

Dr. A. L. Wright, of Carroll, was in Denison this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wood are visiting relatives in De Witt, Iowa.

A party of ladies and gentlemen will be entertained at the King-home this evening.

Messrs. P. D. McMahon and Charles Robertson of Charter Oak, are Denison guests today.

The Friday Club held its first regular meeting this afternoon with Miss Minnie Ball.

Mr. Carl C. Magee, one of the leading republicans of Carroll, was a Denison visitor today.

The Pastor of the Baptist church will preach in his own pulpit next Sunday morning and evening.

Mr. B. M. Covault is now located at Maroa, Ill. The best wishes of his many Denison friends go with him.

Mrs. Smith and daughter, Miss Mabel, have returned to Denison after a pleasant summer at their old home in Ute.

Mrs. W. S. McDonald has gone to Bloomfield, Neb. where the family will make their future home. Our best wishes go with them.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Bond was brightened on Monday, Sept. 8th, by the birth of a daughter. We extend congratulations.

Republican committeemen will kindly send in the caucus calls for next Friday's issue of the Review, as the time before convention is short.

S. R. Jones, the hustling passenger agent of the North-Western, was in Denison Wednesday looking up excursion prospects for Roosevelt Day.

The Denison Bowling Alley Co. offer a $3 coupon book for the highest score made at ten pins, and also a similar book for the high score in seven-up.

We notice by our democratic contemporary that Jim McKim has been "perambulating." Perambulating Jim will sure need a perambulator when the campaign is over.

Mrs. A. L. Harvey, mother of Mrs. Sears McHenry, is very ill at her daughter's home in Denison. The hopes and prayers of the community are with her and her loved ones that she may be spared to them.

Mrs. C. J. Kemming entertained the members of the Friday Club on Wednesday afternoon. Fancy work, a general good visit and a most delicious luncheon all helped to make up a delightful afternoon.

The Carter-Reynolds Co. will doubtless have splendid patronage here, especially as all feel a personal interest in the rising young star, Louise Carter. The company has been playing the larger towns only and has had a most successful season.

The democrats have nominated Macomber of Ida county for judge as against Judge Church and have left vacant the nomination against Mr. Powers. They might as well have been good fellows and left both places blank.

The ladies of the McKim Hall have decided to maintain that place as a place of public comfort for ladies and children during the street fair. This will be a great convenience to the visiting ladies and is much appreciated by the street fair management.

Mr. F. Waddington, of Charter Oak, one of the many Crawford county farmers who have grown rich by hard work and good management, gave Denison a call today. He says he is going to spend two days of the street fair with us.

The Bulletin is offering five years subscription to any couple who will be publicly married during the street fair. The subscription is entirely too long. Any couple who would consent to being married as a spectacle for the public would not be apt to live together five years.

RECEPTION A LA JAPAN.

Brilliant Function Given at the King Home on Thursday.

A reception was given on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. M. King, the Misses King and Mrs. D. L. Boynton, in honor of Mrs. A. M. King and Miss Agnes King of Grundy Center, Iowa. The afternoon was divided into three periods and nearly a hundred ladies enjoyed the charming hospitality of the hostesses. The spacious parlors of the King residence were profusely and beautifully decorated with summer flowers. The guests were admitted by Pearl Nicholson and Flora Caswell and Mrs. B. F. Philbrook and Mrs. A. J. Bond invited the guests to the dining room which was foad to be decorated in elaborate Japanese style. A huge Japanese umbrella formed a gorgeous canopy while Japanese vases, screens and lanterns served to carry out the effect. Miss Allie Wilson in Japanese costume presided over the dining room while the delicious luncheon was served by the Misses Cora Kuhl, Leora Luney, Mabel Smith, Anna Schlumberger, Irene Austin and Edna Raine. The favors were tiny Japanese babes with picture-que Japanese umbrellas. The reception was most delightful throughout and in the perfection of all its appointments reflected great credit upon the ingenuity of the hostesses. All were delighted not only with the pleasant afternoon afforded but with the opportunity of meeting the complimented guests.

St. Rose of Lima church was crowded on Thursday to greet the Right Rev. P. J. Garrigan, bishop of the Sioux City diocese, on the occasion of his first visit to Denison. The Bishop confirmed a large class, and pronounced himself as much pleased with the Denison church and its work. Bishop Garrigan is an eloquent and sincere man and will undoubtedly become exceedingly popular with the people of his diocese.

Owing to the fact that the opera house will be in use on this and tomorrow evening thus preventing thorough dress rehearsals of the minstrel show, that performance has been postponed one day. It will take place at the opera house on Tuesday evening Sept. 16th. The boys are practicing nightly and will put up a good show. The entertainment is given for the benefit of the street fair and the Carnival contest will close on that evening. Be sure and be on hand to see the outcome and to vote for your favorite. Remember you secure a vote with each cent you pay for your ticket and that you may vote as early and as often as you please after you get there if you have the price. One cent a vote. The recent changes in the standing of candidates in the Carnival contest shows that no one can as yet pick out the winner. It will not take many votes to change the results and those who attend the entertainment on Tuesday evening will doubtless see one of the exciting times of their lives.

The brick work on Main street block commenced about 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. By night about fifteen thousand brick had been laid and yesterday and today a like number were placed in position. The area and front walls are already to the height of the ground and the cement walk should be laid before the commencement of the street fair. The rapidity of the work was a revelation to Denison people. A cement walk is being laid in front of Sarachon Sisters' millinery store. The walk about the Roman block is being widened to conform with the requirement of the council. Mr. A. J. Bond is at work preparatory to placing a cement walk in front of the Klinker furniture store. The council will probably raise the Welsh building occupied by the Calumet lunch counter and the cement walk will be laid there. Mr. Gulick tells us that he will soon commence on the cement walk in front of the Broadway grocery. This leaves but three fronts on the block where active arrangements are not under way and we understand the cement walks will be put in front of these buildings before the street fair. The street commissioner is at work cleaning the streets and gutters, putting in new crossings and widening the old ones. And taken all in all Denison will present a changed appearance to its Carnival guests.

Your Attendance is Solicited.

J. P. Miller & Co. DENISON, IOWA

Just as the summer vacation visitors return the young people commence to have use for the various schools and colleges.

We are glad to learn that the physicians think that Mr. Gordon Gary is improving in health and that there are good chances for his recovery.

Miss Edith Shaw is expected at the Gulick home on Saturday and on Monday she and Miss Ethel Gulick and Miss Garnett Romans will go to Mount Vernon.

The Austin home was the scene of much merriment on Wednesday afternoon when the young folks of the Junior Epworth League held high carnival.

Mrs. Stella C. Chenoweth of Washington, D. C., private secretary to Senator J. B. Foraker, is in Denison visiting at the home of her friend, Mrs. J. P. Conner.

The gun shoot that was to have taken place during the street fair has been postponed until a later date. Due notice will be given through the REVIEW columns.

Miss Emma Raine entertained her Sunday school class Wednesday evening. Each young man was asked to bring a friend and strange to say there was an equal number of girls and boys.

An Information Bureau has been established for the street fair, with R. E. Grason as manager. Headquarters will be at Bullock's office. All who have rooms to rent, or stabling facilities, report to him as soon as possible.

So far we have had no volunteers for the parade. What is the matter gentlemen. Please enroll your names early so that places may be assigned and the parade organized in good shape.

Miss Ida Montgomery, of New York City has been installed as head milliner at Sarachon Sisters. These enterprising ladies seem determined to please their ever growing list of customers.

The minstrel show has been postponed until Tuesday, Sept. 16. This has been done on account of the fact, that the opera house is engaged for both Friday and Saturday evenings and there would be no opportunity for dress rehearsal before the event.

The boys are anxious to give the best possible entertainment of its kind and have asked for another day for practice.

Just as a matter of consolation to the defeated democratic candidates the Bulletin says, "the best men for the race were named." Perhaps the Bulletin thinks so but there are a large number of democrats who do not agree with it.

The meeting of the Western Baptist Association is being held this week beginning Thursday evening and continuing over Sunday at Woodbine. The messengers from the Denison church are pastor G. E. Morphy and sisters Morphy, Haskin, Welton, Gary, Morris and brothers Potter and Welton. A good meeting is anticipated.

The city has been sued for $2000 by Mrs. Silence Dawes, proprietor of the Northwestern Hotel, for damages said to have been incurred by water backing up from the sewer and filling the cellar of her building. If any damage has been inflicted for which the city is responsible we are in favor of the council adjusting the matter without an appeal to the courts. This is simply a business matter the merits of which should be easily determined if approached in the right light.

The party of North-Western engineers who have been stationed here for the past year have been ordered elsewhere. They made many friends during their stay in Denison and they will be greatly missed by many. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Slade are among those to go and they will make Cedar Rapids their temporary home. We greatly regret that this estimable couple could not have remained here permanently but such are the ways of the civil engineer. We can at least wish them success in life and express the hope that they will sometime visit their Denison friends again.

The Bulletin contains a lengthy and complete discussion of the democratic state platform this week. Its pleasure is evident throughout the editorial and such a hearty endorsement is seldom given even by a party paper. We had reason to fear that the Bulletin would appear somewhat disgruntled over the overthrow of its pet doctrine of free silver, but not so. At great length that paper endorses the platform and enters fully into the spirit of change that has come over the democratic heart. The Bulletin's lengthy editorial is as follows: "The Iowa democratic platform contains nothing that is not purely democratic at any rate, and it is much better for any democrat to stand on than is the strongest plank of the republican chaff pile." Query. Could the Bulletin have said less and said anything at all?
