W. O. W. Activity.

Hot weather seems not to have affected the Woodmen of the World of Denison and in fact the local camp has been more than usually prosperous of late. On Saturday night the camp held a special meeting in honor of special deputy McKinney of Des Moines and a large number of members were present to meet the distinguished guest. On Monday twenty-four of the members went to Vail where the old camp has been re-organized and initiated 32 woodmen into the mysteries of woodcraft. The members were highly pleased with the teams work of the Denison camp. On Sunday next Denison will join with the camps of Logan and Woodbine in an unveiling ceremony at the grave of Sovereign DeForest. A large number of the Denison camp will attend the ceremony. Rev. Schlegel is to be the orator and it is only to be regretted that the Sovereign camp did not send some more suitable orator.

T. J. Kelly is acting as secretary pro tem of the street fair during the absence of Mr. Alf Wright. He finds that it keeps him pretty busy answering all the inquiries. First someone will want privileges on a bowery, the next on a striking machine, the next on a cane rack, and so on. Of course he has nothing to do with the privileges, there is a committee appointed for that purpose. Tonight there will be a meeting of the different committees when it is expected that all will get to work in earnest. Mr. Kelly is also getting many letters of inquiries in regard to concessions, and he is very careful in this matter, nothing but the best and on a high moral plane will be tolerated. The cheap-John outfits will not be represented in any way whatever, the street fair will be free from anything of this nature. Of course there will be the man with the striking machine, knock the babies down, etc., but we have them every Fourth of July. In a short time the committee will be in readiness to announce the list of free attractions and give our people an idea of just what will take place.

Street Fair Committee will meet to-night at 7:30

Gollmar & Schumann's Circus.
The above named circus is billing the town and will be in Denison on Thursday, July 31. In speaking of their street parade they say:

Every morning at 10:30 o'clock, crimsoned with the sun's radiant lustre and reflecting scenes of grandeur, the grand gold-glittering free street parade. The most gorgeous and costly street demonstration ever witnessed in any age. The absolute perfection of public displays, representing with the most splendid effect and impressive truthfulness, a grand triumphal march of nations with its chariots, auxiliaries and open dens of wild ferocious beasts. An endless array of costly dens and an infinite variety of gilded cages, allegorical tableaux cars. A vast retinue of noble knights and beautiful ladies. A herd of ponderous marching elephants, making the grandest free gala-day street pageant on earth.

The friends of the family in this locality were shocked Tuesday by receiving the news by wire of the death of Mrs. Geo. Theobald, who for years with her husband were residents of Astor. Her death occurred at Zion City, Illinois and the friends and relatives have received no particulars in regard to her death. Neither are they advised as to the funeral arrangements as to whether the remains will be brought to Astor for burial.—Defiance Enterprise.
