the enterprise of the company in putting in good instruments, keeping the exchange in good repair, and otherwise maintaining an excellent service. Denison contains some good business men, however. They are almost as well able to compute the cost of a telephone exchange and its maintenance and repairs as are the officers of the company. They know that at the present rate there is an undue amount of profit, and that they are paying into the treasury of the telephone company far more than would be considered a safe and legitimate profit in any other business.

It is therefore without malice and without threats that the business men are prepared to go before the officers of the company and show cause why the rates should be reduced.

They also ask in the name of good citizenship that the employees of the company be paid wages commensurate with the intelligence required to fill the position. They feel that they have been paying more than enough to warrant reasonable wages being paid, and they feel that the duties of the central force are so arduous that the best service cannot be expected when too long hours are required.

The party line is another nuisance of which our business men complain. It is wonderful how some strong telepathy moves all the people on the party line to talk at once.

Another telephone abuse which should be remedied not only here but elsewhere, is the messenger fee nuisance. The patron pays a good price to talk to a man in a certain town. He thinks he knows what it is going to cost him, and then just as he finishes the telephone operator at the other end of the line sweetly says that there will be ten, fifteen or twenty cents messenger fees. The patron is absolutely helpless. He knows nothing of the conditions, or whether any messenger fee was fairly earned or not. He must simply pay the bill. The telephone company should do just as the Western Union Telegraph Company does. Its service fee should include the sending of a messenger for the party wanted. A boy could be employed here for from $3 to $5 per week who would do all this work and rid the people of this unnecessary nuisance of the telephone service.

We believe that the Denison business men intend to be fair with the telephone company. They do not wish to put in a second exchange. They know that means a large outlay and a bitter fight, and that the prospect for returns, although good, is not absolutely certain. This being the case they are desirous of meeting the company more than half way in an effort to come to a reasonable adjustment of rates and provisions for good service.

Invasion of Europe

One of the most thoughtful series of articles now appearing in the public prints is one treating the American Commercial Invasion of Europe appearing in Scribner's Magazine. These articles while staunchly American, are not boastful. They show wherein there are disadvantages. The writer makes it appear that American progress is largely due to its advanced methods, and speaks of the "old United States" and the "new Europe," which is an unusual way of putting things, for he claims that the countries of Europe are emerging from commercial and industrial restraints which have held them for years. The last article deal with Italy, Austria Hungary and Germany. The writer claims that Italy is awakening to some degree of industrial activity, and its laborers are quick, clever and industrious, but that it is severely hampered, first, by its lack of coal and minerals, second, by its monetary system, and third, by the high rate of taxes made necessary by its large standing army.

It is argued that Italy can never become a serious competitor of the United States, although labor is somewhat cheaper and the abundant water power is now being put in use instead of steam.

The banking system of Italy is described as being poor. The large system of credits which play so important a part of the commercial transactions of this country being almost entirely unknown.

In Austria Hungary the conditions are described as different but not more promising. As is well known, this empire is the most complex of all nations. It is composed of numerous races, speaking different languages and having widely different interests and purposes. It may well be believed that it is only the love and reverence for the aged emperor, Franz Joseph, which keeps the empire intact. These jealousies among the Bohemians, Huns, Magyars and Germans makes it difficult to embark in large enterprises. It is said that in Austria the idea seems not to ascertain how much work one man can do, but how many men can be employed to do a certain piece of work; that the man who invents a labor saving machine is not applauded while the man who can make two jobs out of one is felt to be worthy of praise. For these and other reasons it is not deemed that Austria, although possessed of many resources, will ever become a serious competitor of the United States.

It is with an entirely different view that the writer treats of Germany. We have never seen a more eloquent eulogy than is given Germany in this article. It is stated that they are fast adopting American methods and machinery, that in solving scientific problems they have proven themselves vastly in advance of America in recent years, and although there is a temporary industrial depression, Germany has made splendid progress and is the only one of Europe's nations to be ranked as a dangerous competitor of this country. In another issue we will publish in full that portion treating of the recent progress of Germany.

Having these facts in mind, what could be wiser than that these two great nations should exchange of mutual courtesies cement their relationship and work in unison. We believe that there is room in the world for both countries to live and prosper, and we believe that the world needs the deep scientific research, the solid thought and the staid industries of the German empire, and we believe also that it needs the brilliant execution, the giant grasp of affairs which are characteristic of America.

The coming of Prince Henry to this country should be welcomed as an opportunity, not to Kotow to a prince, but to show our appreciation of that wonderful country from which the bone and sinew of America are so largely sprung.

T. E. Brady, of Dunlap, was a Denison business visitor Wednesday.

What the Bowlers are Doing.

Local bowling cranks were in a great state of excitement Wednesday night when our teams met the Carroll and Vail bowlers in return games on our home alleys. Our boys showed their visitors no mercy whatever, capturing all three series. The first game was between the Hamburgers and Vail's crack team on the Denison Bowling Co.'s alleys at 7:30 p. m. The Hamburgers proved too much for the Vails, winning the series by 204 pins. At 9 o'clock the Denison Bowling team rolled the crack team from Carroll on the Denison Bowling Co.'s alleys, Denison winning the series by 139 pins. The Carroll team was Captained by Will Scharnweber, former manager of the Denison Bowling Co.'s alleys. While this game was going on the Hamburgers administered another dose of the same medicine to the "Don't Kicks" of Carroll on the Lane & Leahy alleys. The Hamburgers won this series by 67 pins. The game between the Denison Bowling team and the Carroll team was by far the most interesting contest of the evening. It will be remembered that the Denison Bowling team lost three games to Carroll on the Carroll alleys about three weeks ago. Since that time there has been much speculation as to which team was the stronger. The exceptional high scores made by our team shows the wonderful improvement in our bowlers since that time. In the third game of this series our local team rolled 903 pins which falls 12 pins short of the highest score that has ever been made in Denison, the Schuller team having rolled 913 pins. After the games were over, the Denison bowlers invited their guests from Carroll and Vail to a bountiful spread served by Lyman & Young. Plates were set for 40. Everyone present had a most enjoyable time. F. W. Meyers was requested to deliver an address of welcome which was followed by several other speeches. A vote of thanks was extended to Denison from their guests for the kind hospitality shown them and all expressed a desire to come to Denison soon again. Following are the scores by games:
